

Arrival of the America.

The Steamer America arrived at Halifax, on Tuesday last, with dates one week later from Europe. She brings no news of much importance. The grain market is said to be a degree firmer, holders supposing that prices have reached the lowest point.

The cholera is on the increase in London, 840 deaths having occurred on the 11th and 12th inst. We learn from Hungary that Comorn and Peterwarden had not surrendered at last accounts.

President Napoleon has written a letter declaring that the French Republic had not sent an army to Rome to put down Italian liberty, but on the contrary, to regulate it by a good account of themselves in October. They held a meeting in Independence square on Monday evening which was very large and very enthusiastic.

Gov. Johnston, who had been to Bristol to attend a military encampment, being in the city on Monday, attended the meeting and made a speech. The North American says:—

"Conspicuous among those who addressed the vast assemblage, was Gov. Johnston; and his clarion voice rang out in tones that stirred the heart of every Whig to its very depth, and aroused an enthusiasm which found vent in deafening shouts. Peal after peal of cheers broke forth as he presented himself to them, and it was not until some minutes had passed that he found opportunity to speak.

It was a generous testimony of respect for, and confidence in our Chief Magistrate, which must have been very grateful to him, and he was evidently touched by it."

We have not room for the full report of the Governor's speech, but we extract a part of it, to which we desire to draw the particular attention of our Whig readers. It shows how he regards the duty of voting, and how every patriot and good citizen ought to regard it. The Governor said:

He had not come there to give support to partisan action. His object was to give aid and countenance to the uniformed volunteer system. The old law was wrong. It was a mockery in itself, and a burden upon the Treasury of the State. He felt sure that the new law would be a beneficial one; and that it was his duty to attend every military meeting, while, by so doing, he did not interfere with more important official duties. It was that which had brought him into that section of the State.

But there were certain things which might be talked about without being charged with an attempt to influence partisan politics. Of these was the duty which men owe to themselves and their country. According to his mode of reasoning, and his convictions, every man was bound to cast his ballot whenever he was offered the opportunity. He who does not, does a wrong to his country.—It is an omission which suffers opponents to prostrate what in his opinion is right. In a government based on the popular will; any one who refuses to discharge the duties such a government imposes on him, is guilty of gross wrong, which can scarcely be calculated. Our country cannot be subverted by brute force, but the omission to vote, offers an opportunity which some day or other will be taken advantage of by demagogues, to ruin the beautiful fabric we have raised.

We have reason to be proud of our institutions, he said, and with great force and beauty of thought, urged that our institutions should be kept pure; because it was to them the lovers of liberty in all lands turned for encouragement to their hopes.—He alluded to Rome, stricken down by the fratricidal hand of France and Hungary fallen in her struggle for religion, liberty and father land; but he added, that if the spirit of liberty was hushed there now, it was only stilled for a time, and if our light continued to burn as a bright star toward which they could look, it would reinstate freedom on her throne.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.

At least one hundred thousand tons of English railroad iron have either been received or ordered for this country within the last twelve months—at a cost of about five millions of dollars. To manufacture this quantity of iron, says the American Rail Road Journal, would require about 17,000 workmen—and making the usual allowance of five persons as dependent upon each one, we have a total population of 85,000 persons, who have been directly supported by the production of this enormous quantity of iron. These 85,000 persons in their turn give support to a great many thousand of farmers, mechanics, and professional men; who are again enabled to contribute to each other's subsistence. Now, it is certainly worthy of the consideration of our railroad companies, whether American or English railroads shall do the transportation of these thousands of industrious artisans and their families, and of the freight they create. It is obvious, that if we buy English rails, all this business must be done on English railroads—and we are actually swelling their dividends, when we pay for English iron. On the other hand, if our companies buy American rails, the business created by their manufacture is done over American roads, and each link in the great chain of railroads soon gets back its proportion of the money, paid out for rails, in the shape of fares and tolls—not one dollar of which would they receive, if the article were purchased abroad.—It is plainly therefore, the direct interest of our companies to buy American rails. "But," says an economical President, "we can purchase English rails for $30 per ton, and cannot get American for less than $50. This difference in a 60-lb. rail will make our road cost $1,000 per mile more—our capital is limited, and while we feel very patriotic, we must make the money of our stockholders go to the end if possible." How can the People of Pennsylvania, at the coming election, vote for the candidates of a party, whose united influence if successful, will go towards perpetuating the present importations of Rail Road and other iron, to the detriment of ourselves, or whose triumph will be sounded from one end of the Union to the other, as a victory of Free Trade. Voters of Pennsylvania, of all parties, consider well the above facts; and let conscience direct you which to support—the party that oppresses, or the one that upholds labor.

An Invincible Argument in Favor of Mr. Gamble.

