

The New Militia Law.
We have received the recently enacted law revising the Militia system of the State, and its provisions are important—changing entirely the character of a system which had become as odious as it was unprofitable—we have made up from them the following summary. It is made the duty [sec. 1.] of every able bodied citizen between the age of eighteen and forty-five, to provide himself with a proper uniform for a volunteer company, and [sec. 2.] persons shall form themselves of no less than 30, rank and file, electing their own officers, &c. Where there are [sec. 3.] three or more companies in any brigade, they shall be formed into battalions and regiments, and elect such field officers as are allowed to the same force in the regular army; but in case there are not three companies in any brigade, then the company or companies shall elect a Brigadier General, Brigade Inspector, and Major General. The uniformed companies [sec. 4.] shall meet for training and discipline twice in each year, and each battalion and regiment for training and inspection, not less than once. The commanding officer of each company, [sec. 5.] shall furnish a copy of his roll to the County Commissioners, at such times as the assessments of taxes are returned, designating the residence of each member, the assessor also, [sec. 6.] to furnish a list of all male persons residing in the township, between the ages of 21 and 45, except such as may be exempt, and all who are not uniformed and enrolled, shall be considered delinquent, and subject to a fine of fifty cents; such officers and men, however, [sec. 7.] as served in the late war with Mexico, shall be forever hereafter exempt from militia duty. The County Commissioners, in making out their duplicates for the collection of State taxes, [sec. 8.] shall add fifty cents to the amount of tax of each delinquent, to be collected with the same, on account of all such receipts to be kept, and the same to form a military fund. In case the delinquent cannot be found [sec. 9.] or is exempt, an oath shall be made to that effect by the collector, and the Commissioners shall give him a credit or order which shall be his voucher in the settlement of his account. The County Treasurer, after the settlement of the military account, and the payment of the expenses of collections, &c., [sec. 10.] is required to pay to each company of not less than 30, $50, and to each company of not less than 50, $75, for the purpose of keeping open armory, &c. It is also made the duty of the County Treasurer to pay the Brigade Inspector, any reasonable expenses incurred by him, but such expenses shall not exceed in any one year $150. In case the amount of the military fund collected be insufficient to pay the balance to each company, the State Treasurer shall pay to the County Treasurer of such county, a sufficient sum to make up the deficit, such amount to be taken out of the military fund of the State. The Brigade Inspector [sec. 11.] shall attend in person to every organization, make requisition for, receive and disburse arms, &c. The commanding officer of each regiment [sec. 12.] or battalion not attached to any regiment, shall certify to the Auditor General on or before the 1st of August in each year the number of companies in his command, the number of members, &c. The uniformed companies, [sec. 13.] organized before the first Monday of June, 1849, shall meet on that day, at their usual place of meeting, and on the 1st Monday of June every five years thereafter to elect Brigade and field officers, the captain or commanding officer of each company superintending such election. The 1st Monday of July next ensuing, [sec. 14.] and the same day every five years thereafter, shall be the time for the election of Major General of each division, such election to be held at the county seat in each brigade, and all commissioned officers of companies, battalions, regiments and brigades to be entitled to vote for Major General, the election being superintended by the Brigade Inspector and Brigadier General, who may have been elected in the June previous. The election for company officers, [sec. 15.] to be held on the 3d Monday of August, 1849, and on the same day every five years thereafter, the captain to appoint two officers of the company to hold such election. Every person, [sec. 16.] who shall have been uniformed and served five successive years after the passage of this act, shall thereafter be exempt. Each county of the Commonwealth [sec. 17.] shall form a brigade, except the city and county of Philadelphia, which shall form three brigades, as at present. The several divisions of the State, [sec. 18.] are as follows:—

