Jas. T. Scott has received another fine assortment of Jewelry, and other nice things, which he is selling lower than ever.

H. K. NEFF & BROTHER it will be seen have received a splendid assortment of Watches and Jewelry which they are selling very cheap.

PROWELL—"cheap Johnny" we mean—is "in town" again with a splendid assortment of Fall and Winter Goods. Go and see him—He charges nothing for a sight.

Messrs. J. A. DOYLE and A. M. WILF, it will be seen by their card, have purchased the Daguerrian Apparatus of John G. Lemmon & Co., and are prepared to take the faces of both old and young, in the best style. We would advise all parents to embrace the opportunity of having the likenesses of their children taken. Their room is in the second story of the Court House.

GLORIOUS OLD HUNTINGDON! In no county in the State have the Taylor men done better, in comparison with the October election, than in our own glorious old Huntingdon. We are at a loss to know which district to compliment first—all have done so well. The Cass men, it is well known were vaporizing, boasting and assuring their "friends abroad," that they would reduce us; and to do so they left not a stone unturned—no means, however dishonorable, untried. They fought with the desperation of men whose last hope depended on their efforts at this time. But their efforts failed—their humbugs are exploded, and they are politically used up forever.

We never seen an election conducted with so much unscrupulous desperation as in this district. To make votes for Cass, poor men were approached by Canal officers with promises of Locks or work upon the Canal; and others, under the control of wealthy Locofocos, and those clothed in a "little brief authority," were threatened with being turned out of their houses and with having their SUBSISTENCE TAKEN FROM THEM if they DARED to vote for "old Zack." All this was done by men claiming to be democrats! And some of whom are even looking up to seats in Congress as democratic candidates! Lord save the poor from the embraces of such democrats! Others, under the control of Locofoco agents, were dragged up to the polls, and compelled to vote for Cass or lose their situations! And this too by men who are constantly falsely charging Whig manufacturers with wanting to control the votes of those in their employ. After resorting to such degrading means, and having the advantage of an extra vote that will not be seen in the district again, they had the mortification, when the votes were counted, of discovering that they had only increased one vote over their October majority. The Taylor men, however, had one advantage, which they had not in October. The elected Judge did not appear in time, and the Inspectors appointed another, also a Locofoco, but an honest, intelligent man, in his place. And it was soon discovered, after the voting commenced, that it took more qualifications, than merely offering to vote the Locofoco ticket, (as in October) to get a vote. It is with great pleasure that we publicly applaud the honest action of a majority of our election board on Tuesday last. We regret to say, that we could not conscientiously do so after the October election. And it is with unfeigned pleasure, that we bear witness to the zeal and vigilance manifested by the Rough and Ready boys. We feel proud in being associated with such a Spartan band.

The country districts did nobly—very one of them. Early in the evening the news came from WALKER, which gave Longstreth 6 majority, that the vote stood 85 to 85, which was received by the Taylor men with three cheers. Next came Porter with 72 majority for old Zack—a gain of 20—which caused a shout to go up that shook the town. Next came glorious old FRANKLIN, with a majority of 95—a gain of 43 since October! The idea of trying to sleep was now abandoned, the Taylor Minstrels making the night vocal with their songs and instrumental music. The lines,

"Old Zack shall be our President, And nobody else but he," indications began to demonstrate possessed quite as much truth as poetry. Then came in rapid succession the glorious districts of BRADY, UNION, WARRIORS MARK, MORRIS and MURRAY'S RUN, all adding their gains to swell up the majority for old Rough and Ready. And when CROMWELL, with her 124 majority was heard from at daylight, all considered that the State had gone for Taylor, especially as SHIRLEY, DUBLIN, SPRINGFIELD and CLAY were received at the same time, and TOD, CASS, HOPEWELL, and PENN soon after, in all of which the Taylor men had manfully done their duty. In the afternoon of Wednesday, we received a line from a friend in JACKSON township, where Longstreth had 14 majority, informing us that the township was gloriously redeemed—Taylor having received a majority of 9. All the Taylor men now considered the Union safe for old Zack, as it was fair to presume honest democrats elsewhere, as in Jackson, had thrown off the shackles of party and boldly voted for Taylor. The Taylor men of Jackson have done nobly, and the honest democrats who came up to the help of their country, will hereafter look back to their vote upon this occasion with more satisfaction than any they ever cast in their lives.

