uld notice the nominees of the party more we would notice the nominees of the party more extensively in our present issue, but we discover there is no occasion now to do so. The whole ticket seems to take well with the people in the country, and it should, for the reason that it is emphatically a country ticket that is, it was formed exclusively by the delegates acting on their own individual responsibility, without the influence or dictation of intriguing and designing soliticity. and designing politicians. All the nominees are good, reliable and substantial Whigs—honest, intelligent, and well qualified men, and every way worthy the full confidence and warm support of every Whig in the county.

In point of location, the different candidates are judiciously distributed: The Treasurer in the upper end—the Legislator in the middle and the Sheriff in the lower end of the county, and the Sheriff in the lower end of the county,
Mr. Greenland's section of the county has long since deserved something, and we heartily rejoice that it has received what it has. Clay, Cass, Union and Tod, are noble townships in a political contest in this county—they roll up mighty majorities for their size, and we have no doubt they will roll up still larger ones, at no doubt they will roll up still larger ones at the coming election.

The candidates for the other offices are all The candidates for the other offices are all most excellent men, but they were not nominated with a reference to their locality, only on account of their worthiness and qualifications to fill the respective positions. None were nominated with this reference, we presume, but t is well it has happened as it has, so far as this well it has happened as it has, so har as their locality is concerned. In our opinion a better ticket, throughout, could not well have been formed, and the whole matter is entirely due to the bold and independent stand the delegates took against the political schemers and viere-workers of this borough. They certainly deserve credit for the course they avaised on deserve credit for the course they pursued on deserve credit for the course they pursued on this occasion, and we hope the Whig party will always, hereafter, send just such men as delegates to the Convention—men who can't be influenced by the love of money, nor deterred from duty by threats of creditors.

To the best of our recollection, we have never known a ticket to give such universal satisfaction to the people in the country, as the present one does. All with whom we have conversed, and they have put hope a few scene.

present one does. All with whom we have conversed, and they have not been a few, seem highly pleased, and many allege that it will receive a warmer support from the people, and get a larger majority, than any ticket has for a number of years in this county. Such seems to be the feeling on the subject in the country, and we rejoice to know it.

BOD. Next week, Thursday the 25th inst., the Whigs of the County must remember, the State Convention meets in this place to nominate a Candidate for Supreme Judge, and as many as possibly can, should come in. There will be a public meeting held in the Court House in the evening of that day, to be addressed by some of our Candidates for State dressed by some of our Candidates for State offices, and also by other distinguished members of the Whig party, from Philadelphia and

The Whig State Central Committee, we un derstand, will also meet here on the day the Convention meets, and we hope the Whigs in this Convention meets, and we hope the Whigs in this county will warmly countenance the whole matter by giving it their presence in town on that day. Whig State Conventions don't often assemble here and we will expect the party to do its duty on this occasion by turning out, and being

DIED WHILE DRESSING FOR A BALL.—Miss Laura Sheilds, who resided on Liberty Street, went up to her room on the eveing of the 4th of July, to dress for a Ball, to be given at the Union Hall, on Broadway. When the gentleman came who was to accompany her, she did not come down stairs. Her mother called her, but she did not come, though nearly an hour passed in waiting for her. At length her mother went to the door and rapped, but no answer was returned, and she had locked the door. They then became alarmed and forced the door, when Laura was found lying upon the floor, nearly dressed for the ball, and quite dead! She appeared to be in perfect health in the evening at ten. ed. The Journal looks at these facts fully in the face, and in an elaborate article thus wisely and justly passes judgment upon them?

"In electing Gen. Pierce to the Presidency, it was supposed that prominence and influence had been given to the national sentiment which had so conspiciously triumphed over sectionalism. The country did not understand, in electing Gen. Pierce, that the union of factionists, held together by the spoils, would constitute the Government, and that those who had been conspicious in giving a controlling direction to public affairs at a great juncture, should occupy only a subordinate part in its machinery. In our judgment, Gen. Pierce has gone counter to the public intention, and has committed a capital error. We express this opinion with deep sorrow. We have no personal disappointments of any description to avenge. He has been liberal with sentiments favorable to the National idea, and has bestowed power and command on its antagonists, thus holding out an inducement for treachery and desertion of the Constitution, and holding it out to the leaders of those who, feeling that they had committed a great error. we ready to return to their allegiance to the country by assenting to the supremacy of the class who throughout the contest had shown their patrictism and their ability to govern. The appointment of Mr. Sickles, recently made, intended as an exception to the general policy, is one of those mistakes which under a sudden conviction of error is often committed. The National feeling of this country, sickened at the display of mere sentiment in its favor, has arrived at the solemn judgement, that the President has come short of the duties which a great position imposed, and of the high distinction which its performance would unquestionably have conferred."

