The New Orleans Picayune and Delta of the 26th ult. contain some highly important intelligence from Mexico, of which we give the following details.— The great feature, and one that strikes us as having in itself a formidable influence in the new aspect of affairs, is the address of the clergy of San Luis Potosi to their own people and the nation gen-erally. This address is vigorously written, & of a kind to appeal to every characteristic of Mexican nature: The following extract will convey to the rea-der the tone of this remarkable adder the tone of this remarkable address:

Let us fly, then, all of us, to the combat—placing ourselves under the direction of our authoristies—let us fully and sincerely place in their hands, our fortunes and our persons—let us entits with promptitude and with whatever strist we may be able to obtain—let us throw saide the senseless desire of living longer—let us encourage solely an insatiable desire to die for our religion! our country, and the honor of our families—make affective that compassion, hitherto sterile, which you should show for your tender children.

Let us die before we see durselves degraded to slaves, in a strange land, deserted, or followed, perhaps, by some ahcient father, some son, or a wife whose linaments are already changed, every where abhoired, our powers prostrated by the weight of indigence, sending forth cries and lamentations without finding a single being to ettent to us a hand of pity! Potosiatis! for the slave there is no consolation; his respect and his glory are eclipsed forever.

These are the sole means of salvation. Let us us a hand of pity! Potosistis! for the slave there is no consolation; his respect and his glory are eclipsed forever.

These are the sole means of salvation. Let us all unite. Let us forget our domestic disagreement; and authorities, army, people and priesthood, all—all form a compact mass, and resign ourselves to death rather than turn our backs to the enemy, or survive our misfortunes and disgrace. Let us swear to God to die for His religion hand to the country for its independence. Let us swear to the tender child, the delicate maiden, and decrepid age, that our blood shall run in torrents—that we shall have sunk into the grave be, fore these proud Vandales shall place a hand upon them!

osians! these are the words of your Clergy, fore these proud Vandales shall place a hand upon them!

Potosians! these are the words of your Clergy, and we shall not fail to inculcate, in the villages and towns, and from the pulpits of the capital, these grand sentilinents. In your hands is the religion which your fathers have left you, the country which Heaven has awarded you, the honor of your slaughters and wives, the lives of your tender infants and your whole future fate. If you wish it, you may enjoy them all. It depetids on a heroic sacrifice. Make it!

Two fates are left open to you! To be vile slaves, or independent Catholics. Choose. If the former, bend the knee to the invader; if the latter, prepare for the combat!

Comprehend it—these are the last moments. If by Indolence you incur an unhappy fate, if your religion mist! By to a more hardy soil, disgrace and ignown will fall upon you. To your Priesthood will remain the satisfaction of having exposed to you the danger, and indicated the mean most effectual and best adapted to our circumstances.

In relation to Santa Anna and his reputed cowardice, there appears to be a very large and powerful portion of the Republic still inclined to believe in, and support him at all hazards, and these friends have influence too. The Diario del Gobierno, one of the most able journals published at the Capital, defonds him at length, recounting all the numerous sacrifices which his patriotism has prompted him to make for his country.

Gen. Sunta Anna has been joined at has prompted him to make for his country.

Gen. Santa Anna has been joined at Orizaba by Gen. D. Francisco Perez, with a force of 520, and also by Generals Brito and Baneneli, with 8000 infantry and a park of artillery. General Alcorta, who had succeeded Canalizo in try and a park of artillery. General Alcorta, who had succeeded Canalizo in the command of the cavalry, is still at Chalchicomula, with 1300 cavalry and 200 dragoons from Vera Cruz, under Colonel Cenobia. (We should like to know if these fellows were parolled at the capitulation of Vera Cruz; if they were, and General Scott catches them, we trust there is a good supply of hemp in the commissionary's department.)—There are already 500 men here, and guerrillas are forming rapidly. Two wagons, with goods have been taken from the Americans which give great encouragement and joy to the poor fellows who are skulking about Orizaba.

Santa Anna has had a battery of Artillery mounted, under command of Col. Aguado. Santa Anna needs only money and arms to give the Americans much trouble.

To which news, the Republicano of irillas are forming rapidly. Two wagons, with goods have been taken from the Americans which give great encouragement and joy to the poor fellows who are akulking about Orizaba.

Santa Anna has had a battery of Ardillery mounded, under command of Col. Agundo. Santa Anna needs only money and arms to give the Americans much trouble.

To which news, the Republicano of the 5th inst, adds, that the forces under Santa Anna were rapidly increasing, and that "His Excellency" was only awaiting for the money which he had asked in order to begin his operations.

