"Sammy, why don't your mother mend that rip in your trousers?" "Oh, she's gone to the sewing circle, to make clothes for poor children!"

"Are those pure canaries?" asked a lady of a bird-dealer, "Yes ma'am," said the dealer confidentially, "I raised them ere birds from canary seed."

There is a certain man in this town, so smart that he knows every body's business; even that of the Printer. We've no doubt he'll become a very great man, if he lives long enough.

A California paper announces that it has been ascertained beyond doubt that the title of D. D. on the police books does not mean doctor of divinity, but—drunk and disorderly.

While a party of twelve ladies were bathing at Newport the other day, the horse ran away with the wagon containing all their clothes. How they reached home can be better imagined than described.

The Ohio Repository of the 15th inst., says a Licking county Farmer, last fall purchased 46 sheep for $66. This Spring he sold the wool from them for $68—and has an increase of 29 lambs. He estimates the expense of keeping them at $10.

How we pay.—A well known political economist says: "We pay best, first those who destroy us—generals; second, those who cheat us—politicians and quacks; third, those who amuse us—singers and musicians; and last of all, those who instruct us—authors, school-masters and editors."

Worth trying.—A lump of wet saleratus, applied to the sting of a wasp or bee, will stop the pain in a moment, and prevent it from swelling.—Try it and see. It is a sure remedy for rattlesnake bites, if applied immediately.—Be sure and remember it.

We have often thought a Toen Clock in this borough would be a matter of great convenience to the citizens. Now could not a project be set on foot to raise funds sufficient to purchase a good one? We think it can be done without much trouble.

Next Monday promises to be a lively day in our town. Among other things of a curious character, a patriotic speech will be made by George Lippard, Esq., of Philadelphia. We hope to see many of our friends here from the country, participating with us in the festivities and joyifications of the day. Remember friends, the 4th of July comes only once a year.

The Dardanels.—The European Times says: "Let the Russians occupy the Dardanels if they dare. If they do, they must be prepared to stand the shock of the united strength of Great Britain and France, and such a violation of the rights of nations must involve all Europe in a general war."

A writer for the newspapers from "away down in Old Virginia," says that since the ministers have been preaching to the slaves about the immorality of dancing, nearly the whole of them—so great is their conviction—have "laid down the fiddle and the bow," and taken to "gambling."

The statutes of Illinois provide that railroad companies shall pay $5000 for every life lost on a train of cars through the carelessness of the company or its agents. According to this, the damages for the Chicago massacre will reach $105,000, if sued out; as there were 21 persons killed.

A young man without money is like a steamboat without fuel. He can't go ahead.—Among the ladies he is like the moon of a cloudy night—he don't shine. These facts should induce young men to save their money and not squander it foolishly, as too many of them do.

Human remains found.—In excavating for a cellar in Hamilton street, near the Lehigh, the workmen found the remains of four persons. The teeth in two of the skeletons were perfect. When they were deposited there is uncertain; perhaps by the Indians.—Easton Whig.

There are engaged in London between three and four hundred Germans and Italians, a few Frenchmen, and one hundred Englishmen in the manufacture of bird-cages. It is calculated that each man makes two cages in a day, therefore seven hundred are made daily; or, not including Sunday, 210,000 cages yearly.

Senator Atchison is stopping the State of Missouri after the style of his great rival, Benton, who, apparently to avoid angry discussion with him, is in Washington. As soon as Atchison has finished, Benton, it is supposed, will commence again.

A locust plague appears to be afflicting the people of several parts of Central America. A cloud of these devouring insects had alighted upon the territory between the Barranca and the Chacarite, consuming the crops; and the Bishop of that region had directed public prayers for relief to be offered up.—The locusts had also fallen upon the city of San Salvador.

Love is as natural to a woman as fragrance to a rose. You may confine a girl up in a convent—you may confine her in a cell—you may cause her to forsake her parents—these things are possible; but never hope to make the sex forego the heart worship, or give up their reverence for cassimers; for such a hope will prove as bootless as the Greek Slave, and as hollow as a bamboo.

Another celebrated "Ebonaut"—our young friend, "John Snavre," of this Borough, made a "balloon ascension" one evening last week—that is, the balloon went up without him—he could not get in quick enough—he did not want to.

Remarkable Physical Phenomenon.

A SLEEPING GIANT—A RIP VAN WINKLE.—The Rochester Democrat gives the following account of a Rip Van Winkle in that neighborhood:

His attention was called yesterday to a most extraordinary phenomenon. A full grown man, six feet two inches tall, 37 years of age, has slept for nearly five years, with only occasional and brief intervals of wakefulness. The name of this man, subject to so remarkable a suspension of the ordinary faculties of the race, is Cornelius Broomer. He is the son of a farmer living in the town of Chateaufort, in this county, in whose family only this singular and singular instance of somnolence has ever occurred. The subject of notice first fell into this long sleep on the 16th of June, 1818, and since that time has been awake, at different periods, from a few hours to four months at a time. It is remarked that when he comes out of this catatropic, he has no recollection of the time he has slept, or of circumstances taking place while he sleeps. He fits come upon him instantly, without so far as is known, any warning. His eyes close, his jaws are set, his muscles contract, and his whole frame is rigid, so that if standing, he continues in that attitude partly bent over; and it is not easy to pull him down. He has remained in this condition for months together, unable to speak or move.

