California in Slices.

A carrier pigeon, which took wing from the office of the California Star, San Francisco, only a week ago, brings us very late intelligence from our Californian correspondent. We doubt whether Messrs. Porter & Robjohn's aerial steamer, which is advertised by handbill, to start "on or about the 15th of April," will outstrip in speed our feathered "couriers of the air." But here is our friend's letter, word for word, as it reads in the original, which was tied with two strands of mule's hair, to the left leg of the bird; and if any one doubts the authenticity of the document, or the alleged method of its transmission, let him drop into our office for the purpose of seeing the manuscript and the winged messenger who conveyed it.

AMERICAN FUR, March 1, 1849.

The diggin has commenced. I can see from my shanty a movin spectikol of more'n a thousand heads—some a bobbin up and down, and some a seorring backwards and forrards, accordin as the owners is to work to fill the cridles, or a rockin of the same. Two sociations have arriv since the rains with steam engines, but the fellers want satisfied with the work the engines done, and said they blowed off too much vapor; so they tied down the safety valves to keep it in; whereupon the steam bursted everything to almighty smash, and scalded the whole bilin. One of the survivors, a fine spoken young man from Little Falls, who went up on the walkin beam and came down by the run, remarked after the highest, that water in a state of ablation was a powerful agent. Jennison's machines takes well; and many a miner, who has to stand barelegged all day in the water, would be very glad of his pumps and hose. The difficulty, when you have got the gravel, is to bring the water, which, in course, is necessary, to carry off the stuff you don't want.

There is a good deal of frute here in the vallys, but those who vally health don't eat it. Grapes and grapes goes together. Some grain has been sowed here since the rain; but there is so much metal in the sile, that all the wheat is killed with the rust. There's more'n thirty thousand people at the mines, and provisions is rapidly goin up. Deer meat is cheap, and prairie dogs dog cheap—the latter is not unholsum, as hydrofoby is unknown in these parts.—Brandy—the worst kind—is all the time egregiously high, and so is the lower class of miners. There is a minister here now who continually preaches temperance, and says that the worm of the still is the father of the worm that is never still, and that the spirit must answer for the flesh; but they don't mind him.

Fish of all shapes and sizes is found in the streams, bein all of a bright gold color in consequence of the gold sands; and the kingfishers, which feeds upon them is also yaller. Yaller is likewise the prevailin kuller of the trees, frutes, and flowers; and the sky from the reflection of the sile, looks kinder green—a mixture of yaller and blue. The injuns, as you hev no doubt heern tell, is a sorter dirt darkened yaller, and it is astonishin how soon white folks begin to turn yaller after they get to grubbin among the gold. In fact, this is a little the yallerest kuntry altogether on this hemisphere of the earth.

New cummers arrive here at the rate of hundreds a day—some fat and jolly, others so maciated that they look like frames of men, just set up and started ahead without the flesh and mussels. A party arriv yesterday that cum by the plains, and complain orfully of their sufferins. They say that nothin ever endoored on board tender ships at sea, could equal their hardships on shore. They started forty and came in twenty, one half havin eatin the other. They brought locks of all the victum's hair for keepsakes, and to show that they was not ungrateful for past favors. The winds of the plains seems to sharpen the appetite and blunt the feelins.

Those that came through Mexico get into a muss about their muskets. No sooner do they land at Vera Croos, than all hands is required to give up their arms, in order that the darned thieves may rob them without the danger of hev'n their karkases perpetrated with a bullet. If you want to scape a Mexican muss cum by the Ismuss. The people of Crocus is better to deal with than the thieving Very Crooses.

The Californy steamer sailed from San Francisco jest before I left, with an unknown quantity of preshus metal, the Lexington also went home with such a sum would like to name. Information has probably got to York, that lumps of 150 pounds has been picked up by small boys in the lower diggings, and you may believe any thing you like of the riches of the kuntry, for the estimates is nowhere near the mark. In the heart of the Sarah Nevady a spring of quick-silver, they say, has bursted out; and as fast as it flows, it thickens up with the gold that lays around all in heaps. Wonderful are the works of nature! Some prefers the wet diggins, but the majority is located on the dry.—It is all dry diggin in this seeson. Furriners cum in faster 'n ever, tracted, as a German rag-pickier said 'toder day, by "the loker of cain." I think Uncle Sam ought to hev his toll out of the untold wealth these alyans expect to carry off. A tonnage duty would do.

I would say more, but this is about as much as my pigeon at San Francisco will be able to carry, although he's not a common carrier. My pile grows, and as soon as it's so big I can't jump over it, here goes for York, says

A DISBANDED VOLUNTEER.

P. ESS.—My spellin' and grammer maybe won't 'malgamate with your ideas; but what can a feller do writin with a bad pen, in a dissolute wilder-ness and no dickshunary?

The First Spree.

"Never was drunk but once in my life," said a chap in my hearing, "never mean to be again. The street seemed to be very steep, and I lifted my legs at every step as if I was getting up stairs. Several cart wheels were making convolutions in my brain, and at one time I fancied that my head was a large carving and turning establishment, the lathes of which I was keeping in motion with my own feet. I couldn't conceive what was the reason that the town had turned into such an enormous hill, and what made it worse, was that it seemed all the while growing higher, and threatened to pitch over on me. Stop, stop, thought I, and I'll head this old hill yet, or at least it shant head me. So I turned round to go down and get at the bottom—but hang me if the town did not turn round with me, headin me all the time, and presenting a bluff in front of me. Well sure enough the ground soon flew up, and struck me in the forehead, and as soon as the stars cleared away I commenced climbing with my hands and knees. The next thing I saw was a big brick house coming full split around the corner, and I believe it run right over me, for I don't remember any more!"

GREEN'S OXYGENATED BITTERS.

FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, &c., &c., &c.

STOP! STOP!

MY DEAR MAN READ THIS if you have got DYSPEPSIA OF ASTHMA or suffer from general debility, or any complaint resulting from derangement of the stomach. You would give a good deal to get well, wouldn't you? Then just give a LITTLE, and try Green's Oxygenated Bitters. Its just the thing for you. The Doctor discovered this medicine only after long and careful study—to cure a friend too—not to make money out of it. Look at the evidence of its efficacy and you will be satisfied.

Hon. MYRON LAWRENCE cured of ASTHMA.

BELCHERTOWN, March 16, 1848.

DR. GREEN—I take great pleasure in informing you of the effects of the medicine called Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered severely from humored Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one third of the night, without going to bed at all; and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing and great difficulty of breathing. In all my attendance upon our courts I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took your medicine according to directions. The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable, and I hope its virtues may be widely diffused and its beneficent agency extensively employed.

Respectfully yours,
MYRON LAWRENCE.

DYSPEPSIA CURED.

CARLEISLE, Pa. June 10, 1848.

Messrs. Collier & Bro.

Gentlemen—In reply to your note as to the effect of the Oxygenated Bitters in my case, I would say, that I have been afflicted with Dyspepsia about six years, and have tried many known remedies, but obtained no relief, until a friend recommended the Oxygenated Bitters. * * * I was finally induced to procure two bottles of you, and I had not taken half a bottle before I felt its effects upon my system, and after the use of the second bottle, I found myself in a state of health as unexpected as it was gratifying. To the afflicted I have no hesitation in recommending the Bitters, as superior to any medicine I have ever heard of for the cure of Dyspepsia.

Very Respectfully yours,
MADSON M. LEWIS.

The following Certificates have recently been received:
