THE TONGA.

The tonga is a very powerful narcotic drink, prepared by the Peruvian Indians from the Datura Sanguinea, or red thorn apple, a plant belonging to the same family as the common American Jamestown (or jimson) weed, which is known to be a deadly poison. Of this drug Von Tschudi, the peruvian traveller, gives the following account exhibiting its effects, and at the same time illustrating one strange and melancholy superstition of the down fallen children of Incas:

"The Indians believe that by drinking the tonga, they are brought into communication with the spirits of their forefathers. I once had an opportunity of observing an Indiau under the influence of this drink. Shortly after having swallowed the beverage, he fell into a heavy stupor. He set with his eyes vacantly fixed on the ground, his mouth convulsively closed, and his nostrils dilated. In the course of about a quarter of an hour his eyes began to roll, foam issued from his half opened lips, and his whole body was agitated by frightful convulsions. These violent symtoms having subsided, a profound sleep of several hours succeeded. In the evening I again saw this Indian. He was relating to a circle of attentive listeners the particulars of his vision, during which he alleged he held communication with the spirits of his forefathers. He appeared very weak and exhausted. In former times, the Indian sorcerers, when they pretended to transport themselves into the presence of their delities, drank the junce of the thorn-apple, in order to work themselves into a state of ecstacy. Though the establishment of Christianity has weaned the Indians from their idolatry, yet it has not banished their old superstitions. They still believe that they can hold communication with the spirit of their ancestors, & that they can obtain from them a clew to the treasures concealed in the huaca, or graves; hence the Indian name of the thorn-apple—huaca-cachu, or grave-plant."

A Good Joke.—We fing in the Louis-ville Journal the following anecdote:

thorn-apple—huaca-cachu, or graveplant."

A Good Joke.—We fing in the Louisville Journal the following anecdote:

At the recent debate in Harrodsburg between Messrs. Thompson and Wickliffe, the candidates for Congress, the former who was afflicted with a sore throat, had a mug or decanter on the stand, containing a strong mixture of vinegar, salt and pepper, from which, whilst speaking, he took an occasional
sip. The mixture looked like toddy, and Wickliffe fixed a longing eye upon it. At length, in the midst of one of the severest portions of his opponent's speech, he slyly took the decanter, poured out about a gill, and swallowed it at a gulph. His contortions of the countenance were equal to any thing in the comic almanac, and at that moment Mr.
Thompson, catching a glance at his face and rightly guessing what had happened, quietly remarked: "You had better let that alone, Mr. Wickliffe, I am afraid that two of my medicines at once are rather too much for your stomach." The laugh at poor Wickliffe's expense was tremendous, and he was fool enough to get mad at it.

Bathing in Mexico.

Bathing in Mexico.

The following is an extract from a letter from the camp of the Massachusetts volunteers, published in the Boston Transcript:

"You would be charmed with our encampment on account of the bathing if nothing else. All the Matamoras females high and low, bathe at least once a day—generally in the evening, soon after sunset, and as the current is too strong for their delicate limbs to contend against in the river, they resort to the lakes in the vicinity of the city—our lake being for their delicate limbs to contend against in the river, they resort to the lakes in the vicinity of the city—our lake being especially favored by them. Some of them are splendid swimmers, and I have seen one of them outswim at least eight seen one of them outswim at least eight of our officers.

The Mexican men and women bathe promiscuously, and it is laughable to see the women take a love sick swain and duck him till he is nearly dead.—I should consider that a perfect cure for the most obstinate case imaginable."

ble."
One scarcely wonders that the writer of the letter was "charmed with their encampment." It must have been a rare thing to see eight officers of the Massachusetts volunteers swimming after one Mexican woman. We wonder if it was in one of these swimming matches that Col. Cushing broke his leg!

Mr. Webster tod, in one of his southern speeches, a good story of Mr. Clay. The latter, he said, was once travelling in the West and stopped at an humble eabin for the night. Having learned who Mr. Clay was, the old man, after breakfast the next morning, could not dismiss his distinguished guest without requesting him to make himself and wife a little speech before leaving them!

Good Neighborhood.—A farm was Iately advertised in a Western newspaper, in which all the beauty of the situation, fertility of the soil, and the salubrity of the air, were detailed in the richest glow of rural description, which was further enhanced with this: N. B.—There is not an Attorney within fifteen miles of the neighborhood.

OFAn Irish sailor once visited a city where he said they copper bottomed the tops of their houses with sheet lead.

Important to Stove Dealers.