Though there are many journals both at the Capital and in the provinces opposing the details of Santa Anna is conduct, it is evident that viewed as a whole it has met with the approbation of the nation, and that the carnest appeals with which these journals are without exception, filled to the patriotism of the people will not be without their effect of the our forces. In every one of them, and more particularly the three leading journals, El Diario del Gobierno, El Monitor and El Republicano, do we find resistive action tirged upon their enemies by the Church, the local authorities, and the people themselves, the force with the spreamed that the feed of the stable of the people will not be without their effect of evil to our forces. In every one of them, and more particularly the three leading journals, El Diario del Gobierno, El Monitor and El Republicano, do we find resistive action tirged upon their enemies by the Church, the local authorities, and the people themselves, and the people will not be without their effect of evil to our forces. In every one of themselves, and the people themselves, and the people will not be without their effect of evil to our forces. In every one of themselves, and the people themselves, and the people will not be without their effect of evil to our forces. In every one of themselves, and the people will not be without thei through these means. They have here 7000 muskets to arm them, and also pieces of artillery (among them 26 of heavy calibre,) and the necessary ammunition. The direction of operations will be given to Geherals Minon or Urrea, who are expected to arrive here soon; besides Don Manuel Romero, Mejia, Amador, and other chieftans, who will have a laige amount of of "guerrilleros" in about a month from this, and a base of 4,500 men which we now have hee, will facilitate the defence of the State with success.

"The town of Catoree is now in course of fortification, by order of the governor, who will start next week in order to examine the operations in the neighboring towns. The States of Zacatecas, Guadalajara, Durango, Guanajuata, and two others, (the names I do not recollect), will raise 6000 men, in order to give assistance to San Luis in case this State should be attacked first, or to detain the invaders should they proceed first to Zacatecas and Durango. In every case, San Luis will operate in concert with forces which may be raised; these, I expect, will be from 6 to 8000 men in all.

"A general enlistment to take place in forty-eight houre' time, has been this day agreed upon by the government; and this in accordance with the proclamations and exhortations of the clergy, who will give the best examples."

This Guerrilla warfare in such provinces as are named above, is calculated we fear, to be productive of sad consequences to the isolated portions of our army. The inhabitants of Zacatecas and Durango, are mostly the descendants of the Biscayunos of Spain, a province that never would acknowledge the King of Spain, to be any other than a Prince of Asturias, and in their hardy mountain life of mining and wheat raising, have in a méasure kept up the sturdy stuborness, as well as martial spirit of their forefathers: Knowing these facts, we are afraid that in this particular kind of warfare; more of our brave soldiers may fall a sacrifice. This guerilla warfare is a fearful one, and told bitterly upon the French inva red to present themselves, armed and equipped, when they should be called upon.

The State of Jalisco is to contribute

upon.

The State of Jalisco is to contribute 15,000 men for the time the war may last. The State of Guanajuato has promised 800 for the National Guards and Guerillas.

A recent order from the Government directs that all the forces from the East and South should report to General Santa Anna as the only Commander-in-Chief.

The Foreign Legion, so called, has been disbanded.

A letter from Durango dated 26th April, says the "Yankees" (Doniphan's command) had Countermarched to Chibushua, on account of intelligence received by them that the New Mexicans and "Pasenos," (natives of El Passo,) together with the berrborous tribe of Nabajoe Indians, headed by the clergymen, had commenced an indiscriminate slaughter on alf Mexicans in the place. This insurrection is said to have been so general, that even the women were in it, and enacted a conspicuous part in cutting the throats of the "Texans." It was also reported that those very men, feeling elated with the result, were marching towards Durango, in order to avenge the outrage of Chihuahua.

The 2d Pennsylvania Regiment were garrisoning Jalapa. All was represented to be quiet in that city—the bustle of war having moved onward with the army. The troops were in good health. Forty Mexican Guerillas had been captured; on the Rio Grand, and were probably a detached party of Canales' band, seeking to carry out his late bloody order. Others were prowling about and it was thought would be taken. No murders had lately been committed by these desperadoes.

The departure of volunteers from Vera Cruz exceeds the arrivals almost as four to one:

For the removal and permanient cure of all diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood and habit of the body, viz: Chronic affections of the Chest, Pleurisy, Bronchitis, Catarrh, &c.—
Scrofiula in all its stages, Telter, Scalabhead, Cutancers affections of the body, fuce and extremities, Chronic Rehumditim, Chronic enlargements of the ligaments and joints, White Swellings, Syphilitic Affections, Constitutional disorders arising from debility, Mercurial and herelitary predispositions, &c.

This now admitted by Fathologists, that no original terriperament, complexion, constitution, or form of body, coinfets complete immunity from Herelitary diseases; that scrofils, constimption and other affections having a similarity of origin occur in all: although observation convinces us, that individuals and farmlies, possessing certain characteristics are fibre frequently the subject of these maladies than others. These diseases are a morbid condition of the whole system of nutrition—these products being but the effects of an alteration of the Blood and Secretions,—the ulcers, abuses, enlarged glauds, inflamations, &c., being merely attendant phenomena. The cause exists prior to the phenomena, and must be destroyed before perfect health can be established. This may be done by Dr. Keller's Vegetable Parancea, the most certain remedy for still diseases arising from an impure state of the blood and system of nutrition, ever presented to the notice of the afflicted.

Prepared corner of 3d and South streets, Philadelphia: and sold by John N. Prowell, and Jones & Simonton, Huntingdon, and by Druggists and Merchants throughout the county. Price—$! per bottle, large size.
