We must remind our subscribers that we need money, and as week after next, Court commences, it will afford those who come to town on other business, an excellent opportunity to give us a call. We would like must is they who he was to be subscribed to the subscribed with th much if those who have accounts of long standing especially would give us a call. We hope this will be attended to.

In another column will be found the proceedings of the Whig State Committee, which met in Philadelphia, on Tuesday, the 19th inst. The meeting was largely attended, and the assurances the Committee had from different portions of the State, that the Whigs were resolved to do battle for their cause at the ensuing election, were extainly zero account. ensuing election, were certainly very encouraging.

That the old Whig fires still burn brightly. That the old Whig fires still burn brightly, there is no doubt; and that the party has every prospect before it of triumphantly achieving a glorious victory over its now distracted opponents, at the coming election, there is just as little. And we hope that every Whig will now, more than ever, feel it his duty to lend all the assistance he can to preserve harmony in our ranks and incite every one to energetic action.

$25 for either. There is certainly a regularly organized band of these individuals in the community who make horse stealing their only employ, and the citizens should endeavor to ne measures to detect them.

There will be a Fair held in Hunting on, on Tuesday of the first week of the Court the proceeds of which are to be applied towards the completion of a Baptist Church now being erected at this place. All articles—fancy and otherwise—usually seen at such places, will be offered for sale, and we hope all who may be in town on that day will not forget to visit the Fair, and leave some of their "ready change," in the hands of the FAIR ones who will be present professly will be taining sentiments worthy the adoption of evenine the hands of the FAIR once who will be present, perfectly willing and ready, to receive it. Our Baptist friends need a suitable house of worship here, and we have no doubt the people who will be in town during that week, will show their fiberality in assisting them in the erection of their Church, by purchasing largely at the Fair.

We have received several communicabenefit the Whig party in Cambria county, or benefit the Whig party in Cambria county, or any place else, will derive thereby.

We are sorry to learn that some disaffection prevails among our Whig friends in Cambria, but we hope that considerations paramount to all those trivial questions which now alightly distract them will sufficiently influence their minds to induce them to fall back again in the proper chapted. proper channel.

They should remember that "in Union there is strength," and that "united they stand—but divided they fall."

They should feel that the election of a State

Senator in this District, should out-weigh every other consideration, and every effort they put forth should be directed to that one object.— The Whigs of Cambria have always, with us, The whigs of camoria nave always, with us, been considered a loyal band of soldiers, manfully battling for the principles of the party, under all and any circumstances, and will they now do violence to that envisible reputation, by cutting themselves up into a thousand factions, each arrayed against the other? We hope not cach arrayed against the other? We hope not —for they cannot possibly expect to accomplish what they wish by so doing. This fall, especially, they should throw their personal feelings on local subjects, to the winds, and direct all their energies to the accomplishment of the one grand object—the triumphant election of a State Senator. This should claim the special attention of every Whig in the entire District, and should be by every one considered of paramount importance to any other consideration. We hope, then, that our Whig brethren in Cambria county, will weigh well the importance of concentrated action, and will not allow themselves to be beaten by their unscrupulous enemies. Their foos are vigilant, watching every move, and endeavoring, if possible, where ery move, and endeavoring, if possible, wherever they can, by all the means they can command, to increase the disaffection they think now prevails in their ranks. The past history of the opposition, all over the country, should satisfy them that they can expect nothing from promises of easistence however the country. promises of assistance, because they are as treacherous as Satan, and no confidence is to be placed in their word, when there is the least prospect of success on their own part. If we lose the Senator in this District, we will lose the majority in the State Senate.

Delegate Meetings.

Too much cannot be said to urge the importance of attending the primary meetings to select the proper kind of men as delegates to the County Convention, to be held in this place on Tuesday of the first week of the Court. There is nothing connected with the formation of a county ticket so important and necessary on the part of Whiga, as a full and legitimate turn out at the delegate meetings. It is there that the part of Whigs, as a full and legitimate turn out at the delegate meetings. It is there that every man should make his wishes and desires known, so that those who may be chosen as the representatives of the people to the Convention, may know how to act understandingly.

