

FROM WASHINGTON.

No Extra Session—The Sub-Treasury to be Amended!

The Philadelphia Inquirer of the 27th inst. has the following letter from Washington, received by Telegraph:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26, 1847.

The President says he will not call an Extra Session under any circumstances. If Congress fail to make the appropriations, the responsibility will be with them.

A bill is in preparation by the Finance Committee, to amend the Sub-Treasury, so as to allow the Secretary to transfer funds in any form—and authorizing Mint Certificates.

Thus it appears that the Administration are compelled to change their ground on the humberg Sub-Treasury—the specie clause is to be abandoned, and these bank-hating Locofocos are about to adopt the use of "rascally bank rags!" to carry on the financial operations of the Government. "Tell it not in Gath—publish it not in the streets of Askelon!"

[Correspondence of the North American.]

Passage of the Treasury Bank Bill!

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27, 1847.

The Treasury Note Bill was put upon its final passage in the Senate and carried, but two votes dissenting—Mr. Corwin and Mr. Cilley. It was then sent to the House, where the amendments were instantaneously concurred in—thence to the President, who held his immortal goose quill ready for the deed, and finally to the Secretary of the Treasury, who stood surrounded by a band of patriots, ready to relieve him of no inconsiderable portion of the paper currency of this hard money administration!

For days past the warrants of the Treasury have been refused the signature of the Secretary, because of the inability of the department to meet the current demands, or when he did sign by special favor, they were redeemed by advances from Messrs. Corcoran and Riggs, private bankers.

The Ten Regiment bill was taken up, and Mr. Atchison enlightened the Senate with his views in favor of the Volunteer system. He was followed by Mr. Dayton in one of the ablest and most fearless speeches of the session—a speech which exposed at one view the inconsistency, folly and rashness of the Administration—in making the war in conducting it, and in all the policy, financial and military, connected with its prosecution.

His review of the Lieutenant General proposition was anything but agreeable to Mr. Benton, and the friends of the Administration winced under the exposure which he made of Mr. Polk's restoration of Santa Anna to reanimate and invigorate the failing fortunes of Mexico.

Mr. Cilley's resolutions in regard to withdrawing the army to the Rio Grande, came up and were unanimously voted down.

The House passed the Bounty Land Bill, granting 80 acres of land to the soldier who served for six months, and 160 acres to those who served for a year or during the war.

The majority impeded its passage with every manner of amendments, because they never designed it to become a law. For this reason was it, that Mr. Benton struggled so violently to lop off Gen. Cameron's proposition from the Ten Regiment Bill, well knowing that it was always in the power of the majority to prevent an ordinary independent bill from being fairly brought before the Senate, and an evidence of it was illustrated to-day. Mr. Benton had urged as an objection to the amendment, that a specific measure was then under consideration in the House. Mr. Atchison in the course of his remarks, suggested to him to suspend the discussion of the pending bill, and to talk of that which had now passed the House—but he refused his assent.

rose one after another, and had their votes changed! And, that too, for party purposes! Great, upright and consistent legislators!

General Taylor.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, writing from Washington, says:

"The Union says that 'uncontradicted rumor points to Gen. Gaines as the friend to whom General Taylor's letter was addressed, and by whose permission it was published.' A letter from this city, in a New York paper, states that Gen. Gaines had admitted that the letter was addressed to him, and by him published.

"But, after all, the fact is not so.—The letter in question was addressed to a friend and relative, and it was in this city before it was sent to New York.—It may possibly have passed through General Gaines's hands to the press, but not probably. I am inclined to believe the publication was made, upon deliberate consideration, by Gen. Taylor's friends, who probably thought it time to return the fire which was pouring in upon General Taylor from the masked batteries of the administration."

PROPOSED MODIFICATION OF THE TARIFF.

The Washington correspondent of the North American says, that the Secretary of the Treasury will recommend an increase of ten per cent. on Coal, and ten per cent. on Iron—generally, a reduction of ten per cent. on Scythes, Axes, &c., upon which, he says, the revenue is depreciated by prohibition, and in which he is decidedly mistaken, for the policy has not been fairly tested.—He will also recommend thirty per cent. increase on refined sugar.

THE SUB-TREASURY.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore American, says:—"There are intentions, I believe, to amend the Sub-Treasury Bill, by contriving some new machinery to prevent the counting of specie by the Sub-Treasurers. The time consumed is more than the patience and number of clerks will allow. The contrivance designed is paper money, to bear the sobriquet of 'mint certificates.'" These are to be added to the $28,000,000 which were authorized by the act of Wednesday.

The Ten Regiment Bill is still under discussion in the Senate, and the Naval Appropriation Bill in the House.

Resolutions of thanks to Gen. Taylor have been introduced into Congress.

Awful Calamity.

One-fourth of Ripley, Ohio, in Ashes—Great loss of Property—Three Children Burned to Death—two Firemen Killed.

The Ripley Telegraph Extra, of Jan. 21st, dated 4 o'clock, A. M., says—"About one o'clock this morning, a fire broke out in the iron foundry of Messrs. Beatty & Burt, which was soon wrapt in flames. The Relief Fire company did every thing that mortals could do, but all was ineffectual. McMill & Reynolds' large Mercantile house with its contents, is totally destroyed, so rapidly did the flames spread. Also the Merchant Tailor Shop of Johnson & Cremp, Three children of the widow Lenon, whose house was burned, perished in the flames. Dungan's Hotel is now in flames.

