INDEPENDANCE.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

WHEN, in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the seperate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect for the opinions of mankind, requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

RUSSIAN JUSTICE.—The following story gives a lively idea of the Russian rule of Poland. A Jew met a Cossack in the forest; the latter robbed him of his horse. On returning to town, he lodged a complaint with the Major in command, who was (with what truth we cannot say) reported to be a most rigorous disciplinarian. The Cossacks were paraded, the robber pointed out, when, with the utmost effrontery, he declared he had found the horse. "How?" replied the Jew, "I was on his back."—"Yes," retorted the Cossack," I found you too; but having no use for a Jew, I did not keep you. The excuse was deemed sufficient, and the Jew lost his steed.

officers, to harrass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in time of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislature.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction, foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation.

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us.

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states.

For cutting offour trade with all parts of the world.

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury.

For transporting us beyond the seas, to be tried for pretended offences.

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary goverament, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and

GREEN'S OXYGENATED BITTERS, FOR THE CURE OF

DYSPEPSIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, &c., &c., &c.

This medicine is an excellent tonic. It imparts health and vigor to the digestive organs and thus strengthens the whole system. Hence it is just the thing for Spring, when so many need something strengthening. Let every one read the following cases, and if you have one or more symptoms like those mentioned, don't fail to try this invaluable medicine.

syaptoms like those nentioned, don't fail to try this invaluable medicine.

Severe Case of Pyspepsia.

From R. P. STOW, Esq., Asst. Clerk U. S. House Representatives.

Washington, D. C., June 15, 1846.

Di. Gro. B. Gren: — Dear Sir—I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you and to the public, (if you desire it), the surprising effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in relieving me from that most discouraging disorder, Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the usual attendant symptoms, viz: contripation of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulence acidity of the stomach, and severe nausea; and for months at a time not the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely bilious. I have used various remedies, have been strict in my diet, have been dosed with calomel and emetics day after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the cure of Dyspepsia, I procured some as a last resort, have used four bottles of the medicie, e. and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjoyment of health. None but the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjoyment of health. None but the Dyspeptic sufferer, who has felt at 1 the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicie. ease, can at all appreciate the value of the med cine. I most sincerely hope that all will mai trial of the medicine, and with me be able to r joice in the return of health.

Lady Cured of Neuralgia. From Rev. THOMAS KIDDER, of Vermont. Windson. Vt., Aug. 8, 1846.

Windson, Vt., Aug. 8, 1846.

Dean Sin:—It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the "Oxygenated Bitters," with which you furnished my wife, has wrought a cure in her case. About two years since, my wife was violently attacked with neuralgia in the face, through the chest, in the wrists and ankles. So violent was the disease, added to a general derangement of the female system, that her strength was completely prostrated, her flesh wasted, and she rendered miserable indeed. I feel grateful for the restoration of her health, and in duty bound to give publicity to the above facts, that others similarly afflicted may know where to seek for cure. Truly your friend,
