

HUNTINGDON, TUESDAY, OCT. 31, 1848.

Democratic Whig Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT: GEN. ZACHARY TAYLOR.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT: MILLARD FILLMORE.

V. B. PALMER, Esq. is our authorized agent for receiving advertisements and subscriptions in the cities of Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York, and for collecting and receiving for the same.

Sickness and death in the editor's family has delayed the publication of the Journal this week. The same cause has prevented the editor from giving the paper his personal attention. The principal editorials are from the pen of a friend.

SPURIOUS TICKETS! Look Out!

Friends of Gen. Taylor look out that you are not deceived by SPURIOUS TICKETS. Our enemies are at their old game. So says the Philadelphia papers, and have printed tickets headed "GENERAL TAYLOR;" but the names in the inside are Cuss electors. Examine your tickets before you vote. Let none of the tricks of your opponents cheat Old Zack out of one vote. The names of the Taylor electors are given below.

ELECTORS:

- John P. Sanderson, Thomas M. T. McKennan, Joseph G. Clarkson, John P. Wetherill, James M. Davis, Thomas W. Duffield, Daniel O. Hiner, Joshua Dungan, John D. Steele, John Landes, Joseph Schmucker, Charles Snyder, William G. Hurley, Francis Tyier, Henry Johnson, William Colder, William McIlvain, Charles W. Fisher, Andrew G. Curtin, Thomas R. Davidson, Joseph Markle, Daniel Agnew, Andrew W. Loomis, Richard Irwin, Thomas H. Still, Samuel A. Purviance.

Gov. Johnston

Is expected in Huntingdon to-day, (Wednesday) at 2 o'clock. Let there be a general turn out of the People to hear and see the Governor elect. By the following proceedings it will be seen that the Taylor men have made proper arrangements for the reception of his Excellency:

TAYLOR MEETING.

At a meeting of the Rough and Ready Club of Huntingdon, convened at the house of Alex. Carmon, on Monday evening last, for the purpose of making suitable arrangements for the reception of Gov. Johnston, when on motion, the chair appointed the following committee: William H. Peightal, John Fleener, Wm. S. Africa, Wm. T. Wilson.

ASSISTANT MARSHALS.

Capt. DAVID SNARE, WILLIAM H. PEIGHTAL, HENRY K. NEFF, JOHN N. SWOOP.

On motion, Resolved, That the friends of Taylor and the public generally, are invited to join in the procession.

WM. H. PEIGHTAL, Pres't. H. K. NEFF, Secretary.

A Mistake.

Our neighbor of the Globe is mistaken when he charges the Taylor men with offering illegal votes at the last election. One young man came upon the ground who told us that he had been paying taxes for two years, but that his father was not confident that he was of age, and that he would not swear to it. He had a Whig ticket, but as he will bear us witness, we told him he had no right to vote and advised him not to make the attempt.

On the other hand, there were men standing about the polls all day, with Locofoco tickets in their hands, whose taxes had been paid by the editor of the Globe, but who, conscious of their want of qualifications were afraid to make the attempt, seeing that "QUESTIONS WOULD BE ASKED." The boot is therefore on the other leg.

The Hon. Dixon H. Lewis, U. S. Senator, from Alabama, died at the National Hotel, New York, on Wednesday last.

THE DUTY OF FREEMEN.

Never since the organization of our Government was there a time, that called so loudly, upon the honest and free of every party, to arouse themselves to action. A party long in power have grown fat upon the official plunder. So long have they held place, that their official impudence demands a rebuke at the hands of every man who loves his country better than the idle triumph of party.

Having grown bold from their repeated success they demand of the people the continuance of their power. They make all kinds of professions and promises, before an election, and disregard them when successful.

Will freemen longer tolerate, such duplicity and official insolence? They have willed if we do not mistake the signs of times. Pennsylvania has broken the chains which have so long bound her to the earth. The party which has burdened her with a debt of forty-five millions of dollars, and oppressed her people with taxation, has been hurled from power, and the people in their might have decreed that they will have a change; and that they will seek for prosperity and justice, from other hands than those who have so long and so faithfully promised them redress.

The industrious Mechanic, Laborer, and Farmer, have determined to seek for better times where there is some hope. The "shibboleth" of party has failed to mislead them, and because they know, that any change must be for the better, they have shouted "away with them!" to the officials and their menials who have sinned them before elections, and scourged them afterwards. Startled at the rebuke, yet bold, and saucy in their places of power; they have arisen from the blow maddened and desperate. They cannot realize it. Wild, with the fury of despair they sent forth their howls of FRAUD! FRAUD!

