THE WAGES OF WAR.

It was a few days after the news of Buena Vista—the very day the mail rought the official list of the killed and vounded—we were sitting in the office eading over the names with a sad curissity, seeking out those with whom we vere of old familiar. McKee we remembered well—a dashing, daring artillery officer; he was in the third when we knew him. But he married, left the service, engaged in business, and at the opening of the war resumed the epaulets as Colonel of a Kentucky Volunteer Regiment. Brave fellow! none braver fell on that bloody field.

We were sorrowfully enough engaged by these thoughts, when a young woman entered the office. When we say young, we mean under thirty. She had a small girl by the hand—a beautiful little creature, about three years old. Both mother and child, (for such no one could doubt to be their relationship who observed their features,) were dressed with extreme neatness, though all the little elegancies of decoration were bestowed upon the child.

We just looked over the top of the paper to note these partiaulars, when, having been directed to us by the clerk, she came forward to our dosk.

We handed her a chair, and, while we endeavored as well as we could to soothe her very apparent agitation, we were somewhat at a loss to account for its existence.

After a few minutes conversation, we discovered the reason in the feat that scotche her very apparent agitation, we were somewhat at a loss to account for its existence.

After a few minutes conversation, we discovered the reason in the fact that she was a relative of a soldier in Capt.—'s company of artillery. This corps had been engaged, and, we remembered, had suffered very severely. She had been informed that the list of the killed and wounded had arrived, and she had called to hear some intelligence of his fate.

She wished us to read over the names. We again took up the paper and proceeded to comply with her request. We shall never forget the expression of that woman's features as we read. Her agony was terrible. She was not unhandsome; but her face became ghastly pale, and her eyes looked unutterable despair as she fixed them upon the child who was playing with a newspaper and as she lifted her hand to wipe the large drops away, we could see it trembling as though palsied.

as she lifted her hand to wipe the large drops away, we could see it trembling as though palsied.

The presentiment of evil had already almost broken her heart, and we knew that the relative must be a very near one. She had avoided giving us her name, and, as soon as we found the list, appalling long, which comprised the casualties of the designated corps, we began to read. We did not know when we would reach the fatal name, if at all, and at each individual we looked inquiringly into the woman's face. She said nothing, however, for some time, and we began to hope that the name was not down, when we read—

"John——, sergeant, KILLED."

Such a scream! It was the wail of a broken heart! That cry was ringing in our ears for a month. We immediately ran towards her, but she arose from her chair, motioned us her thanks, and without a word left the office. We had read to her the announcement of her husband's death. We did not do much service in the office that day.

The next morning, happening down on the wharf we saw the woman and her little girl going on board the Cineinnati packet. She recognized us, and we spoke to her. She was crushed completely. She had grown twenty years older in as many hours. She informed us that she had resided with her husband in New York; that she was originally from the West, and on his corps being ordered to Mexico, she determined to repair to her friends, and await the conclusion of the war. She had heard of the battle, and knew that Captain——'s battery was engaged, and on her arrival in Pittsburg had been directed to the Journal office for further information. She arrived the very morning after the receipt of the list of killed and wounded.

ALL-HEALING OINTMENT.

ALLISTER'S

ALL-HEALING OINTMENT.

Insensible Perspiration

Is the great Evacuation for the mpurities of the body. Life cannotibe sustained without it. It is thrown off from the blood and other juices of the body, and disposes by this means of nearly all the impurities within us. The language of scripture, "in the blood is the life."—

If it ever becomes impure it may be traced directly to the stoppage of the "insensible perspiration." Thus we see all that is necessary when the blood is stagnant or infected, is to open the pores and it relieves itself from all impurity instantly. Its own heat and vitality are sufficient, without one particle of medicine, except to open the pores upon the surface. Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal remedies.—All practitioners, however, direct their efforts to restore the insensible perspiration. The Thompsonian, for instance steams; the Hydropathist shrouds? in wet blankets; the Homocopathist deais out infinitissimals; the Ailopathist bleeds and doses us with mercury, and the blustering Quack gorges us with pills.

I have had physicians, learned in the profession, I have had ministers of the Gospel, Judges of the Bench, Aldermen and Lawyers, gentlemen of the highest crudition, and multitudes of the poor, use it in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice—one united, universal voice—saying, "M'Allister your Ointment is good."

Consumption.—It can hardly be credited that a salve can have any effect upon the lungs, seated as they are within the system. But if placed upon the chest, it penetrates directly to the lungs, separates the poisonous particles that are consuming them, and expels them from the system. I need not say that it is curing persons of Consumption continually, although we are told that it is foolishness. I care not what is said, so long as I can cure several thousand persons of the Headache of 12 year's stawling, and who had it regularly every week, so that vomiting often took place.

Headache.—The salve has cured persons of the Headache of 12 year's standing, and who had it regularly every week, o that vomiting often took place.

ing, and who had it regularly every week, so that vomiting often took place.

Deafness and Ear ache are helped with like success.

Cold Feet.—Consumption, Liver Complaint, pains in the Side or Chest, falling off the hair, one or the other, always accompanies cold feet. It is a sure sign of disease in the system to have cold feet.

The Salve will cure every case in Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Liver Complaint, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Broken or Sore Breast, Piles, Chest Diseases, such as Asthma, Oppression, Pains, also Sore Lips, Chapped Hands, Tumors, Cutaneous Eruptions, Nervous Diseases, and of the Spine there is no medicine known probably so good.

Burns.—It is the best thing in the world for Burns, (Read the directions around the box.)

Pimples on the face, Masculine Skin, Gross Surface.—When there is grossness or dull repulsive surface, it begins to soften until the skin becomes as smooth and delicate as a child's.

Words.—If parents knew how fatal most medicines were to children taken inwardly, they would be slow to resort to them. Especially 'mercurial lozenges,' called 'medicated lozenges,' vermitiges,' pills,' &c. The truth is, no one can tell, invariably, when worms are present. Now let me say to parents, that this salve will always tell if a child has worms. It will drive every vestige of them away. (Read the directions around the box.) There is probably no medicine on the face of the earth at once so sure and so safe in the expulsion of worms.

Old Sores.—That some sores are an outlet to the impurities must have some other coutlet, or it will endanger life. This salve will always provide for such emergency.

Rhedmatism.—Almost every case cured with this ointment.

outlet, or it will endanger life. This salve will always provide for such emergency.

RHEUMATISM.—Almost every case curred with this ointment.

FEVERS.—In all cases of fever, the difficulty lies in the pores being locked up so that the heat and perspiration cannot pass off. If the least moisture could be started, the crisis has passed and the danger is over. The all-healing ointment will in all cases of fevers almost instantly unlock the skin and brings forth the perspiration.

We have cured cases of Scald Head that defied every thing known, as well as the ability of fifteen or twenty doctors.—One man told us he had spent $500 on his children without any benefit, when a few boxes of the ointment cured ther.

Corns.—Occasional use of the ointment will always keep corns from growing. People need never be troubled with them if they will use it.

As a family medicine, no man can measure its value.
