

TERMS:

The "Huntingdon Journal" is published at the following rates, viz: $1.75 a year, if paid in advance; $2.00 if paid during the year; and $2.50 if not paid until after the expiration of the year. The above terms to be adhered to in all cases.

No subscription taken for less than six months, and no paper discontinued until all arrears are paid, unless at the option of the publisher.

CANAL COMMISSIONER:

HENRY M. FULLER, OF LUZERNE COUNTY.

Whig County Ticket.

ASSEMBLY:

A. K. CORNYN, of Huntingdon.

TREASURER:

JOHN A. DOYLE, of Shirley.

COMMISSIONER:

ISAAC PEIGHTAL, of Penn.

AUDITOR:

THOMAS FISHER, of Huntingdon.

On Friday last the long continued drought was broken by a most refreshing rain, since which the evenings and mornings have been quite cool.

Pennsylvania Railroad.

On Thursday last an excursion trip from Harrisburg to Lewistown was made over the Pennsylvania Railroad. The distance is 60 miles, and it is said was run in one hour and fifty eight minutes.

The cars commenced their regular trips from Dillersville near Lancaster, to Lewistown on Saturday last. From an advertisement in the Harrisburg Telegraph, we perceive that the fare from Lewistown to Harrisburg is $2.10, the highest rate allowed by law to be charged—from Lewistown to Dillersville $3.40. An afternoon opposition line lately ran from Columbia, in which they charged $1.50 from Lancaster to Philadelphia—if this line is still continued, the fare from Lewistown to the city would be $5, or if the old rates are charged $6.

The Packet-boats now turn at Lewistown, and passengers leaving Philadelphia in the morning arrive in this place the following morning about six o'clock. The boats going eastward pass this place in the evening as usual.

LOCOFOCO LOVE FOR THE VOLUNTEERS!—Capt SMALL has been defeated for a re-nomination for the State Senate by the Locofocos of Philadelphia county. His successful competitor, FERMON, is a mere Locofoco brawler, without any qualifications, save his ultra Locofocism. Capt. Small was a captain in the First Pennsylvania Regiment, in the Mexican war, and served with great distinction. This is the way Locofocism rewards the brave volunteers for whom they profess so much love.

True.

As is not always the case with rumors, the rumor we noticed last week that the dissatisfied Locofocos were about bringing out another candidate for the Legislature, proves to be correct. The announcement appeared in the Globe of last week, and will be found in our advertising columns this week. Mr. JOH MORRIS, of this borough, quite an intelligent and heretofore an active and loyal member of the Locofoco party of this county, is the gentleman selected. He has heretofore held several appointments on the Canal from the Locofoco party, and we understand always made an industrious and useful officer. His supporters allege that he will be well supported by his party in this borough and throughout the county. We shall see.

Grafting.

We learn that many of the honest, tax-paying members of the Locofoco party, whose only object is the public good, declare their intention of voting for HENRY M. FULLER for Canal Commissioner. They say they will never give their votes in favor of electing the entire board from one party. A Locofoco of this kind remarks to us the other day, that he would vote for FULLER, "because," said he, "I believe there will always be more honesty in the Canal Board when both parties are represented, than when it is composed exclusively of members of one party." We think he is right, and no doubt there are scores of honest Locofocos who entertain the same opinion.

Pointed Questions.

The last Hollidaysburg Register puts the following queries to the Locofocos of this county:

If the Locos have such great love and respect for the soldiers of the Mexican War as they profess to have, why do they oppose their election to places of honor and profit? Didn't they "go it" tooth and nail against "Old Zack," and are they not now ridiculing, traducing and vilifying the old soldiers every day? And why have they nominated a candidate in opposition to Lieut. DOYLE, a soldier of the Mexican War, in Huntingdon county? "Actions speak louder than words."

SALE OF TOWN LOTS.—Attention is invited to the advertisement in another column offering Town Lots for sale, in Mount Union, Huntingdon county.

HENRY M. FULLER, Whig candidate for Canal Commissioner, is now in Philadelphia, and was announced to address a Whig Mass Meeting on last evening. We hope Mr. Fuller will visit the Juniata counties before returning home.