As we said in the commencement of this ar-

tle, the whole county did nobly. Old Huntingdon has come up to her former standard, notwithstanding the unusual extra Locofoco vote now within her limits. She has again sadly disappointed Locofocoism, and forever banished from the minds of the Locofoco leaders the hope of conquering her sturdy Whig yeomanry. The boast of the Globe that Locofocoism would have the majority, has again been falsified, and we would advise the editor never again to insult the intelligence of his readers by such silly predictions.

In conclusion, Whigs of Old Huntingdon, "OLD ZACK," as we long since predicted, has been elected President of the United States.—And we will again predict, that his administration of the Government will be such that you will never regret having aided his election by giving him a majority of Huntingdon County—Official. Table with columns for Taylor, Cass, and Van Buren, listing various precincts and their respective votes.

Speaker of the House. An important session of the Legislature is before us. A new order of things is about to commence in Pennsylvania. The late elections show that Legislators and public officers generally cannot act in defiance of the popular will. And it is clearly the will of the People that public business shall not only be well done, but done economically and with despatch. To expedite legislation, it is of the first importance to select an energetic and competent presiding officer.

And in this connection, we beg leave to suggest the name of A. K. CORNYN, Esq., the member elect from this county, as Speaker of the next House of Representatives. It is true Mr. C. will be a new member, but there is no member of the coming Legislature, save Mr. Cooper, (who will not desire it,) who possesses, in such an eminent degree, the requisite qualifications for an efficient presiding officer, as does Mr. Cornyn. We do not suggest his name merely because he comes from our own county. We are impelled to do so by a higher and more patriotic motive—the public good. Should the Whigs of the House, at the coming session, see proper to adopt our suggestion and elect Mr. Cornyn Speaker, we predict that he will fill the chair with an ability, impartiality and urbanity that will excite the admiration and applause of all.

U. S. Senator. The victory of the Whigs of this State secures to them a United States Senator for six years.—Who among the many able and patriotic Whig Statesmen of Pennsylvania shall receive the honor of that station? From the evidences around us, we think we can safely answer—Hon. JAMES COOPER of Adams county. He not only deserves it for his long and able advocacy of Whig principles, but the interests of this great Commonwealth demands that she should be represented in the U. S. Senate by one of his admitted ability and Legislative experience. We therefore give our voice in favor of Mr. Cooper, and hope to see him elected.

A Slanderer. There is a Locofoco in this town, a Landlord, who receives his chief support from Whigs, who devotes all his leisure time in slandering Whig candidates, during every election campaign. And not satisfied with this, he does not hesitate to slander his Whig neighbors, if he can thereby make a vote for his party. He pours into the ear of every unsuspecting man he meets the most foul-mouthed lies and slanders against Whig candidates and private citizens, and then turns round, shows his ivory and with a ghastly grin asks Whig support. We caution the Whig public against him. As pirates often do, he sails under false colors—the American Eagle.

Iron-Masters. Those who read Locofoco papers would doubtless think that all Iron masters are Whigs, and great tyrants. They are charged with compelling their hands to vote the same ticket they do, and indeed of every species of oppression.—Now, it so happens that some Ironmasters are Locofocos, the Locofoco papers to the contrary notwithstanding. And it so happens that those Locofoco Ironmasters are the very men who play the tyrants over those in their employ to the greatest extent. One for instance, in the lower end of this county, who has some fifty men in his employ, invariably accompanies them to the Polls and compels them to vote the Locofoco ticket. He presents all their receipts for taxes, and then votes them, with as much presumption as though they belonged, body and soul, to himself. The Bell summons them to the Polls, and they must chime in with it or leave the bank. Such is modern democracy!

That Fraud! Do our Locofoco friends still intend to contest the election of Gov. Johnston, on the ground of "fraud" in Schuylkill county? or will they again charge the honest voters of that county with being "Slaves?" We shall see.

GRAPE!

THE PEOPLE HAVE TRIUMPHED!

OLD ZACK'S COME!

THE OLD KEYSTONE Nobly Sustains the Taylor American Column.

THE TARIFF OF 1816, AND THE FREE TRADE PARTY LAID LOW IN THE DUST!!

"Sound the Hawgag, strike the Tongon, Beat the Fuzzyguzzy, wake the Gongong, Let the loud Quontepingger, Bum tum fuzzlebum, dingo bim."

