

To Boys and Girls.

Never tell a lie, or half or quarter of a lie. Many boys who know well enough what a sneaking dirty thing it is to lie, will yet twist the truth, or deceive a little bit. This is about as bad, and a good deal more cowardly, than a plump falsehood. If a boy does something wrong, either through ignorance, carelessness or accident, and then tells one half truth and one half lie about it, he might almost as well have told the full untruth that he did not do it at all. Now see how the spirited, manly, true-hearted, clear-tongued boy will do, after an error: he resolutely determines to acknowledge it, without being afraid of any body's anger—to tell it just as it was. I never in my life knew any one to be injured by telling the truth in this way; but I have seen many a boy, and man too, who was looked upon with contempt, and thought poorly of, because he would tell sneaking lies, or half lies. The worst sort of untruths—those which are deliberately made up—stories told about people, or little stories magnified into big ones—prove the teller of them to be a worthless, impure and mean person.

The liar is indeed despicable both to God and man. On the other hand, nothing is more beautiful than a strictly truth telling young person—who never varies from the truth—who is open, candid and above deceit. To become so, a boy should strive hard—should determine to become so—and he will become so, and remain so. Besides it is so easy to speak the truth—and so very hard to arrange a plausible falsehood—which even then, will in all likelihood be found out nineteen times out of twenty.

To take the least thing, the least trifle (if it be worth only a cent, or even less,) which does not belong to you, is a crime not only to be punished by law, but puts a black drop in the heart, and sooner or later brings the doer to shame. This is an act so wicked and disgraceful, however, that I do not think it likely to be committed by those who will read these lines; and I will say nothing further than that if a boy in whom I felt an interest ever descended to the wretched meanness of pilfering, or taking the smallest article which was not his, it would go to my soul in many a long deep stab—one of the sharpest and bitterest in the world.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Signs of a Poor Farmer.

He grasses his mowing land late in the spring. Some of his cow's are much past their prime. He neglects to keep the manure and ground from the silks of his building. He sows and plants his land till it is exhausted before he thinks of manuring. He keeps too much stock and many of them are unruddy. He has a place for nothing, and nothing in its place. If he wants a chisel or a hammer he cannot find it. He seldom does anything in stormy weather or in an evening. You will often hear of his being in the bar-room talking of hard times.—Although he has been on a piece of land twenty years, ask him for grafted apples and he will tell you he could not raise them, for he never had any luck. His indolence and carelessness subject him to many accidents. He loses cider for want of a hoop. His plough breaks in his hurry to get in his seed in reason, because it was not housed; and in harvest, when he is at work on a distant part of the farm, the hogs break into the garden for want of a small repair in his fence. He always feels in a hurry, yet in his busiest day he will stand and talk till he has wearied your patience. He is seldom neat in his person, and generally late to public worship. His children are late at school, and their books torn and dirty. He has no enterprise and is sure to have no money; or if he must have it, makes great sacrifices to get it; he is slack in his payments, deals altogether on credit, and purchases every thing at a dear rate. You will see the smoke out of his chimney long after daylight in winter. His horse stable is not daily cleaned, nor his horse carried.—Boards, shingles, and clapboards are to be seen off his buildings month after month, without being replaced, and his windows are full of rags. He feeds his hogs and horses with whole grain. If the lambs die or the wool comes off the sheep, he does not attribute it to want of care and food. He is a great borrower, and seldom returns the thing borrowed. He is a poor husband, a poor father, a poor neighbor, a poor citizen, and a poor christian.

DR. BELKNAP AND OPPOSERS.—A rough countryman asked Dr. Belknap, one day if he really believed there was such a man as Job. The Dr. took the Bible and made him read. "There was a man in the land of Uz whose name was Job." "You see the Bible says so." "So it does," drawled out the man; "and I don't know anything to the contrary." "Neither do I," said Dr. Belknap, and thus ended the inquiry. In a mixed company, hearing a person speak in a very fine manner against the Christian religion, he asked, "Have you found one that is better?" And the reply being in the negative, he added, "When you do, let me know, and I will join you in adopting it."—Life of Dr. Belknap.

DEPTHS OF THE OCEAN.—Capt. James Ross found 15,000 feet west of Cape Good Hope, which is the height of Mt. Blanc, and he sounded with the plummet 25,400 feet or 27,600 English feet, without touching bottom, west of St. Helena. Dr. Young assigns to the Atlantic the depth of a league; that is 13,400 feet; and to the Pacific Ocean a league and a third, or about 18,000 feet.

Certain inland seas, like the Mediterranean and Caribbean, have greater depths than would be expected from their proximity to the land; and seem to be sunken basins, the form of which is connected with the volcanic phenomenon of which they are the seat. The narrowest part of the Strait of Gibraltar is not more than 960 feet below the surface; but a little further towards the east the depth falls suddenly to 3000 feet; and at the south of the Coast of Spain and of the Sierra Nevada, a depth of 5400 has been ascertained. The eastern part of Mediterranean is of less depth.

