

FROM CALIFORNIA.

The steamship Crescent City, Capt. Stoddard, arrived at New York on Friday morning of last week, from Chagres which port she left on the 28th ult., bringing one month's later intelligence from California, 100 passengers, and one million dollars in gold dust, including that belonging to the passengers.

Among the passengers by the Crescent City, are several from the Sandwich Islands, including the Hon. G. P. Judd, his Hawaiian Majesty's Plenipotentiary, accompanied by Master Lihohiho, the heir presumptive, and his brother Kamehameha. They will proceed immediately to Washington, and thence in a few days to Europe. It is said that the object of Dr. Judd's visit to the United States has reference to the late outrages of the French at the Sandwich Islands.

The passengers crossing the Isthmus continued very numerous. Thirteen hundred it is said left Chagres in two days.

The latest paper contains announcements of the following nominations put forth in the Southern style by cards:

For GOVERNOR.—Col. William M. Stewart; Winfield Scott Sherwood; Peter H. Burnett.

For CONGRESS.—Dodman M. Price, George W. Wright, Peter Halsted.

A meeting of the friends of T. Butler King was held at San Francisco on the 28th of October, with a view to his nomination for the Senate of the United States.

The convention for forming a state constitution had completed its labors and finally adjourned. The constitution as adopted by them is to be submitted to a vote of the people on the 13th of November. Its publication is commenced in the Pacific News of Nov. 1, two articles and part of another being given.

The first article contains the bill of rights the 18th section of which is as follows:

"Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, unless for the punishment of crimes, shall ever be tolerated in this State."

The second article treats of the right of suffrage, which is accorded to every white male citizen of the United States and Mexico, who shall have elected to become a citizen of the United States under the treaty of Queretaro, who shall have been a resident of the State six months and of the district thirty days.

From the Alta California, Oct. 25. SHERLOCK'S DIGGINGS, Mariposa, Sept. 27.

This Mr. Editor is unquestionably the place for 'big chunks,' but let me instruct you concerning these diggings. They were discovered two or three months since by a man named Sherlock who with a company of seventy Mexicans, worked these deposits on shares. The work varies with us, as well as elsewhere. In eight days, three men took out 57 pounds of pure gold. And last week two men took out in two days 29 pounds from a spot near my camp. Sherlock has gone into the mountains, no one knows where, and we have elected a new Alcald, who the day of his installation into office, issued an order for all Mexicans to decamp which they did forthwith. We all intend to winter here, as we can easily make comfortable quarters. This place is distant 11 miles from Fremont's discovery, and is much the richest of the two deposits. Many large pieces have been recently found here averaging from one to eight pounds, pure gold. The finest pieces usually are worth about fifty cents, so you perceive this is the region of 'big lumps.'

THE PLACER.—The Placer Times of Oct. 1 says:—"We have seen several from the mines during the past week—some of them with a bag full of 'dust,' while others were not troubled with anything heavy. The following letter from a friend will give our readers a common sense view of mining and miners in all sections of the Placer, although written on the Middle Fork and dated,

SPANISH BAR, Oct. 10, 1849.

There has been and always will be a great disparity in the products of labor in the mines of this country and this disparity is often a cause of much trouble and uneasiness on the part of miners and more particularly new beginners. For instance a man, comes here and locates himself; he commences operations; after remaining here some two or three weeks he becomes initiated and makes his $12 or an ounce a day. But just at this juncture of affairs a report comes from the North or South Forks, or somewhere else, that people are taking out from 3 to 6 ounces a day on some other stream.

This causes at once a dissatisfaction on the part of the newcomer (old miners are not so easily led away,) he makes a comparison and says to himself, "I am not going to work for an ounce a day when other people are making three or four ounces"—and he immediately packs up and is off for the better diggings. He arrives at his place of destination, and finds, to his astonishment, that he is worse off than when he started—besides losing a week's time. Judging from what I can learn I think there is little difference as to the richness of the three Forks, the North, Middle and South.—They all have proved prolific.