We notice no change in the markets since last.

The Fight of the Factions.

A very interesting fight is now going on between the rival factions of the Locofoco party of this county. Col. David Duff received the regular nomination of the party, but those friendly to the nomination of John Scott, Esq., decline going into his support. They allege that Duff was forced upon them through the influence of the Canal officers, and that he is not the choice of the majority of the party throughout the county. And hence, they have brought out Mr. Job S. MORRIS, of this place, a more radical Locofoco than Col. Duff, to oppose him. On the other hand, the regulars allege that the opposition to Col. Duff is headed and urged on by disappointed applicants for Boss-ships, and other situations on the Canal, and that Mr. Morris himself is disaffected because he was defeated for a delegate to the County Convention, as the friend of John Scott, Esq.

It is therefore a very pretty fight as it stands, and one upon which the Whigs can look with about the same interest said to be manifested by a certain affectionate wife, on one occasion while a fight between her husband and a Bear was in progress.

In another column, we publish, by request, the proceedings of a meeting of the friends of Mr. Morris, held in the Court House on Saturday evening last. The meeting was not large, but the determination among the Locofocos who participated, to support Job, was abundantly manifested. The most active persons in the meeting, have heretofore been deemed leading members of the Locofoco party. Mr. AGAMS, who reported the resolutions, and indeed made all the motions and nominated all the officers, was the candidate for Cmoner on the Locofoco ticket last year, and was elected School Director by the same party last Spring. Mr. DRENNEN, also one of the Committee on resolutions, was the regular Locofoco candidate for Constable of this borough two years ago. And Mr. MORRIS, the candidate for Assembly, held for many years an office on the Canal under the Locofoco Canal Commissioners. So it will be seen, that this new movement is not headed by obscure men, but is led on by the leaders of what is called the more radical wing of the Locofoco party.—It is even hinted, that the editor of the Globe is giving "aid and comfort" to this new movement, but for this assertion we will not vouch.

The effort of the gentleman who reported the resolutions, to create the impression that a portion of the Whigs are dissatisfied with their nominee for the Legislature, is well understood. And it is scarcely necessary for us to say there is not one word of truth in the assertion. Not a single Whig in the borough of Huntingdon opposed the nomination of Col. Cornyn, and we have never heard one express dissatisfaction with his nomination. He will receive the whole whig vote in October, and if their words can be believed, a good many votes from the opposition. The assertion therefore of the disaffected Locofocos, that there are Whigs in the same situation, can only be accounted for on the principle that "misery loves company."

North Branch Canal.

GREAT TRIUMPH OF THE WHIG STATE ADMINISTRATION.—By a report of the State Treasurer to the Governor, we see that, after paying the State interest, and the large appropriation of $1,200,000 to pay old debts on the Public Works, and applying $204,438 87 to the Sinking Fund for the payment of the State debt, there will still be $164,226 13 in the Treasury, applicable to the completion of the North Branch Canal. By an act of the Legislature of last winter, the completion of the North Branch was to be commenced as soon as $150,000 would be in the Treasury over and above the money required for the objects above stated. Hence the Governor has, in accordance with law, directed the Canal Commissioners to commence the work.

This report is clear and to the point. It shows in the first place, that the means of the Treasury are ample for the completion of the canal, without the addition of a single dollar to the State debt; and not only so, but at the same time that ample appropriations are made to this work to complete it in a few years, the State debt WILL BE ACTUALLY DECREASED AT LEAST $300,000 the first year, and after the canal is finished, may, by the same careful and judicious management of the finances, be decreased at the rate of nearly or quite $1,000,000 A YEAR! and in a larger ratio from year to year as the debt is gradually reduced. The reduction of the debt being thus once commenced, it will not be many years before the three mill tax on real estate will be unnecessary, and may be wholly repealed.—This encouraging condition of our public affairs, is to be attributed entirely to the economical and energetic management of our present able Whig administration.

Mexican Soldiers.

