

THE HAPPY FARMER.

His home's a cot embowered in trees,
A garden filled with fruit and flowers,
Where singing birds and humming bees
Make gay the smiling hours.
A range of meadows green and fair,
And fields which will repay his care.

With joy he greets the rising sun,
And gladly hastens to his toil;
In fancy sees the harvest won,
As covering with the mellow soil
The tiny wheat, which yet will bring
A glorious autumn offering.

The golden hours, how quick they fly!
The happy day, how soon 'tis fled,
Then onward doth the farmer his
And finds a table neatly spread.
With many a dainty which the field
And garden plot so richly yield.

The evening is fraught with joy,
For loved ones cluster round him there,
He tastes a bliss without alloy,
Which e'en a king might sigh to share;
Then seeks his couch and finds repose,
Which only he who toils knows.

Power of a Good Man's Life.

The beauty of a holy life constitutes the most effective persuasive to religion which one human can address to another. We have many ways of doing good to our fellow creatures; but none so efficacious as leading a virtuous upright, and well-ordered life. There is an energy of moral suasion in a good man's life passing the highest efforts of the orator's genius. The seen but silent beauty of holiness speaks more eloquently of God and duty than the tongues of men and angels. Let parents remember this. The best inheritance a parent can bequeath to a child is a virtuous example, a legacy of hallowed remembrances and associations. The beauty of holiness, beaming through the life of a loved relative or friend, is more effectual to strengthen such as do stand in virtue's ways, and raise up those that are bowed down, than precept, command, entreaty, or warning. Christianity itself, I believe, owes by far the greater part of its moral power, not to the precepts or parables of Christ, but to his own character. The beauty of that holiness which is enshrined in the four biographies of the Man of Nazareth, has done more, and will do more to regenerate the world and bring in an everlasting righteousness than all the other agencies put together. It has done more to spread religion in the world than all that has ever been preached or written on the evidences of Christianity.—Chalmers.

Truth.

Adhere always rigidly and undeviatingly to truth; but while you express what is true, express it in a pleasing manner. Truth is the picture, the manner is the frame that displays it to advantage. If a man bends his angry passions with his search after the truth, become his superior by suppressing yours, and attend only to the justness and force of his reasoning. Truth, conveyed in austere and acrimonious language, seldom has a salutary effect, since we reject the truth because we are prejudiced against the mode of communication.—The heart must be won, before the intellect can be informed. A man may betray the cause of truth by his unreasonably zeal, as he destroys its salutary effects by the acrimony of his manners.—Whoever would be a successful instructor, must first become a mild and affectionate friend.

Now.

Standing, a few days since, by the bedside of a man who was sinking in the agonies of Asiatic Cholera, he turned his glassy eyes upon me, and said: 'A few hours more, a few hours more to prepare!' Thirty minutes after, I met one of his neighbors hurrying through the streets towards the undertaker's. Poor J. was already in another world. How often had the unhappy man heard from my pulpit, 'Now is the accepted time;' but never had I proclaimed that warning to him so earnestly as he did to me in that dying cry. 'A few hours more a few hours more!' And from a thousand death-beds comes the same announcement every day.—'Now is the accepted time,' echoes in the ear of every living man. To the impatient man the voice proclaims now is the time to make your peace with God. To the ministers of Christ it says now is the time to press the religion of the gospel on every conscience. To the church member it says, now is the time for prayer and earnest labor, or mayhap the Judge is standing at the very door.

The Printer.

Dow, Jr. in one of his sermons discourses as follows: "The printer is in a very disagreeable situation; his money is scattered every where, and he hardly knows where to look for it. His paper, his ink, his type, his journeyman's labor, his living must be punctually paid for. You, Mr. —, and Mr. —, and a hundred others I could name, have taken his paper, and you and your children, and your neighbor have been instructed and amused by it. If you miss one paper, you think very hard of the printer;—you would rather go without your best meal than to be deprived of your newspaper. Have you complied with the terms of your subscription?—Have you taken as much pains to furnish the printer with his money as he has to furnish you with his papers?—Have you paid him for his handwork, his head-work? If you have not, go and pay him off."

