

FROM MEXICO.

Correspondence of the North American. WASHINGTON, Dec. 18, 1846. 7 o'clock, P. M.

The Southern mail due yesterday afternoon, arrived this morning. The New Orleans Picayune has received city of Mexico papers to the 17th ult., two weeks later than the previous advices.

The official paper says that the Executive is anxious for the assembling of Congress even before the time prescribed by law, in consequence of the urgent nature of the subjects which are to be brought up for consideration.

In an urgent appeal to the new Congress made from San Luis, the deputies are entreated to entrust Santa Anna with the Dictatorial power for the prosecution of the war.

In the correspondence between General Taylor and Santa Anna, terminating the armistice, the latter complains of bad faith, but says he is ready to meet him on the field of battle.

IRON.

The U. S. Gazette says:—"We had occasion, yesterday, to notice the following occurrence, which took place on the wharf at the foot of Walnut street.

Some thirty-five tons of ENGLISH IRON, landed from the ship Champlain, Capt. Miller, from Liverpool, was being delivered under the inspection of an United States Government Deputy Weigh Master.

Each and every bar, whether large or small, was labelled with the whole, or part of the mark, "TARIFF OF 1846." This label was evidently new, and, of course, was prepared with a view of distinguishing the iron brought into the country under the Tariff act of 1846.

A Noble Offer.

The Pottsville Democratic Press, says: "It is worthy of remark, and we record the fact with great pleasure, as additional evidence of the munificence of our citizens, and confidence they have in the worth and integrity of Capt. NAGLE, that just before he marched with his company, two of our wealthy fellow-townsmen, ANDREW RUSSELL, and SAMUEL SILLIMAN, Jr., Esqrs., authorised him to draw on them in any emergency during his absence, for such sum or sums of money as he might require.

The above named gentlemen are leading WHIGS. We mention this fact as an offset to the low, contemptible course pursued by the Locofoco press, in regard to the Whigs and the Mexican war.

DEATH IN THE BOTTLE.—In Canonsburg, Pa., a few weeks ago, three men undertook to drink liquor on a banter, one of whom drank against the other two. After drinking a quart each, one of them commenced on his second quart, when he fell dead.

PRIZE MONEY.—A letter from Tampico says:—"We took an estimate of the prize money accruing on the various prizes taken at Tabasco and this place. It amounts to $220,000—half of which goes to Government.

FROM TAMPICO.

ARRIVAL OF OUR TROOPS—SALUTE FROM THE SQUADRON—NEW WORKS IN PROGRESS—ARREST OF PEDRONA—SANTA ANNA.

Correspondence of the Pa. Inquirer. TAMPICO, 26th Nov., 1846.

I wrote you on Sunday last, 22d, and put my letter on board of the steamboat Neptune, which sailed the day before yesterday, at 5 o'clock, P. M., for Brassos. A very heavy and unexpected Norther came up that night, and she attempted to run in for the bar—went ashore, and is now a complete wreck.—The passengers and a considerable quantity of specie saved—but the letter bag is lost, and with it, my long letter.—But I will now hastily recapitulate.—We sailed from Brassos on Saturday morning, having left our encampment at Burita on the day before. Immediately on the receipt of the news of the capture of Tampico, all the artillery, ammunition and ordnance stores which could be collected at Brassos and Point Isabel, were shipped for this place. The weather—a violent norther—retarded operations two days—but they were shipped in part in the steamer "Sea," with Major Morris and two companies, and have arrived safely. The rest—among them the carriages for eight 12-pounders and ammunition, and a thousand other things, were to follow the "Sea," (the next day at furthest,) in the iron steamer "Somers," one of two recently purchased at Savannah. If she sailed, we fear she is lost, and with her, most of the things we immediately want, besides Lt. Blair, 2d Artillery, twenty men and crew—we hope for the best; she may have been detained.

On our arrival here we were highly greeted by the squadron in the offing.—The St. Mary's manned her yards.—Our band played national airs, and "God Save" to the British brig lying off—and to the steam packet—which last immediately got up steam for Anton Lizardo, to give the news, &c. We passed one channel of the bar at 4, P. M., (having in vain tried another,) but not before disembarking nearly all the men into the boats of the squadron. They were landed on the South Point.

The steamer now came over beautifully, and at 5 o'clock, took in the five companies, and at 7, P. M., anchored before the city, when Col. Gates, who had joined us, and assumed the command the day before we left the Brazos—and other officers, called on Com. Conner. The next morning, we embarked in launches, &c., in fine order. The American colors—those of the Reeper, Lt. Com. Lewis Sterret, of Baltimore, under a marine guard—and five companies commanded by Lieut. Col. Belton, formed column on the pier, with the band and colors of the 3d Artillery, and marched as in review around the plaza, and took possession. We quartered two companies in the lower story of the custom house, and in the late Mexican barracks. We have detached troops to the different forts and redoubts.

Capt. Hunt's company are now engaged with spades and pickaxes, by moon-light, at a new work, in which two 42 pound carronades (from the navy) will be placed to-morrow, in position, on the main approach.

Major Morris, with two companies, arrived in the "Sea," two days after us. He is now with them in the main fort, with two 18 pounders, which command the city. We have but two companies now in town—the rest (five) are at different posts. Fort Libertad is now Fort Tattal, and Fort Andonega now Fort Conner. We have just heard from the Neptune. She is totally lost—nothing saved. The Mexicans, armed, were thick on the beach. The Spitfire, steamer went down and fired grape among them. We had news from Potosi. Santa Anna had arrested Pedrona, who commanded here, and evacuated this place just one month. We heard yesterday, that he had 22,000 troops, of which 7000 are cavalry—that he meant to attack and overwhelm Taylor. They here say he will be beaten in anything like a general action. To-day they say he delays his movements, and that the "Guarda Costa" of Tampico have halted 150 miles from here. They are only 150 strong, but good troops.

