We dislike to make the announcement—we do. But necessity knows no law, and we are compelled to whisper to all who are in arrears that we are out of money and must have some immediately. So walk up to the Captaia's office and settle, every mothers son of you. We have a few subscribers in Ohio that we should like to hear from very much. Report yourselves gentlemen or we shall be under the necessity of reporting you—to the proper officer.

Tue Markers.—Flour is now selling in the Eastat $5 37½. Wheat at from $1 10 to 1 12½ per bushel. Rye at 68 cents. Corn, 68 and 69, and Oats 24 a 35 cents per bushel.

WILLIAM F. JOHNSTON.

WILLIAM F. JOHNSTON,
Is the Governor elect of Penn'a!
SHOUT, TAYLOR MEN, SHOUT!
Although the Locofocos, under the lead of that Princely Aristocrat, Morris Longstreth, have run us much closer than we anticipated I last week, yet we still have the proud satisfaction of announcing to our readers that 'RELIEF EILL,' "this accidency," as the ultras were pleased to term him, is Governor elect of the good old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The simple announcement of a fact in itself so glorious, would seem to be sufficient. That we have prostrated the once great Locofoco party of Pennsylvania in single combat is an achievement that needs no comment to illustrate its magnificence or importance. The mere announcement of the fact, sustained by the official figures, is sufficient for men of both parties.

And the causes which led to this mighty and glorious political revolution must also be manifest to every unprejudiced mind. The most prominent among which is the fixed and settled determination of the People to elect honest and brave old ZACHARY TAYLOR President of the United States. Johnston was the Taylor candidate for Governor, and hence every man who took the proper view of the matter, seen the importance of sustaining Mr. Johnston. The second great cause may be found in the deceptive and fraudulent conduct of the Locofocos in regard to a PROTECTIVE TARIFF. Their course on this vitally important question to the interests of Pennsylvania has told with most course on this vitally important question to the interests of Pennsylvania has told with most tremendous effect against them. The other causes that ope ated against our opponents we may sum up as follows: The manifest unpopularity of Gen. Cass, and the fact that falsehood,

The Rough and Ready Club held a meeting at Carmon's on Saturday evening last and renewed the contest for O.I.D ZACK. As may be supposed the election of Johnston had the effect of making it one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the season. Songs were sung by the Taylor Minstrels and addresses delivered by Messrs. Williamson, Clark and Blair. Every one appeared determined to go with renewed energy for Taylor. Minstrels and addresses delivered by Messrs.
Williamson, Clark and Blair. Every one appeared determined to go with renewed energy for Taylor.
We can assure our friends abroad that Old Hontingdon will do much better for Taylor than she done at the late election.

Secret Circumsus.

Cominous.

Our neighbor's pole, which has graced his office all summer, broke in twain on the receipt of the news electing Johnston. And we observe that but one of the three streamers now floats from the stump which remains. The November storm will take the last of the Mohegans.

Secret Circulars.

Since the late Locofoco disaster in Pennsylvania, a committee of Locofoco office-holders at Washington City are addressing secret circulars to the faithful throughout the country to bestir themselves for Cass. Saturday evening's mail brought quite a number to this place. It won't brought quite a number to this place. It won't save you, Messrs. Office-holders. "OLD ZAR's COMING." and you may prepare to leave Washington on the 4th of March next.

"Another Fire along the whole Line!"

We have passed safely and with honor (says the Laneaster Tribune) through one hardly contested battle, and we should now prepare vigorously for that which is to come off in Nowember. Two delightful, cool and pleasant weeks are before us prior to the Presidential election. These two weeks should be improved in lighting up the watch-fires, in establishing correct principles, in perfecting the organization, and in making all necessary preparations for releasing the whole country from the withering grasp of Locofocoism.

Upon the result of this election hang issues of vast concern. Our country—her honor and her welfare—Liberty, and all the interests that cluster about it, are at stake. The issue is one of far-reaching influence, and will affect for weal or for wo the country for a long series of years, if it does not definitely settle for all time, the future policy and measures of the government. What has already been accomplished in this State in the recent election has caused shouts of joy to go up from the heart of every Whig in the land. But we are not to halt here. This preliminary step must be followed by others in the same direction, until the glorious Whig principles which animated our fathers be established beyond all cavil or dispute upon the free soil of our country.

Every interest dear and precious to American citizens calls upon the Whigs of Pennsylvania to be up and doing, that the good cause of honest Politics and an upright administration of the government may make progress, and this great State send forth an influence in behalf of the right which shall thrill upon the heart of the nation, and bring shouts of thanksgiving from gratified millions.

The contest is, as every man must see, between Gen. Taylor and his Whig principles, and Gen. Cass and his unadultered locofocoism and slavery sympathies. To the future—to the result of the November election—every Whig, every friend of General Taylor and an honest, administration, should bend his energies and deem no the vote of the Keystone State.

