An account of the Cass meeting at Alexandria was in type previous to the receipt of a "Close Observer's" communication, on the same subject. This will account for its non-appearance.

Taylor Meetings.

Attention is invited to a call for a series of Taylor meetings to be held in the lower end of this County during the present week, published in another column. Let there be a general rally of the friends of Old Rough and Ready at these popular gatherings. Able speaking and good Taylor singing may be expected.

ANOTHER EDITOR IN LUCK.—We are not a little gratified to learn that our friend ROBERT M. FRICK, one of the editors of the Miltonian, has been nominated for the State Senate in the Dauphin and Northumberland districts. This is a deserved compliment to a worthy, intelligent, industrious young man. Mr. F. has ever been a zealous hard working whig, and will make a faithful and efficient Senator. His election is certain.

DROWNED.—On Sunday evening last, David Snare, Esq., of this borough was called upon to hold an inquest on the body of a man found drowned in the canal about two miles below this borough. The deceased was a German, about 5 feet 4 inches high and supposed to be about 23 years of age. $5.95 in notes and specie was found upon his person. He had been stopping in Huntingdon for some days previous to his death and was supposed to be slightly deranged. Name not ascertained.

CLOTHING.—A. WILLOUGHBY is just receiving a new and well made stock of FALL and WINTER CLOTHING. Advertisement next week.

Look Out!

It is now hinted that Cass will be withdrawn and the whole Locofoco party united on Martin Van Buren for the purpose of trying to defeat Gen. Taylor! We caution the Whigs to be on the look out for all new movements of the enemy. They are becoming desperate.

AN ABSTRACT OF DANIEL WEBSTER'S SPEECH at Marshfield, Massachusetts, will be found on our first page. We invite attention to it.

THE MARKETS.—Flour is now selling in Philadelphia at $5.75 a $5.87 1/2 per bbl. Wheat $1.16 a $1.17 per bushel. Rye—70 a 72 cts.—Corn 66 a 67 cts. Oats 52 a 53 cts. Timothy seed $2.50 a 3.00. Clover seed $3.75 a $4.00. Flaxseed $1.25 a 1.32.

A Sign.

We are informed by a friend from Trough Creek that Raccoons have not been so numerous in that Valley since 1810, as at this time. And, added our informant, "look out for thundering whig majorities when the coons are about!"

Too Rich.

The Cass men of this State urged the objection against Gen. Irwin, last fall, that he was wealthy and unfit to hold office. How will Mr. Cass go down when it is ascertained that he is worth upwards of HALF A MILLION, and made the most of that out of an Indian Agency at a moderate salary?

CHESTER COUNTY.—The Whigs of this county have held their Convention, and nominated the following candidates:—Congress, Jesse C. Dickey; Senate, H. Jones Brooke; Assembly, Henry S. Evans, Thomas K. Bull, and David J. Bent.

Samuel Calvin, Esq.
This gentleman, it will be seen by the proceedings of the Congressional Conference, has been nominated as the Whig candidate for Congress in this district. Although not the first choice of the Whigs of Huntingdon county, it is conceded by all that in Mr. CALVIN we have an able and exceedingly popular candidate. And as our own popular and universally esteemed fellow citizen, Dr. JOHN McCULLOCH, did not receive the nomination, the distinction could not have fallen on one more acceptable to us, in all respects.