The Nation has spoken! ZACHARY TAYLOR is elected President of the United States. Pennsylvania has thrown off her betrayers and taken the front rank in the great Taylor army. Ten thousand loud huzzas for the Taylor men of the Old Keystone! They have not only redeemed their own State, but they have elected that honest, true-hearted, brave old Patriot, Gen. Zachary Taylor, President of this glorious Union. It is unnecessary to say more. We give below the returns from this and other States received up to this time. In this State Taylor has already gained about 13,000 over Johnston's vote. His Majority in the State will not fall short of 15,000. Well done, Tariff men of Pennsylvania!

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.

Table of Pennsylvania Election Results, showing reported and official majorities for Taylor and Cass across various counties.

Modesty. A young Law student, who has been in this county about one year, objected at this poll on Tuesday last, to an old man's vote who has been paying taxes and voting in this county for the last forty years. And to cap the climax, the Locofoco Inspector, who had taken his vote at the October election, and knew him to be a qualified voter, handed the book to him and wanted him to swear. Of course he indignantly declined, and the board took his vote.

Where is He? The administrator of the "Whig Party, DECEASED" is anxiously enquired for. Is he ready to settle up the account? "The Whigs say, 'Gen. Taylor never surrenders.'" "We'll MAKE him surrender!"—is the very last prediction we heard fall from the administrator's prophetic lips. The inquiry now is—when?

"Gen. Taylor will not receive the vote of more than one State in the Union." Who made the above prediction? We know of one friend of ours who will not likely have any official business at Harrisburg next month. A. G. Curtin, Esq., is the elector elect from this district.

Col. Wyncoop. The result of the labors of this gentleman in Schuylkill county, are duly appreciated by his old Whig friends.

Very Polite. A political paper, in giving the returns of an election, disclaims all wish, in doing so, to wound the feelings of the defeated candidate.

OLD ZACK ELECTED CERTAIN!

POST THE BOOKS.

As we have not yet received the exact majorities from the different States, we will give merely those from which sufficient returns have been received to show how they have gone. It will be seen OLD ZACK has already received enough and to spare.

Table showing returns for Taylor and Cass from various states including Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee, Louisiana, Georgia, Florida, Iowa, and Wisconsin.

The North American says:—We shall reduce the majorities in Maine, Virginia, Alabama and Illinois very considerably, and there is a chance for Mississippi, although we have no great anxiety for the accession. Already, we have "enough and to spare," and to wish for more, would exhibit a feeling of avariciousness for which we have no particular liking.

Next week we shall be able to give the majorities in the several states. New York has given Taylor between 50 and 60,000 majority. In Ohio the Free Soil movement gave the State to Cass.

For Salt River.

The Steam Paddle Boat Free Trade; Cass, Master, will leave Washington on the 10th of March next for Salt River, with Ten Cent Jimmy, Breeches Marcy, Sir Bob Walker, together with a legion of office holders, as large as Santa Anna's Army at Buena Vista. Cook, Previous Pardon Huter. Scallion—Petticoat Forney.

PENNSYLVANIA PASS.

Should Lewis Cass, Master of the Boat Free Trade, present himself for a passage up Salt River, you will allow him to pass unmolested.—By order of the People. THE KEYSTONE.

Occupation Gone.

The occupation of a certain smart young man in Cass township, of circulating pamphlets got up at Washington grossly slandering Gen. Taylor, is now gone. By a glance at the returns from Cass and the neighboring townships, it will be perceived that his business did not pay. We advise him to engage in some more honorable employment. Slandering old grey haired American patriots don't take well in this country. It might do in England.

A Clean Sweep.

The Cass men have not elected one Congressman in the state of New York up to the latest dates. Who run against Taylor?

Didn't do their Duty.

Previous to the last election, the Globe assured its readers, that if "the democracy" done their duty, "Cass and Butler would receive a majority in Huntingdon county." We therefore expect to see the next Globe giving the democracy "a few" for not doing their duty.

Another Outrage.

We regret to learn that Mr. C. Caughlin, innkeeper, at Newton Hamilton, was shot in the side on election day by some Locofoco ruffians. The perpetrators of this outrage should be dealt with as they deserve. It was high time for the people to put down Locofocoism in this country.

Political Philosophy.

The Pennsylvania thus quaintly settles the question of the "frauds in Schuylkill County": "The correspondent who asks us about contesting the vote for Governor, is referred to the last returns from Schuylkill county. We have no doubt the election for Governor will be contested, and that hotly—three years hence."

The News by the Hibernia.

The Steamship Hibernia has arrived at Boston with Liverpool dates to the 21st ult. The weather through the week has been rainy and unsettled but the crops had been fully harvested. In Scotland, potatoes were abundant, and in Ireland very scarce. The cholera is on the increase in England, but the first panic had subsided, and only thirty additional cases had been reported. The general health was usually good. In Edinburgh the mortality was fearful. The government had determined to abolish all precautionary measures of quarantine. Trade dull in the manufacturing districts.

