

The Razor Strop Man.

Many of our city readers will remember Smith, the razor-strop man who attracted crowds at the corner of Spruce and Nassau-streets, and at other places, to witness his odd way of crying and disposing of his wares. He is a native of England, and at one time, we believe was addicted to the immoderate use of spiritous liquors; but having taken the Temperance pledge, he became a sober man, and occasionally a Temperance lecturer. We learn from the Lutheran Observer, that after travelling from Nova Scotia to Texas, he is now on his return, and for the last month or two has been driving his business, in Baltimore. The Observer says:

"Every afternoon he opens his budget in North Street, in front of the Post office, where he is sure to find an audience and purchasers. The principal articles of sale are razors, stropps, shaving soap, &c. Last evening we stopped a minute to see what was going on. We found him stropping a razor, and in a few moments he tested the edge by cutting a hair with it. 'Now gentleman, said he, you see what a smooth, keen edge this razor has; you must admit that it is a capital thing, or so little stropping would not give it such an edge; or if you doubt this, then you must admit that the strop is first rate. You can buy either, or both, or half a dozen of each at the low price of, &c.

"But Smith sometimes packs his razors, &c, up and delivers a temperance speech, and here is one of them: 'Some folks say that it is right to drink alcohol, because it is a good creature of God. Well, grant that it is so; so is castor oil, and so is vinegar a good creature of God; but suppose a dog gets mad, and bites a man or woman, would you let him alone because, as you say, he was a good creature? Would you be satisfied with cutting off his ear, or his tail; or would you knock him on the head, and pitch him headlong into the street? Now, alcohol is more than a mad dog, for a bite from a mad dog only destroys life, while a bite from alchy destroys reason, reputation, life, and every thing else, besides dragging down the family of the bitten man to poverty and want.

"But alchy doesn't bite a mouthful, at first. When he first snapped at me he only tickled me a little, I liked it first rate, and was anxious to have another, and still another bite. The old rascal of a tyrant kept nibbling away at my heels as though he didn't mean to harm me, while I like a poor fool, kept coaxing him on, until at last he gave me a snap in earnest and took the elbows right out of my coat! Next he took the crown off my hat, the shoes off my feet, the money out of my pocket, and the sense out of my head, until at last I went raving mad through the streets, perfectly a victim to alchifobia. But I signed the pledge and got cured; and if there is any man who has been bitten as I was, let him take this tetotal medicine, and I'll warrant him a speedy cure.

"But allowing alcohol is a good creature of God, are there not other good creatures, too, such as beef, pork, puddings, pies, clothes, dollars and fifty others of 'the same sort'? Now, shall a man cling to the one good creature, and have the ninety and nine untouched? Shall a man drink whiskey because it is a good creature, and go without a good handsome wife, and good well dressed children?—No-sir-ree! As for me, give me good beef and pudding, good pork and sausage, good friends, good clothes, a good wife and good children, (or bad rather than miss, and I'll try to make 'em good,) and old king alchy may go to Texas, for all I care.

"Some say that wine is a 'good creature' because our Saviour once turned water into wine. Very good! but then he didn't turn rum, gin, whiskey, logwood, coculus indigus and cock-roaches into wine, like some people do. He turned water into wine. Now, if any wine bibling apologist will take a gallon or a barrel of pure water, and by praying over it, or in any other way, without mixing any other stuff with it, convert it into first rate wine, I'm the boy as will go in for a swig of it!—Such wine must be good, and I go in for that kind and nothing else. But as for your nasty, filthy, drunken stuff which is sold in your grog shops, it's a base counterfeit, and a blasphemous libel on our Saviour to liken it to the pure beverage he made.

"Now you, such as prefer one good creature of God to all the rest, go and drink rum or whiskey until you get picked as bare as a sheep's back, after it has crawled through a briar patch; but you as prefer the ninety and nine good creatures, go right straight and sign the pledge.—Thousands have been saved by putting their names to that precious document, and still there is room for a 'few more of the same sort.'

The war of the Benton and anti-Benton factions continue to grow hotter.—If it is to go on as it has commenced until the election next August, we do not know what is to become of it. Each party is sanguine of being able to beat the other and they are putting in their prettiest licks. The Whigs seem to enjoy it with intense satisfaction. They are perfectly indifferent about the end so that very little is left of either of them. Wherever we can hear from, they stand out side of the ring anxious only to give the combatants a fair fight. This is their true position.—St. Louis Repub. 28th.

FEVER & AGUE

Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Intermittent & Remittent Fevers & all the various forms of Bilious Diseases SPEEDILY & THOROUGHLY CURED by Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. This excellent compound, which never fails in the cure of Fever and Ague, is for sale by the proprietor's agents, T. READ & SON, Huntingdon; L. G. KESSLER, Mill Creek.

