

CHOICE POETRY.

My Little Daughter's Shoes.

Two little, rough-worn, stubbed shoes,
A plump well-trodden pair;
With striped stockings tucked within,
Lay just beside my chair.

Of very homely fabric they,
A hole is in each toe,
They might have cost, when they were new,
Some fifty cents or so.

And yet this little worn out pair
Is richer far to me
Than all the jewelled sandals are
Of Eastern luxury.

This mottled leather, cracked with use,
Is satin in my sight;
These little tarnished buttons shine
With all a diamond's light.

Search through the wardrobe of the world!
You shall not find me there,
So rarely made, so richly wrought,
So glorious a pair!

And why? Because they tell of her,
Now sound asleep above,
Whose form is moving beauty, and
Whose heart is beating love.

They tell me of her merry laugh;
Her rich wide-hearted glee;
Her gentleness, her innocence,
And infant purity.

They tell me that her wavering steps
Will long demand my aid;
For the old road of human life
Is very roughly laid.

High hills and swift descents abound;
And, on so rude a way,
Feet that can wear these coverings
Would surely go astray.

Sweet little girl! be mine the task,
Thy feeble steps to tend;
To be thy guide, thy counsellor,
Thy playmate and thy friend!

And when my steps shall faltering grow,
And thine be firm and strong,
Thy strength shall lead my tottering age
In cheerful peace along!

HUMOROUS.

A Good Story.

AN ESCAPE.—We have seldom been more amused than we were by a story related by one of our police officers.—A man by the name of Wm. H. Sparks has for a long time been under arrest for a high crime. The case, after lingering along from term to term, was finally disposed of at the late session, by an order from the court to enter a nolle prosequi. Officer House, who is a shrewd fellow, told the Judge that it would be better not to tell Sparks that he was discharged, but get rid of him entirely. The business being entrusted to him, House whispered to officer Kenyon, who at once took the hint. Sparks came into court dressed off in a fine suit of clothes, and looked very much like a gentleman.—Kenyon took him by the arm, and said: "You can't be tried yet, so we will go back to jail."

Going down stairs, Sparks said: "What do you think they will do with me?"

"Why," said K, "they will give you ten years."

"That is what I expect," replied he. "Can you run, Bill?" inquired K.

"Run," said he, "just give me a chance and see."

"Well, now Bill, you start and I'll run after you, but will not overtake you and then I'll tell them you escaped."

No sooner said than done; off went Sparks as fleet as a deer. K. jumped on the steps and laughed heartily, exclaiming:

"Good gracious, see him run! see him run!"

And then he would laugh as if his sides would crack. In the meanwhile away went Sparks, and was finally out of sight. Presently the officer scratched his head and slapped his thigh.

"There," said he, "wasn't I a fool to let that fellow go! He's gone off with Adam Goodfellow's new suit of clothes on, by thunder!"

The scamp had borrowed Adam's suit to appear in at the trial.—Syracuse Star.

We read the following anecdote, for the truth of which we will not vouch:

"A country schoolmaster, one day, announced to his pupils that an examination would soon take place. 'If you are examined in geography,' said he, 'you will surely be asked of what shape is the earth; and if you should not remember, just look at me, and I will show you my snuff-box, to remind you that it is round.'"

Unfortunately, the schoolmaster had two snuff boxes; a round one, which he only used on Sunday, and a square one, which he carried during the week.

The fatal day having arrived, the class in geography was duly called out and the question asked "what is the shape of the earth?"

The first boy, appalled at the imposing appearance of the examining committee, felt embarrassed and glanced at the mayster, who at once pointed to his snuff-box.

"Sir," boldly answered the boy, 'tis round on Sunday, and square all other days in the week."

"John, how many seas are there in America?"

"One—Tennessee."

"Good—how many are there in Italy?"

"The same number precisely, sir, the Papal see!"

"You can go out to play, Johnny."

Would you touch a needle without being stung by it? Take hold of it stoutly. Do the same to other annoyances, and few things will ever annoy you.

PETER C. SWOOP, P. M.
Huntingdon, April 9, 1850—3t.