A invited to our assortment of Cooking, Parlor, Hall and office Stoves, and especially to Atwood's Empire Hot Air Cooking Stove, As the best cooking apparatus ever invented, it having obtained a cclebrity, wherever it has been introduced, never before attained by any Cooking Stove. The operation of baking being performed in this stove by hot Air, instead of heat radiated from the oven plates, renders it equal for baking to a Brick Oven, or to the Tin oven for roasting; making it unnecessary to turn or change the article while cooking, and removing all liability to burn. We are desirous to have the Stove introduced in this market, and to that end, liberal terms will be given to a responsible dealer, willing to take hold of them, and only one will be permitted to sell them in the place.

DR. Keller's Cordial & Carmina—
Tive, is the best and most certain remedy for Diarrhas, Dysentery, Summer Complaints, and all similar affections of the Stomach and Bowels, ever offered to the afflicted. It is equally adapted for Adults as well as Children: and Mothers will find it the best remedy to allay the irratability and refullenses consequent to Teething in children. It removes speedily Wind Cholic, and restability and refuglenses consequent to Teething in children. It removes speedily Wind Cholic, and restomach & Bowels, the proximate causes of the Stomach & Bowels, the proximate causes of the above diseases. It contains nothing injurious to the mot tender infant, is remarkable pleasant to the taste and no family should ever be without it. The Diseases to which it is applicable, are but few, yet exceedingly prevalent, and often lamentably fatal to the young, there being not less than secently thousand dying annually, with derangements of the stomach and bowels. Parents think of this, and remember also, that in every case where the cordial fails your money will be returned. Read the following voluntary testimony:

Lancaster Co. Netfville, Dr. 11, 1847.

Dr. Kellen—Some time last summer your agent left me some of your Infant cordial & Carminative, urging me to ty it. It so an appened that I had a case: a child about six months old, whose stomach and bowels were in a very disordered condition, caused by a deficiency of its Mothers Milk. The child was a mere skeleton: there was much Tormina, Tenesanus and constant evacuations. I administered every medicine I could think of, with but a slight alleviation of the complaint. I then thought of giving your medicine a trial, commencing with small doses; I soon however preceived the child could bear a full dose as recommended in directions: before it had taken half a bottle the tendency of the swap of the above complaints, have administered in a 21 years' practice.

Very Respectfully, your friend.

on the label covering the cork, and a new label for the side of the bottle, composed of geometric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the propretor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. Four dies of different patterns form the body of the work, and in the centre is a portrait of the tate Wm. Swaim, separated from the borders by two circles of lathe work. The words "Swaim's Panacea," are engraved conspicuously on two turned strips, and a large semi-circular die forms the upper margin. The borders are composed of plain lathe work strips, outside of which is engraved in small letters the entry of the copyright.

M'ALLISTER'S

ALL-HEALING OINTMENT.

Insensible Perspiration

Is the great Evacuation for the mpurities of the body. Life cannotibe sustained without it. It is thrown off from the blood and other juices of the body, and disposes by this means of nearly all the impurities within us. The language of scripture, "in the blood is the life."—

If it ever becomes impure it may be traced directly to the stoppage of the "insensible perspiration." Thus we see all that is necessary when the blood is stagnant or infected, is to open the pores and it relieves itself from all impurity instantly. Its own heat and vitality are sufficient, without one particle of medicine, except to open the pores upon the surface. Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal remedies.—

All practitioners, however, direct their efforts to restore the insensible perspiration. The Thompsonian, for instance: steams; the Hydropathist shrouds in wet blankets; the Homocopathist deals' out infintissimals; the Allopathist bleeds and doses us with mercury, and the blustering Quack gorges us with pills.

I have had physicians, learned in the profession, I have had ministers of the Gospel, Judges of the Bench, Aldermen and Lawyers, gentlemen of the highest erudition, and mulitudes of the poor, use it in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice—one united, universal voice—saying, "M'Allister your Ointment is good."

Consumption.—It can hardly be credited that a salve can have any effect upon the lungs, seated as they are within the system. But if placed upon the chest, it penetrates directly to the lungs, separates the poisonous particles that are consuming them, and expels them from the system. I need not say that it is curing persons of Consumption continually, although we are told that it is folishness. I care not what is said, so long as I can cure several thousand persons annually.

Headache.—The salve has cured persons of the Headache of 12 year's standing, and who had it regularly every week, so that womit of the marked persons of the Headache of 12 year's standing, a sion of worms.

OLD SORES.—That some sores are an outlet to the impurities of the system, is because they cannot pass off through the natural channels of the Insensible Perspiration. If such sores are healed up, the impurities must have some other outlet, or it will endanger life. This salve will always provide for such emergency.
