The Bank Bill.

We find in the Lewistown Gazette the following abstract of the Bank Bill which recently passed the Legislature the following abstract of the Bank Bill which recently passed the Legislature and has been signed by the Governor:

The Legislature has passed a General Banking Act, regulating the Banks of the State that shall hereafter be chartered and re-chartered. By this law the liability principle is extended to all issues of Banks—all foreign notes, or the notes of other States under the denomination of ten dollars, are excluded from circulation in this Commonwealth—the Directors are made personally liable for the deposites and other debts, in case of the frauduent insolvency of banks—tashiers are required to give bond to the amount of one-fifth of the capital, when it is $200,000 and under; in one-eighth when it is between $200,000 and $500,000; shd in one-tenth, where it is over $500,000 and not exceeding $1,000,000. The extent of the term for which each bank shall be chartered, is fifteen years. Banks can be chartered for a less period, but none for a greater, in the aggregate. The bill also tontains a provision requiring the country banks east of the mountains, to keep their bills at par in Philadelphia, and those west of the mountains at par in the city of Pittsburgh. It has been signed by the Governor.

We have looked over the above act, burgh. It has been signed by the Governor.

We have looked over the above act, and find some provisions that may be an improvement on the old charters, but in the main nothing that will make noteholders safer than they were before.—

By this law a single section of a dozen lines will suffice to create a new Bank, and considering that but little scruple exists among our bank-hating "democratic" legislators to smuggle "monopolies" into existence, we should not be surprised to see a Wild Cat, Fox Tail, or Crow Scalp Bank chartered in some stronghold of locofocoism by attaching such a section to an important bill under the head of "other purposes."

Mob Violence.

GROSS OUTRAGE UPON WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

We find the following in the St. Louis Republican, of the 9th inst:

We learn from Henry county, Illinois, that a series of outrages have recently been committed upon the Sweedish colony located in that county, and that they are threatened with extermination from the county. The men engaged in these outrages number about seventy, from the town of Cambridge and Rock river, in the same county, and they are headed by a fellow named John Root. This man, it seems, married Charlotte Louisa Johnson, but as they did not live happily together, she left him and fled to her relations for protection against his violence. About the 20th March, Root visited the colony with a mob, with the intention of regaining possession of his wife, but she had left and gone to a place of safety. Root irritated by his desertion, determined to avenge himself upon the innocent members of the colony, collected a mob, paraded the streets armed, and threatened to burn the houses and kill the inhabitants. They searched the colony and then left.

On the 27th they returned, and commenced demolishing some of the houses, tore off some of the boards of the clurch, discharged their guns, and ordered the inhabitants to leave their houses, so that they could burn them down.—They drove all the men of the colony into the church, and the women and children into the hospital. Next day, the mob again assembled and burned the hay stacks of the colony, and set fire to the buildings at little Hill, two miles from Cambridge. The principal men and women of the colony fled from the fury of the mob, and are now in St. Louis. No member of the colony had anything to do with the separation of Root and his wife, and of course they are not answerable in any shape for it.

Root pretends to an intimate knowledge of the bad designs on the part of the colony, and circulates slanders of all kinds against them. But it is known that they are an innocent and unoffending people. They are christians, worshiping God according to the bible, w non-resistance, and have offered no violence to the mob.

A people such as we have described—mainly women and children—are at the mercy, it seems, of an outrageous mob.

According to the latest advices, the mob had fixed the 6th instant for the destruction of the village in which the colonists were located, but it is hoped that this threat was not put into execution. It is certain that all appeals to the authorities of the county for protection are in vain, and they have beeought the interposition of the Governor of the State—a request which ought not to be denied them.

[I]—Over eighteen thousand of the poor of New York are housed and lodged in underground basements, the number of such basements occupied by them being three thousand, seven hundred and forty-two, of which about one half have but one room, and the number of occupants averaging five to a basement.

Nearly one-third of these are classified as dirty in person, and as occupying basements of the same description.

Terrible Steamboat Accident on the Western Waters.—100 Lives Lost.

Western Waters.—100 Lives Lost.

Cincinnati, April 23—P. M.

A dreadful accident, the most awful ever witnessed on the Western waters, happened this morning to the steamer "Belle of the West" one mile below Warsaw, Ky. where she took fire and was almost totally consumed. She had on board, when she left this city, a large party of emigrants bound to California, one hundred of whom are supposed to have been either drowned or burned to death. So sudden was the rush-of the flames that all escape was hopeless.—The officers of the boat were saved by jumping overboard and swimming to the shore. There was an insurance on the boat for $$,000. She was owned in this city, and was on her way to St. Louis.

Second Dispatch.

Second Dispatch.