STRANGE DECISION.—The Cincinnati Commercial of the 19th ult., gives the following strange decision of the Court of Boone county, Kentucky. Two persons named Robinson and House, each had a horse. They looked exactly alike—perfect matches. Robinson's was lost stolen, or strayed, and he, for the first time seeing House's animal, brought suit for recovery. Numerous witnesses were brought on the stand some of whom testified that the animal was Robinson's, and others that it was House's. The parties agreed to submit the case to the judge, who decided that the animal should be sold, and the money be equally divided, and if another animal undistinguishable from the one in question, should be found, and be claimed by either or both of the parties such animal shall be sold, and the proceeds divided, as in this case.

A SCRIPULOUS WITNESS.—An eminent lawyer was employed in an action against the proprietors of the Rockingham Coach. On the part of the defendant the coachman was called. His examination in chief being ended, he was subject to the leader's cross examination. Having held up the fore finger of his right hand to the witness, and warned him to give a precise answer to every question, and not to talk about what he might think the question meant, he proceeded thus: "You drive the Rockingham coach?" "No, sir, I do not." "Why man, did you not tell my learned friend so this moment?" "No sir, I did not." "Now, sir, I put it to you—I put it to you on your oath—do you not drive the Rockingham Coach?" "No, sir, I drive the horses!"

NOT ENGAGED BUT MARRIED.—Some ridiculous mistakes occur among foreigners at times, owing to the different meanings applied to the same word in our language. During the absence of a physician of our acquaintance the other day, a gentleman called to see him, and rang the bell at the door. The summons was answered by a Dutch servant girl, of whom he inquired if the Doctor was in. "No." "Was his lady in?" "Yes." "Was she engaged?" The girl looked at him a moment while a curious expression settled on her features, as she replied, "Why, no, she is already married!" The gentlemen sloped.

YANKEE MERCHANT.—A native born down Easter, who is now out West selling dry-goods, advertises his stock of prints as follows: "The largest and most extensive stock of French, English, and American goods ever west of Milwaukee. To save time in describing this vast stock of prints, we'll just cut the story short by giving you the dimensions as measured by our Civil Engineer.—Commencing at the south east corner of said pile of prints, running due north 24 feet; thence at right angles, 4 feet; thence south 24 feet; and thence north 4 feet to the place of beginning—being three cords, more or less—it being understood that said pile of prints is 4 feet high." That man will go ahead.

The Sabbath. The sabbath is God's special present to the working man, and one of its chief objects is to prolong his life, and preserve efficient his working tone. In the vital system it acts like a compensation pound; it replenishes the spirit, the elasticity and vigor, which the last six days have drained away, and supplies the force which is to fill the six days succeeding; and in the economy of existence it answers the same purposes, in economy of income is answered by a saving bank. The frugal man who puts aside a pound to-day and another pound next month and who in a quite way, is always putting up his stated pound from time to time, when he grows old and frail, gets not only the same pounds back again, but a good many pounds besides. And the conscientious man who husbands one day of existence every week—instead of allowing the Sabbath to be trampled and torn in the hurry and scramble of life treasures it devotedly up—the Lord of the Sabbath keep it for him and in length of days and a hale old age, give it back with usury. The savings bank of human existence is the weekly Sabbath.

NEW STAGE LINE.

The subscriber respectfully informs the travelling public, that to meet their wants, he has established a new line of MAIL STAGES, between Jacksonstown, Huntingdon county, and Chambersburg, Pa. The Coach leaves Jacksonstown at 4 o'clock, A. M., on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week, and Chambersburg at the same hour on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. It reaches its destination at 5 o'clock, P. M., on the same days.

THE ROUTE through which the line passes, over a good road, is celebrated for the beauty and picturesque character of the country. Leaving Chambersburg, the coaches stop for a short time at Strasburg, Fannettsburg, Burnt Cabins, Shade Gap (the seat of Milwood Academy, under the direction of Messrs. McGinnis) Orbisoma, Shirlsberg, Mt. Union—where it intersects the Pennsylvania canal—to Jacksonstown. At the last named place it connects with the Packet and Stage Lines between Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

At Chambersburg, it connects with Daily Lines to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Hagerstown, Mercersburg, and intermediate places.

The wants of the people at the extremes of the road and throughout its whole length have induced the subscriber to embark in this enterprise, and as the Fare has been fixed extremely low, and every arrangement made to insure the safety and convenience of passengers, he trusts to be liberally patronized.

ABNER ISENHOUR. Oct. 18, 1849.

New Firm!!

NEFF & MILLER HAVE this morning received, at the old stand of H. K. NEFF & Bro., an entire new stock of Clocks and Watches, Jewelry, Cutlery, Stationary, Perfumery Soaps, &c. which is positively the largest, best and most fashionable, and cheapest assortment ever offered for sale in the place.

Having in their employ one of the best workmen in the State, they can most confidently engage to repair Clocks and Watches cheap and as well as it can be done in any of the Eastern cities.