How the Whigs do hate and persecute the soldiers of the Mexican War! About a year ago they elected one of the leading spirits among them President of the United States; and now we notice that they have nominated another for County Treasurer in Huntingdon county, and will elect him—all in spite of the soldiers' very particular friends, the Locos. Ha! ha!—Hollidaysburg Register.

Well, we will, friend Jones, do that very thing. The Whigs of old Huntingdon intend voting for their own men hereafter, even at the risk of not being considered "respectable" by certain veteran-Locofoco office hunters.

Foreign News.

The Philadelphia papers received last evening contain seven days later intelligence from Europe. The news is unsatisfactory.

It would seem that Georgey had met some slight reverse in Hungary, but from his position we have no fears for his safety. The European markets were dull, and prices declining under the influence of increasing supplies, and the promise of an abundant harvest.

A correspondent in the last Globe objects to Col. CORNYN because he procured the incorporation of the Broad Top Railroad Company. All the votes that can be made against Mr. Cornyn by this objection, the writer can put in his pocket.

Canal Commissioner.

That the Public Works of this Commonwealth have been grossly mismanaged for years, is admitted by candid men of all parties. A system of favoritism, peculation and fraud, has constantly been kept up. And these abuses were most glaringly manifest while the Canal Board was composed exclusively of members of the Locofoco party; and the little check which the favorites of that party received during the official term of Mr. Power, is now only making them the more eager to again secure complete ascendancy in this branch of the public service. And to effect this, they have nominated JOHN A. GAMBLE, of Lycoming, and will make every effort in their power to secure his election. Mr. Gamble is the very man for their purposes.—He understands the mode and manner of making money on the Public Works. He has been one of the favored few himself. He was a contractor when, to use their own language, "being a contractor meant something!" He made his wealth on the Public Works of the State. His nomination was urged and secured through the influence of the old Plunderers of the Locofoco party. And should he be elected, we be to the tax payers of this tax-ridden Commonwealth—they will find out before his official term closes the secret of his anxiety for a seat in the Canal Board. The motive for his travelling from Lycoming county to Pittsburg to secure his nomination, will be satisfactorily explained. But it will be too late. The swarm of Locofoco plunderers that will then be fastened upon the Public Treasury through him, like the locusts of Egypt, will be eating up every blade of grass and every green thing. And those who wish to prevent this state of things—those who wish to set a watch upon this hungry horde, by keeping a representation from both parties in the Canal Board, must arouse at once. Every taxpayer is interested in this matter—Democrats as well as Whigs.

HENRY M. FULLER, of Luzerne county, is the Reform candidate for Canal Commissioner. He is fresh from the ranks of the People. He was made a candidate by no action of his own, and was chosen solely on account of his character and qualifications. He enjoys the enviable reputation of being one of the most honest, upright men in the State. And should he be elected, we predict that he will make one of the most efficient and popular Canal Commissioners we have ever had. Let FULLER and REFORM, therefore, be the watchword of every voter who desires economy and fair dealing in the management of the Public Improvements, until the second Tuesday of October, and our word for it, their wishes will be accomplished.

Harmonious Democracy.

The Locofocos of Philadelphia city and county, for three days balloting, succeeded, on Friday last, in making a nomination for Sheriff. Great excitement prevailed among the rival factions during the balloting, and after the result was announced, we learn from the papers that a general row was kicked up at the Globe Hotel, in Sixth street below Chestnut, which lasted for over an hour, during which blood flowed like water. Some hundred or more persons were concerned in the disgraceful fight, and several were very badly injured.

Mr. Wm. Deal, the nominee, says the Daily News, is a resident of Bristol township, and was the Locofoco candidate for Sheriff three years ago. He was defeated then, as he will be now, as even his own party admit.

Are all at Work?