Knowing how they obtained and kept the power, they suppose they have been beaten at their own game; like every impudent and rascally servant when discharged and kicked out by his master; they in turn charge their masters with fraud. Every species of fraud and deception have characterized their conduct for years. The ballot box which should be sacred from the polluting touch of unholy hands; has been foully corrupted by them to secure their ends—illegal votes have been crammed into it, by hands, and by thousands. They know and well understand the power of fraud. Fraud! fraud! they then cry, and charge it upon the people, that they may consummate some foul scheme unsuspected.

THE PEOPLE MUST AWAKE!

They are now arrayed against, old office holders and hungry parasites, who hope to obtain place and power. The honest of all parties know this, and they know too, that the election of that honest and faithful old soldier Zachary Taylor, will be the dawning of better days. His hands are not stained by any unearned gold; his blood and toil was the exchange he gave for every cent he ever received from his country. The sleepless night, and the bloody field, have seen him spending his best strength for the honor of our stately banner, and the welfare of our whole country. He knew no party strife nor partisan fanaticism, in the long march, the comfortless camp or the fierce contest, his country was his all,—his soldiers, his brothers all,—for he has seen them of both parties fight shoulder to shoulder, and smitten by the hail storm of death sink side by side into their last sleep. Glorious, gallant, generous, brave

"OLD ZACK."

What man who loves his country can vote against him. Can you, young man? Vote against the brave old man. No! no, it cannot be. Nor can you, who are tired of voting for politicians. We need an honest man now at the head of affairs. We need one who loves his country more than party. We need one who has no enemies to punish—no partisans to reward, nothing to serve but his country; who dare do right regardless of all. Such a one is "OLD ZACK."

Then freemen if you would, your duty demand a change, awake from your sleep, guard against the frauds of those who have the money and the power, and come out to the polls and vote for "OLD ZACK," and bring every one of your neighbors with you. Let no man stay at home.

The Duty of Voting.

We commend to the attention of a certain class among our voters, the following remarks on the DUTY of voting, by President WASHINGTON, author of "Political Economy," and "Moral Science." They are, we know, able to decide moral questions for themselves, and do not doubt their opinion will coincide with that of Wayland, but their attention may not have been particularly turned to this point:

"I think that every Christian citizen is under obligation to vote in every case where a public officer is to be chosen. The happiness and virtue of the community, no less than the security of property, depend greatly on the character of the magistracy. If I am injured in person or property by a wicked public officer, I have a right to complain of my fellow-citizens who gave him authority over me, or who, when it was in their power, did not prevent his election. A Christian in this country, above all others, has a duty to perform in this matter, and he disobeys the commandment in the text if he does not perform it."

MORE DEFECTION.—The Blairsville Apalachian, edited by R. B. McCabe, Esq., has taken down the Cass ticket, and goes for Van Buren and Adams. It is printed on the borders of Westmoreland and Indiana counties, and has been always a Locofoco advocate, supporting Longstreth and Painter at the recent election.

TAYLOR ENTHUSIASM.—The Philadelphia Inquirer says, that the enthusiasm in that quarter in behalf of the old Hero of Buena Vista increases with every hour. The meetings in Philadelphia City and County are immense. Hundreds of Democrats have already joined our ranks, and not a day goes by that other accessions do not occur.

One Blow More,

And all is safe. To the Polls then freemen, and let that blow smite to the earth the last hope of your official oppressors. You have done well, bravely, nobly! "You have scotch'd the snake not killed it." One blow more! Let every freeman wield the people's sceptre,—a free ticket,—and let every one give that blow, as though he felt,

"As if himself were he On whose sole arm hung victory."

The labor of your enemies knows no sleep. Every energy is aroused,—every sinew strained, and untiring toil used. Their energy and toil must be met with "ETERNAL VIGILANCE."

THE ASSESSMENTS OF THE TEN-DAY TRAVELERS, must be watched more vigilantly, more fearlessly at the next election. Many of them were, by the fears of the law scared from the Polls. They are still about. They are waiting still, in the hope that you will forget them and their foul fraud.

Freemen! watch them better next time. Swear every man of them. The law has provided you a safe guard. Object to every doubtful vote, and if the fraud is consummated, let the deeper and more damning crime of perjury blister the tongues of those who would pollute the altar of your freedom. You have the right to "ASK QUESTIONS," and don't neglect it. Watch these men—they will try it again. Be on your guard—stand up to the work faithfully, and the crowning victory shall be yours.