The Loco-foco papers urge the election of Mr. Gamble to the office of Canal Commissioner, on the ground that, having been a contractor on the public works and made a large amount of money out of the State, he is well qualified to discharge the duties of that important office. We admit that, on this point he far exceeds Mr. Fuller. He is undoubtedly most thoroughly acquainted with the plunder system, and if elected, will have as many party favorites to reward, in that way, as any of his predecessors; and as they admit that he has made a vast sum out of the State by jobbing, we have not the remotest doubt but he is so thoroughly acquainted with the peculation and frauds; that he will need no schooling to make him a most efficient officer in that department of Loco-focism. The Loco-foco organs may, therefore, be considered as correct in urging the election of Mr. Gamble, on the ground that he has been long connected with the plunder system, and drawn from the State a large amount of money through it. But we doubt whether the TAX-PAYERS will regard him as better qualified to take charge of the interests of the Commonwealth on that account. His acquaintance with the squandering system is undoubtedly a recommendation to those who live on plunder, but not to those who, by their industry and toil, fill the coffers of the treasury. Let those, therefore, who will have an end put to the frauds that are practiced upon the State, remember that their only hope is in the election of that able and honest man, HENRY M. FULLER—and let them prepare to go to the polls on the second Tuesday of October, and do their duty to themselves, to their children, and to the Commonwealth.—Pa. Telegraph.

THE DROUGHT.—The memory of the oldest inhabitant runs not back to the time when a more general and long continued drought prevailed, than we have had and still have. We learn from various sections of the country, that the fall farming operations are nearly all suspended—it being impossible even to plough. The pastures are nearly all dried up, and cattle have to be fed with hay. The streams are all very low; some of them are quite dry, and the mills are, many of them stopped, and few are doing full work.—Baltimore Patriot.

FROM THE WEST.—The latest intelligence from the West states that the Winnebago Indians are becoming much dissatisfied with their new home. A number of them recently started for their old hunting grounds. Captain Page of Fort Snelling sent out a force to intercept them. They met the Indians at Rice Lake and drove them back.—Further difficulties are still apprehended.

FIRE IN CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28. A fire broke out this morning in Lewis's tobacco store, in Green street, near Third, which destroyed the six four-story buildings, formerly known as Scott's Hotel. The loss on the buildings will reach $20,000. Mr. Elliott, who occupied the upper stories as a cabinet warehouse, lost about $8000 worth of property, $6000 of which is covered by insurance. The Union Co's lumber yard was also destroyed. The loss not ascertained. The whole loss will probably reach $50,000.

FIRE IN OWEHO, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. Yesterday morning, about 4 o'clock, a destructive fire broke out in Owego, which raged for seven hours, baffling, all attempts to subdue it. The entire business portion of the village is a heap of ruins. One hundred buildings have been consumed, including the Bank, the Post-office, and the Telegraph Office. The bridge across the Susquehanna river is also destroyed.—The loss is estimated at one hundred and fifty to two hundred thousand dollars.—Wall street loses about fifty thousand dollars in insurance.

The Philadelphia Galaxy says, an artist in that city painted a cow and a cabbage so natural, that he was obliged to separate them before they were finished, because the cow commenced eating the cabbage.

RAISING FRUIT IN RUSSIA.—In the intensely cold climate of St. Petersburg, where nearly all our common fruit trees perish under ordinary circumstances, fine crops of apples, plums, and cherries have been obtained, by training the branches on a trellis only a foot from the ground. The heavy snows entirely cover them, and completely protect them. Large crops of apples have thus been obtained for successive years, even after winters which have destroyed other trees when double matted. The green gage and Orleans plum have ripened before mid-autumn. Morello cherries have borne good crops. When the fruit ripens it does not bruise in falling.

The People's Candidate.

We wish, through the medium of your paper, to recommend JOSEPH S. MORRIS, of Huntingdon, as the People's candidate for the State Legislature. Job is an honest and industrious mechanic, a stone mason, and unable to work at his trade in the winter. We therefore recommend him to the support of both parties, particularly the working portion of the county. MANY CITIZENS.

Highly Important!

The latest and most important news we have to communicate this week is the arrival this morning of a rich and superior assortment of Watches, Jewelry, &c., at Scott's Jewelry Store. Citizens and strangers are respectfully invited to call and satisfy themselves that this is the place to purchase a good watch or any other article in his line on the most reasonable terms. FEVER & AGUE Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Intermittent & Remittent Fevers, & all the various forms of Bilious Diseases. SPEEDILY & THOROUGHLY CURED by Dr. Osgood's India Cholorogue.

This excellent compound, which never fails in the cure of Fever and Ague, is for sale by the proprietor's agents, T. REED & SON, Huntingdon; L. G. KESSLER, Mill Creek.

WHAT IS THE MATTER with me, Doctor? What is the cause of this sallow complexion, jaundiced eye, depression of spirits, pain in the side and shoulder, weariness of body, bitter taste in the mouth? Such is the inquiry, and such the symptoms of many a sufferer! It is the liver which is diseased, and the Cholorogue is the remedy always successful in curing it. Try it, and judge for yourself. For sale by above named agents.

BETTER DIE THAN LIVE, if I am to be tortured from day to day with this horrible Ague, exclaims the poor sufferer whose life has become a burden from the racking paroxysms of an intermittent, and whose confidence in human aid is destroyed by the failure of remedies to produce the promised relief. Such has been the situation of thousands who are now rejoicing in all the blessings of health from the use of Dr. Osgood's India Cholorogue. In no instance does it fail to effect a speedy and permanent cure. For sale by above named agents.

"How few who think aright among the thinking few, How many never think, but only think they do."

THE SENTIMENT IMPLIED in the above exclamation is on no subject more fully exemplified than on that of health. But few give it a single thought, and fewer still reflect upon it with the observation and good sense which matters of minor consequence receive. As observation teaches the fact that Dr. Osgood's India Cholorogue is a never failing remedy in Fever and Ague, good sense would surely indicate its prompt and immediate use. For sale by the above named agents. June 26, 1849.
