

ence and hearing of Bvt. Lt. Col. Duncan, which may save the time of this court, as well as that of the parties before it.

I have laid two charges, with a specification under each, against the Lt. Col. The first alleges a breach on his part, of an old general regulation of the army, re-published and re-established by the President of the United States, Jan. 28, 1847, against the publication in newspapers, &c., of unauthorized letters or reports, from any army in the field, pending the campaign to which they relate, and which regulation the President directs all in military authority strictly to enforce.

As a principal conservator, at the time, of the peace, harmony and discipline of the army, I thought it my duty to arrest Bvt. Lt. Col. Duncan for a publication of that character, and laid the specific charge in question—which I duly submitted to the President of the United States, in order that he might appoint (as no other could) a general court martial for his trial. The President having thought proper on an admitted, certain, and specific fact, to order an inquiry into, and not a trial of the matter, it is clearly not for me to uphold his regulation against his evident indifference on the subject. I therefore withdraw that charge and its specification, and utterly decline, without further orders from the President, to prosecute it before this or any other tribunal.

The second charge and specification, which I thought it my duty, but most reluctantly, to prefer against the same gallant officer, relates to matters of fact, therein set forth, quoted from the same letter, re-published here under his own signature.

Gen. S. then goes on to remark that "hoping and believing that the statements made in that re-published letter, however injurious to the truth of history, and to the same extent to myself, were made from the want of correct information, and from no intention to misrepresent facts,"—he "would give to Lieut. Col. Duncan another opportunity of saying whether he was not ignorant at the time of writing the letter of those facts." Which the General then recapitulated, being orders in relation to certain movements of the army, including certain orders to General Worth. Lieut. Col. Duncan, thereupon submitted a reply in writing, in substance that when he wrote his "Tampico letter" he believed the facts to be substantially true; and that he was ignorant of what Gen. Scott had just stated, and heard it for the first time; that he "had no desire to detract from the merits of any officer; and no one can regret more than myself if I have done so."

Gen. Scott then withdrew the charges and said he would not prosecute them unless ordered by the Court. The case was then set aside.

The case of Gen. Pillow was then taken up. General Scott offered to withdraw the charges against him, chiefly for the reason, that he had asked for a Court Martial; instead of which the Government had ordered a Court of Inquiry, into which he said, the "judge and his prisoners, the accuser and the accused, the innocent and the guilty, are thrown all alike to scramble for justice, as we may." And because "this Court had no power beyond the mere collecting of facts and giving an inoperative opinion thereupon."

—Gen. PILLOW, however, with much bravado—(thinking doubtless, that the charges could not be sustained by Gen. Scott,) insisted upon proceeding; and Gen. Scott agreed to gratify him. On the 21st, the examination of witnesses commenced, and Mr. FREANER, the "Mustang" correspondent of the New Orleans Delta, was put upon the stand. His evidence is a most triumphant vindication of the propriety of the arrest by Gen. Scott. In regard thereto, we copy the following from the notice in the New Orleans Bulletin, of the Court of Inquiry:

"Major General Pillow's case then came on the carpet, and certainly it opens rich, particularly as regards the Leonidas letter, the original draft of which was at once clearly brought home, not only to the knowledge of Gen. Pillow, but that he actually handed the unsealed manuscript, with interlineations in his own handwriting, to Mr. Freaner, (Mustang) addressed and to be forwarded to the Delta, stating that he wished it sent off, so as to give the first impressions. He afterwards wanted to withdraw the document from Mr. Freaner, but the latter refused to part with it.

"We all recollect Gen. Pillow's recent letter on the subject of the 'Leonidas,' and how he is now going to explain away his assertions on the subject, we are at a loss to imagine.

"The examination of Mr. Freaner, which was clear and conclusive, was closed on the fifth day, and Mr. Trist was to be the next witness."

—We are of the opinion, that General

Pillow—the man who dug that ditch at Camargo on the wrong side of the fortification—has again dug a ditch which is destined to engulf him. He had better have accepted General Scott's offer to withdraw the charges. However, he can rely on his brother-in-law Polk to save him.

HE WAS ONLY A PRIVATE!—A soldier is announced to have died in Pittsburg, and buried at the expense of public charity. His name is not mentioned.—He was only a private—no epaulettes graced his shoulders, or public procession his lonely obsequies.

Gen. Scott is expected home by the middle of next month. He will be triumphantly acquitted by the Court of Inquiry, and, if present indications foretell anything, it will be at the expense of his persecutors.

DYSPEPSIA.—This distressing complaint is a weakness of the digestive organs, caused by impurity of the blood. The gastric juice, a fluid peculiar to the stomach, when secreted from bad blood, is deficient in those solvent properties which are of such importance to digestion. Consequently the food, instead of being dissolved, often becomes spoiled or putrefied in the stomach; hence bad breath, sour belching, costiveness, pains in the stomach, colic, dysentery, and other dreadful complaints.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a certain cure for Dyspepsia, because they cleanse the stomach, and bowels from all bilious humors, and purify the blood. Four or five of said Pills, taken at night on going to bed, will in all cases give relief, and if continued for a short time, will make a perfect cure of Dyspepsia.

Beware of sugar coated counterfeits. The only original and genuine Indian Vegetable Pills have the signature of William Wright written with a pen on the top label of each box. None other is genuine and to counterfeits this is Forgery. The genuine for sale by