"Old Zack shall be your President, And no body else but he."

Half a Million of Dollars,

Says a Washington correspondent, is pledged to be raised by the Officers of Polk's Administration, to carry the election in Pennsylvania.—Their Tariff swindle of 1844, they are determined shall be sustained by Pennsylvania,—a State which was cheated and prostrated by that fraud. Polk and his party are determined to oppress and crush still deeper into ruin. The Workmen in her coal and iron mines have been caught in their trap—they think they have got them down to Jimmy Buchanan's low wages, and now they are determined to keep them there. And money! millions of money is now to be used to hold the poor laborers by the throat. What care they if the poor man starves, if they can keep their fat offices.

Money is to be used to import voters into the border counties, from New York to carry Pennsylvania for Cass.—New York they know is lost, now they must save this State. How else will they use it? We will tell you; they will hire men and boys to ride through every township, to circulate papers and pamphlets filled with falsehood against that honest old man Gen. Taylor. Look out for them, they are loaded with secret circulars,—vile slanders and bare-faced falsehood. Freemen be on the alert. Up, every honest man, and go to work.

One Whole day for your Country.

Begin early in the morning go to your neighbor, urge him to turn out and vote for "Old Zack"—that honest, good old man—that man, that they, as well as us, in 1847 said was the very man for the people.

The People

can beat down the scheme of fraud and corruption if every man does his duty. Gen. Taylor has stood by your banner, when the smoke of battle shrouded the stately emblem from all eyes, and in the darkest hour—when the roar of the cannon, the clash of steel, and the groans of the dying, would have sent terror to many a brave heart, "his wounded were behind him and he would not pass them alive," and above the din of strife, he shouted "A little more grape," and onward he bore that banner, till terror stricken at the stern old warrior the better foe fled. Will you honest freemen then refuse to stand by his banner, in this strife of official power against one

Old Hero.

The Administration at Washington once tried to crush that glorious old War horse Jackson. Who does not remember that. The same power tried to break down and supersede that great and good man Harrison. The same power have spent all the arrows of their spite to destroy and disgrace, another honest, stern, faithful old soldier. Corrupt power hates the bold, the honest, and the true. It was always so. Then arouse and let not the power of place or gold strike down one of your own old Heroes.

The day of Election.

The Presidential election in this State was formerly held on Friday, and the change of day may not be generally known. Care should therefore be taken to inform the people that, under the law providing for holding the election in all the States on the same day, Congress has designated next, as the day for electing Electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

Tuesday the 7th day of November

Do not mistake the day.

The Old Time.

The editor of the Globe in making a short exhortation to his readers last week says: "Huntingdon county can give a majority for CASS and BUTLER—and she will do it if you do your whole duty."

We have never seen a more striking parallel to the pronouncements of Santa Anna than the above. Breathing nothing but victory previous to every battle, but invariably whining over defeat at the close of the contest. A "majority for Cass and Butler" in Huntingdon county! Did your correspondent from the "Big Valley" tell you to say that, neighbor?

Rain or Shine.

It has been suggested that if a severe storm or any kind of "bad weather" should blow on the day of election, measures ought to be taken by the Taylor men in every township to provide comfortable conveyances for all their voters who cannot conveniently get to the election without. Whether it rain or shine, they should provide ways for all the aged and infirm, and those who live far from the polls and have no conveyance of their own. REMEMBER THIS AND BE PREPARED IN TIME!

Look Out for FRAUD and CORRUPTION!

THE OFFICE-HOLDERS AT WORK!! We ask the serious attention of every freeman to the following letter to the New York Express:

"WASHINGTON, October 19, 1848.

"But I wish to give you an item of important news, which I hope will put the honest people of Pennsylvania on their guard. I have it from the very best authority, that the leading officials at Washington have solemnly sworn and resolved that the Democratic party shall carry Pennsylvania in November, even if it should be at the cost of half a million of dollars! They say that the money can be raised, and that it must be raised, and that Pennsylvania must be carried for Cass and Butler. I assure you that the above is strictly true, and I do think you could not do a better thing than by making your Pennsylvania readers acquainted with this infernal democratic scheme. If the Whigs of the Keystone State do not strain every nerve in November, they will be defeated by the unprincipled enemy."

