

Pennsylvania Election.

The excitement in Philadelphia—The Philadelphia Bulletin of Thursday thus describes the excitement among politicians in that city, on Wednesday.

Never since the era of 1840, has Philadelphia witnessed such excitement after the election, as yesterday. During several hours of the morning—indeed up to the arrival of our express at 3 P. M.—great uncertainty prevailed as to who was elected Governor; and consequently every one who felt the least interest in the contest was on the qui vive of inquiry. Men were seen running from newspaper office to newspaper office, gleaning a little here and a little there, imagining that the more they wore out shoe leather the greater would be the information they would get. Little men stretched up on their toes at bulletin boards to peep over the shoulders of bigger men, and little boys, like lithe serpents, would their way under the arms and legs of adults to see what they too could gather. A bootmaker had his head so full of the election, that in sending us an advertisement of a robbery of his Store, he wrote that a dozen pairs of votes had been stolen. People were seen dodging after Newsboys to buy extras. The omnibus drivers read the returns with one eye and watched their horses with the other. Every body, in short, was thinking about the election. Business was at a discount; pleasure had no votaries; both parties were canvassing whether or not "the country was saved."

But when the result became known, lo! what a change. The Whigs were as full of glee as the Democrats were of dismay; the one shouted while the other groaned. Just as, last year, you could tell a Whig by his long face, so now you could detect a democrat by the same infallible sign, "It's all up with us," said one. "We have been given to the apoplex," sighed another. "Alas for the flesh pots of Egypt," lamented a third who was an office holder. On the other hand the Whigs were half beside themselves with joy. Fireworks, procured with all despatch, fizzed and spluttered all the evening in front of the North American office. Men grew hoarse with huzzing, and went home to be doled by their wives with hoarhound. The little boys kicked and threw up their caps; the old men shook each other's hands with the energy of twenty-four again; and Whiggery, in Philadelphia, had an extemporaneous jubilee.

Foreign News.

The Steamer Britania arrived at New York on Tuesday, from Liverpool, bringing news one week later than previous advices. There had been three cases of cholera in England. There was no improvement in the grain market. Ireland was quiet. Louis Napoleon had arrived in Paris, and taken his seat in the National Assembly. There were insurrectionary movements in Spain, Germany, Italy and Austria.

In the Hungarian provinces a desolating war seems to have broken out. The Hungarians and the Croats are fighting with numerous armies, whilst the Hungarians at least are ready to throw off the allegiance of the Austrians.

We can never give up the old and faithful Keystone of democracy until she shall place the seal upon her own destiny.—[Wash. Union.]

The North American happily remarks:—Well, now that the instrument is signed, sealed and delivered, you will give her up; but whether or not, we can assure you she has determined to give you up. Pennsylvania has weaned her affections from such faithless lovers.

SIGNIFICANT REBUKE.—In the coal districts of Schuylkill county, the vote for Johnston was 3,111, and for Longstreth 1,529—majority 1,582! What a rebuke to Polk, Dallas, Walker, Buchanan, &c. who betrayed Pennsylvania and put down the tariff of 1842.

GOV. JOHNSTON ENDORSED AT HOME.—In the town of Kittanning, Armstrong county, where Gov. Johnston resides, Shunk had a majority of 11 over Irvin—this year Johnston's majority is 111.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IN MICHIGAN.—It seems that the people of Michigan are getting tired of their law for the abolition of capital punishment, and begin to agitate for the restoration of the gallows and the halter. The Detroit Daily Advertiser says that in consequence of the growing increase of crime in the State since the abolition of capital punishment, and a particular manifestation of it to the grand jurors of Wayne county by the presence of three different individuals charged with murder, at the present term of Court, we understand they have unanimously adopted a memorial to the Legislature, asking for a restoration of that penalty which alone prevents a man from assailing the life of his fellow.

The subscribers, in casting themselves upon the patronage of the community, are determined to spare no effort in making the Institution one that will commend itself to all parents who desire to give their sons a thorough preparatory education without exposing them to the contaminating and immoral influences that exist in more populous communities. What is the matter with me, Doctor! What the cause of this sallow complexion, jaundiced eye, depression of spirits, pain in the side and shoulder, weariness of body, bitter taste in the mouth! Such is the enquiry, and such the symptoms of many a sufferer! It is the fever which is diseased, and the Cholagogue is the remedy always successful in curing it. Try it, and judge for yourself. For sale by T. Read & Son, agent for the proprietor.

Better die than live, if I am to be tortured from day to day with this horrible Ague, exclaims the poor sufferer whose life has become a burden from the racking paroxysms of an intermittent, and whose confidence in human aid is destroyed by the failure of remedies to produce the promised relief. Such has been the situation of thousands who are now rejoicing in all the blessings of health from the use of Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. In no instance does it fail of effecting a