No change in the sentence of Smith O'Brien. The Lord Lieutenant had assured the Dublin petitioners that full weight would be given to the recommendation of the Jury to mercy. Ducoux the Prefect of Paris, has resigned his office, and expressed his disapproval of Cavaignac's policy. Socialists banquets continue. Vienna was still in a case of high excitement. The Emperor had retired to Olcutz, in Moravia. The railways around Vienna have been torn up for many miles. Nothing important from Spain or Portugal.

POLITICAL OUTRAGE IN NEW ORLEANS.

There was a Locofoco torch-light procession in New Orleans on the night of the 28th ult., when the most wanton outrages were committed. The Picayune of the 29th says: "The well known rendezvous of the Union Rough and Ready Club, the coffee-house of Christian Lilly, at the corner of Circus and Perdido streets, was wantonly set on fire, and in a few moments was a heap of ruins. A fight also took place at this point, and we understood that W. H. Wilder, Esq., a member of the General Council, was dangerously wounded by a pistol shot. Rumor had it that several other persons were shot and dangerously beaten, but whether such is the case or not we cannot positively state. A thousand and one stories were about in regard to the immediate origin of this melancholy affair, and we therefore cannot pretend to give the true one. That the building was set on fire by some of those carrying torches in the procession, there is not the slightest doubt, and we have only to lament the existence of a feeling among the ranks of either political party, that would lead to such a wanton act of criminal violence."

Two Whigs Murdered.

A gentleman just from Mercer county informs us that a dispute took place in the town of Mercer last week between a Cass man and two Whigs, when the former drew a pistol and shot one of the Whigs—he then fled, pursued by the other Whig when he turned and shot the other as he was approaching him. Both shots were mortal. Our informant did not learn the names of any of the parties. The offender is in custody. The Locofocos must be growing dangerously desperate. They shot a Whig in Philadelphia on Saturday. That game will hardly do.—Pittsburg American.

The Cholera in New York.

New York, Nov. 2, 1848. Our city is in a great state of alarm, from the rumors now current that a German vessel now at the wharf, had landed passengers and baggage which were impregnated with that awfully dreaded disease, the Cholera. The doctors, however, pronounce it not the Asiatic—but whether it is to allay the excitement, or that they have examined and found it not the real "Asiatic Plague," I have not yet been able to learn. Our community, however, are in the highest state of alarm at the present moment.

HO—The Louisville Journal says—it seems to be an admitted fact that the stock of Hogs in the country is large, and that their condition (owing to an abundant corn crop) will be very fine. We understand that large purchases were made last week in Shelby county for this market at $2.50 gross. Purchases for the Cincinnati market have ranged in Indiana and taken largely at 2.50 a 2.75 gross. The prices we regard under the present aspect of the foreign news, as very full. Some of our most experienced packers have not yet entered the market, regarding prices too high for prudent investment. From the note of preparation it is probable that a larger number will be packed here the present season than there was last season. The houses engaged in this business command an unlimited capital for any prudent operation. Drivers and farmers may be assured of this fact, and that every facility will be afforded such as to make this market their choice.

COURSE OF THE CHOLERA.—This disease has come to London by the same course that it did in 1832. It will be remembered that from England the cholera passed to Paris, and soon after entered this country by the way of Canada; and all this within a few months.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.—The Vermont House of Representatives has passed to a third reading by a vote of 109 to 81, a bill exempting homesteads not exceeding $500 in value from attachment.

According to a Washington letter in the N. Y. Com. Advertiser, there is a probability that the United States Government will be in the money market before July next, as a borrower of some thirty millions of dollars.

MURDER AND ARSON.—David Frew has been committed to stand trial at Petersburg, Canada, on a charge of having murdered his wife and another woman, named Jane Norman. Frew was intoxicated, and is supposed to have killed the two women, and then set the house on fire. Their charred and mutilated remains were found among the ruins.

THE VICISSITUDES OF LIFE.—Martin Duralde, son-in-law of Henry Clay, and formerly a man of great wealth and influence in Louisiana, died recently of fever, on his return from Tampico. He had become poor, and followed the army in Mexico as a small trader. His wife died some years since.

Murder in Philadelphia.