Mr. CALVIN is emphatically a self-made man. Unaided by wealth or family influence, he has risen, step by step, from an obscure country-schoolmaster to be one of the leading members of the Law profession in this section of the State. Our first introduction to Mr. C. took place a "long time ago," when we (then quite a lad) entered his school in a rural district in the upper end of Northumberland county. As was our custom on being presented to a "new teacher," we made a careful survey of him to see how far it might be prudent to change our conduct from that pursued when under the tuition of those rather lax in their discipline. And in those days, teachers of that description were, unfortunately for the rising generation, quite numerous in Pennsylvania. He was very plainly but decently clad, in a suit of home-made brown woollen cloth, and was presiding over his school with all the dignity of one just making his debut in the profession. There was a sternness about his brow, and a peremptory tone in his voice, that rendered us fearful that the days of fun and tricks during school hours had passed away, so long as he remained. But then his extreme youth, and his occasional pleasant kind looks, soon reassured us, and we partially relapsed into our former habits. Hence, we remained but a few days in his school, until he deemed it his duty to give us quite a feeling demonstration of his regard and attention. The way in which it was done, will be readily imagined by all who have "once been boys themselves," and attended a school where strict discipline prevailed. Although Mr. C. did not "spare the rod," he was exceedingly popular and successful as a teacher. In this capacity he labored, until he acquired means to enter the Milton Academy, then one of the best institutions of the kind in the interior of the State, where he studied and made himself proficient in the higher branches of English education, as well as the Languages. After completing his studies there, he was employed as Teacher of the Academy in this borough. As evidence of the ability with which he filled this situation, we point with pleasure to the many intelligent young men in this community and elsewhere who were among his pupils; many of whom have filled and are still filling important stations with marked ability. After this, by his own industry, acquiring the means to do so, he studied Law in this borough, and in the usual course of time was admitted to the Bar, and opened an office in the young but rapidly increasing borough of Hollidaysburg. His great success as a practitioner, in a highly intelligent community, is the best evidence that could be adduced of his untiring industry and rare ability. As an orator he is not the most pleasing in point of style; but as a cogent, powerful reasoner he has no superior and but few equals within the bounds of this Congressional District. As vanishes a snow-wreath, under the genial rays of the noontide sun, so does fallacy, no matter how ingeniously presented, when brought in contact with the strong practical, argumentative mind of Mr. Calvin. Although without the advantages of wealth to aid him in youth, Mr. C. had the good fortune to receive the kind care and moral training of an affectionate pious mother. And as the result of this, he is a man of unbending integrity and untarnished honor. He is in short as good a specimen of a MAN, in all the essential qualifications, as can be produced in the interior of Pennsylvania. As a politician, Mr. Calvin has always been an ardent straight forward Whig. He is a strong and consistent friend of PROTECTION TO AMERICAN INDUSTRY, in opposition to the policy that brings the Pauper Labor of Europe into competition with it. He is opposed to the exercise of the VETO POWER, to defeat the will of the People when Constitutionally expressed by their representatives. He is in favor of prohibiting by act of Congress, the extension of SLAVERY INTO TERRITORY NOW FREE, and of restricting and abolishing the curse of human slavery, by every constitutional means. He will in short, if elected, be an able and efficient advocate of Northern rights and Northern interests.

Such Whigs of Huntingdon County, is but an imperfect description of the candidate for Congress which has been presented to you for your suffrages. And although the claims of the candidate presented by you in County Convention has been postponed, the nominee cannot fail to receive your hearty and undivided support. He is entitled to it by the usages of our party. For, if we had succeeded in nominating the man of our choice, we would have expected the support of our Blair County Whig brethren, who brought out Mr. Calvin. He is entitled to it for his superior talents and great moral worth. Let us, then, one and all, rally to the support of SAMUEL CALVIN, and by his election, secure a representative in Congress that will be an honor to the District, and one who well understands and will faithfully attend to our interests.

Another Cass Failure!

The Cass "Mass Meeting" at Alexandria, as will be seen by an account of it furnished by a correspondent, turned out the most brilliant failure of the season. Some time since the Rough and Ready boys to cease holding Taylor meetings. We have different advice to offer the Cassites. We hope they may increase instead of diminish their number of meetings. We know nothing that would more effectually aid the cause of Taylor, Johnston and MiddleswARTH, than for the Cass men to hold characteristic meetings in every township in the county.

Party Madness—Slandering a Patriot.

"Whom the Gods wish to destroy they first make mad," is strikingly illustrated in the conduct of the Cass party at this time. Less than two years ago the Locofocos were as lavish in their praises of Gen. Taylor as the Whigs. But now, that the old man has been brought before the country, without any agency of his own, for the Presidency, and they are as a consequence to be arrested in their career of public plunder and perulation, they cannot find terms sufficiently opprobrious wherewith to denounce and vilify him. On Friday evening last, a Locofoco orator declared, to a meeting of Cass men at Couts' tavern, in this borough, that the name of Gen. TAYLOR would "GO DOWN DISHONORED AND DISGRACED!!" What! the name of that old man, amid the thunders of artillery and thick clouds of smoke carried the American Flag in triumph, through the bloody battles of Palo Alto, Resaca, Monterey and Buena Vista, and held it up to the admiring gaze of his grateful countrymen, its rich folds dancing in victory; the name of the conqueror to whom it seems but as yesterday twenty millions of freemen were shouting hosannas as with one voice; the name of the man amid the raven locks of whose boyhood, glory entwined her freshest laurels, and the white hairs of whose declining age are covered with even fairer and more abundant wreaths, "like evergreens springing up amidst the snow;" the name of that man "GO DOWN DISHONORED AND DISGRACED!!" If the assertion was not the result of the wildest political madness, we would say, palsied by the American tongue that would give utterance to it. The association of the term "disgrace" with a name so glorious and so dear to every true lover of his country, is only equalled by the infamous assertion of a Cass paper in Rahway, New Jersey, that "Gen. Taylor is a KNAVE and a COWARD!" DUT, in the language of a cotemporary, "let those base enough to do so, vent their impotent rage upon him in idle calumny and vituperation. They will fall upon the stout oak which has stood for nearly half a century, defying the thunder and tempest of battle, and growing stronger from its war with the elements." Let them, if they choose, hiss and dart their fangs into the revered reputation of the brave Old Hero, who never "lost a battle, and who never did a wrong." For, like the bold apostle at Malta, he will shake from his hand the venomous but impotent serpents who have sought to sting him to the death, and leave them to be consumed in the blazing furnace of popular indignation.