I think the North (being the nearest to the city) has been the most worked. Since I have been on the Spanish Bar (now about three months) there has been an immense amount of money taken out. Damming parties have done the best by going into the bed of the stream, yet many dams have proved failures; some companies have taken out over a hundred dollars a day for several weeks, but these things are not common. Miners here are thinking about going into winter quarters; the nights are quite chilly and every one is anxious to get breakfast for the sake of being in the vicinity of the fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1, 1849

Since my last, we have had a touch of the "rainy season." On the 9th ult., a fog which had hung over the city for several days, determined itself into quite a shower of rain.

On the 10th, a violent S. E. wind set in and torrents of rain fell, which damaged a large amount of goods, that were stored in the open air, and not taken care of by the owners, who supposed the shower of the day previous a natural result of the foggy weather. At a small estimate, $100,000 will not cover the damage. Some sickness was occasioned by the shower to persons lodging in tents, at Happy Valley.

Rents in securely sheltered buildings advanced 100 per cent. Carpenters' wages rose immediately from $12 to $17 per day and about one hundred buildings have been put up since.

The propeller McKim arrived here on the 3d ult. She has been purchased by Simmons, Hutchinson & Co. and now runs to Sacramento city twice a week. They paid $40,000 for her I understand.

The steamer Mint—a small iron steamboat which was landed and put into running order in three weeks—has already made several successful trips to Sacramento city. A stern wheel steamboat was launched the other day. We shall soon have plenty of steam conveyances to the mines.

Confession of a Robber.

The notorious Thos. C. Cunningham was tried in Boston, a few days since, for robbing a young man in that city, on the 24th of September last and after his conviction made the following remarks and confession:

It has long been my earnest and sincere object to pursue an honest livelihood, but I have been followed up and unjustly used by the authorities. I tried to get an honest living in New York. I cut loose from my old associates, and commenced a little business, but the police, under the direction of the Chief, kept a constant watch upon my house. Next, that house was taken down and I had to remove to another, but the police followed and watched me still. I asked them why they pursued me so, and they said they were acting under the orders of the Chief, and we made an appointment to meet him together. But I went alone before the time set, and endeavoring to satisfy the Chief that I was endeavoring to get an honest livelihood. He wouldn't believe me, and I then saw the Mayor, and when he heard my story, he said he believed I meant to change my course of life. Then I met the police who were watching me, and went with me to the Chief. After some more talk he had me locked up on some old charges that I had given bail for, but couldn't get a trial. I was kept in prison and the business I had commenced was broken up, and all the means I had were exhausted in seeing counsel for these old matters. Then I came to Boston, intending still to pursue an honest livelihood, but couldn't get such business as suited me, and here I am. I don't blame any body here. The officer was mistaken in saying that when he took the gold pieces from me, I told him I had no more money about me. But that makes no great difference, since, the money was found upon me. I am fully satisfied that there is no peace for the wicked, and the way of the transgressor is hard. It has been fully exemplified in my person, and in my situation here at this moment. I am fully resolved to endeavor to pursue an honest course of life, if ever I should be restored to liberty. I have a family, a wife and child—and have good friends and relations in New York. [Here the prisoner halted in his remarks, and wept. Having subdued his emotion, he proceeded.] I know the difficulties I shall have to meet. They have stood in my way before.—After a man has been taken up and exposed his character is gone. If he gets work as a mechanic, or at any honest business, his previous misfortune, being known to many persons, soon reaches his employer, and he loses his situation. This is the difficulty in the way of a man like me in returning to honest employment. But I am determined to make an effort, if I should again have an opportunity, and I can say nothing more now than to throw myself upon the clemency of the court. The prisoner was now sentenced to four years in the State prison. The prisoner's wife was present, and wept bitterly when the sentence was announced. It is supposed that she did not know his real character when she married him.

MARRIED.

On the 12th inst., by the Rev. John Miller, Rev. D. M. F. CRAWFORD, of Cumberland city, to Miss H. M. MILLER, of this borough.

Accompanying the above, we acknowledge the receipt of a most delicious cake, for which the happy couple will please accept our thanks. May every blessing attend them throughout life.