The time has now arrived, says the Daily News, for every Whig to be active. By an united and concerted effort we may elect Henry M. Fuller Canal Commissioner, and secure a Whig majority in the State Legislature. By remaining idle a few weeks longer, we shall wake up to a sense of our danger when it is too late to secure a full attendance of our Whig friends at the polls. Let it not be urged that we cannot succeed, and that there is therefore no use in making the effort. The history of the past shows the fallacy of such an opinion. Pennsylvania was carried for the lamented Harrison in 1840, and again for James M. Power in 1846. In October 1848, the Whigs again triumphed with Gov. Johnston as their candidate, and in November following gave a majority of 14,000 for Gen. Taylor. Let no one therefore excuse his negligence and indifference, with the groundless assertion that we cannot succeed. Let all go to work and see that the proper organization is had to secure a full Whig vote. This need but be accomplished to elect Mr. Fuller by a greater majority than that given for Gen. Taylor; for it must be borne in mind that Mr. Gamble cannot, under any circumstances, receive as large a vote as that cast for Gen. Cass.

There remains now but a brief month to organize our forces and prepare them for the day of election. If we wish to succeed, we must go to work now. We cannot afford to lose another day. The preparatory steps for efficient organization have already been too long delayed. Let us now arouse to our duty, and from henceforth labor as we were wont to do in 1840, '46 and '48, and there can be no doubt we shall again triumph.

Col. A. K. Cornyn.

The Lancaster Union and Tribune, in speaking of the Whig Ticket of this county, says:

"Col. Cornyn was nominated by acclamation. It is a deserved compliment for his efficient services in the last Legislature, where he enjoyed a deserved popularity as a liberal and enlightened member."

The Ferry Freeman also pays our candidate the following compliment:

"Col. A. K. CORNYN, formerly of this county, has been complimented by the Democratic Whig Convention of Huntingdon county, by a unanimous re-nomination as a candidate for Member of Assembly. Col. C. was an able, industrious, and influential member of the last House, and the whigs of Huntingdon knowing that fact, have paid him the elegant compliment which his merits deserved. That he will be re-elected we have no doubt."

S. V. MERRICK, Esq., has resigned the office of President of the P. A. Railroad Company, and Wm. D. PATTERSON has been elected in his stead.

Who are the Friends of Home Industry.

We invite attention to the following resolution adopted by the late Locofoco State Convention at Pittsburg, which nominated John A. Gamble for Canal Commissioner:

Resolved, That the practical working of the present Revenue Laws, clearly demonstrate their superiority over those which immediately preceded them, thus proving that that which was logical in argument is sound in principle, and practical in its effects. All systems which give bounties to particular interests to the detriment of the great industrial classes of the country—which seek to aggrandize a few at the expense of the many—are a clear violation of those principles of Democracy which proclaim to all equality of rights.

Now let us look at the following, adopted by the Whig State Convention at Harrisburg, which nominated Henry M. Fuller as the Whig candidate for the same office:

Resolved, That protection to the industry of the people is one of the first duties of Government; and that the true interests of the State and nation are best promoted by placing the manufacture of the agricultural laborer, side by side with the agriculturist—the days of the greatest prosperity for the country have been those when domestic labor has been protected, unnecessary and excessive importation of foreign fabrics prevented by a proper Tariff of duties, and in our opinion, such results have not followed the Tariff of 1816, and can never be promoted by its continuance.

Resolved, That as Pennsylvanians we cannot permit to see our iron manufactures thrown idle, our mines of coal rendered valueless, our laborers and citizens unemployed, our capital destroyed, and business paralyzed, to try any of our experiments on the locofoco theories of Free Trade, when we are taught by all past experience that poverty and want must be the consequence of importing from other countries those articles which we can better manufacture within our own borders.

Here we have the issues before the people—GAMBLE, Free Trade, and the Tariff of 1816, on the one side, and FULLER, Protection to Home Industry, and the Repeal of the Tariff of 1816, on the other. It is for the people to decide between them, and they should see to it before it is too late, that their best interests be not sacrificed.—Daily News.

Why Tennessee Went Locofoco.