The people, as we some time ago stated, are the sovereigns, and what ever they do through their representatives in Convention, is right and proper and no man ought to complain.—
We hope the Convention, will form a ticket of

We hope the Convention, will form a ticket of good, reliable and honest Whigs, and capable good, reliable and honest Whige, and capable and intelligent men, independent of every con-sideration save the success of the party. And we hope all will keep cool and avoid every thing that savors of factionism or tends the least to excite prejudice. If this course is pursued, we are confident, judging from pres-ent indications, all will be done satisfactorily ent indications, all will be done satisfactorily to the majority of the Whigs, and perfect har-mony will prevail throughout our entire county

Doubtless such language as this, says the Pittsburg Gazette, becomes a Southern Statesman; but if any leading Northern man should use half as violent language with reference to the admission of Nebraska as a slave State, we should never hear the end of it. The Northern man who resists the admission of a slave State is a madman, a fanatic, and an enemy to the Union; but the Southern man who would rather see free territory sunk in he-ll, than admitted as a FILER State, is deemed worthy to preside over the Senate of the United States, and become President of this Union ex-officio, on the detect of the Democratic Harmony.

Nothing short of all the spoils of office can satisfy the cravings of the free soil cornorants, who, without the shadow of a claim to preferment beyond the tens of thousands of Whigs who voted for Pierce and King, have already been the recipients of the lion's share.

Whigs should be filled with all humility and be thankful for the privilege of contributing to the comfort and welfare of their enemies. The slaves of the South are so; and why should not the "toiling millions" of Pennsylvania feel the same gratitude for their task-master's? What are the Whigs now? Trodden down by foreign influence, crashed by the hand of power—lashed by their task-master's, to labor for their benefit! What are they now? With pockets robbed and spirits crushed, what can they do?—The Locofocos do not fear or dread them. They can only despise as they trample upon them.—They feel perfectly secure with their allied forces of foreign growth. The whigs, they know, cannot poll half the vote of last year, and they are certain of a triumph with increased congratulation.

		*	II LACOUR

The subject has been officially broached and proposed by the present Secretary of the Treasury, at the dinner given to the President and his Cabinet, at Philadelphia last week. The Secretary expressed himself in flavor of a measure that would take all surplus from the Treasury and place it in the hands of political favoriets. We may therefore look for an early movement in the next Congress in flavor of some measure, calculated to relieve the Treasury, and probably increase the National Debt—Locofoce patriotism would soon die out, without the 'sloaves and fishes.'

Why Should Whigs Murmur?

This was the reply made by a prominent locofoco-office-holder, the other day to a Whig who was speaking of the mismanagement, corruption and favoriteism on the Public Works. "Why should Whigs murmur? They should be contented with paying taxes, and enabling democratic contractors, speculators, schemers and corruptionists to fill their pockets, and revel upon their industry."

Whigs should be filled with all humility and be tankful for the privilege of contributing to tions and depots for the relief and accommoda-tion of our so fast increasing commerce, in steamers and sailing vessels, between Califor-nia and China; which duty is to be prosecuted diligently whenever any of his vessels can be spared for the purpose. Nothing was known in China at the date of his letters, concerning the probable manner in which his mission should be received by the Japanese govern-ment.

Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association.

Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association.

The first meeting of this Association will be held in the city of PITTSBURG, on FRIDAY, the 5sh day of AUGUST next, in the Hall of the Third Ward School, commencing at 9 o'clock A. M.

This time and place were selected, not only because the usual vacations, at that season of the year, allow teachers the privilege of attendings but also from the fact, that the American Association for the Advancement of Education, will meet in the same city on the Tucsday following, and thus furnish an opportunity, to all who may wish it, of attendidg both meetings.

While Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, and other States, have had for years their State Teachers' Associations; and through their agency, have not only quickened the energy of their members to renewed efforts in behalf of Education, but awakened a more general interest respecting it in the public mind, this will be the first meeting of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association, and, therefore, calls for the most active exertions on the part of its friends to ensure its complete success.

Such being the case, the Executive Committee will venture to suggest some of the reasons, which should secure a general attendance of Teachers and friends of Education from all parts of the State.

The Association itself is not exclusive. It permits all Teachers, from the President of the University to the Teacher of the humblest common school, to become members on terms of perfect equality. Nor are those who are not Teachers excluded. Every friend of Educations, and he will find, therein, ample opportunity for exerting his best efforts for the good of the cause.

At this meeting Reports will be presented on Normal Schools, Teachers' Institutes, The nity for exerting his best efforts for the good of the cause.

