The Broad Top Rail Road.

We should not do justice to the local interests of our county; nor in truth to a great public enterprise, did we not employ a portion of our columns, to call the attention of the subscribers to the Stock, and our people generally, to the present condition of affairs, in relation to the prospects of the immediate progress of that road.

A Charter, not, it is true, just such an one as the importance of the road, and its peculiar locality demanded, was obtained last winter. A little activity and zeal, during mid-Summer, secured subscriptions to the stock, of an amount sufficient to grade the whole track, it is believed. At this point an election campaign commenced, and of course, the minds of those interested, became otherwise engaged—although effort did not wholly cease.

A Committee were appointed by the Commissioners to visit the Coal region, and ascertain what spirit of generosity animated the owners of the Coal lands; and we gladly say that so far as they went, they found the resident owners, especially, not only willing, but anxious, to agree to convey to the Company, when organized, a part of their lands, at a fair value, and such agreements were entered into, by a number of them. There are others, who have not yet been visited, who should make it their especial business, to come forward, and do as their Broad Top neighbors have done. Such a demonstration, by those who own the lands, would do much to satisfy the capitalists of our Eastern Cities, that there can be no such word as fail.

Many of the subscribers have not yet paid in their first instalment. We do hope that this will not be true any longer. One firm, steady effort, and the work can soon be under contract; and but a year or so more, will send the treasures of Broad Top to the East, enriching the owners, and pouring thousands of dollars into our State Treasury; and waking up life and activity in our midst.

To Correspondents.

Our literary friends whose favors have been some time on hand, will please bear with us. Our columns are now necessarily devoted, almost entirely to political subjects. But there is a good time coming, "wait a little longer."

"J. E. W." who sends us an article for publication, is not recognized either by his production, or his initials. Will he give us his name?

AN EDITOR IN TOWN.—We had the satisfaction, the other evening, of taking by the hand our friend, R. Wesley Rothrock, late editor of the "Clinton Tribune," and were pleased to observe that he has procured a new and beautiful press. He is looking extremely well; and with all as happy as if the usual founts of type were joyously anticipated. Well, Wesley is a clever fellow, and deserves his good fortune.

INTERESTING TO YOUNG LADIES AND MISSES.—Shirleysburg and Birmingham Female Seminars both commence the winter session on Tuesday, the 2d of Nov. under very encouraging auspices.

GO TO WORK!

Whigs, your first fight is over. What is the result is not known. Enough, however, is known of the history of the past, to assure us, that it is the duty of every Whig—the duty of every man, who would prove the gratitude of his heart, and do justice to an old, tried, and ever faithful public servant, Winfield Scott—who is not willing that the vile and wicked, who have traduced his good name, shall be successful in their infamous slanders, to

GO TO WORK!

And with a will and a purpose to toil, aye, literally toil, from this day until the Second day of November, to make the success of that good man doubly sure.

GO TO WORK!

You, Patriots of the war of 1812. You, whose name and fame are part and parcel of your country's glory. You who were companions in arms with General Scott, and who, with him, made the proud Cross of England trail in the dust,—you who were with him and knew him. Let not those, who dare to call him a coward, now triumph.

GO TO WORK!

You, gallant spirits, who in that last and bloody strife with Mexico. You, who felt the spirit of his master-mind, as he marked out that toilsome and terrible campaign, and plainly pointed out, in every feature, how he would triumph—You, who were with him, in the Seige of Vera Cruz—You, who heard his command as he bade you march up Cerro Gordo's heights, and to victory—You, who toiled with him over Mexico's burning sands and mountain steeps—You, who, with him, bore our starry banner up Chapultepec, at Contreras—at Churubusco—on the more fatal field of Molino del Rey—and through the gates of the City of the Aztecs and saw it wave over the Capital.

GO TO WORK!

You, who love the men, who thus peril life, forego comfort, and abandon their homes, and their loved ones around their hearth. Would you save them from the assaults of party defamers, who hope, and care only for party success, and will sacrifice their love of country, and of their country's defenders, that they and their party may enjoy the "spoils of party." If you would

GO TO WORK!