WHAT IS THE MATTER with me, Doctor?

What is the cause of this sallow complexion, jaundiced eye, depression of spirits, pain in the side and shoulder, weariness of body, bitter taste in the mouth? Such is the inquiry, and such the symptoms of many a sufferer! It is the liver which is diseased, and the Cholagogue is the remedy always successful in curing it. Try it, and judge for yourself. For sale by above named agents.

BETTER DIE THAN LIVE, if I am to be tortured from day to day with this horrible Ague, exclaims the poor sufferer whose life has become a burden from the racking paroxysms of an intermittent, and whose confidence in human aid is destroyed by the failure of remedies to produce the promised relief. Such has been the situation of thousands who are now rejoicing in all the blessings of health from the use of Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. In no instance does it fail to effect a speedy and permanent cure. For sale by above named agents.

HOW FEW who think aright among the thinking few.

How many never think, but only think they do. THE SENTIMENT IMPLIED in the above exclamation is on no subject more fully exemplified than on that of health. But few give it a single thought, and fewer still reflect upon it with the observation and good sense which matters of minor consequence receive. As observation teaches the fact that Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is a never failing remedy in the cure of Fever and Ague, good sense would surely indicate its prompt and immediate use. For sale by the above named agents. June 28, 849.

The Capital being paid up and invested, together with accumulated premium fund, affords a perfect security to the insured. The premium may be paid in yearly, half yearly, or quarterly payments.

The Company add a BONUS at stated periods to the insurance for life. This plan of insurance is the most approved of, and is more generally in use, than any other in Great Britain, (where the subject is best understood by the people, and where they have had the longest experience,) as appears from the fact, that out of 117 Life Insurance Companies there, of all kinds, 87 are on this plan.

The first BONUS was appropriated in December 1844, amounting to 10 per cent. on the sum insured under the oldest policies; to 8 3/4 per cent. 7 1/2 per cent., &c. &c. on others, in proportion to the time of standing, making an addition of more than 60 per cent. on the premiums paid, and without increasing the annual payment of the company.

The operation of the BONUS will be seen by the following examples from the Life Insurance Register of the Company, thus:

GREEN'S OXYGENATED BITTERS,

FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, GENEERAL DEBILITY, &c. &c. &c.

This medicine is an excellent tonic, fortifies health and vigor to the digestive organs, and thus strengthens the whole system. Hence it is just the thing for spring, when so many need something strengthening. Let every one read the following cases, and if you have one or more symptoms like those mentioned, don't fail to try this invaluable medicine.

Severe Case of Dyspepsia.

From R. P. STOW, Esq., Asst. Clerk U. S. House Representatives. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15, 1846.

Dr. Geo. B. GREEN:—Dear Sir—I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you and to the public, (if you desire it,) the surprising effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in relieving me from that most discouraging disorder, "Dyspepsia." I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the usual attendant symptoms, viz: Congestion of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulence, acidity of the stomach, and severe nausea; and for months at a time the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely bilious. I have used various remedies, but have been strict in my diet, have been dosed with calomel and emetics day after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the cure of Dyspepsia, I procured some as a last resort, I have used four bottles of the medicine, and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjoyment of health. None but the Dyspeptic sufferer, who has felt all the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to rejoice in the return of health.

Lady Cured of Neuralgia.

From Rev. THOMAS KIDDER, of Vermont. WINDSOR, Vt., Aug. 8, 1846.

DEAR SIR:—It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the "Oxygenated Bitters," with which you furnished my wife, has wrought a cure in her case. About two years since, my wife was violently attacked with neuralgia in the face, through the chest, in the wrists and ankles. So violent was the disease, added to a general derangement of the female system, that her strength was completely prostrated, her flesh wasted, and she rendered miserable indeed. I feel grateful for the restoration of her health, and in duty bound to give publicity to the above facts, that others similarly afflicted may know where to seek for cure. Truly your friend, THOMAS KIDDER.

From Hon. MYRON LAWRENCE, of Mass.

"For some twenty years I had suffered severely from humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the night, and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing and great difficulty of breathing. In all my attendance upon our courts I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took the "Oxygenated Bitters," according to directions. The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable, and I hope its virtues may be widely diffused and its beneficent agency extensively employed." GREEN & FLETCHER, General Agents, No. 29, South Sixth St., Philadelphia. Sold wholesale and retail by THOMAS READ & SON, Huntingdon, Pa. Price—$1.00 per bottle; six bottles for $5.00. May 8, 1849.
