How to Detect the Connterfeits. The Pottsvill Emporium points out now the new counterfeits may be readily detected, as follows:—
"The counteriest ten dollar notes on the Miners Bank of Pottsville, bear date 1848—while the Bank as we are informed by one of the officers, has no notes of any description in circulation of a latter date than 1847. This should be borne in mind.

from 1s to 5s.

New Counterfeits—Counterfeit notes are daily multiplying, careely a day passing that some new and better divised fraul is not exposed. On Friday the police of Philadelphia arrested a man by the name of Daniel Tarr, and found at his house, secreted away in a bottle, eight different descriptions of counterfeits, amounting in all to some three thousand dollars. There were tens of the Northumbertand Bank; tens of the Miners' Bank at Pottsville; fives of the Lebamon Bank; fives of the Bank of Delaware; fives of the Bank of the Bank of Delaware; fives of the Bank of the Delaware City Bank; and twos of the Farmers' Bank of Lancaster.—These last named are 'Relief' issues, and the whole batch are said to be well excented. Some of the counterfeits named have been noticed before, and there is searcely a doubt that they have been whelly distributed for circulation. The public, and especially small dealers, should keep a sharp lookout, as it is almost impossible for the press to furnish descriptions of the many attempted frauds as fast as they appear.