You, honest Freemen, of every creed and clime, and of every craft. You who are not politicians, who vote, and always vote for the best man. You have something to do now. Party power, and party hate has assailed one of the great good, and good great men of our country. You, ought, every one of you, for this one time, to save him from the shafts of infamy, with which his foes assail him, to

GO TO WORK!

You know him. His history is on every page of our history, as a nation, since the war of 1812. You need no party papers to tell you, who is General Scott. You have known, loved, and honored him, since you have been able to read history. You have no party interests at stake. Your influence can do much. If you then desire to show that the people of this republic are not ungrateful,

GO TO WORK!

Three short weeks, is all the time that is left for work. Who dare be idle? Begin now—to-day! make such arrangements, that each and every one, can spend a part of his time, to secure the election of General Scott.

If ever there has been a man lived, who deserves to be President, that man is Gen. Scott. He has offered up his life for his country—he is "glorious in action, invincible in courage, and unflinching in resources and WISDOM."

Freemen, all

GO TO WORK!

Truth from a Democrat.

"We were with General Scott from the bombardment of Vera Cruz to the conquest of the City of Mexico, and we know that a braver a kinder hearted man never drew a sword or spared an enemy.—The man never lived whose love of country exceeded that of old Churubusco.—In the history which will be written fifty years hence the name of Winfield Scott will occupy a position, second to none in our annals."—N. York Dutchman.

The above extract, from one of the editorials of a Pierce and King paper shows the spirit in which he rebukes the calumniators of Gen. Scott; He further says, the man who would charge Gen. Scott with cowardice, "Should hold up Washington as a traitor."

What say you, Honest men of all parties, will you consent to vote with, and be partners in crime with a party, who can only rise by defaming, one of the purest men of our land?

"Bread and Butter Patriots."

In the delegation from the town of Huntingdon, we did not notice a single officer of the Portage Rail Road or Canal; and yet it numbered upwards of a hundred; nor did we notice a single "bread and butter patriot" in the long train of extra cars that came up the Penn. Railroad.—Hollidaysburg Standard, Oct. 6, 1852.

Now, we wish to be distinctly understood, the employees of the board of Canal Commissioners and their agents have, and should enjoy, undisturbed, the same rights to attend public meetings as any body else.—Provided, always nevertheless, it is not done at the expense of the State; and consequently we have never noticed in our paper, nor did we pretend to count, how many "bread and butter patriots" were in that delegation. We allude to the matter for another purpose.

The Standard, we suppose, if it meant anything meant that its readers should believe that the reason why the editor did not "notice" any of the Canal employees in the delegation, was, that none were there. This surely was its purpose. That editor wrote, then, as a fact, that which he did not know,—or knowing, he wrote that which was shamefully false. Ignorance or knavery, could alone have suggested such a statement. Will the Standard tell us whether they knew the persons composing that delegation? We are anxious to have the measure of the man.—If he did not know, and hastily wrote the article, thinking "that all was fair in politics," he is partially excusable,—for the ethics of some teach that that maxim inculcates truth. We do not think so.—Truth alone is fair in politics—and nothing can justify its violation.

We did not count, nor do we care, how many "bread and butter patriots" were in that delegation, except for truth's sake.—Our memory is not very good,—nor did we see the whole delegation, (less than eighty)—yet, should it be necessary, we think we can count ten; and with a little help twenty, of the employees of the Canal Board, or their agents, in that delegation. We shall not "notice" them until it becomes necessary.

THE FRUIT OF FOLLY.

When General Scott was first nominated, certain wise men, who were connected with the Loco Foco party, fancied that they saw an opportunity to make a grand stroke of policy. Scott, while in Mexico, had punished or as he expressed, "whipped thieves and pick-pockets and did hang for murder, and rape." With a Patriot and a Christian zeal, he had protected the Churches of Mexico from the pillage of the worthless hangers-on of the army—he had guarded the helpless and unprotected women of Mexico, from the ruffian violations of their chastity, by the unbung villians that tried to find licence for their deeds under the banner of a christian nation—he had protected all in their enjoyments of the right of conscience; and under all these wise men saw, or thought they saw a chance for party speculation.