John H. Whittaker,

Respectfully begs leave to inform his friends and customers and the public generally, that he has built a large and commodious shop immediately in the rear of the public house of John Whittaker, Sr., on the bank between the river and canal, where he will constantly keep on hand furniture of all kinds, of the best quality, embracing all descriptions, kinds, styles and varieties of parlor, medium and plain household furniture, which will be offered for sale at the very

LOWEST RATES.

In order to accommodate the public, with all kinds of work in his line of business, he has just supplied himself with a large lot of the best quality of Cherry, Walnut, Maple, Poplar, and all kinds of Veneering of the most popular fashion. He will offer neither botched or half-finished work for sale, and will at all times submit his work to the most rigid inspection.

Merchants, Professional men, Farmers, Mechanics, Hotel Proprietors, Laboring men—all are invited to call and examine his furniture, before purchasing elsewhere. "Seeing is believing."

Coffins will be made on the shortest notice, of either Cherry, Walnut or Poplar, as may be desired, and funerals attended.

He flatters himself that by industry and close attention to his business, he will be able to please all who may give him a call.

Old furniture will at all times be repaired in the neatest and most durable manner, at low rates. All kinds of country produce will be taken in exchange for furniture, repairing, &c.

Snare's LAST FAST CLOTHING LINE.

B. & W. SNARE,

Have just received and are now opening a well selected and mammoth assortment of Spring and Summer Clothing, for men and boys, consisting of every thing usually kept in clothing stores, and a variety of fancy articles unusually kept in them. Our stock is superior to any other ever brought to Huntingdon, and is not inferior to any other ever between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Presuming it unnecessary to enumerate a long list of low prices, as the establishment has been long and favorably known as the house for selling cheap and fashionable clothing.

OFFICE

For the Purchase and Sale of

REAL ESTATE.

THE undersigned, believing that an Agency of this character would be an accommodation and an advantage to both the purchaser and seller of Real Estate, has concluded to open an office in Huntingdon.

All business of this kind entrusted to him, and all communications sent to him, will receive his prompt and diligent attention. He will advertise when requested, either in his own name or in the name of the owner, as may be desirable, in one or both of the newspapers of the county, and in any other newspaper that may be designated, and endeavor to procure purchasers and sellers, and communicate between them.

A full and minute description of the property—its improvements, supply of water, convenience to markets, schools, churches, and the terms of sale, must accompany the request of any person who wishes his real estate advertised or offered for sale; and some description, as definite as possible, of the quality, kind and value, of the premises desired to be bought, must be given by those who wish to purchase.

All communications relating to the business of this Agency will be confidential if desired.

The subscriber is in communication with a similar agency in Lancaster, Pa., and will be able through it to bring property offered for sale to the immediate notice of Lancaster county purchasers.

Postage must be paid on all letters sent.

P. S.—Several desirable properties are now offered for sale. For further particulars inquire of the subscriber.

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Girard Life Insurance Annuity and Trust Company of Philadelphia.

Office No. 159 Chestnut Street.

Capital $300,000.

CHARTER PERPETUAL.

CONTINUE to make Insurances on Lives on the most favorable terms, receive and execute Trusts and receive deposits on interest.

The Capital being paid up and invested, together with accumulated premium fund, affords a perfect security to the insured. The premium may be paid in yearly, half yearly, or quarterly payments.

The Company add a BONUS at stated periods to the insurances for life. This plan of insurance is the most approved of, and is more generally in use, than any other in Great Britain, (where the subject is best understood by the people, and where they have had the longest experience.) as appears from the fact, that out of 117 Life Insurance Companies there, of all kinds, 87 are on this plan.

The first BONUS was appropriated in December 1844, amounting to 10 per cent. on the sum insured under the oldest policies; to 8 3/4 per cent., 7 1/2 per cent., &c. &c. on others, in proportion to the time of standing, making an addition of $100; $87.50; $75, &c. &c. to every 1,000, originally insured, which is an average of more than 50 per cent. on the premiums paid, and without increasing the annual payment of the company.