Late Budding.
Sometimes late budding succeeds well even better than early budding. When the weather is wet and warm, trees grow late; and may be budded later than usual. While bark peels freely, it is in season for budding unless it is so late that cold dry weather may check the growth of trees before 10 or twelve days of growing weather, which are necessary after budding to make the buds take well.
The Cultivator budded apples and cherries on the first of September.—The stocks were very small in the Spring and are mostly of this year's growth. He budded peaches of this year's growth on the 18th of September, in preference to an earlier period. He has had good success in budding peaches as late as the 20th of September, but if cold dry weather succeeds, the growth will be checked before the bud unites to the stock. When early budding fails, it should be repeated later. Much depends on the season, the weather and the age and thrift of the stock.

"THE PRESS.—It expresses truth, represses error, im-presses knowledge, and op-presses none." We thought this too good to be sup-pressed, and therefore publish it.

GREEN'S OXYGENATED BITTERS, FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, &c., &c., &c.

This medicine is an excellent tonic. It imparts health and vigor to the digestive organs and thus strengthens the whole system. Hence it is just the thing for Spring, when so many need something strengthening. Let every one read the following cases, and if you have one or more symptoms like those mentioned, don't fail to try this invaluable medicine.

Severe Case of Dyspepsia.

From R. P. STOW, Esq., Asst. Clerk U. S. House Representatives.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15, 1846.
DR. G. B. GREEN:—Dear Sir—I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you and to the public, (if you desire it) the surprising effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in relieving me from that discouraging disorder, Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the usual attendant symptoms, viz: constipation of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulence acidity of the stomach, and severe nausea; and for months at a time not the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely bilious. I have used various remedies, have been strict in my diet, have been dosed with colomel and emetics day after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the cure of Dyspepsia, I procured some as a last resort, I have used four bottles of the medicine, and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjoyment of health. None but the Dyspeptic sufferer, who has felt a l the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to rejoice in the return of health.

Lady Cured of Neuralgia.

From Rev. THOMAS KIDDER, of Vermont.
WINDSOR, Vt., Aug. 8, 1846.
DEAR SIR—It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the "Oxygenated Bitters," with which you furnished my wife, has wrought a cure in her case. About two years since, my wife was violently attacked with neuralgia in the face, through the chest, in the wrists and ankles. So violent was the disease, added to a general derangement of the female system, that her strength was completely prostrated, her flesh wasted, and she rendered miserable indeed. I feel grateful for the restoration of her health, and in duty bound to give publicity to the above facts, that others similarly afflicted may know where to seek for cure. Truly your friend,
THOMAS KIDDER.

From Hon. MYRON LAWRENCE, of Mass.

"For some twenty years I had suffered severely from humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the night, and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing and great difficulty of breathing. In all my attendance upon our courts I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took the "Oxygenated Bitters," according to directions. The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of it remedied all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable, and I hope its virtues may be widely diffused and its beneficent agency extensively employed."

LIFE INSURANCE. The Girard Life Insurance Annuity and Trust Company of Philadelphia. Office No. 159 Chestnut Street. Capital $300,000. CHARTER PERPETUAL.

CONTINUE to make Insurance on Lives on the most favorable terms, receive and execute Trusts and receive deposits on interest. The Capital being paid up and invested, together with accumulated premium fund affords a perfect security to the insured. The premium may be paid in yearly, half yearly, or quarterly payments.

The Company add a BONUS at stated periods to the insurance for life. This plan of insurance is the most approved, of and is more generally in use, than any other in Great Britain, (where the subject is best understood by the people, and where they have had the longest experience,) as appears from the fact, that out of 117 Life Insurance Companies there, of all kinds, 87 are on this plan.

The first BONUS was appropriated in December 1844, amounting to 10 per cent. on the sum insured under the oldest policies; to 8-3-4 per cent., 7-1-2 per cent., &c. &c. on others, in proportion to the time of standing, making an addition of $100; $87.50; $75, &c. &c. to every 1,000, originally insured, which is an average of more than 50 per cent. on the premiums paid, and without increasing the annual payment of the company.

The operation of the BONUS will be seen by the following examples from the Life Insurance Register of the Company, thus:

Policy.	Insured.	Bonus or Addition	Am't. of pol. and bonus payable at the party's decease.
No. 58	$1,000	$100.00	$1,100.00
" 88	2,500	250.00	2,750.00
" 205	4,000	400.00	4,400.00
" 276	2,000	175.00	2,175.00
" 333	5,000	437.50	5,437.50