Andrew Parker, Esq.

This gentleman, who is now the Cass candidate for Congress in this district, it should be remembered, is the most ultra FREE TRADE man in the five counties! This fact we learn from those who know his sentiments well. He is also an avowed Pro-Slavery man and would not vote against the extension of Slavery to free Territory. He is in short as radical a Locofoco as can be produced in any part of the extreme South. Can a man, we ask, entertaining such sentiments, receive the votes of the freemen of a district the prosperity of which depends upon a Protective Tariff? Can he receive the votes of the freemen of a District, two-thirds of whom are opposed to the extension of Human Slavery? We address these interrogatories to honest Democrats as well as Whigs. All have a common interest in this matter. So strong, indeed, are his Free Trade sentiments that we are informed that Mr. Parker is opposed to the Tariff of 1816, because he considers some of its features "protective!" Farmers, Mechanics, Forgem, Colliers, Laborers, Manufacturers, of the 17th Congressional District, to whatever party you may belong, can you, will you vote for a candidate so diametrically opposed to your interests? We cannot think for one moment that you are capable of committing so suicidal an act.

Cheering from Ohio.

The Pa. Inquirer says: We yesterday conversed with a highly intelligent citizen of Ohio, and he gave us the most encouraging intelligence in relation to the prospect for Gen. Taylor. He says that the Whigs are, with scarcely an exception, thoroughly united—while the democratic party is greatly divided, especially upon the Free Soil question. He added: "I am not a betting man, but if I were, I would risk all I am worth on the issue in Ohio, in favor of General Taylor."

The Reward of a Traitor.

A Cass meeting was held at Boston on Monday the 4th instant. Gen. CALVIN CUSHING, a renegade Whig, (announced as one of the Speakers) arose to address the meeting. He was received with a storm of hisses, and having in vain endeavored, for a quarter of an hour, to obtain a hearing, sat down, completely disconcerted.

Gov. Johnston.

Gov. Johnston has made a most favorable impression in the eastern section of the State. His addresses at Philadelphia, at Norristown, at Newtown, and at Bristol, were listened to with deep interest, by immense audiences. The Norristown Free Press, alluding to the meeting at that place, says:

"After Gov. Johnston closed, the meeting adjourned highly gratified, both with the appearance of their candidate and the views he entertains upon the great questions that are now agitating the country. Great good will result from this visit and this speech. Our candidate has been both seen and heard, and every one with whom we have conversed feels that in any work that can be done, it will be done for a cause and a candidate worthy of it."

The Locofocos are becoming alarmed at the fact of Gov. Johnston taking the stump, and, as is their custom, when the spoils are in danger, they are beginning to attack him with their usual weapons—slander and detraction. It will not avail them, however. BILL JOHNSTON is bound to be the next Governor of Pennsylvania, and they may as well take it easy. We learn that Gov. Johnston will be at Lewistown on the 26th, and hope he may also make it convenient to visit this place. If the People only have an opportunity to see and hear Gov. J. we care not how much the Cass men abuse him.

Will he Resign?

