Almost, BUT NOT QUITE.—A curious affair occurred in Owego, N. Y., last week. A young man named Brown, came all the way from Cleveland, Ohio, for the purpose of marrying a young lady of the village. Sunday was the time appointed. The guests were invited and every thing requisite attended to. Saturday night the family retired early that they might feel the better the next day. But alas for the hopes of Mr. Brown! When the next day came it was ascertained that the young lady had been mysteriously spirited away. On Saturday night, between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, when the family were hushed in sound repose, a young man of the place, named Conkling, who for a year past had entertained an itching desire for the young lady's heart and hand—a desire which it turns out was not unreciprocated—proceeded to the residence of the fair one, and without disturbing either the parents or the lover, prevailed upon her to accompany him to Athens, where they were married. On the following Monday they returned home. The jilted lover left the same day.

Whigs in SMALL CAPITALS.—Locofocos in italic—Nativeist in roman.

THE NEW YORK CONVENTION has determined upon the following: "That all feudal tenures, of every description, be abolished; saving and recognizing, however, all rents and services certain, which at any time heretofore have been lawfully created or reserved."

The italic part was an amendment to the original report, proposed by Mr. Simmons, and agreed upon by a large majority.

THE NEW POPE.—An English letter writer says that the new Pope is continuing to work his wonders in Italy.—He may be set down as the first since the days of the Apostles, who has wrought a miracle, for it certainly is one, to see everybody so pleased with Rome. Several of his less liberal cardinals and friends, have remonstrated with him, saying the people would by and by ask him for a new constitution if he continued his indulgence—his reply was, "and if they should—ought I not to give it them if it would make them happier!" That is the kind of talk, and all the crowned heads will have to come to it, and then the thirty thousand acres of Windsor hunting grounds will be divided into farms!

CURIOUS.—A person in Texas, suffering from the fever of that country, had been vomiting incessantly for 48 hours. A cup of very hot water was given to the patient in mistake for warm water, to ease the stomach, which was drunk off, when the sickness and vomiting were instantaneously relieved.

"WE ARE THE SAINTS."—Most of our readers have probably heard the story of the founders of Connecticut, who, in order to furnish themselves a justification for dispossessing the Indians of the soil they had set their hearts upon, met in solemn council, and passed the following resolutions: 1. Resolved, That God's heritage belongs to the Saints. 2. Resolved, That this is God's heritage. 3. Resolved, That we are the Saints!

HARPER, the murderer of Meredith, has broken jail and escaped. This was done by the assistance of his wife; being in the habit of visiting him, furnished him with an augur, a rope, and one of her dresses. Hanging some of her clothes against the wall, knowing they would not be touched, she contrived to work out the mortar and bricks therefrom, carrying them out daily, concealed about her person. None ever thought of examining her. The result was the escape of her husband.

NEWS FROM NAUVOO.—By the last advices from Nauvo, we learn that the Temple had not yet been sold. The Anties having every thing in their own way, of course will act accordingly. The Mormons in the vicinity are represented as being in a most pitiable condition.

QUEEN VIC'S income amounts to two millions five hundred thousand dollars yearly. This is $48,076 per week, $6,862 per day, $282 per hour, $4 70 per minute.

GOV. PRATT, of Maryland, has appointed Thursday the 26th day of November to be observed by the people of that State as a day of Thanksgiving, &c.

COL. WATSON.—Appropriate demonstrations of respect for the memory of Col. Watson, who was killed at Montevideo, are being made by the citizens of Baltimore.

The Mormons and the Mayor of St. Louis. We notice with pleasure that Peter G. Camden, Esq., the Mayor of St. Louis, has issued a very humane and christian card, calling for aid on behalf of the suffering Mormons, who have sought refuge in that city. We copy its leading paragraph, and embrace the occasion to say that the whole spirit of the movement does infinite honor to the humanity and the heart of the worthy Mayor:

"In the recent expulsion and flight of the Mormons from Nauvo and its vicinity, many of the poorest, most friendless and helpless, have been left behind.—Whatever may be thought of their peculiar religious tenets—whatever prejudices may be entertained against them, religiously or politically, they are human beings—our fellow creatures, and their appeal is for help to save many sick and destitute women and children from the sufferings incident to the winters of this climate. How or why these unfortunates are in their present condition, there is no time now to inquire.—The season cannot be changed or stayed to favor the naked, hungry, and houseless; and it should suffice, that we have the highest authority and encouragement for believing it is always more blessed to give than to receive."