The Nashville Union, the leading Locofoco paper in Tennessee, has a column of exultation over the recent victory in that State. The Union ascribes the cause, first to the fact that Gen. Taylor called "two furious and fanatical abolitionists" into his Cabinet, and secondly because the Locofocos had taken ground against the Wilmot Proviso and all kindred measures at all hazards and to the last extremity, and BROWN, the Whig candidate for Governor, denounced that resolution as leading to disunion, and proclaimed an acre of Bunker Hill worth all the valley of the Rio Grande, though studded with diamonds and filled with slaves. "Upon this issue," says the Union, "the people have left him almost alone in his glory."

Manners, and Speech Making.

Some of the Opposition Journals find it rare sport to criticise Gen. Taylor's speeches, and ridicule his manners. They say that he is awkward before strangers, and does not make a favorable impression. On this point there may well be a difference of opinion. Surely enough he has not the appearance of a dancing master, but it has been well said that he gave a reception to twenty thousand strangers at Buena Vista in a style that few dancing masters could have equalled.

As to his speech making, the people knew very well what kind of speeches General Taylor made before they elected him President. Heaven has bestowed divers gifts on divers persons. It was not necessary for General Taylor to make long speeches, in order to gain the popular confidence; and that confidence will not be withdrawn because he fails to make long speeches.

When the chivalrous HULL broke the spell of England's supremacy on the ocean, by the capture of the Guerriere, on his return to port he was complimented by the citizens of Boston with a public dinner. The cloth having been removed, after a few preliminary toasts came that to the honor of the Captain: "Our gallant guest, who has secured for himself a name and a praise among his countrymen, and added terror to the courtesies of his country's flag. The toast was drunk with enthusiasm, and then all was quiet.

A friend sitting next to the gallant captain, said, "Sir, we are waiting for your speech." "A speech!" said the chivalrous but modest Hull, "I can't make one—I don't know how." A gentleman on the opposite side of the table exclaimed, audibly, "Sir, you are in for a speech. Don't you see that the president is waiting for your response to the toast?" "The noble 'Fat rose up and said, 'Mr. President, the gentlemen round me say, that you and the other gentlemen are waiting for me to make a speech. Sir, I never made one in my life. I can't do it, sir. I don't know how, sir. By—, I'd rather fight the battle over again than try it!"

The ratifiers of Faneuil Hall were a little displaced by the truthful delicacy of the gallant captain; but we never heard that the newspapers of the day thought it a proper subject of ridicule, or that it impaired the well earned honors of the chivalrous sailor.—Washington Republic.

Health of Gen. Taylor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. In consequence of a telegraphic despatch received here last evening, announcing that Gen. Taylor had been attacked by diarrhoea, and that he was lying very ill, Mrs. Taylor, the lady of the President, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Wood, left here this morning en route to meet the General at Erie.

Later despatches state that the General was recovering, and would leave Erie in a few days for Buffalo.

Rhode Island Election.

By telegraph from Providence, R. I., we have returns from all the towns in the Western District, except Jamestown, and Dixon, the whig candidate has without doubt been elected to represent the District in the next Congress.—His present majority is 659 votes, and Jamestown will vary the result but little. This is the District which failed to make a choice at the April election, and having been represented in the last Congress by Mr. Thurston, locofoco, the election of Mr. Dixon is a Whig gain.

GUILTY OF MURDER.—The Gettysburg Star states that the Jury in the case of Frederick Smith, charged with the murder of Frederick Foster, an old citizen of Adams county, last fall, have returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

FORTY YEARS AGO.—The Chambersburg Whig, in noticing the recent visit of Gen Taylor to that place, says:

"Forty years ago, as he himself stated, he passed through, and as on this occasion; tarried one day in Chambersburg, but under what vastly different circumstances! He was then a young officer in the army, and on his way from Baltimore to Pittsburg, the whole of which distance he travelled on foot.—Now he goes as the honored President of a mighty nation, greeted at every turn by the overflowing love and admiration of his countrymen."

Ex-Governor Jones of Tennessee, has been making a great speech in favor of the encouragement of manufactures in that State.

It will not be long before the South will be as strongly in favor of the protective policy as the North ever was. At least the Whigs of the South will be. The Locofocos are too uncertain to calculate upon. They are like the camelion—ever changing.