- I.—City and County of Philadelphia.
- II.—Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware.
- III.—Chester and Lancaster.
- IV.—York and Adams.
- V.—Dauphin, Lebanon and Berks.
- VI.—Schuylkill, Carbon and Monroe.
- VII.—Northampton, Pike and Lehigh.
- VIII.—Northumberland and Union.
- IX.—Columbia, Luzerne and Wyoming.
- X.—Susquehanna and Wayne.
- XI.—Lycoming, Clinton and Potter.
- XII.—M'Kean, Elk, Forest and Clarion.
- XIII.—Sullivan, Bradford and Tioga.
- XIV.—Juniata, Mifflin, Centre, Huntingdon and Clearfield.
- XV.—Cumberland, Perry and Franklin.
- XVI.—Bedford, Somerset, Cambria and Blair.
- XVII.—Westmoreland, Fayette, Washington and Greene.

XVIII.—Allegheny, Armstrong, Indiana and Jefferson.
XIX.—Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Lawrence.
XX.—Crawford, Erie, Venango and Warren.

The 19th section exempts from duty the officers, executive and judicial, of the United States, members of Congress, and their officers, officers of customs, post-office department, &c., &c., &c. The Adjutant General [sec. 20.] shall prepare a military code, and report the same to the Legislature; and all former laws, [sec. 21.] on the subject of the militia of this Commonwealth are repealed. The act is a very important one, and while it will do away with a system which has long been an equal burden and disgrace to the state, will do much if rigidly enforced, to build up and foster a strong and efficient volunteer force, equally a credit to the State in time of peace and in war.

Another Horrible Outrage at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, April 22, 1849.
Dear Sir—Last night at a late hour, three young men, about 19 or 20 years of age, prowling about the lower end of the town, in pursuit, it is supposed, of a girl of doubtful character, stopped at the house of a Mr. Neip, and raised a disturbance in front of it. Mr. Neip's son, a returned volunteer from Mexico, desired them to go away from the premises, which they resisting, and insulting him at the same time, he struck one of them, named Kemble, the son of a merchant tailor of this place, who thereupon drew a dirk knife, and repeatedly stabbed him in the region of the heart. His wounds are severe, and at this time are said to be mortal. While the affray was going on, Mr. Neip came out of the house to the rescue of his son, when he also was set upon and stabbed by another of the party, a son of Mr. Bomgardner, the keeper of a tavern at the railroad depot. The other youngest named Seiler, took no part in the homicide, but endeavored to separate the parties, and prevent injury to either of them. The whole town is in a state of excitement at this bloody outrage, especially as the public mind had hardly recovered from the murder of Mr. Knepley, by his crazy son a week ago. Bomgardner has fled and Kemble is arrested.—Ledger.

Mr. Webster Conquered.

The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican mentions the following amusing incident. Mr. Foote was addressing the Senate, when Mr. Webster asked leave to interrupt him a moment.
Mr. Foote turned towards Mr. W. who was sitting directly behind him, and addressed him as nearly as I can recollect in the following strain: The Hon. Senator from Massachusetts the distinguished Senator from Massachusetts, the Statesman, the orator, the scholar, the philosopher—(here Mr. W. who, up to this time had kept his eye fixed on Mr. F. covered his face with both hands, and Mr. F. then proceeded as follows:—) the man whose speeches are destined to live as long as the English language, he who will hereafter rank alongside the Demosthenes and Burkes of our own race.—Mr. Webster's patience seemed to be exhausted at this point, and he belched forth from the top of his lungs, "Oh! get out!" What conclusion Mr. F. brought his elaborate eulogium to, I am unable to say, for amid the roar of merriment and laughter that ensued, he could not be heard for some minutes after.

THE MISSOURI TWINS.—These wonderful children are now in St. Louis. They are the children of Benjamin Ross, Texas county, Missouri, and were both born on the 16th of December, 1817. They are connected from the breast bone to the abdomen, measure twenty inches in height, and weigh twenty pounds. Their connection is such that they stand face to face, heads coated over with fine black hair, and in other respects perfect in form and feature.