Madison, Ind. Tuesday April 23.
From the officers of the steamer Wisconsis and an eye-witness of the burning of the "Belle of the West," we gather the following:

At about half-past 12 last evening, the steamer was discovered on fire in the hold, and was immediately run ashore near Warsaw and made fast. Up to this period the flames had not burst forth and the after hatch was opened for the purpose of getting water into the hold, but such was the rapid headway of the flames that all efforts to check them proved fruitless, and in a few minutes the entire boat was a mass of fire. The total number of passengers on board was about 400, among whom were two California Companies and 30 familes, who were removing to the West. From the register it is ascertained that over 60 have perished, and the probability is that many have been lost whose names were not enrolled thereon. Such was the rapid progress of the fire that, before the passengers ould get out of their state-rooms after the first alarm, all communication between the after cabin and the forward part of the boat was cut off, and all were compelled either to jump into the water or to perish in the flames. At the time of the deck falling in, a lady and gentleman, with a child, were standing between the chimneys.—There were also on board a large number of horses, which were mostly burned to death; the remained were so badly burned that they were killed to put them out of misery.

The Lewisburg Chronicle announces the marriage on the 14th inst., in that place, of John Johnson and Mrs. Maria Miller, of Chillisquaque township, Northumberland county, and tells the following romantic story respecting the happy pair: The groom, who now works in the boat yard here, was formerly a sea-faring man. A STRIKING PREACHER.—A BITER BIT.—On Thursday evening week, upon the arrival of the cars from Washington, at the Pratt street depot, says the Baltimore Sun, at attempt was made by some scientific abstractionist to fleece a worthy clergyman. The Reverend gentlescientific abstractionist to fleece a worthy clergyman. The Reverend gentleman, upon alighting from the car, felt a hand in his pecket, softly removing his pecket-book, which contained $200, (not a small sum for a preacher) and quickly turning round, he dealt the scoundrel such a blow in the physiognomy, as to knock him down, the pocket book falling upon the ground at the same time. The preacher hastily picked up the wallet, and looking round saw the fellow going it at the rate of 2.40.

CAMBRIDGE, April 8, 1850.

Daniel Marsh, Esq—I this morning received the very kind letter you addressed to me, and which I hasten to answer, to thank you in the name of my mother, my sisters and myself, for the true sentiments you entertain respecting my beloved father. You believe him innocent and you believe what is true. He is the victim of circumstances, a deeply injured man. That he is innocent, we his family know, and nothing on earth will ever take from us this conviction. We have never, from the moment he was snatched from his home, had a shadow of doubt on our minds; and whatever the world may say or do, we shall ever have that feeling to support us. The knowledge of his innocence supported my father during the hours of suffering in the court room; that it is that gives him and us calmness now, amidst the many sources of sorrow that have overwhelmed us.

Fat different from what we anticipated was the result of the trial; for we had whelmed us.

Far different from what we anticipated was the result of the trial; for we had been assured throughout the winter that our father could not but be restored to us, and that at the trial he must receive justice for the many wrongs that had been heaped upon him. But justice fled from the court room, and prejudice took her place.

from the court room, and prejudice took her place.

Yet hope still lingers with us, for we trust that the public voice will be raised against the gross injustice that has been committed, and will not allow our country to bear auch a stigma on her name, such an everlasting stain, as will be that of the sacrifice of one so truly innocent as my father. And if one word from us, sir, would add a feather's weight to the efforts that are being made, oh, may way give you the deep assurance of our hearts, that we feel grateful for the interest you express and feel, and for what you are doing in our behalf. May God, in his infinite mercy look down upon you, and bless the efforts that are being made, and if it is not his will to bring the truth to light, and to what the light and to what the same truth to light. made, and if it is not his will to brin the truth to light, and to allow this aw ful mystery to be explained, may He en lighten the minds of those into whose lighten the minds of those into whose hands the case will pass.

I must again thank you, for the kind feelings you express towards my dear father. Nothing that the world can do now gives us greater consolation than the knowledge that others believe him innocent. Sympathy has flowed abundantly from many hearts towards us, his family; but how much more prized by us is that sympathy, when expressed to him. That our beloved father may be restored to us, is the fervent prayer of our hearts, and we want tremblingly in the hope that those who are now to decide in this case may see the terrible our hearts, and we the hope that those who are now to decide in this case may see the terrible injustice that has been committed, and has inflicted so much suffering on so many. Believe me, sir, gratefully yours, HARRIET W. WEBSTER.

OLD BULLION CRUSTY.—Mr. Grund, correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, has been writing a series of pungent paragraphs against Benton, and his hostility to the Compromise Committee. A few days ago, Mr. Grund met Mr. Benton in the ante-chamber of the Senate, when the following short conversation took place.

Of course Mr. Grund is more severe upon Mr. Benton than ever.

A LAWYER UNLIKE HIS FELLOWS .- Mr Prentiss, of New Orleans, strongly censures the practice of attorneys taking a fee to assist the state in a criminal prosecution. He adds that he has not prosecution. He adds that he has not for years taken such a fee, and that he never will take one. The editors of the Crescent City say they have known him to refuse a fee of $5,000 to prosecute.