In publishing this disclosure, the National Intelligencer, says, it "comes as we happen to know, from an honorable source, and which, as we also happen to know, is corroborated by measures now in progress in this city; we refer to the levying of contributions on democratic office-holders, to be used in Pennsylvania to carry the State for the anti-tariff and anti-improvement candidate for the Presidency."

It is well known here, that Locofoco members of Congress are now flooding the country with SECRET GIRCULARS, got up by the office-holders at Washington. We have one of these documents now in our possession. It was sent to a Democrat who voted for Longstreth but who will not vote for Taylor. It is dated "Jackson Hall, Washington City, Oct. 17, 1848" and signed "J. D. HOOVER, Chm. Ex. Com. Jackson Dem. Association"—Z. W. McKensw, Cor. Sec." It urges the Locofocos to get out their "FULL VOTE," and to be sure that when out they vote for Cass and Butler.

Lying Pamphlets, grossly abusive of Gen. Taylor and the Whig Party have also been got up by the Office-holders at Washington city since the last election.—We have one of these also in our possession, which came to this office under the frank of Congressman Bridges, of the Bucks district.—This document is addressed "To the People of Pennsylvania," and commences with "Read, Pause and Reflect!" But so gross are the FALSEHOODS and SLANDERS which it contains, that the reader will seek in vain for any signature assuming the responsibility of the authorship. If the arguments contained in this document were sound and the numerous allegations against the Whig party true, how comes it that the author sends it to the world without his endorsement? Such stuff as this can deceive no one. It is emphatically "TOO LATE."—The doom of the corrupt office holders is sealed. The People of Pennsylvania have read, PAUSED, and REFLECTED, and the consequence is they have cast off the demagogues who have already swindled and brought their proud old Commonwealth to the very verge of RUIN. Let all, then,

Be on their Guard!

The prospect of defeat which the election of Gov. Johnston furnishes, has rendered the office-holders desperate! They will stop at no scheme of FRAUD and CORRUPTION which may seem to give them any hope of retaining their places. It is notorious that they committed some of the most enormous FRAUDS at the late election. And it is equally notorious (we know of one case) that money has been offered to voters to cast their votes for Longstreth. Freemen of Pennsylvania! will you endorse the conduct of these CORRUPT and unworthy servants by voting for Cass and Butler and thereby retaining them in power? We are mistaken in your virtue and intelligence if you do. But we do not fear the MONEY of these political rascals.—The People of Pennsylvania can't be BOUGHT. In the language of the North American, if the Administration at Washington expects, by the base application of money, levied among its hirelings and menials, to BUY the SUFFRAGES of Pennsylvania farmers and mechanics, it will wake up to a reality, even more astounding, than that which rang the unexpected news of defeat in their ears two weeks ago. Our honest people have been deceived by confiding in demagogues and traitors; but they have never yet been sold like cattle, nor would all the hundreds of millions that were squandered in the Mexican war, if concentrated upon this State, be sufficient to stagger its integrity for a moment.

But the warning is important, as showing the infamous and desperate means to which a corrupt party intends to resort, for the purpose of carrying the vote of Pennsylvania. Despairing of success by a repetition of the fraud of 1844, the political managers at Washington have determined upon this gigantic experiment of bribery, to effect similar results. We cannot urge our friends too strongly to be vigilant.

Their Principles.

You cannot meet a Locofoco who does not say that he would rather have the Canal Commissioner than the Governor. Why is this? Simply because they have no principles worth caring about, and if they can keep the offices on the Canal and go on stealing the People's money they are content. Did it ever occur to these fellows that the People once voted to sell the improvements, and that in accordance with that vote the present administration might see proper, in order to lighten the taxes of the People, to dispose of them? It might so happen.

Irishmen, Remember!

Let every Irishman remember, that when John J. Crittenden (whig) introduced into the United States Senate, a bill granting relief to Ireland in the hour of her famine and distress, LEWIS CASS dodged the question and didn't vote for it! and let every Irishman remember, that this bill for Ireland's relief was opposed generally by Locofoco Senators and advocated by Whigs; and let every Irishman remember, that while this prodigal Administration has millions to throw away upon a bootless expedition to fish up the remains of Sodom and Gomorrah, they can't spare one dime to alleviate the pangs of distress, or allay the knawings of hunger.

Election Officers!