The operation of the BONUS will be seen by the following examples from the Life Insurance Register of the Company, thus:

Policy.	Insured.	Bonus or Addition	Amt. of pol. and bonus payable at the party's decease.
No. 58	$1,000	$100.00	$1,100.00
" 88	2,500	250.00	2,750.00
" 205	4,000	400.00	4,400.00
" 276	2,000	175.00	2,175.00
" 333	5,000	437.50	5,437.50

Pamphlets containing the table of rates, and explanations of the subject; forms of application and further information can be had at the office, gratis, in person or by letter, addressed to the President or Actuary.

CLOCK STORE.

No. 238 Market St., above Seventh, South side, PHILADELPHIA.

ALTHOUGH we can scarcely estimate the value of Time commercially, yet by calling at the above establishment, JAMES BARBER will furnish his friends, among whom he includes all who duly appreciate its value, with a beautiful and perfect Index for marking its progress, of whose value they can judge.

His extensive stock on hand, constantly changing in conformity to the improvements in taste and style of pattern and workmanship, consists of Eight-day and Thirty-hour brass COUNTERPOUNCE, PARLOR, HALL, CHURCH and ALARM Clocks, French, Gothic and other fancy styles, as well as plain, which from his extensive connection and correspondence with the manufacturers he finds he can put at the lowest cash figures in any quantity from one to a thousand, of which he will warrant the accuracy.

Clocks repaired and warranted—clock trimmings on hand. Call and see me among them.

THE GREAT CURE

CHAS. G. JOHNSON,

of Bristol.

Who was pronounced incurably fixed in the last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, by two skillful Physicians.

Mr. Johnson was rescued from death's door by the use of Schneck's Pulmonic Syrup—having been prostrated all winter. His case was witnessed by several of the most respectable citizens of this state, whose names are appended to his certificate. Read & Read! and be convinced that Schneck's Pulmonic Syrup is the only certain cure for Consumption.

Bristol, Bucks county, Pa. 3

Sept. 21, 1849.

Dr. J. H. SCHNECK, —Dear Sir,—I am indebted to a sense of justice towards you, as well as to duty to the public, to make known one of the most hopeless and extraordinary cures, in my own person, that you have ever had the pleasure to record. Indeed, I regret my inability to portray, in truthful colors, my consuming disease, and the remarkable chance which Schneck's Pulmonic Syrup effected in so short a time.

I was taken some time previous to December 1848, with a heavy cold, producing incessant coughing, accompanied with acute pain in the right side, pains in the back, under the right shoulder, having heavy night sweats, high fevers &c., which made me so nervous and restless as to produce utter prostration. All these afflictions increased with such violence, that on the 4th of January last I sent for my family physician. He attended me faithfully, and prescribed every thing that medical skill could suggest, but with no effect. I found myself gradually growing weaker, and my hopes of recovery lessening as my disease increased. My cough became distressing; my pains severe; and, extremely debilitated, I lost all ambition in life, and gave up to a melancholy depression. My physician examined me, and informed me I had an abscess on the upper part of my liver and lower part of one of my lungs. Notwithstanding all this, I grew worse, but with that tenacity with which we all cling to life, I concluded to have nothing undone, and called in a consulting physician, who fully concurred with my own, and pronounced my case an extremely critical one. He thought I was in imminent danger—saying my disease "was one that is seldom if ever cured." All this time I was enduring sufferings that made life burdensome; experiencing great pain in coughing; expectorating from a pint to a quart of mucous matter every 24 hours, and gradually sinking under the weakening progress of my disease. At this stage of my illness, my friends in Bristol suggested the use of Schneck's Pulmonic Syrup, but knowing the many expedients resorted to for the purpose of draining money from the afflicted, I hesitated. My friends, however, insisting, I was prevailed upon to try its virtues. I commenced taking the Syrup about the first of March, and used several bottles before I had any confidence in it. I then began to experience a change for the better, and continued it till I had consumed ten bottles, when I was so far relieved as to be able to visit Dr. Schneck in Philadelphia. He