The same extra, dated 5 o'clock, informs us that the Telegraph office and its contents save a few materials, is destroyed and the extra was worked off in the street. At least one fourth of the town is in ashes, and the flames still extending in every direction. God knows, says the Telegraph, where it will end. Two firemen were killed by the falling of timber."

Another.

A fire occurred at Chillicothe, Ohio, on Saturday night 23d ultimo, which destroyed some twelve or fifteen houses, generally small frames. Damage not very great.

Indian Disturbances.

Accounts from the Upper Missouri River state that a battle took place on the 16th of December, near Council Bluffs, between a band of Sioux Indians and a band of the Omahas, in which sixty of the latter were killed before the conflict terminated. The Sioux had a few days before murdered a number of Omaha women and children whilst the warriors were absent on a hunt. Four days before this event a lodge of the Omahas was attacked by a party of the Ayanas, and four men killed.

A letter from Fort Scott, in the St. Louis Republican states that the Sac and Osage Indians had recently held a council in the Osage nation, the object of which was to unite their forces and influence, to rob and plunder the whites, possibly under the impression that they could obtain aid from Mexico.

The Osages and Creeks were also about commencing hostilities.

The Common Council of Savannah, Geo., have appropriated $5,000 towards extending the Magnetic Telegraph to New Orleans.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF THE HIBERNIA.

Twenty-Seven Days Later from Europe.

Advance in Bread Stuffs—Large sale of Cotton—Flood in the Roman States—Change of Duties on Grain in Pope's Dominions—Distress in Scotland and Ireland, &c.

The Steamer Hibernia, Capt. Ryrie, arrived in Boston at 20 minutes past 7, A. M. on Monday 25th inst. The following summary is compiled from Telegraphic despatches of the New York journals. The Hibernia experienced much rough weather, and her passage was prolonged to nineteen days in consequence. She was detained more than the usual time at Halifax, where the Governor General of Canada, Lord Elgin and suite lauded. At Halifax it was found necessary to take in a fresh supply of coal.

The last message of the President has been much found fault with in England. It has been universally attacked by the press, and that portion of it relating to the Mexican war handled with very little courtesy. The passage in which he states that the war was not undertaken for conquest has been severely commented on. The English press, however, says that it gives a hopeful assurance to the American Tariff, so far as it regards British goods, will be maintained, and gives English manufacturers a cheerful prospect for their trade for the coming Spring.

The condition of Ireland continues to be the absorbing object of attention.—Day after day the distress continues to increase, and famine is doing the work of Death in various parts of the country.

Immense numbers of poor half starved creatures find their way across the Channel and beg, and exist as best as they can by appeals to the feelings of the inhabitants in the great towns of England.

The suffering population in the highlands and Islands of Scotland, is estimated at 100,000. A considerable supply of potatoes has arrived in London from Holland.

Mr. O'Connell is looking feeble, and is said to be fast assuming the character of extreme old age.

The Government had offered Father Mathew a pension of £400 a year.

Cotton advanced since the 4th ult.

Flour advanced 5 to 6 shillings per barrel.

Corn 12 to 14 shillings per qr.

Wheat, 3 to 4 shillings per qr.

Meal, 5 shillings per bbl.

The Money market quiet.

From 2 to 300,000/ in specie came on in the steamer.

Corn 68 to 72s.—Flour, in bond 37 to 38s.

Large sales of lard in kegs, 48 a 50s.

American beef and pork in demand—supplies large, and prices firm.

A Paris paper asserts that the French Government intends to propose to the Chambers a considerable reduction in the duties on foreign corn.

Rome has been visited by terrible inundations; the distress is great, and the amount of property destroyed is serious.

The pew Pope has mitigated their hardships by his purse and his personal exertions.

He also has reduced the duty on the exports and imports of grain into the Roman dominions.

MR. WEBSTER AND THE ENGLISH.—The London Times makes itself merry over Mr. Webster's recent tariff speech, and thinks the Americans will never be such fools as to go back to the protective policy! It advises brother Jonathan to listen to English wisdom instead of Mr. Webster, and ridicules the idea that the American constitution should be a rallying point for any party. Very disinterested counsellor!

IOWA SENATORS.—The St. Louis Republican of the 16th instant says:—"The Legislature of Iowa failed to meet in joint session on the 5th instant, to elect Senators in Congress. The election stood adjourned to that day, but the Locofoco members of the Senate, fearing the result, refused to meet the House in joint session, and it is now probable that no election will take place at the present session."

The Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29, 1847.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—The Flour market at the close of our report was excited, and in the evening 3000 bbls were sold at $5,62 1/2 a 5,75.

On Wednesday, sales of 13,000 bbls for export at $6,12 1/2 a 6,25.

On Thursday the demand was less active, and prices gave way a trifle; sales of 5000 bbls at $6,18 1/2 a 6,12 1/2, and some at $6,00 1/2.

To-day several sales at $6,12 1/2, 6,04 1/2 a 6, chiefly at $6.

Rye Flour—No sales and no fixed price. Corn Meal—Has rapidly advanced, and the sales have been very large; they amount to 14,000 bbls at $4 to 4,75, closing at $4,62 1/2 a 4,75 for Penn'a and Brandywine.
