

the city amidst the huzzas of soldiery. As he entered, the mounted band of the 2d Dragoons astonished the "natives" with HAIL COLUMBIA, which was followed, as the escort entered the Plaza, with the soul-stirring YANKEE DOODLE.

One of the first acts of Gen. Scott was to appoint Gen. Quitman Civil and Military Governor of Mexico, and Col. S. F. Belton, Lieutenant Governor. Gen. Quitman's department embraces the following officers: Capt. F. N. Page, Assistant Adjutant General, and Lieuts. M. Lovell, M. Wilcox, and R. P. Hammond, Aid-de-Camps; Capt. G. T. Davis, Secretary, and Mr. Levi, Interpreter. Throughout the 14th and on the morning of the 15th, the Mexicans continued to fire from the corners and tops of the houses, killing some and wounding many. The artillery was at first tried on them, but owing to their unseen position it was found useless.

The Rifle Regiment and some of the Infantry were then sent in pursuit, and soon silenced the firing from the house tops. The Mexicans, during their revolutions, frequently resorted to this mode of warfare, and continued it for several days together without doing much damage on either side, but our riflemen picked them out of their hiding places and soon forced them to desist. Since our army arrived in the valley we have lost 3000 men, killed and wounded. We have destroyed the Mexican army of over 30,000 men, upwards of 6000 of which have been taken prisoners. We have captured 70 pieces of artillery, 27 at the battle of Contreras, 10 in a fort at Churubusco, and 33 on the 12th, 13th and 14th. The last of Mr. Kendall's letters dated the 28th, mentions the two following rumors relative to Santa Anna—the first that he had been taken prisoner by Col. Childs—and second that he had been slain by General Alvarez.

Mr. Kendall's latest letter under this date—

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 26, 1846. Assassinations continue—no less than ten soldiers were found murdered this morning in the quarter of San Peбло, and eight yesterday. Our own men are to blame; they struggle from their quarters, and getting intoxicated at the first palqueta or grogshop, are thus liable to be beset by gangs of armed ruffians, who are continually on the watch. The fact of these murders shows the feeling of revenge and deep hatred which is entertained towards us. The frequency of the murders is also an indication that a regular system of assassination has been planned—the wire-workers being probably the priests and the leading men.

In my last I stated that Col. McIntosh was sinking under his wounds; he died last night, and will be buried to-morrow with full military honors. He fell pierced with two balls while gallantly leading his men to attack the Casa Mata on the 8th of September, and his system suffering from wounds received in former battles, was not able to overcome the shock. Yours, &c. G. W. K.

Gen. Santa Anna has been proclaimed by Senor Gamboa, a traitor to his country—having intentionally allowed the Americans to defeat him in every battle; and lastly he accuses him of having destroyed the nationality of Mexico; the honor and glory of this unfortunate city, and of having compromised, in the calamity, all classes of society.

Gen. Pillow is said to be severely wounded. The New Orleans Delta and Commercial Times of the 14th instant, contain further interesting details of Mexican intelligence. The latter paper publishes Santa Anna's address on his resignation of the Presidency; but it is evident that he intends to continue directing the operations against the American army. Of the scattered portions of his army he has gathered twenty-five hundred regulars, besides a large guerilla force.

It is rumored at the Capital from Puebla that on the 27th ult. Paredes, Bustamente, and other influential persons, intended seriously to invite a foreign prince into Mexico, for the purpose of settling the difficulties of the country. The papers from the City of Mexico to the 28th, state that Gen. Quitman had issued an order on the 25th, notifying all the officers of the Mexican army at the Capital to report themselves immediately to the Inspector General of the American Army, and another on the 27th, regulating the value of Corn.

levelled with the ground by the artillery. The functions of the Mexican executive was discharged by Senor Pena y Pena, associated with Senor Pacheco, and a General whose name is not mentioned. It was supposed that Pena y Pena would decide to form a cabinet on the 27th.

The Delta contains a long and graphic description from its correspondent Mustang, of the battles of the 13th and 14th.

The number of men in Riley's company of deserters, executed at Churubusco, was only eighteen, instead of seventy-two. The Diario del Gobierno of the 10th ult. has the following description of their execution:—[News.] And in what manner did they hang them? Noosing them by the neck as they stood upon the ground, and so suspending them that they died by inches, strangled by their own weight, the mode adopted being such that their horrible agony lasted more than one hour.—A spectacle worthy of such men, or rather of demons escaped from hell! This they did with eighteen of these unhappy men and among them the brave Capt. Riley, whose head they stuck upon a pike and planted at Churubusco. To six others, who proved that they had not volunteered but been impressed, they gave two hundred lashes each, and compelled them to dig the graves of their companions.

WINTER.—The Portland Advertiser of the 13th inst., says:—"The White Mountains, yesterday, covered with snow as entirely as in the depths of winter, loomed like an immense snow-drift, apparently but a few miles beyond the ridges of Westbrook and Falmouth."