It is said, that General Taylor in his reply to the Harrisburg Committee, spoke of the "Locofoco presses" &c.—Pottsville Emporium.

It is said, that the above turns out to be a confounded lie. But suppose he had spoken of the false-styled 'democratic party' as 'Locofocos,' he had good authority for using the term, for we recollect to have seen several of their papers during the campaign of 1844, the very title of which was 'The Locofoco,' and a copy of one of which, published by a pair of demagogues in Pittsburg we now have in our possession, as a 'voucher.'—Wash. Commonwealth.

The editor of a locofoco paper in Lancaster, is making fun of Gen. Taylor's speech there, because he alluded to the horses, sheep, and cattle of Lancaster county. It is supposed that the wrath of the said editor is in consequence of the General making no particular allusion to the Jacks in that region.—Wash. Commonwealth.

BEDFORD COUNTY.—The Whigs of Bedford county have nominated the following ticket:

Assembly.—David Mann, Solomon Mason. Treasurer.—John Arnold. Commissioner.—Maj. S. S. Stuckey, Director.—Levi Evans. Auditor.—Eli Miller.

The Legislative candidates are said to be very popular and worthy men, and their election is confidently expected.

MIFFLIN COUNTY.—The Whigs of Mifflin county have nominated the following ticket:—Assembly, Joseph Hefley; Commissioner, Elisha Bratton; Treasurer, George Carney; Auditor, Augustus Ingram.

We should be glad to convert over to our faith every honest man in the ranks of Whiggery.—Wash. Union.

Just so—honest men are entirely unchangeable for your 'faith' till they have changed their character.—Wash. Commonwealth.

CINCINNATI, August 20.

Patrick Collins, the late defaulting Collector of the Port of Cincinnati, and who has been ill for some days, died in this city yesterday morning.

HUNGARY.—Tremendous meetings in favor of the gallant Hungarians have been held in various parts of the United States. If that noble people continue successfully to resist the hired bands of Austria and Russia, we shall not be surprised to hear that thousands of Americans have flown to aid her in the unequal struggle.

ALABAMA LEGISLATURE.—The Huntsville Chronicle in speaking of the Legislature of Alabama, says, four of the Democrats elected are Taylor men, and will vote for Taylor candidates for the United States Senate. Mr. McMullen, of Butler county, is to be pledged to give his vote to Taylor Senators. This, if true, will make a tie vote on that question in the Legislature.

Sickness in York.

We regret to learn that the borough of York is suffering severely from sickness. The Advocate of last week says—It is an alarming fact that from four to eight persons die daily—principally children—from diarrhoea and dysentery. Physicians are now kept so busy that it is a difficult matter, even in the most urgent case, to obtain their services.

The Corn Crop.

The Germantown Telegraph says:—"Let people say what they will, we never saw, in this region, a more abundant crop of corn than the present season is about to yield. The stalks are remarkably strong, tall, and stand unusually thick upon the ground. The ears are large and sufficiently matured to escape all mishaps; unless an unseasonable frost of great severity, which is not to be anticipated, should visit it. In examining the crops of corn in various sections, the eye can instantly light upon those fields which have been subjected to indifferent cultivation; inasmuch as there is no crop which so distinctly carries with it the mark of the incompetent farmer than that of corn; and none which so readily yields to the happy influences of a little kind nursing."

TERRIBLE FATALITY.—Sandusky City is not alone in severe affliction from the visitation of the cholera. In two townships, principally settled by Germans, in Auglaize county, Ohio, the fatality has been unprecedented. A letter from St. Mary's, of the county seat, dated August 13, says: "In Germany township, within seven miles of us; there have been fully three hundred deaths. Tomorrow we have a called court, when it is thought that one hundred and fifty administrators will be appointed. The disease has been nearly as malignant in the township of Bremen. Between twenty-five and thirty have died in the village of Hyatville, in Miami county, out of a population of not more than 150 persons.

DEPREATIONS BY THE SIOUX INDIANS.

