

Pennsylvania Legislature.
HARRISBURG, April 14, 1853.
SENATE.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the General Appropriation Bill.
The section authorizing the sale of the Eastern Arsenal, and the appropriation of the money to the purchase of a new Arsenal, was adopted. Yeas 23, nays 7.
The section appropriating $350,000 to the completion of the North Branch Canal, was, after much debate, amended by reducing the amount to $250,000, and as amended was agreed to. Yeas 18, nays 14.
The section appropriating $187,000 for the relaying of the track of the Columbia Railroad being under consideration.

The amendment was negatived, and the section then adopted.
The section appropriating $413,000 to the prosecution of the work on the Portage Railroad was negatived.
Ultimately the appropriation of $187,000 to the Columbia Railroad, and $250,000 to the North Branch Canal, were reconsidered, the latter increased to $350,000, and both made on the condition that they be met without the resort to a loan.
Without disposing of the bill, the Senate adjourned.
AFTERNOON SESSION.—Mr. Kunkel submitted on amendment, appropriating $3000 to inclose the public grounds surrounding the State Arsenal, at Harrisburg; which after a brief discussion, was passed—yeas 17, nays 14.
Mr. Darlington offered a section providing for a loan of $650,000 to cancel the relief notes. Agreed to—yeas 25, nays 7.

The following bills were then taken up and passed:
To incorporate the Washington Medical College.
To incorporate the South Penn Hose Company.
Mr. Killbourn, from the Select Committee on that subject, made report, exculpating the Board of Canal Commissioners from the charge of fraud in the matter of the lettings of contracts for work on the Allegheny Portage Railroad.
The report is accompanied by none of the testimony taken before the committee.
Mr. Merriman, from the same Committee, gave notice that he should make a minority report, embracing the testimony, to-morrow.
The House again resumed the consideration of the bill relating to the Franklin Canal Company, which after further debate passed finally.
Mr. Skinner called up the bill providing from the funding and cancellation of the relief issues of the Commonwealth, which was debated and passed.

On motion of Mr. Hart, the bill extending the charter of the Girard Bank was taken up and passed.
Mr. Bryant made an effort to defeat both bills, by calling the previous question. Adjourned.
April 15.
SENATE.—The Speaker laid before the Senate a communication from the City Councils of Philadelphia, inviting the members of the Legislature to visit the city, and listen to the eulogy of Mr. Meredith upon the life and character of John Sergeant, on Friday evening next.
The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill to incorporate the Butler Coal Company, which passed finally.
The Senate took up the bill from the House relative to the militia system of the Commonwealth, which was considered and passed finally. Yeas 17, nays 12.
Several local and wholly unimportant bills were considered and passed.
A bill relating to sales of real estate passed second reading.
The Senate then adjourned.

The Senate adjourned.
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—The House on motion of Mr. Barr, proceeded to the consideration of the bill to establish a law school in the borough of Easton, which was considered and passed.
The House then resumed, in order, the consideration of the bill repealing the tonnage tax on the Pennsylvania Railroad.
The bill, after a lengthy debate, was negatived—yeas 45, nays 46.
Mr. Merriman, from the Select Committee appointed to investigate the charge of fraud against the Board of Canal Commissioners in the letting of contracts for work on the Pennsylvania Railroad, made a report, strongly censuring the conduct of the Board.

Mr. Henderson, from the committee appointed, to receive the Governor and members of the Legislature of Maryland to-morrow, reported a programme of proceedings.
The House then, on motion of Mr. Ruben, proceeded to the consideration of the education bill, which, after considerable debate, was postponed.
The House then took up the amendments of the Senate to the general appropriation bill, which were debated at considerable length, and with a great deal of angry feeling.
Without coming to a vote upon the amendments, the House adjourned.
AFTERNOON SESSION.—The House re-assembled at 3 o'clock, and resumed the consideration of the amendments made by the Senate to the General Appropriation bill, they were mostly concurred in.
Mr. Bryant moved an additional amendment, appropriating $250 to the widow of Peter Kadabaugh, recently killed on the Columbia Railroad.
The bill was returned to the Senate.
The House on motion of Mr. Strong, proceeded to the consideration, on second reading of the bill incorporating a company to purchase the main line of the State improvements, for fifteen millions of dollars.
Mr. Fulton moved an amendment, authorizing the Governor to advertise the sale of the Public Works for six months, in the papers of Philadelphia and New York, but the motion was lost.
The first section of the bill was then agreed to—yeas 68, nays 23.
The House adjourned.
No. 20. We copy the following from a pamphlet entitled "The Indian Physician, or the afflicted Friend; it is Dr. Cooper's theory of Dyspepsia, in fewer words than we ever before saw it, viz:—Dyspepsia is owing to a weakness or relaxation in the lining membrane of the stomach, by which, when in a state of health, a certain fluid called the gastric juice, is given out whenever the food enters the stomach; therefore the food is dissolved or digested, and the nutriment is taken into the system, but partly digested, and decomposed or rotten, consequently it is incapable of furnishing good and nutritious blood by which the system is supported, and cases by the decomposition of the food are emitted in the stomach. These are the causes of the many disagreeable symptoms which attend dyspepsia, and the only way a complete cure can be effected is by strengthening and imparting tone or strength to this lining membrane. This Dr. J. W. Cooper's Vegetable Dyspepsia Bitters will always effect. They not only enable this membrane to impart an abundance of this gastric juice, but they will themselves digest and dissolve the food almost as completely as the natural gastric juice. These Bitters are prepared only by C. P. Hewes, and may be had of Thos. Read & Co., N. Huntington.
No. 21. We have frequently heard the celebrated Dr. Bitters, sold by Dr. C. M. Jackson, 120 Arch street Philadelphia, spoken of by some of the highest commendation, and we honestly believe that it is one of the best medicines advertised for the complaints for which it is recommended. They are pleasant to the taste, and can be taken under any circumstances by the most delicate stomach. The press far and wide, have united in commending this invaluable remedy for dyspepsia, debility, &c.; and such are the healing effects of this panacea, that we hope it may be introduced into every family where dyspepsia has, or is likely to have, a victim.