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, in addition to being one of the best anti-bilious medicines in the world, possess a power in removing pain, which is truly astonishing. Four or five of said Indian Vegetable Pills, taken every night on going to bed, will in a short time completely rid the body of those morbid humors which, if lodged in the liver, are the cause of pain in the side, sometimes extending to the shoulder blade, difficulty of breathing, nausea and sickness, loss of appetite, costiveness, flatulency, swarthy or yellow complexion, and other symptoms of an inflamed or torpid state of the liver.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills also thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels from all bilious humors, and other impurities, and the clear a certain cure for colic, dysentery, cholera morbus, and other disorders of the intestines.

HURD'S GRAMMATICAL CORRECTOR. Or vocabulary of nearly two thousand of the common errors of speech; contained in no other work: The whole explained, corrected and conveniently arranged for the use of schools and PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS. BY SETH T. HURD. Published by E. H. Butler & Co., Philadelphia.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL, Philadelphia, July 8, 1847. "We the undersigned cordially recommend "Hurd's Grammatical Corrector," as a text-book for schools, and as highly useful and convenient manual for private families and individuals. Signed by JOHN S. HART, Principal, and nine Professors. "We the undersigned Principals of the Public Schools of Philadelphia, recommend "Hurd's Grammatical Corrector," as a work eminently calculated, not only to prevent the formation of incorrect modes of expression, but to eradicate those already acquired. It contains nearly two thousand of those common errors of speech which are not provided for in English Grammars, and hence is of very great importance as supplying a vacuum in our list of school books. Such a work is much needed in our Schools, and we hope the "Corrector" may receive that consideration to which its merits so justly entitle it. Signed by JAMES MCCLUNE, Principal of the Master St. boy's gram. school, and 26 others. Chamber of the Controllers of Public Schools.

"At a meeting of the committee of the Controllers of Public Schools, held at the Controlers' Chamber, in the City of Philadelphia, on Friday July 30, 1847, the following resolution was unanimously adopted. Resolved, That "Hurd's Grammatical Corrector," be introduced as a Class Book, &c. Certified from the Minutes. THOMAS B. FLORENCE, Sec'y.

"This is a highly useful publication, being an exposition, accompanied by corrections, of nearly 2000 inaccuracies of daily conversation, which the author has exhibited in a very strong light." Mr. Hurd merits much praise for his judicious labors in this department.—N. Y. Tribune. "This work is precisely such one as the community has long needed. It should be in the hands of all. Few persons will be able to look into its neatly printed pages, without perceiving expressions with which their own lips are familiar, and the ineligence or inaccuracy of which they have never suspected."—Phil. spirit of the Times. "This is an original and singular book, and it is as useful as it is new and singular.—N. Y. Sun.

"There is here supplied a most admirable corrective of those provincial and barbarous expressions which so extensively prevail in conversation, and do not unfrequently find their way into the press. It is based upon the best lexicographical authorities, and evinces a nice and discriminating knowledge of the meaning of words. For Schools and for general reference, this work may be commended with great safety as a guide to our venacular tongue.—N. Y. Evangelist. "A book of this kind was much needed as a means of eradicating the many cant phrases and barbarisms already flourishing among us. We have been much amused and edified in looking over its pages. It is admirably adapted for the use of schools, and must become a standard work throughout the country. It will also prove a most useful manner, to have at hand in a family, as a book of reference, in cases where a phrase is used of doubtful character.—Phil. Sat. Post. "Can it be said in placing a copy of this work in the hands of every reader, we should be doing a public service.—Phil. Sat. Courier. "This is a most useful little volume.—Phil. Public Ledger. "This is a highly valuable work, not only for Schools, but for private individuals. It contains nearly two thousand common errors of speech, the correction of which the author sustains by constant reference to standard authors, and by exceedingly well written notes and comments.—Phil. N. Am. & U. S. Gaz.

"This work must be productive of much good. The author has conferred a great benefit upon the English language.—Dollar Newspaper. "This is a very timely, entertaining and useful book. We commend its introduction into all schools and families.—N. Y. Observer. "This is a very useful book.—Godey's Lady's Book. "This is an extremely valuable, as well as curious little volume; the result of great labor and research. We recommend it strongly to our school directors, and all concerned in education; nor wish only; we would recommend every man who wishes to correct his colloquial errors, to carry a copy of it in his pocket for 6 months as we intend to do ourselves.—Phil. American.

On the 8th of July last, a large stereotype edition of several thousand copies of the "Corrector," was put into the market, since which time, being a little more than a month, the entire edition has been exhausted; more than two hundred teachers having already introduced the work into their schools.

The sanction it has received as a class-book, by an official resolution of a committee of the controllers of the public schools of Philadelphia (City and County, (which schools number upwards of forty thousand pupils), and the unparalleled favor with which it has been received by teachers and school directors, in various other portions of the country, as well as by the public generally, have rendered necessary an immense edition of twenty thousand copies, in order to supply the present, and keep pace with the increasing demand.