Judges and Inspectors, keep a good look out for fraudulent certificates of Naturalization!—All those signed by R. Palmer, Jr., from the Court of Philadelphia are suspicious. Take a memorandum of all such; and if any are detected voting fraudulently let them be arrested at once and punished. Right wrongs no man. But these dishonest voters, every one of them who votes cheats an honest voter out of his vote. The honest alien who has been Naturalized, by complying with its Laws, gains no advantage, if the dishonest can have papers forged for them for nothing, which are just as good.

When the votes are counted remember that each name on each Ticket must be written out carefully, and exactly as it is on the tickets, and the number of votes in words at length and in figures; thus:

REMEMBER

The Fraud of 1844!

Friends of the protection of Home Industry! of a Home Market! of the Whig Tariff of 1842! We call upon you to remember the infamous fraud practised upon the people by the locofoco leaders in 1844. Remember that they not only represented James K. Polk as in favor of the Tariff, but that they strenuously contended that he was the special friend and advocate of the coal and iron interests of Pennsylvania. As an evidence of these things we need but refer among many others to the following article published during that campaign in the Harrisburg Union, then edited by Edwin W. Hutter, who is now Chairman of the locofoco State Central Committee:

Col. Polk and the Tariff—A Vile Whig Falsehood.

We perceive that the Harrisburg Intelligencer with the mendacity so eminently characteristic of the coon papers, denounces Col. Polk in advance as an "open and avowed Free Trade Theorist." The authority of this gratuitous assertion is, of course, not furnished by the Intelligencer, as it is the policy of the Whig press to deal in habitual misrepresentation both of the men and measures of the Democratic party. Now we happen to know, and state upon the authority of a Tennesseean with whom we conversed at Baltimore—a near neighbor of Col. Polk—that he holds the doctrine of Free Trade in unqualified abhorrence. HE NEVER ADVOCATED IT, AND HE NEVER WILL. He is in favor of a judicious revenue tariff affording the amplest incidental protection to AMERICAN INDUSTRY. He is the special friend and advocate of the COAL AND IRON INTERESTS, those two great objects of solicitude with Pennsylvanians, and believing PERMANENCE in our laws to be of incalculable value is opposed to the disturbance of the existing tariff (of 1842). These facts we state upon the very best authority, and caution the Democracy of this great State against listening to the misrepresentations of the coons. The truth is, the strong names of POLK and DALLAS have struck our enemies with such deep consternation as to make them desperate in feeling and unscrupulous in the use of means.

Pennsylvania Election.

The N. York Tribune, speaking of the result of the Pennsylvania election, says—

"This is an astounding revolution. The party which lives on its empty professions of Democracy has never been beaten in the State contest preceding a Presidential Election. Even when Gen. Harrison carried the State, in the tornado of 1840, his friends were beaten nearly 5,000 in the preceding State election. William Heister, who was not supported by the larger portion of the Democracy, was chosen Governor over Findly in 1830 by a close vote, and Joseph Ritner was elected in 1835—in each case through a serious schism in the ranks of the so called Democracy; but a Governor chosen in even handed opposition to what vaunts itself the Democratic party has not before occurred during the last forty years."

Again the Tribune says: "Gov. Johnston is elected, and the whole aspect of affairs changed. Pennsylvania has taken her place at the head of the Whig array—the flag-ship of the Whig Armada in the great contest at hand. She is as morally certain to vote for Gen. Taylor as any State in the Union after Kentucky, and we think the majority is more likely to exceed 20,000 than to fall below 3,000. Next to New York, she will probably give Old Zack the largest State majority."

Insolence and Infamy Rebuked.

The Pa. Telegraph says: The passage of the relief law of 1841, for which Gov. Johnston took an active part, saved the Locofoco party from defeat in that campaign, besides saving from ruin hundreds of active and ardent locofoco politicians. Notwithstanding this, the vials of Locofoco wrath were poured upon the head of Gov. Johnston, during the late campaign, for this very act, spiced by the lowest party billingsgate. The result of the election is a withering rebuke to such infamous demagogues, who must wish to hide their heads from the gaze of an indignant people.

Keep up the Fire!

The result of the recent contest should inspire every friend of Taylor with renewed zeal in the good cause. Let it not be forgotten that the greatest victory is yet to be achieved. It was at Buena Vista that our glorious leader acquired his brightest laurels. Our triumph in November will be the crowning victory in the political campaign of '48. Arouse, then, brother Whigs and unite once more in a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, and the nation, as well as the State, will be gloriously redeemed from locofoco misrule.

The Difference.