This is the first interrogatory that escapes the lips of every one when informed of the nomination of Hon. Morris Longstreth, one of the present Canal Commissioners. "WILL HE RESIGN?" is echoed and re-echoed from one end of the State to the other. From the information before us, and the fact that the Convention which nominated him refused to adopt a resolution requesting him to do so, we think we can safely answer that he WILL NOT! He is too fond of office to resign the one he has until he ascertains whether he can secure the higher one which he seeks. The question then arises, Will the freemen of this Commonwealth elect a man to the office of Governor, who now holds the important office of Canal Commissioner, to which he was elected one year ago? Will they vote for a man who only sought the office of Canal Commissioner to promote his aspirations to the higher one of Governor? Will they by their votes endorse a nomination brought about by OFFICIAL INFLUENCE and CORRUPTION? For it is a notorious fact that the voice of the great mass of the Locofoco party of the State was not in favor of the nomination of Longstreth. How many Locofocos in the county of Huntingdon, desired his nomination? We have not heard of a solitary one. Yet, the delegate from Huntingdon county voted for the nomination of Morris Longstreth! Is it not a notorious fact that the Locofoco County Convention of this county was equally divided between Judge Black and Wm. Bigler—not one vote was cast for Longstreth. Yet the latter received the vote of the county in State Convention!—How was this state of things brought about?—Would Mr. Longstreth have received the vote of this county, we ask, had he not been holding the office of Canal Commissioner? And will honest Democrats endorse by their votes a nomination thus made? Will not all such rather say that one office at a time should satisfy any one, and especially if he does not resign the one he holds, peremptorily refuse to vote him into another. We think they will.

Centre County.

The Whigs of Centre County are buckling on their armor and going into the political campaign with a zeal and earnestness which augurs well for the Taylor cause in that County. A County Meeting was held in Bellefonte on the 30th ult., which is represented as one of the best meetings held in that County for years. General JAMES IRVIN presided. The Whig thus speaks of the meeting:

"The Whig Meeting on Wednesday evening last, was one of the most spirited and enthusiastic assemblies that we ever attended. A citizen of one of the Southern slave States, and is himself a slaveholder; yet we know him to be opposed in feeling and sentiment to the institution of human servitude. He has, on more than one occasion, avowed his hostility to the extension of the curse of slavery over newly-acquired territory that is now free; and he cannot justly, therefore, be regarded as the slavery candidate. As evidence of the fact that he is not so regarded by the slave extensionists of the South, we need but refer to the following extracts from Southern papers:

From the Charleston Courier, (Loco.)
"He (Gen. Taylor) is opposed to the extension of slavery into the territories—having opposed the annexation of Texas—and having decidedly approved of non-extension."

From the Camden Mirror, (Loco.)
"We pledge ourselves to prove that, notwithstanding Gen. Taylor is himself a slaveholder, he is in favor of the Wilmot Proviso, and hence opposed to the introduction of slavery into the new territories."

Who, then, may be regarded as the Slavery candidate? MARTIN VAN BUREN, although well known as "the Northern man with Southern principles," has been nominated by those who claim to be the almost exclusive opponents to the extension of Slavery. He cannot, therefore, be properly designated the Slavery candidate, although he is known to be opposed to the abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia, and has always heretofore played double-face to the Slave power of the South. Who, then, is the Slavery candidate? We answer LEWIS CASS. As evidence in support of this assertion, we refer to the following extracts from papers that are known to be engaged in his support for the Presidency:

From the Washington Union, Aug. 1st, 1818.
"Gen. CASS has nobly and frankly defined his position on the subject of Slavery. HE WILL VETO THE WILMOT PROVISIO."

From the South Carolinian, (Loco.)
"On the Wilmot Proviso, Gen. Cass is with the South, and occupies the ground which can only be conceded to by the South for the safety of her 'peculiar institutions.'"

The Right Sort of Talk.

In place of the lamentations and disorder which our enemies expected to hear from Albany, we are happy to have such articles as the following from the Albany Evening Journal:

NOT TO BE MOVED.

There will be no more grumbling among the Whigs of Albany—no more hesitations or doubts. The question has been distinctly presented:—Will you support TAYLOR or CASS? Out of a meeting of FOURTEEN HUNDRED WHIGS, not less than THIRTEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY pledged their votes for TAYLOR and FILLMORE.

Nothing which may appear hereafter—unless it be a declaration from the General himself that he is not a Whig—will disturb the fixed purpose of the Whigs of Albany. They have resolved as either TAYLOR or CASS must be elected, that TAYLOR IS INFINITELY PREFERABLE TO CASS; and they will support him. His majority in this county, over his highest opponent, will BE GREATER THAN THAT EVER BEFORE RECEIVED BY ANY WHIG.

Presidential Election Law.

By the act of the 11th April, 1848, says the Philadelphia Ledger, assessors are required to open their books immediately after the second Tuesday of October, and are required to assess any white freemen making application at any time within ten days of the time fixed by law for the election of electors for President and Vice President, and to make out lists for the officers of said election, and deliver the same to them on or before eight o'clock on the morning of election.