We are 300 miles from Potosi, 100 miles of which is mountain. This is a beautiful, clean city. The upper lands rolling and very productive, and I think populous. The people very poor, and plundered of every thing by their rulers. The markets plenty, and rather reasonable considering. The cafe on the plaza is brilliant at night.

We shall probably get more guns from the navy, and be very strong if attacked. The Spitfire and Vixen steamers, Bonita, Reeper and Petrel, and prize schooners, heavily armed, lay before and about the town. This is the key to Mexico, and our most important conquest. The government and people must go ahead. Yours, faithfully, S. L.

MR. ADAMS.—The Physicians of Ex-President Adams declare that he is too ill to take his seat in Congress during the present session. He is evidently improving, but the excitement of debate would be too hazardous to encounter.

Capt. Edward Webster, son of the distinguished statesman, commands one of the companies in the Massachusetts Regiment of Volunteers for the Mexican war.

[From the North American.] A NEW DIGNITY.

The confidence inspired by the unerring accuracy hitherto displayed by "Independent," justifies a belief that it is seriously contemplated to create a new military office, second only to the authority of the President, under the title of Lieutenant General. The proposition cannot fail to be regarded by the mass of the American people with distrust. The citizens of this republic are averse to the creation of unnecessary ranks and dignities, and especially in those branches of power which, while formidable to our enemies, may if perverted, be fatal to ourselves. Circumstances might exist where such an appointment would be rendered expedient, if not necessary; as where the country was menaced with a war dangerous to its existence, with a mere civilian, like the elder Adams, in the chair, and a chief like Washington in retirement.—The present is no such crisis, and the subject of proposed honor no such chief. We can imagine no necessity for the movement. The duties proposed, the settlement of the terms of peace, when Mexico shall have been taken, are civil, and may be performed by a civilian as well without as with, a towering military title. Nor can we approve this artificial mode of making military heroes for political purposes. It squints at the policy of Mexico, where every factionist is a soldier; and threatens us with the fate that has torn asunder and degraded that unhappy country. The duties of statesmen should be performed by statesmen.

The liberties of the country demand a separation of the civil and military power; and though every war, however holy, has its unfortunate influence to elevate the profession of force, and render the general's valor superior to the statesman's pen, a free people should with a more intense jealousy hold watch and ward against its encroachments.—We disapprove therefore any unnecessary combination or confusion of civil and military power; and trust that Congress will discourage it. But if high military titles must be created, let it be on a just and general system that will reward merit. If we must have an armed nobility, base it, at least, upon services and worth; and extend it to the navy as well as the army. Give us our Lord High Admiral as well as his Highness the Lieutenant-General; and let those who have best earned the title bear it. If extraordinary distinction, power and rank are to be bestowed in this war, to whom are they due, if not to Zachary Taylor. There is, if need be, no objection to uniting with him a civil commissioner to treat of peace, or to establishing a board for that purpose; but the country will hardly sanction the appointment of any Carpet Knight, however exalted his reputation as a statesman, to outrank old Rough and Ready.

We will not oppose any effort to effect an honorable peace, and we have no distrust of the patriotism of Mr. Benton; but when the terms of peace shall be before the nation the question of territory will be found to be involved; and upon that question the people demand to be heard. No jugglery that would seek to shuffle that issue out of sight, will be endured. It is a question of life and death to the country; and it cannot be settled so as to determine the destinies of the American republic, by a cabal in a corner.

The Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, DEC. 17, 1846. FLOUR.—The market partakes of a better feeling since the close of last week, owing to a supposition of the stock being much less than last year, at this time; and holders of flour have been able to obtain better prices. On Saturday and Monday some 7000 bbls were taken at $4 50 a 4 56 and $4 62, mostly at the latter price, and Western $4 75, including extra at $5; subsequently further sales of fair and good Penna. brands to the extent of 4-50000 bbls. were made at $4 75, and western at $4 75 a 4 87; the market declines with still an upward tendency; some decline selling at $4 75, although the current rate today; 400 bbls. select sold at $4 81; 2 50 halves at $5 a 5 1/2 the pair; fancy brands sold at $5 a 5 1/2 for city use.

GRAIN.—Receipts of wheat are entirely suspended. About 10,000 bush sold at 110 a 112 for good and prime Penna white; 100 a 101c for fair Jersey and Penna. reds, and 90 a 96c for Southern, all from store; prime reds are held at 103 a 104c. Rye, 60 a 70. Corn has advanced with an improved demand—sales of new Southern yellow at 51 a 52c, mixed lots 53 a 55c, and today several cargoes of new yellow sold at 54c; prime new Penna. 58 a 60c. Oats have also improved; Southern at 30 a 32c, closing at the latter rate.

IRON.—The market steady and firm; Anthracite $25 a 28; Charcoal $27 a 32; Boiler 5c; Bar $75 a 80; Sheet $140 a 145, on the usual terms; Blooms nothing doing; we quote at $55 a 60.

SEEDS.—4 a 500 bush prime Cloverseed sold at $4; Timothy at $1 1/2 a 2; Flaxseed sells at $1 30 a 1 35 in lots.