Trying to Crow.

Did any Whig see the male chicken in the last Globe? It had been prepared by our neighbor to crow over Longstreth's election, but being disappointed in that he had the cruelty to put up the poor fowl to crow up the courage of the dismayed readers of the Globe. But the thing was impossible. After expecting a victory it was asking too much to ask him to crow over a defeat. And there he stood with his mouth open, not crowing, but gasping for breath, the very picture of an office holder or the editor of the Globe himself, reading the news electing Johnston. Poor chicken, his occupation is gone and he may as well go quietly to roost for the balance of the season. "Old Zack's coming," and Locofoco crowing is over.

Will the Huntingdon Journal please inform us what has become of the tariff Whigs of the "Iron District t"—Pa. Register.

Notwithstanding the Railroad and imported vote, the returns show you that there were a sufficent number at the polls on the 10th inst., to prevent your Free Trade neighbor from reaching a seat in Congress. And we can further inform you that unless he changes his views, Mr. Parker will never have his ambition satisfied by a majority of the freemen of the 17th Congressional district. The "Tariff Whigs" fied by a majority of the freemen of the 17th Congressional district. The "Tariff Whigs" will see to that. Two years hence the Railroad will be completed.

Will be completed.

1 Our friends of the Pa. Register, (who are doubtless very clever fellows) need have no apprehensions on our account. We are bearing our recent triumph remarkably well, consideringits unparallelled brillianey. We are blessed with a tolerably good constitution, and can work off either victory or defeat without in the least endangering our physical or mental faculties. Still, the Register editors are entitled to our thanks for their kind wishes, and in return will please accept our heartfelt condolence in this, the autumn of "their discontent."

please accept our heartfelt condolence in this, a charity of Gen. Cass, and the fact that falsehood, clap trap and every species of humbuggery are just now at a very heavy discount with the voters of this country. Unfortunately for Locofocoism the people are beginning to wake up, cast about them, and to think and examine for themselves. Turn and twist it as they may, we can assure our Locofoco friends that the above are the true causes of their defeat and the People's triumph. And we can further assure them, that their rout on the second Tuesday of October was but the firing of a pop-gun to the thundering of Taylor artillery which will greet their ears on the evening of the 8th of November. "OLD ZACK'S COMING!" Let all who oppose him "stand from under!" The country will be redeemed and Gen. TAYLOR is bound to be the next President of this glorious Union of States.

Another Rally!

The Rough and Ready Club held a meeting at Carmon's on Saturday evening last and renewed the contest for OLD ZACK. As may be supposed the election of Johnston had the effect of making it one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the season. Songs were sung by the Taylor Minstrels and addresses delivered by Messrs.

TO BE REMEMBERED.

REMEMBER

That "eternal vigilance is the price of Liberty." It requires as much care to preserve political rights as it does to secure them. Our present Rulers have usurped KINGLY POW-ERS—trampled upon the Constitution, and comtemptuously Vetoed-the known will of the People, as expressed through their Representatives. An opportunity will soon be presented to rebuke usurpations. To neglect this opportunity will be to endorse the usurpers. To improve it will be to strengthen the stakes of Freedom. REMEMBER REMEMBER

That the Baltimore Convention has pledged Lewis Cass to oppose the principle of Protection to Home Labor. If he is elected, the whole power of the government will be exerted to enrich the manufacturers of Europe and impoverish the manufacturers of cur country.

REMEMBER

That Lewis Cass, through the Baltimore Convention, has declared that a general system for the improvement of our rivers and harbors is unconstitutional. The policy of Locofocoism is hostile to our Internal Commerce. They can expend thousands upon a survey of the Dead Sea, but not a dollar to remove Snags and Sandbars from our own Rivers. They can commission a score of Naval officers to analyze the waters of a Lake in Palestine, but they cannot expend a farthing to build or improve Harbors upon our own Lakes.

REMEMBER

That while the true policy of this Country is Peace and Amity with other nations, Lewis Cass is the blustering advocate of War and Conquest. Gen. Taylor is opposed to "leaving our own to stand upon foreign ground," while Lewis Cass advocates the subjugation of the whole of Mexico, and the Conquest of Cuba, Canada and the West India Islands.

That Lewis Cass, in his Nicholson Letter, advocates "the diffusion of Slavery." This is but another word for its extension. Those who agree with him should vote for him. But those who wish to restrict Slavery within its present limits, and to diffusion the present limits, and to diffusion the presence of the property of the present state.

That in the same Nicholson letter he acquiesces in the claimed right of Southern Slaveholders to carry their Slaves into New Mexico and California. His idea is that it would not be wise to quarrel with the South on the mere question of excluding Slavery temporarily from free territories recently acquired. This concession would render Slavery permanent in those territories. The only hope of Freedom there is to keep off the Slave influence until the territories are organized into States.