Thus they argued, "we have now, and can keep the foreigners and catholic votes, Nativeism has made that secure; now if we can do something to secure for our party the natives, and all the biggoted protestants, we can gain more than Scott's military glory will lose for us. Let us charge Scott with being a Roman Catholic." No sooner thought than done.—The natives abused Scott as malignantly as they did, and they fancied their wisdom had wrought wonders.

Suddenly they found, that they had gone too far, and there was danger that the sword was two-edged, and cut both ways. They were suffering. Their ranks were thinning. There hollow hearted professions for foreigners were exposed by their own folly; and that mighty arm of their strength was lost, and as they feared gone over to Scott. What next, must they do. Why, send some missionaries, to enlighten the misguided Catholics; and we learn that Judge Campbell has been spending some time among them to bring them back into the democratic fold. We hope he will tell them which party beat him last fall, and which party nominated, George W. Woodward this fall!

New Advertisements.

The Court Proclamations, Sheriff's sales, Register's, and Auditor's Notices; A Farm at Private Sale, Warning to Trespassers, and numerous arrivals of Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Shoes, Boots, Jewelry &c., will be found in the advertising columns of this week's Journal. Our town was never supplied with so full an assortment of superb Merchandise and 'Fancies' as that now offered by our advertising friends.

The Election.

So far as Huntingdon county is concerned we have not received the returns but from a few townships.—They however indicate that our good old county has been true to her ancient faith. It is possible that our majority may be slightly decreased. Our Borough and township come up bravely to the work.

In the State, it would seem, by the "streaks of lightning" which were caught from the Telegraphic wires, last night and this morning, that the fellow that struck Billy Patterson must have been about and by some sly lick, given, our friends Bufington, and Hoffman "more than they wanted."

Our news from Philadelphia, Dauphin, and Lancaster, indicates that the Native Americans, true to their instincts, all went for Woodward; and that the Penn. Rail Road, for fear of mistakes in the trial of their mandamus, at the Supreme Court, took the safer course, and went it with a rush for "Opkins." Thus it looks now.—Before our next issue we shall know.

When, final overthrow seemed to be nearest to Wellington at Waterloo, he exclaimed "up guards and at them."—Whigs! of our county and State, all is not lost that is in danger; you must relax no effort—Scott can be elected! and we must not have it to say, we have defeated him. Go to work and, and work till the last hour, with the hope and purpose to win, and you will.

The Fire Broke out!

General Scott's journey, through this State and Ohio, into Kentucky, to select a site for a Military hospital, seems to have been the occasion, for the pent up fires of enthusiasm to burst out.

Wherever he has tarried for a moment, in his rapid journey, the telegraphic wires, having first given notice of his coming, the whole country's side have gathered to greet him with shouts of welcome; and clasp his hand, and bid him more than welcome to their hearts.

There is a heart, about these demonstrations of the public love, that strikes terror to the hearts of our opponents. No party drill,—no organized efforts of party trainers,—excites and arouses the public. But up from their work benches,—away from their ploughs; and out of their counting rooms spring mechanic, farmer and merchant; (and these of all parties) to meet and see the "Hero of Lundy's lane." The thousand thronging multitudes which, have met and made glad the good old man's heart, are the sure evidences of a glorious victory,—of a triumphant vindication of that persecuted chieftain, whose life has been one priceless boon to his country.

Cheer up, gallant and good old man, the day of your deliverance is nigh—a few short months, and thy foes shall oppress thee no more.

Iowa, all Right.

The news from Iowa, gives promise that that State, will, in the coming contest, wheel into the whig ranks. One of the evidences of this may be found in the fact that the Hon. Robert Lucas, Ex-Governor, has renounced his attachments to the Loco Foco party, and had declared for Scott and Graham.