Various experiments have been tried to restore him to consciousness, without effect. The man sleeps on, lives, eats, retains perfect health, with a pulse at 80, and without variation.—When asleep, he may be placed upon his feet, and he will stand for days together, as he has long known to do for these days and nights in succession. In order to feed him, it is necessary to pry open his firmly set jaws; and in that manner, but little food is introduced into his stomach. He is not, however, much emaciated, keeps his natural color, and appears entirely without disease, excepting that which produces his strange sleep. When he awakes, he comes forth as peacefully as if he had never slept. He is at once fit for meat or drink, and eats voraciously. If asked why he sleeps so much, he appears to regard it as an imposition, just as any active man would receive an intimation that he was considered sluggish.

Gypsies in the United States.

A correspondent, writing from Bangor, Me., whose letter will be found on the 15th inst., refers to the existence of a few families of the purest blood—in New Hampshire, where they are supposed to have been seated for a hundred years or more. The fact is a curious one. We hope our Dover and Portsmouth contemporaries alluded to in the letter may have it in their power to furnish additional information of our readers. It is certainly not New England; and it is a remarkable circumstance that it escaped the attention of President Dwight, who makes no mention of it in his well known voluminous "Travels in New England and New York," published in 1822. Ransacking the land of steady habits in all directions, he could not find a single one, and especially directed to remark on all remarkable things connected with local antiquities and the origin, customs, and moral and religious traits of communities, he repeatedly visited Dover and passed by and around the district where these gypsies dwell (some forty years ago), without ever seeming to have heard of their existence. It is a singularly curious circumstance, in the light of the New England paper concerning things which are their own, whereby his difficulties in obtaining information, or hearing of novelties which might have interested him, were increased. Whether this indifference remains we cannot tell; but we do not intend to have any other work. The question of most moment is whether they are real gypsies, after all. The name has been sometimes applied, in other parts of the United States, to petty calves, or scattered families of semi-vagant persons separated from the communities around them by ignorance, intolerance, and low social position.—occasionally, also, by peculiarities of appearance and conduct, or by some other cause. A little Indian or other low-race blood would appear, at times, to aid the delusion; but the real gypsy characteristics are wanting—and in particular, the characteristic of gypsy or Romany language, which the true wanderers always retain. This test may be tried on the Barrington gypsies by an inquirer possessing any one of Dorron's familiar books, which abound with specimens of gypsy gibberish.—North American.

Ascariides, or Small Thread Worm.

These worms, to which the human system is liable, are the cause of the most distressing and annoying diseases of all others.—They are generally to be found in the rectum, and if allowed to remain, from the irritation they produce, lay the foundation for serious disorders, such as inflammation of the bowels, and other diseases of the stomach. The best and safest medicine that can be used is HOBENSBACK'S Worm Syrup. Such is the astonishing power of my medicines over Ascariides, that I defy any one to produce a case where my worm Syrup and Liver Pills are recommended to be used, if they do not cure. All that is necessary is to use the Syrup in accordance with directions on each bottle and to allow a gentle purgative is required in order to allow the irritative they produce, the Liver Pills by restoring the system to a healthy operation upon the bowels, is the most pleasant medicine that can be taken.

Hobensack's Liver Pills.

No part of the system is more liable to disease than the Liver, it being supplied with numerous blood-vessels and nerves, and if diseased, the blood, of course flowing through it, carries the disease to all parts of the system, and thus produces Bilious Affections; Dyspepsia, &c., &c.

Liver Complaint.

Is attended with chills, succeeded by fever, severe pains in the region of the Liver, vomiting, bitter tastes, yellow furred tongue, puls full and bounding, the pain in the side is increased by pressure, and the stools are affected, the pain is generally in the left shoulder, with a short dry cough, the skin becoming of a sallow appearance, and the stools pale colored. This disease can be cured by the use of Hobensack's Liver Pills, as they directly upon the seat of the disease, and then operating upon the bowels they expel all the corrupt and vitiated matter from the system.

Dyspepsia.

The symptoms of Dyspepsia, and its various diseases are dizziness in the head, heartburn, oppressive, yellow furred tongue, puls full and bounding of the whole body, from this it will arise that the disease owes its origin to a disorganized state of the Liver and Stomach. Hobensack's Liver Pills is the very medicine to effect a permanent cure, as they act directly by clearing the certain morbid actions of the system into a healthy action, and rendering the blood pure and healthy.

To Females.

You will find these Pills an invaluable medicine in many complaints to which you are subject. In the treatment of the general health of the female, it has been found of inestimable benefit in restoring and purifying the blood and other fluids so as to cure all complaints which may arise from female irregularities, as headache, dizziness of sight, pain in the side, back, &c. These Pills are the only safe and effectual remedy to cure the following complaints, God, Nervousness, Melancholy, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Rheumatism, distressing Dreams, Dimness of Sight, or in fact any of the diseases that arise from the impurities of the blood, or Constipation of the Bowels.

Medical Evidence.

We, the undersigned Physicians, having had the receipt of their manufacture submitted to us for inspection; say, that the ingredients of which they are composed are the best and most valuable for all diseases of the Liver, Impurities of the Blood, &c.