In Armstrong county, the home of Governor Johnston, (where the locofoco majority usually ranges from 500 to 800,) at the late election Mr. Longstreth received a majority of only 17 votes!

In Montgomery county, where Mr. Longstreth resides, (and where at the election in 1847 Gov. Shank had a majority of 1418,) Gov. Johnston was only beaten 573 votes at the election on Tuesday last.

A proper estimate of the relative popularity of the two candidates among their friends and neighbors may be gathered from these facts. Gov. Johnston was in Philadelphia on Saturday last, and met with an enthusiastic reception.—He made a spirited speech, and announced his intention to continue addressing the people of the State until the 7th of November. We notice already a number of appointments for him in different parts of the State.

Mass Meetings.

The Taylor State Committee have called Mass Meetings at several prominent places throughout the State. Among other places, a Mass Meeting at Huntingdon was called, to be held on Friday, the 3d November, and Hon. JAMES COOPER, and Hon. JAMES POLLOCK named as speakers to be present on the occasion.

Our County Committee believing that the people of our county will be exceedingly anxious to meet Gov. Johnston, on Wednesday, November 1st, when he will visit our place, have issued no call for a general meeting on that day, (3d Nov.) and for still another reason. It has been pretty generally understood and circulated that our opponents will hold a meeting in our town on that day.

The "Pennsylvanian" urged upon their friends the importance of holding meetings and having able speakers to reply to Gov. Johnston, in every place where he may speak—therefore their meeting. They fear his plain truths,—and they want some body to throw dust into the eyes of the people.

A MEETING WILL BE HELD,

On Friday evening, at the Court House, in the Borough of Huntingdon; and every friend of Taylor and Fillmore—EVERY BODY—are invited to attend. Mr. Cooper and Pollock we are assured will be present to address them. We hope our friends from the adjoining Townships will come in. They may expect a rich treat.

The vote in Schuylkill County.

The locofoco leaders and editors throughout the State are racking their brains to discover the why and the wherefore of their late disastrous defeat in this State; and every apology which ingenuity or fancy can devise is presented to the faithful to break the crushing influence which their discomfiture might very naturally be expected to exert over the spirits and hopes of the Democracy of Pennsylvania and the Union. The most ridiculous and absurd, however, of all these excuses, is the insinuation of fraud in Schuylkill county, where the vote of the "tolling millions"—the hard fisted collier and Miner—has told so fearfully against the shameful fraud of 1844. Schuylkill county gives an increased vote over that of 1844, of 2195; and it is argued that of course there has been a gross fraud, by which this increase has been effected! According to the same Arithmetic, there must have been a fraud in York county, which has increased its vote 2014, only 181 less than Schuylkill—fraud in Philadelphia county, where the present vote exceeds that of 1844 by 19 to 20,000!

This charge of fraud, at best, comes with an exceeding bad grace from a party which returned a larger locofoco majority in Richmond and Penn township districts, (Philadelphia county,) than the whole number of votes polled—and then destroyed the poll lists, for fear the fraud should be detected!

Our neighbor of the Globe is not alone in this absurd charge of fraud in Schuylkill; as will be seen by the following pertinent paragraph from the Philadelphia News:

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY.—Several of the Locofoco papers, and particularly the Pennsylvanian, to cover the disgrace and infamy fixed upon their party, by the glaring frauds committed on the elective franchise at Richmond, South Penn &c., are making a parade of the increase in the vote of Schuylkill, as if there had necessarily been fraudulent voting among the miners of that county! The rebuke the miners & laborers of Schuylkill have given to the leaders of the locofoco party, for the infamous fraud which was practised on them, in the destruction of the Protective policy, by men who pretended to be its warmest friends, is not relished—and now, forsooth, the cry of fraud must be raised against those who are no longer willing to be duped by the locofoco office holders. In Richmond, South Penn, &c., it is well known there are is not many taxable inhabitants, by many hundred, as the declared vote; while in Schuylkill county, it is not even pretended that more votes were cast than there are taxable inhabitants. The whole story about fraud in Schuylkill county is a base invention, and has not a single fact for its foundation, and, as we said before, it has been started solely for the purpose of drawing away the attention of the public from the locofoco frauds in Philadelphia county. You hear nothing in Schuylkill county about these pretended frauds—if any had been committed, surely the people of that county, whigs and locofocos, ought to know something about them. The 7th of November will tell a tale which will astound these Locofoco slanderers—the miners of Schuylkill county intend, and they will most assuredly, largely increase their majority.