The Iowa Central Scott Club, have elected Gov. Lucas President of the Club, and he has accepted, and enters warmly into the contest. The Governor, it appears, has also by a letter of some length, made known his reasons for refusing to act with his old party, and further the success of Pierce and King; and declaring his "intentions to vote for Gen. Scott at the ensuing election."

Party Hatred.

Few things will make men stoop to smaller acts of meanness than party hatred. General Scott in obedience to official duty has been compelled to journey to the south west and make some arrangements relative to a Military Hospital. The people of all parties having learned this fact and the route which he was going travel, gathered in thousands, and with joyful hearts, with loud huzzas—with smiles and songs welcomed the Old Chieftain. For forty years they had heard of his fame.—What little of the history of years the present generation knew, was all interwoven with battles and victories, he and his soldiery had won. And every body wanted to see his noble face, and feel his manly hand. And they did! and met it with a "shout and song." Party hatred now says he is on an electioneering tour.

"It is the wit, the policy of sin, To hate the men it has abused."

The Legislature of Mississippi met in extra session on the 4th instant.

BAD EYES—the editor of the "Standard" could not "see" a single "bread and butter patriot" in the Huntingdon delegation, to the Pierce meeting.

UNUSUAL—the October election past without frost except that species which is nipping the blossoms of Locomotism, and blighting the prospects of Franklin Pierce.

One million and a quarter of dead letters were opened in three months, by the Post Office Department—over $11,000, was obtained in them.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce says that there are places in that city where they are recruiting for another Cuban Expedition;—the fate of Lopez, should make them wise.
A member of the bar was fired at, while in, or near Court room door—three times with a revolver. No body hurt—the scoundrel was shut up.—Philadelphia Sun.

ATTENTION STUDENTS.—The winter session of "Milwood Academy" commences on Wednesday, the 20th of October, inst., and that of the "Mountain Academy" on the 27th inst. Both institutions are in a flourishing condition.
Kossuth is in London quietly enjoying the spoils of his American Campaign. His patriotism seems to have settled in his stomach, and he is vigorously applying "aid and comfort"—material aid, we mean—to the part affected.

We are often asked by those whose circumstances do not enable them to indulge in such folly, why so many parents send their children abroad to acquire a smattering of Music and Manners, Mathematics and Languages, when the same thing could be obtained at home at much less expense? We cannot tell unless it is true as the old saw has it, "Distance lends enchantment to the view;" or that the education which costs most, is deemed most valuable.

A SNAKE STORY.—Our "little kingdom" was thrown into a momentary excitement the other day, by the sudden appearance of a clever sized house snake, which unceremoniously entered the open door of the school room, and deliberately made his way towards the busy company within! We restored order by speedily dispatching his snakeship, and flinging him into the street, where his propertious and colors were critically examined, and his venomous qualities and presumptuous intrusion duly discussed during recess.

"The Presbyterian Banner, a new weekly paper has just been started in Phila., by Dr. McKinney, of Hollidaysburg. Here where the Rev. editor is known, it is unnecessary to say that the "Banner" is a messenger of light and love, and destined to accomplish much good.—It is furnished to single subscribers at $1.25, cents a year; and to clubs of ten or more, at the extremely low rate of ONE DOLLAR!

WANTED.—A boy between the age of 14 and 16, to learn the printing business.

Sixteen cents will be paid for good butter from now till 1st of May. Apply at this office.—The market price is but 12 1/2 cts.

An ounce of fact is worth a pound of theory: and the swarm of conclusive facts that cluster round that incomparable preparation, Hootch's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, establishing its value as a tonic and restorative, are such as would prevent incredulity itself from questioning its efficacy.—In all cases of disease of stomach, whether acute or chronic, it may be recommended for its soothing, cordial, and renovating influence. Dyspepsia, heart-burn, loss of appetite, nervous tremors, relaxation, debility, &c, are relieved, by the Bitters in a very short space of time; and a perseverance in their use never fails to work a thorough cure. sept. 29.

Neighbors try him. PEDESTRIAN