A PANTHER SHOT.—On Friday last, James Robinson, a lad of this place, while out hunting for pigeons, and when about a mile from the village, came within some eight or ten feet of a panther, and having nothing but a fowling piece, was, as one would naturally suppose, somewhat frightened, and took to his heels. He however repaired to a neighbor, Mr. John Kibbee, and acquainted him with the fact, who, in company with Robinson and a younger brother, (after having procured two rifles) set out in search of the animal. A short period only elapsed before the little dog which they took with them got on track and treed the panther. When our young hunters came within some forty yards of their dangerous foe, they fired and he fell. Yet so fearful were they that he might do them some injury, and to make assurance doubly sure, they continued to fire at him until trembling had ceased. Our young heroes then shouldered their prize and brought him to the village.—Johnstown (N. Y.) Rep.

Shocking Casualties. The Pennsylvania Telegraph Extra, says:—Last night, the house occupied by Mr. Daniel Garner, about 5 miles above Harrisburg, was consumed by fire, supposed to have originated in the shop adjoining, together with Mr. Garner, his wife and four children, the oldest of whom was about 10 yrs. Mr. G. was a German, and a worthy industrious man.

A lad from Hollidaysburg, name not known, who was a driver of a boat, was drowned at the lower lock last evening.

News has reached here that six men were drowned in the Susquehanna, below Greensburg, this forenoon, about 10 o'clock. One of them was a son of Mr. Joseph Corbet. They were on a flat in the river, which was upset by some flood wood which was running.

TREASURE FOUND.—The Barnstable Patriot says that two men belonging to Nantucket, discovered on the shore of that island a few days since after an unusually low ebb tide, a cask, the head showing itself a little above the surface of the water, and which, on extricating it from its bed, found it to contain 5,000 Spanish dollars. It is thought to be a part of the cargo of a brig wrecked at that place fifteen years ago.

The people of Louisville are about establishing a regular line of packets between that city and Pittsburg.—Several of the most responsible merchants of that place have given their countenance and aid to the enterprise.

The New York Courier and Enquirer announces the determination of its editor not to sustain the nomination of Mr. Young as the Whig candidate for Governor of that State, upon the ground that Mr. Y. is "Anti-Rent." The Courier and Enquirer declares that it will not oppose Mr. Y. in the canvass. That is well as far as it goes; but the influence of such a paper would be felt in the affirmative.

RETURN OF VOLUNTEERS.—The Nashville Whig of the 6th inst., says:—About 200 sick volunteers, belonging to the First Regiment of Tennessee troops, arrived in this place on Wednesday last. We are told that the most of them are considerably the 'worse for wear,' while a few can hardly be expected to survive long.

MARRIED.
On Thursday the 13th inst., by the Rev. Wm. T. Bunker, Mr. JAMES HONNING and Miss NANCY PEIGHTAL, both of Barree township, Huntingdon county.

On Wednesday morning the 7th inst., by Rev. Andrew Jordan, Mr. JOSEPH M. STEVENS, of Petersburg Huntingdon co., to Miss NANCY McCULLOCH, of Tuscarora Valley.

DIED.
On Tuesday the 13th instant, Mrs. MARGARET DIFFENBACHER, in the 33d year of her age.

The deceased was for several years a resident of this place; but in April last moved with her husband to Barree twp. in this county.

For some time previous to her leaving town she had been in a delicate state of health; and on the occasion of her removal, the weather being inclement, she caught fresh cold which brought on pulmonary consumption; and from that time she was rapidly hurried away.

For the last four years of her life the deceased was a member of the Regular Baptist Church of this place, and adorned her life by a godly walk and conversation, convincing to all around that her citizenship was in heaven.

A crucified Saviour, as revealed in the gospel, was her hope; and that hope animated her spirit while her body was fast wasting away under the influence of a mortal disease.

Her's was a hope centering in God as the object and source of all good; and which led her implicitly to trust in the righteousness of an Almighty Saviour, so that a few days previous to her death, while indulged with the bright prospect of a blessed immortality, she exclaimed with St. Paul, "for me to live, is Christ; to die, is gain." Her last moments were peaceful and happy. She had an easy struggle with the enemy, and we doubt not an abundant entrance into the kingdom of rest; for, like the morning star, she appeared to sink away in the light of heaven.

She has left a husband, two small children, and a deeply afflicted Church to mourn her loss, but their loss is doubtless her eternal gain. Her remains were brought to this place and interred, to sleep until Gabriel's trump awakes her slumbering dust.

"Thou art gone to the grave; but we will not deplore thee,
Though sorrows and darkness, encompass the tomb;
The Saviour has passed, through its portals before thee,
And the lamp of his love, is thy guide through the gloom;
Thou art gone to the grave; but we will not deplore thee,
Since God was thy Ransom, thy Guardian, thy Guide;
He gave thee, he took thee, and he will restore thee;
And death has no sting since the Saviour has died."