At this meeting Reports will be presented on Normal Schools, Teachers' Institutes, The Uses and Abuses of Text Books, and other subjects of deep interest, Lecturers will be provided for each evening of the Session.

The great question of "the duty of the State to educate all its children," will be brought up for examination. It is well known that combined attacks have been made, in several other. States, as well as threatened in our own, against this principle—the very basin of our Common School System; and, while we may feel, that, Gibrallar-like, the system stands too firm to be shaken, it is the part of a wise discretion, that its friends measure well their position and their strength, and be prepared, in case of emergency, to enter the conflict and defend it. This meeting will present the opportunity for such preparation.

It is admitted that, correct, as may be the strength, and be prepared, in case of emergency, to enter the conflict and defend it. This meeting will present the opportunity for such proparation.

It is admitted that, correct as may be the proparation.

It is admitted that, correct as may be the principle upon which is based our common school system, some additions and amendmenta in the provisions of the law are needed, to make it adequate to meet the want it was intended to supply. From every county in the Commonwealth, let the friends of Education as assemble, bringing with them a knowledge of the workings of the system in their respective localities, that data may be had, upon which to base measures adapted to remedy the defects of the present law, and then, after deliberation commensurate with the importance of the subject, let such measures be adopted; let them go forth as the voice of the Association, and surely Legislative sanction cannot long be wanting. A prominent object of the Association is to bring about more co-operation and sympathy among Teachers, and especially among those having charge of schools of different grades, than an present exists. And this, more than anything else, is needed. Jealousy, it is to be feared, has heretofore supplied the place of a praisworthy professional courtery. The Teacher, whether engaged in a College, an Academy, a Female Seminary, or a Common School, is still a Teacher, and his position is not necessarily antagonistic to that of any other. All are engaged in the same great work, and a union close and permanent should be formed among them in order to effect the great object of their mission. Let Teachers, then, from all grades of shools, come up to the meeting of the Association; and, upon its altur, avow eternal amily and consecrate themselves anew to the discharge of the high duties of their noble calling.

discharge of the high duties of their noble calling.

Such are some of the motives which, the Committee think, should prompt the attendance of a large body of Teachers and friends of Education: to all of whom they extend a cordial invitation. Engaged in a great and holy cause—dear allke to the patriot and the philanthropist—come, let us council together concerning its best interests.

titioners, and find the result to be vastly in our favor."

The late Prof. T. V. Morrow, makes use of the following remarks: "Per haps no medicine has been introduced to the notice of the medical profession for the last one hundred years, which promises to be of so much value as the Podophyllim."

Griffith's Medical Botany, page 110: "The concurrent testimony of all practitioners who have given a fair trial to podophyllim, is in its favor, as a certain and active Purgative.

Dr. Host's Domestic Medicine, page 239, in speaking of the root of this plant says: "The root properly prepared is perhaps the best cathartic now known, being very mild, and although somewhat slow, yet certain in its operation. It, unlike most other articles of this class, leaves the bowels in a lax and soluble condition, and hence is, in many instances, very useful in habitual costitiveness.

Dr. Bigelow, in speaking of this valuable article says: "The medical the state of the stat condition, and hence is, in many instances, very useful in habitual cositiveness.

Dr. Bigelow, in speaking of this valuable article says: "The medical properties of the Podophillim Pellatum are those of a sure and active cathartic. We have hardly any native plant which answers better the common purpose of Aloes, Jalap, and Rhubarb."

When such men as these speak in favor of any medicine, it tells volumes in its favor. As we have said before this is the active medical ingredient in Dr. J. W. Cooper's Celebrated Anti-Dyspeasia Pills, and every family should be provided with some of them, and never be without. These pills may be had of Tr. Read & Son, agents for C. P. Hewes, the Proprietor, by whom the genuine are only prepared.

Thousands of Parents who use Vormifuge composed of Castor oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware, that while they appear to benefit the parient, they are actually laying the foundations for a series of diseases, such as salivation. loss of sight, weakness of limbs, &c.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Hobensack's Medicines, to which we ask the attention of all directly interested in their own as well as their Children's health. In Liver Complaints and all disorders arising from those of a billious type, should make use of the only genuine medicine, Hobensack's Liver Pills.

Worm Synu and Liver Pills, and observe that each has the signature of the Proprietor, J. N. HOBENSACK'S, as none cless are genenic.