The public are politely requested to call and test the truth of our declarations. The proof is in trying. N. B. The highest prices given for old gold and silver. Remember No. 1001 Market Square, Huntingdon, Pa. October 30, 1849.

CITY HOTEL.

41 & 43 NORTH THIRD STREET, PHILADELPHIA. A. H. HIRST Would respectfully inform his friends and the travelling public generally, that he has leased the above large and well known Hotel. The location is one of the very best for business men in Philadelphia, and he flatters himself that by giving it his entire attention, that he will be able to render perfect satisfaction to all who may favor him with their custom.

He returns thanks for the very liberal support already extended to him by his friends of Huntingdon and the neighboring counties, and begs leave to assure them that he will spare no pains or expense to render the CITY HOTEL worthy of their continued support. Philadelphia, Oct. 30, 1849—1y.

GOVERLY'S HOTEL.

HARRISBURG, PA. THE Proprietor of this large and well known Hotel, would respectfully inform the public that it has recently been enlarged, repainted inside and outside, newly papered, and thoroughly renovated throughout. This has been done at a very large expense, and with the view of keeping pace with the improving taste and spirit of the age. He now flatters himself that he can accommodate his friends in a style beyond the ability of any other landlord at the Seat of Government. He has in his employ attentive and obliging servants, Cooks of long experience, and he is determined to spare no expense to furnish his table with the very best that can be procured in the market. It is with great confidence in his ability to render entire satisfaction, that he invites members of the Legislature and others to make his house their stopping place while in Harrisburg.

He would beg leave to return his sincere thanks to his friends on the Juniata, for the very liberal support heretofore extended to his house, and respectfully solicit a continuance of their patronage. W. COVERLY. Harrisburg, Oct. 30, 1849—3m.

ALEXANDRIA FOUNDRY.

THE subscriber respectfully announces to the public that he is prepared to do work of all kinds connected with the Foundry business, in the best manner, and on the most reasonable terms. He has constantly on hand wagon boxes, ploughs and plough castings, hollow ware, and stoves of various kinds and sizes. The cooking stoves which he manufactures are inferior to none in the country, and are warranted to perform the various operations of cooking and baking in a manner equal to any, and superior to most.—He has these stoves calculated for either wood or coal. He has lately procured patterns for wood and parlor stoves, which for beauty and excellence cannot be excelled. Also, stoves for offices, shops, &c., such as egg stoves, cannon stoves, and others. He invites persons desirous of purchasing to give him a call, as he is determined to sell as good an article and at as low prices as can be obtained at any other place. WILLIAM GRAFFIUS. May 8, 1846—1y.

GREEN'S OXYGENATED BITTERS,

FOR THE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA, GENEAL BILITY, &c., &c., &c.

This medicine is an excellent tonic. It imparts health and vigor to the digestive organs and thus strengthens the whole system. Hence it is just the thing for Spring, when so many need something strengthening. Let every one read the following cases, and if you have one or more symptoms like those mentioned, don't fail to try this invaluable medicine.

Severe Case of Dyspepsia.

From R. P. STOW, Esq., Asst. Clerk U. S. House Representatives. WASHINGTON, D. C. June 15, 1846. Dr. Geo. B. GREEN:—Dear Sir—I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you and to the public, (if you desire it,) the surprising effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in relieving me from that most discouraging disorder, Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the usual attendant symptoms, viz: constipation of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulence, acidity of the stomach, and severe nausea; and for months at a time not the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely bilious. I have used various remedies, have been strict in my diet, have been dosed with calomel and emetics day after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the cure of Dyspepsia, I procured some as a last resort, and have used four bottles of the medicine, and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjoyment of health. None but the Dyspeptic sufferer, who has felt all the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to rejoice in the return of health.

Lady Cured of Neuralgia.

From Rev. THOMAS KIDDER, of Vermont. WINDSOR, Vt., Aug. 8, 1846. DEAR SIR:—It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the "Oxygenated Bitters," with which you furnished my wife, has wrought a cure in her case. About two years since, my wife was violently attacked with neuralgia in the face, through the chest, in the wrists and ankles. So violent was the disease, added to a general derangement of the female system, that her strength was completely prostrated, her flesh wasted, and she rendered miserably indeed. I feel grateful for the restoration of her health, and in duty bound to give publicity to the above facts, that others similarly afflicted may know where to seek for cure. Truly your friend, THOMAS KIDDER.

From Hon. MYRON LAWRENCE,

of Mass. "For some twenty years I had suffered severely from humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the night, and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing and great difficulty of breathing. In all my attendance upon our courts I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took the "Oxygenated Bitters," according to directions. The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable, and I hope its virtues may be widely diffused and its beneficent agency extensively employed." GREEN & FLETCHER, General Agents, No. 26, South Sixth St., Philadelphia. Sold wholesale and retail by THOMAS READ & Son, Huntingdon, Pa. Price—$1.00 per bottle; six bottles for $5.00. May 8, 1849.