On Saturday night, 17th inst., at the residence of her brother in Dublin twp., this county, of fever, ELIZA JANE BLAIR, only surviving daughter of the late John Blair, Esq., deceased.

"'Tis difficult to feel that she is dead,
Her presence, like the shadow of a wing
That is just lessening in the upper sky,
Lingers upon us. We can hear her voice,
And for her steps we listen, and the eye
Looks for her wanted coming with a stronger,
Forgetful earnestness. We cannot feel
That she will no more come—that from her cheek
The delicate flush has faded, and the light
Dead in her soft blue eye, and on her lips,
That was so sweetly pure, the dew
Of the damp grave has fallen. She was lov'd
Only as sisters are. Who could feel
While looking upon youth and health, as hers,
That it would so soon perish! It is like
The melting of a star into the sky
While you are gazing on it, or a dream
In its most rapturous sweetness rudely broken."

A Shocking Murder.
The Cincinnati Chronicle says that much excitement prevailed in that city on Monday last, "in the neighborhood of Third and Main streets, in consequence of a brutal murder which had been committed there the night before. The murdered man, whose name was Edward Byington, with a friend, was going from the St. Charles Exchange along Third street. When they came to Main street they met several Baltimoreans, among whom was a man by the name of Church. When they met some one from the latter company called out to clear the path for Baltimoreans, and bragging that they could whip any Buckeye. Byington expressed a willingness to try strength with them, as he was a Buckeye. An encounter ensued, and Byington seized a small cane which belonged to his friend, and was about to use it when Church stepped up with a drawn knife and stabbed him twice, once in the side, and once in the stomach. Byington, after he was stabbed, chased his opponents across the street, where he fell. Church was taken by the police and held for examination before the Mayor."

ADVERTISE.—If Benjamin Franklin were now living, says the Daily Chronicle, we should find him writing some such sentiments as the following:—"The way to make money plenty in every trader's pocket, is to advertise. Keep your articles before the public eye, and you are sure to find a quick sale. This is the advice of all those who, of late years, have made money and retired from business. Who knows what you have behind your counters, in your back shops, or before your doors even, unless you make some display in the papers? Remember this, ye who have goods for sale, and act accordingly. Our word for it, you will sooner dispose of your articles, and business will be always lively at your stores."

LARGEST CITY IN THE WORLD.—There is a city in the interior of China called Sou Tchou, which has a population of five millions within its walls, and ten millions within a radius of four leagues around. Mr. Hedde, a French missionary who had visited it, is given for authority for this statement. It is the greatest silk market in China.

CAPT. FREMONT.—The St. Louis Reveille of the 6th inst., says:—"We heard a rumor yesterday, that Capt. Fremont and his party had arrived at Independence, Mo."

It is announced that N. P. Willis, Esq., is about to become connected with the New York Tribune, as its literary editor.

Sub-Treasury Beauties!
The St. Louis New Era says that, at Fort Leavenworth a vast amount of due bills have been executed by the Quarter master, in payment of wagons and other articles purchased by him for the United States. This is another species of government paper, used as a substitute for money. This is one of the shifts the government officers are driven to for want of money. When payment is made in such stuff, every thing will of course cost the government double price. The Locofocos have been constantly declaiming against paper money, but they will soon have so many kinds of paper currency afloat that it will be difficult to tell what to call it. These notes issued by the Quarter master will be subjected to a heavy discount if they are cashed, and of course the government will have to pay much higher prices for those things that it is compelled to buy. The amount of this stuff about Fort Leavenworth is said to be very large.—Where are the mint drops? Where is the hard currency? This surely is a soft administration!

The fashion of wearing straps to pantaloons, we believe, is mainly going out of fashion, but it seems from the following extract from the last report of the New York Mirror of Fashion, that the ladies are adopting it themselves.—That paper says: "Until quite recently, we anticipated much pleasure in describing the acceptable styles for ladies' dresses, because we supposed they would never adopt straps. But you cannot imagine our astonishment at noticing a very elegant lady on horseback, with a strap attaching a most classical foot to her pantalotte."

SERIOUS STAGE ACCIDENT.—A stage filled with passengers, fell over Caldwell's Hill, near Washington, Pa., a few days since. The driver and Mr. Moses of Louisville, Ky., who were riding outside were horribly mutilated. Mr. M. had both his legs crushed, and one will have to be amputated. The driver had his arm crushed to a jelly, and is so severely injured in the spine and abdomen, that his death is certain. The other passengers escaped unhurt.

A DUEL.—The Commercial Times mentions that a duel took place in New Orleans, on the 3d inst., between Dr. Thomas and Mr. F. P. Le Beau, both old and respected citizens; weapons, small swords. "We regret to learn," says the Times, "that the former received a very severe wound in the right side, which gave rise to serious apprehensions regarding the result."
