nearly a century ago. The following is that part which describes the dress of a couple as they were arranged for marriage:

"To begin with the lady; her long locks were strained upward over an immense cushion, that sat like an incubus on her head, and then plastered over with pomatum, and sprinkled over with a shower of white powder. The height of this tower was somewhat over a foot.—One single white rosebud lay on the summit, like an eagle on a hay stack. Over her neck and bosom was folded a lace handkerchief, fastened in front by a bosom in, rather larger than a dollar, consisting of your grandfather's miniature, set in virgin gold. Her airy form was braced up in a stain dress the sleeves tight as the natural skin to the arm, with a waist formed by a bodice worn outside from whence the skirt flowed off and was distended at the ancies by an ample hoop. Shoes of white kidd, with peaked toes, and heels two or three inches in elevation, enclosed ber feet, glittered with spangles as her little pedal members peered curiously out.

"Now for the swain. Your grandfather slept, in an arm chair the night before his wedding, lest the arrangment of his perieranium, which had been under the hands of a barber the whole afternoon, should be disturbed. His hair was sleeked back and plentitully beflowered, while his cue projected like the handle of a skillet. His coat was of a sky blue silk, lined with yellow; his long vest of white satin, embroidered with gold lace; his breeches of the same material, and tied at the knee with pink ribbons. White silk stockings and pumps with clocks and ties of the same hue, completed the habiliments of his neither limbs. Lace rufiles clustered around his wrists, and a portentious frill worked in correspondence, and bearing the miniature of his beloved, finished his truly genteel appearance.

Preaching.—An amusing specimen of 'individuality' in language was lately his truly genteel appearance.

PREACHING.—An amusing specimen of 'individuality' in language was lately mentioned to us by an entertaining friend. A man in an eastern city, somewhat noted for wrestling, sparring, and other physical feats, having been persuaded to enter a church on the Sabbath, and 'sit out' a long doctrinal discourse, was asked, on retiring after the service, what he thought of the sermon. "Think' said he, "why, if I couldn't preach a better sarmant than that with one hand tied behind me, you can take my hat!"—

GREEN'S OXYGENATED

DYSPEPSIA, GENEEAL DEBILITY,

This medicine is an excellent tonic. It imparts health and vigor to the digestive organs and thus strengthens the whole system. Hence it is just the thing for Spring, when so many need something strengthening. Let every one read the following cases, and if you have one or more symptoms like those mentioned, don't fail to try this invaluable medicine.

From R. P. STOW, Esq., Asst. Clerk U. S. House Representatives.

Washington, D. C., June 15, 1846.

Bu. Cro. B. Green: "Dear Sir—I feel it not only a pleasure, but a duty, to make known to you and to the public, (if you desire it), the surprising effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in relieving me from that most discouraging disor der, Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the usual attendant symptoms, viz: contipation of the bowels, headache, pain in the chest, flatulene acidity of the stomach, and severe nauses; and for months at a time not the least particle of moisture would appear on the surface of the chest or limbs, and most of the time I was extremely bilious. I have used various remedies, have been strict in my diet, have been dosed with calome! and emetics day after day by physicians, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the wonderful effects of the "Oxygenated Bitters," in the cure of Dyspepsia, I procured some as a last resort, have used four bottles of the medicie, and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjowment of health. None but the Dyspeptic sufferer, who has felt all the horrors of the disease, can at all appreciate the value of the medicine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to rejuce in the return of health.

cine. I most sincerely hope that all will make trial of the medicine, and with me be able to rejoice in the return of health.

Lady Cuved of Neuralgia.

From Rev. THOMAS KIDDER, of Vermont.

Windown great pleasure to inform you that the "Oxygenated Bitters," with which you furnished my wife, has wrought a cure in her case. About two years since, my wife was violently attacked with neuralgia in the face, through the chest, in the wrists and ankles. So violent was the disease, added to a general derangement of the female system, that her strength was completely prostrated, her flesh wasted, and she rendered miserable indeed. I feel grateful for the restoration of her health, and in duty bound to give publicity to the above facts, that others similarly afflicted may know where to seek for cure. Truly your friend.

THOMAS KIDDER.

From Hon. MYRON LAWRENCE, of Mass.

"For some twenty years I had suffered severely from humoral Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the night, and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing and great diffice liy of breathing. In all my attendance upon our courts I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years buttwice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep soundly. I took the "Oxygenated Bitters," according to directions. The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its troublesome consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable, and I hope its virtues may be widely diffused and its beneficent agency extensively employed."