ALL HAIL VERMONT!

THE WHIG STAR THAT NEVER SETS!!!

The Whigs of Vermont have triumphed most gloriously at the late election. They have maintained their integrity—have clung to their principles and the Constitution, and have set a noble example to the Whigs of the whole Union! But what shall we say of the poor defunct Locofocos, the Cass party;—they have almost been "swallowed up" and their "Baltimore Platform" has been knocked into pieces, by the Patent Free Soil man of the "Buffalo Platform"—the Barnburner and Abolitionist—while the Whigs, with General TAYLOR as their standard bearer, have materially increased their strength! Whigs of Pennsylvania! follow the glorious example set before you by your brethren of the Green Mountain State!

As far as heard from the Whig candidate for Governor beats the Free Soil and Cass candidates combined, and the Cass candidate runs about 1000 votes below the Free Soil candidate!

The Boston Atlas says:—As for the Senate, we have carried all the counties we did last year and we have no doubt but what we have carried the three Senators in Orange county, which will be a gain.

The House of Representatives will be largely Whig. We have already heard of the election of 43 Whigs to 18 Locofocos of all sorts. In the same towns last year the Whig majority was 18. Now it is 25, being a net gain of FIFTEEN. Who says that the Whigs of Vermont are not true Taylor men, "WHO NEVER SURRENDER?"

From the Albany Evening Journal.
We have returns from fifty towns in addition to those which we gave yesterday. They are equally favorable to the Whigs. The aggregate of 132 towns foot up on Representatives thus:

Whigs	77
Free Soil	33
Locofoco	39
No choice	16

Will Cass still continue to be a candidate to divide and distract the Democratic party?

Who is the Slavery Candidate?

NOT ZACHARY TAYLOR. He, it is true, is a citizen of one of the Southern slave States, and is himself a slaveholder; yet we know him to be opposed in feeling and sentiment to the institution of human servitude. He has, on more than one occasion, avowed his hostility to the extension of the curse of slavery over newly-acquired territory that is now free; and he cannot justly, therefore, be regarded as the slavery candidate. As evidence of the fact that he is not so regarded by the slave extensionists of the South, we need but refer to the following extracts from Southern papers:

He cannot, therefore, be properly designated the Slavery candidate, although he is known to be opposed to the abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia, and has always heretofore played double-face to the Slave power of the South. THE VOICE OF FREEMEN!

From the Blair County Whig.
Mr. Editor.—We the undersigned, formerly belonging to what is called the democratic party, feel called upon to state that we voted for Polk and Dallas in 1844, upon the assurance of the papers and leaders of the party, (particularly in Hollidaysburg) that they were the friends of the Tariff of 1812. We are now fully satisfied that we were wilfully and knowingly deceived, not only from the fact that that very Tariff bill being repealed, but from finding those who published in their papers, proclaimed on the stump, and carried on their banners—"Polk, Dallas, Shunk and the Tariff of 1812"—are now denouncing it, and advocating the British Tariff of 1816. We are free to acknowledge that by deception they induced us to vote in favor of English interests; that was their fault—if they do so again it will be ours.

DEMOCRATS! READ THIS!

BARNBURNER'S CONVENTION.

PITTSBURG, Sep. 6.

The Barnburner's Free Soil Convention met here to-day and nominated a full county ticket.

Dr. Gazzam was recommended for Governor.—G. W. Jackson nominated for Congress; and 23 delegates selected to attend the Reading State Convention.

GOOD SPUNK.—The Pittsburg Gazette says that a delicate young girl, of fifteen, was arrested on Saturday, and brought before the Mayor of Allegheny, for participating in the factory riots.—She was required to find $300 bail for her appearance at court, and future good behaviour; but said she was determined to go to jail, rather than give even a promise to keep the peace.

For the "Journal."

CASS TOWNSHIP.

MR. CLARK.—We had a great meeting here a few nights since—it was a gathering of the people for the Old Hero. Eliel Smith Smith, Esq., Isaac Smith and E. B. Wilson spoke ably in behalf of the Whig cause. They were listened to with attention and great interest. The best feeling pervades our ranks here. The County Ticket will run the entire vote. All is right in Cass.

An Old Whig.

DEED.

In Madsdensville, Springfield Township, on Friday, 21st ult., SYLVESTER SCOTT, son of W. H. & Eliza Jane Gorsuch, aged 1 year, 9 months and 13 days.