That all that ever has been done for Freedom

That all that ever has been done for Freedom has been done by the Whig Party; and that the action of the friends of Birney, in 1844, secured the election of Polk, the Annexation of Texas, War and the threatened Extension of Sla very. Let the folly of the Past warn us against similar folly in the Future.

That "a full vote is a Whig victory." In this State Locofocoism has no hope but in the apathy of the Whigs. "We can't be whipped when we all pull together." Then, "UP! GUARDS AND AT 'EM!"

The Tune Changed.

Previous to every election the Locofocos have nothing but the most honied words to address to the People. They call them the "dear people," and plead with them to come out and vote down the Whigs, and assist them in securing office. But when the People undertake to think for themselves, and vote to sustain their own interests, they change their tune, and denounce the "dear people" in unmeasured terms. The truth of this is forcibly illustrated in the course pursued by the Locofoco press towards the Miners and Laborers of Schuylkill county. Because they voted for Johnston and a Protective Tariff, the Globe of last week denounces them as the mere "SLAVES" of their employers. And this too, in very large type so that the attention of all may be attracted to it. Well, rail on neighbor. All the votes you can make for Cass by calling poor Laboring men "slaves" you are welcome to. We can assure you that the Miners of Schuylkill will give you additional cause to denounce them after the 7th of November. The vote for Johnston was but an April shower in comparison to the Taylor storm which will sweep the Tariff county of Schuylkill in November.

Look Here.

Look Here.

Every body who desires to see plenty of money, good prices, and the prosperity of the industrious poor as well as the rich will cast their votes for Gen. Taylor. Those who desire the reverse will go for Cass.

0. K.

Notwithstanding the Locofoco reports last week that the Whig candidate for Governor in Ohio had been defeated, we have now the gratification of announcing that Forn, the Whig candidate is elected, and that the Whigs have a majority on joint ballot in the Legislature. This is hard news for the dismayed Cassites, but it is nevertheless true. Old Zack will sweep Ohio with a perfect rush. He's coming!

Look Here.

Every body who desires to see plenty of money, good prices, and the prosperity of the industrious poor as well as the rich will cast their yotes for Gen. Taylor. Those who desire the reverse will go for Cass.

More Changes for Taylor.

We understand, says the Miners' Journal, that the recent Locofoco candidate for Prothonotary, the Clerk of the County Commissioners, the Postmasters at Schuylkill Haven, and Orwigsburg, with several other prominent men in the Locofoco ranks, have come out openly for Gen. Taylor. The "noise and confusion," &c.

TAYLOR MEN!

To your Posts! The country must and will be redeemed two weeks from to-day. Old Huntingdon must have her full share in the glory of this triumph. Every district in the county can do better for Taylor than was done on the 10th inst. for the Whig Ticket. Go to work then at once. Ride your townships and see every friend of old Zack and induce him to be at the election.

RAIN OF SHINE!

A great Revolution is at hand, and no Patriot should hesitate to give a few days time to add to its glory. We would beg leave respectfully to ask out friends in Cass, Dublin, Springfield and Warrionsmark to make arrangements at once to bring out the whole Taylor vote. You can and we know you WILL be better on the 7th of November than you did on the 10th instant. Up, then, Taylor Men, and at them.—Let not a Taylor vote remain at home. Every vote is important. We want to see at feast EIGHT HUNDRED majority for Taylor in old Huntingdon.

A Good Whig Motto.

"MY WOUNDED ARE BEHIND ME, AND I SHALL NEVER PASS THEM ALIVE!" I SHALL NEVER PASS THEM ALIVE!"

In the course of a speech recently made at Vicksburg, by Col. Jefferson Davis, now a Senator of the United States, and a member of the political party of which Gen. Cass is the head, he alluded to the battle of Buena Vista, and to the dauntless conduct of Old Invincible on that occasion. He said that during the progress of the battle, after he (Col. Davis) was wounded, Gen. Taylor came and sat down by him—the firm determination on his brow seemed struggling with an expression of deep sorrow for the brave fellows who had fallen and those who were yet to bite the dust—when, on being interrogated as to his purposes, he replied, while the fire of an unconquered will gleamed in his eye:—"MY WOUNDED ARE BEHIND ME, AND I SHALL NEVER PASS THEM A-LIVE!"

What a noble sentiment! How admirably suited for a motto for the Taylor banners of the seventh of November. How full of sympathy for the wounded rank and file—how well calculated to touch rouse, and animate the hearts of the American People. Who would not glory to rally under such a chieftain! The Hero, the Christian, and the Man, are at once united in Zachary Taylor, and his hearti as a generous and magnanimous, as his head is sagacious and clear.

Are You Assessed?

