NOTICES.
School Book.—We have before us new system of English Grammar "based on the construction and analysis of sentences, and designed for the primary classes in Common, Select, and High Schools. It is from the pen of a ripe scholar and experienced teacher, Samuel S. Green, A. M., of Boston, and is published by Thomas Copperthwart & Co., Phila., and sold by the principal book-sellers in the United States. Price 38cts. We have seen no work on this important subject, that, in our opini combines so much that is truly valuable, with so little that is redundant or erroneous. Though we do not agree with the author in every minute particular, we are charmed with the leading features of his book, and consider it as a whole, vastly superior to any introductory Grammar we have ever used or examined. Its chief excellencies and distinguishing characters are, that it brings to the pupil's notice only one thing at a time;—it exercises him from the first in making sentences of his from the first in making sentences of his own, while learning to analyze those presented by his teacher and text-book; and it compels the teacher to take an interesting, and thought-stirring part in the recitations. It is a living book, and calculated to infuse life into those who use it. We will at once adopt it in the school under our care.

is a full and complete Monthly Record of all works published in America, England, Germany, and France; with a Review of the General Literature of the day; Contents of Leading American and English Periodicals, Advertisements of the Trade, &c., &c. Besides, it contains graphic descriptions of Libraries and ether literary associations, Biography of distinguished literary men in Europe and America, and much more that is highly interesting to literary men, and those engaged in the book trade. A copy may be had for examination by calling at our office. by calling at our office.

We would call the attention of our ion' is, what it professes to be, calculated to remove the miseries of which it treats, to remove the miseries of which it treats, its circulation must soon become general, and afford the author, not only a rich reward for his labor, but a high rank among the benefactors of our race. We have not yet seen the book, but expect to receive a copy in a few days.

The Overland Emigration towards California and Oregon is beyond precedent. It is estimated that one hundred thousand people are on their way.