A young man named Alfred Coleman, while standing on the sidewalk, during the passing of the Democratic procession, met his death from a blow given by a man in the procession, who, it appears, has since been arrested. The verdict of the Jury of Inquest, rendered on Saturday morning, was as follows:—

"That the said Alfred Coleman came to his death by a blow given by some persons unknown, from a portion of the ranks of the Democratic procession, calling themselves 'Killers,' at the corner of 12th and Coates streets, on the 3d inst."

A further investigation of the affair was made by the Mayor, on Saturday evening, when the testimony of several witnesses was taken. James Powers testified that he was in company with Alfred Coleman on the night of the procession. That there was a shout for Cass and Butler in the ranks, which was answered from the sidewalk for Taylor and Fillmore. At this two persons rushed from the ranks one striking Coleman on the head with a large club which had a torch on its end; and another firing a pistol, which shot a young man named Marple in the leg. These men sprung back into the ranks and went on shouting "Hozza for the Killers!" The man who struck Coleman had on a white coat.

William Remington, who is bar keeper to James McCleskey who keeps the "Hermitage" on the Passyunk road below Christian Street, testified that Mr. McCleskey, on the morning after the procession, said that John Agan, (the locofoco Constable of the 3d Ward, Southwark,) jumped out from the ranks during the procession and struck a person over the head with a club, and that he (McCleskey) would not have struck struck such a blow for $500, and that he and Francis Clinton were the only persons who saw the blow struck. Remington was not in the procession and did not see any portion of it.

A warrant for the arrest of Agan was issued by the Mayor.

THE MORMON TEMPLE.—The late Fort Madison Statesman says that a company has purchased all the Mormon property in the hands of A. W. Babbit, the Mormon agent at Nauvoo, including the walls of the Temple, and that arrangements have been made to rebuild it as soon as possible. The price paid was $12,000. The same paper also says that the citizens of Nauvoo are about to, or have already arrested a person living in Nauvoo, who is supposed to be the identical individual who fired the Temple.

BLOODY TRAGEDY IN ARKANSAS.—A dreadful affray took place at Yellville, Marion county, Arkansas, on the 9th ult., in which three men were killed and several wounded. It seems that a man named Mooney was badly beaten some three or four weeks since; and that the Everetts and Mooney got up an agreement, and declared that the Kings, Shelt, Williams, and Hampton Tatt must leave the county.

On Monday they all met at Yellville. Hampton Tatt has a store, and was prudent enough to keep out of the way. J. Turner, Esq. spoke there that day, and the two parties armed to the teeth, had some words and drew up in battle array—but the matter was quieted. Towards evening, Watkins of the Everett party, shot down Jack King. At the same time Sim Everett fired at Sinclair, and missed him; Sinclair Kings brother was shot at by Bartlett Everett, the ball grazing his shoulder; he, in turn, shot Bartlett Everett dead in his tracks. After Sim Everett was shot, he gathered a rock and pelted Sinclair; but finding King, who had been shot in the beginning of the fight, he turned on him, and mashed his skull in a most shocking manner, and expired in the net. King lived until morning. Watkins was badly beaten. He was taken into custody, but made his escape that night. It is to be hoped that the people of Marion will be in putting down these deeds of blood. We fear, however, that the matter is not at an end.

We have heard of a fellow, who, after spending several thousand dollars in lottery speculations and always drawing blanks, concluded with some hesitating to buy another ticket. He was asked why he did so; he answered: "Hitherto I always expected to draw prizes, and so I didn't—now I don't expect to draw any, and so I think I shall."—Louis Journal.

A GOOD ONE.—A gentleman in his eagerness at the table to answer a call for some apple pie, owing to the knife slipping on the bottom of the dish, found his knuckles buried in the crust, when a wag, who sat just opposite to him, very gravely observed whilst he held out his plate, "Sir, I'll trouble you for a bit whilst your hand's in it!"

The Frauds in Schuylkill.

At the late election for Governor, when Schuylkill county gave a majority of 726 for Gov. Johnston, the locofoco leaders charged that this result was produced by fraud, and the honest people of that county were insulted by Judge Champney and others coming amongst them to investigate and expose these frauds! The Judge, however, found nothing but a "mare's nest," and went home with "a flea in his ear." The people told them then if they would wait until the 7th of November they would explain the matter; and they save done it no doubt to their entire satisfaction. They have properly rebuked these insolent intermeddlers by rolling up the magnificent majority of 1250 for GEN. TAYLOR!

We have heard the last of frauds in Schuylkill. Now, let them explain their own foul and infamous conduct in Philadelphia county.