—An official letter has been received at the office of the Surveyor General, Dubuque, from James M. Marsh, Deputy Surveyor, now engaged in the service of surveying the public lands within the State of Iowa, by which we are informed of the particulars of an open and outrageous robbery perpetrated upon him by the Sioux Indians, of Iowa, on the 26th of July. He was at the time employed in continuing the "second correction line" to the Missouri river. When a few miles west of the confluence of Lizard Fork with the Des Moines river, in range 30, west, he was met by eleven Sioux warriors, completely armed. Mr. Marsh's party, including himself, consisted of seven men, and they had one gun. Resistance, therefore, was out of the question. They were completely at the mercy of the Indians. They therefore did as they were bid. Mr. Marsh, who is somewhat conversant with the Sioux language, explained to the chief the character of his survey, that it was by authority of the government, and showed from his diagram, upon which the Sioux boundary was drawn, that he was upon the United States lands. The chief, however, when the Indians immediately robbed Mr. Marsh and his party of everything they could carry or drive including all their horses. He was robbed on the 26th and 27th of July, and on the first day of August was on his line again with a new outfit; since when no intelligence of him has been received. Another Deputy Surveyor, George Berry, while engaged in May last in the survey of the public lands on Cedar river, was robbed by the same Indians. The absence of troops from the military posts in that region, may measurably account for the boldness of the Indians. Fort Crawford, situated near the eastern extremity of Sioux boundary, is deserted. Fort Atkinson, situated adjacent to this boundary, in the heart of the exposed territory—situated indeed, so as to completely awe the whole tribe, is also deserted.—Chicago (Ill.) Journal Aug. 25.

A FATHER KILLED BY HIS SON.—

A young man named Harvey, while at work with his father, near Waynesburg in Greene county, one day last week, seized an axe, with which, at a single blow, he severed his father's head, occasioning instant death. Young Harvey is supposed to have been partially deranged for some time. On committing the horrible deed, he immediately fled, or at least kept out of reach until the funeral of his father, when he voluntarily appeared, was arrested, and is now confined in the Waynesburg jail.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT.—

An accident of the most distressing nature occurred in our village on Friday afternoon last, by which a little boy, between 5 and 6 years of age, son of ISAIAH FULLERTON, was instantly killed. This little boy, and another one of about the same age, son of Wm. Morgan, were in a wagon, the horses took fright and started at full speed; upsetting the wagon and throwing the children out, killing one instantly, and slightly injuring the other. Let this sad affair serve as a salutary caution to those who are in the practice of driving horses and wagons through our streets. There is entirely too great a disregard of life in this respect.—Clearfield Paper.

SOCIETY UPSET IN CALIFORNIA.—

These appears to be what the French call a houleversement—a complete overturn—of the usual arrangements of society, at the gold region; for a specimen of which see the following extract from a San Francisco letter to the Boston Courier:

"Since my arrival I have seen a lieutenant of the Navy, and a New York merchant, dragging a hand-cart, at an ounce per load; a few days since I met a professor in one of your first colleges driving his ox team, hauling emigrants' traps to the 'diggins,' at $20 for one hundred pounds. A Georgia planter cooks his salt pork, and does the flapjacks brown; a printer from the Picayune office keeps my books, and two young gentlemen from jobbing houses in Pearl street take care of the mules, haul lumber; and act as porters about the store; each at from ten to fifteen dollars per day, with board. In California all labor, and one is daily furnished with innumerable sources of amusement by meeting old friends in such comical employment. Imagine our friend—the artist—with buckskin trousers, red flannel shirt, and California hat, peddling newspapers; Sun, Herald and Tribune, sir! latest dates from New York, only two cents each."

A DARK PLACE.—

Edgewood county, North Carolina, at the last Presidential election gave Taylor 143 votes and Cass 1335. The North Carolina Whig says that a few years since the people of this county ran a preacher out of it who attempted to distribute the Bible among them!

Two of the Field Officers in the Hungarian army are females. They dress in male attire, wear swords by their sides, lead the regiments into battle, and manifest so much bravery and enthusiasm as to inspire the soldiers with almost irresistible valor.—V. Y. Day Book.