Friends of Taylor, remember that Saturday the 28th instant, is the last day that any man can be assessed to have a vote at the Presidential election. See that all are assessed who will be entitled to votes, in season. Don't put it off until the last day; but do it at once.

THE CAUSE.

The Sunbuy American, the organ of Locofocolsm in Northumberland county, thus speaks of the causes which led to the late overwhelming defeat of its party in Pennsylvania. We commend the article to the attention of our neighbor of the Globe, who still adheres to Free Trade:

neighbor of the Globe, who still adheres to Free Trade:

The Result and its Caues.—The result of the election throughout the State will, no doubt, mortify as well as surprise many. To us, we confess, the result was not wholly unexpected, and therefore not surprising. We have thought, and we have said, for years past that the inevitable tendency af the policy pursued by those in power, must necessarily bring about such a result. The pecple of Pennsylvania are emphatically an industrious and working people, and it is therefore natural to suppose that they would be jealous of their rights in protecting that industry. The sudden and shameless desertion of those who professed to be governed by the principles of the tariff of 1842, is now every day more and more apparent, and other bad policy of their course made manifest.

OUR VICTORY.

The Whigs of other States are clated with the success of the friends of Taylor in Pennsylvania—the good news has spread like wild fire all over the Union, and is hailed as a prestage of the tri-umphant victory in November. The Albany evening Journal expresses its gratification in the following pleasant strain:

gratification in the following pleasant strain:

Although we have not yet heard from the last county, it appears safe to claim the Governor.—But as Whigs have enough besides upon which to base the claim of a glorious victory in that State it may be well enough to "crow" by instalments! We have a majority of the members of Congress. That is worth three cheers. We have the legislature—sure. That deserves three guns. We will have a United States Senator! That will justify a universal shout of exultation. Now, if it shall turn out that we have the Governor, Canal Commissioner and the whole vast patronage of the State, why the "Old Reystone" should be honored by the thunder from a whole park of artillery. Let the poet give his views of this route of locofocoism:

"How are the mighty fallen!
And by the People's hand! Low lie the proud, And smitten by the weapons of the poor—The blacksmith's hammer and the woodman's axe!

There I Talk its Told; and, for that they were strong and scouraged the weak—and, for that they made strong And scourged the weak—and, for that they made laws,

Which turns the sweat of labor's brow to blood—
For these their sins the Nation casts them out."

Address.

The State Central Committee congratulate their bretheren in Pennsylvania, and throughout the Union, on the splendid result of the recent election which has recovered our glorious old Commonwealth from the hands of the spoilers who have so long preyed upon her vitals; and given to her a proud position in the great confederacy of which she forms so considerable a member.

The returns already received, though not official, are sufficiently reliable to warrent us in announcing the election of a Whig Governor, of a Whig majority of the Organization, of an increased majority of the State Senate, and of a decided Whig majority in the lower branch of the Legislature—with the necessary consequence of a Whig United States Senator, and of a Whig Treasurer of the State.

These results are eminently gratifying. They have been produced by a deep scated conviction in the minds of the people that a change in the administration of the State and National Governments is essential to their prosperity and welfare, and a stern determination to rebuke and avenge the scandalous frauda which were practised upon them in the Canvass of 1814. To the workingmen of the State—those who toil in the mines, and the furnaces, and the forges, and the factories—this great revolution is in a large-degree to be attributed. Convinced that their interests had been betrayed by the leaders of the miscalhed Democratic party, and assured that those interests would be restored by the election of Johnson as Governor, and Taylor as President, they have rallied to our standard by thousands, and have assisted us to achieve a triumph such as this country has not heretofore witnessed—a triumph as brilliant, as it is destributed to be permanent.

Of the result of the election in November, we do not entertain a doubt. All the causes which influenced the campaign which has just closed, will operate with redoubled force; and added to these, the unbounded and richly carried popularity of our great leader, will bring vast numbers to the polls who have hither

Again we say, then, to our friends every where—to all those, by whatever perty name they may have heretofore been designated, who have contributed to the grand result which has just been accomplished—be active, vigilant and untiring—labor yourselves, and invite your friends and neighbors to labor, in the good cause—and Zachary Taylor and Millard Fillmore will receive the electoral vote of Pennsylvania by a majority which has never been parallelled.

ALEX. RAMSEY,
Chairman of State Central Committee.

Old Ner cheated out of his election by Pipe-laying.

The Frauds in Philadelphia connly, where two districts returned SEVERAL HUNDREDS more locofoco majority than there were VOTES POLLED, or names on the tally lists, have doubtless defeated Ner Middleswarth for Canal Commissioner. The People should call for an investigation of this Rascality.

The same frauds have put Gov. Johnston a thousand behind what his real honest majority undoubtedly is.

We are credibly informed that the British Free Trade Locofoco leaders in this city are about manufacturing a letter for Lewis Cass, like that which John K. Kane, George M.