Democratic Adoption of Whig Doctrine. The National Intelligencer publishes a re-cent article of the Washington Union, defending the constitutionality of the construction by Government of the Pacific Railroad, with the ing the constitutionality of the construction by Government of the Pacific Railroad, with the following comment:

"It was a remarkable article to be found in the columns of that journal, and, regarding, it as evidently speaking for the Excentive, we read it with as much pleasure as surprise. The arguments were not new to us; we had heard them in former times repeated from year to year by the great champion of Internal Improvements, the illustrious Clay, with all the power of his peerless eloquence, and especially in his great speech in the House of Representative in 1817-18, and we could not suppress the gratification we felt at seeing them substantially reproduced as Democratic arguments in support of a great national measure."

The New York Ecening Post, one of the organs of the Democracy in New York, notices a previous reference of the Intelligencer to the Union's article as follows:

"The See Whig policy defended in the columns of the Union that we did not mind it.—
If Fillmore's administration had lasted another term, the Union would have been its organ by this time. It is doing his party much more good, however, now than it ever could or can do in the capacity of an organ for-any party."

The question will soon be asked—"What has become of the Democrate?"

ecome of the Democrats?"

Corporations and Locofocoism

Corporations and Locofocoism.

In his argument upon Corporation Subscriptions before the Supreme Court, our democratic neighbor. Joseph J. Lewis, Eeq., gives the following emphatic opinions of private Corporations. We quote from the Evening Bulletin. Mr. Lewis said:

"This he knew—that private Corporations now ruled the State, and were seeking to grasp more power than they at present possessed; and that if they were not restrained, they would soon overcome the Constitution itself."

Mr. Lewis can speak ex cathedra. As a leader of the democracy and President of a railrond Corporation, he "knows." The avowal is starting, and should arouse the people to their danger. The grasping designs harbored by Corporations against the liberties of the people, is an important admission coming from such good democratic and therefore, according to Mr. Lewis, Corporations rule the locofoco party! This admits all the Whigs have contented for. Let us hear no more about the Whigs being Bank ridden!— Litague Record.

A Dodging Candidate.

Mr. Forsyth, the candidate of the Democracy for Canal Commissioner, is held up by his party as a pattern of purity and independence—as the man to arrest, the tide of corruption and iniquity that is now admitted by his own party to prevade the public works. Mr. Forsyth was a member of the Senate last winter, and present when the Maine Law bill was before it.—But how did he vote on that question? Will his friends tell? Bid he vote as an honest, independent representative should have done?—Did he vote for it or against it? He did neither! He DODGED the question, and refused to vote at all! Did such a course become one held up as the proper person to confront and arrest the overwhelming tide of plunder and corruption on the public works? Will he do it, think ye, if cleeted, or will he not rather dodge the responsibility?—Harrieburg Telegraph.

as the race is not always won by the swift, nor the victory by the strong, he gradually went along, gaining as others fell back, till he got a majority of votes, and was declared the candidate for Governor at the next full election.—

Mr. S. L. GLASGOW. Sir—
In the last number of "The Cambrian" a tatement is published, purporting to be an excression from a majority of the delegates to the ate Whig County Convention, in which they equest, and insist, that the names of Messrs, ting and White be broaght before our Senaorial Conference on equal terms with mine.

I shall not accede to the proposition, and shall assign my reasons in as few words as positible.

At our County Convention, held on the 12th At our County Convention, held on the 12th day of July last, without any undue effort on my part, a clear majority of the delegates voted for any nomination; which wote I am credibly informed, was then made unantimous.—Robt, L. Johnston, D. Litzinger and W. H. Gardner were nominated in Convention as Conferees friendly to my nomination, and received, respectively, 25, 24 and 21 votes. This camnot be viewed in any other light than as a test vote. The Convention and been fairly called, and was organized in accordance with the established usages of the party;—Gur gentlemen were put in nomination, and it would, certainly, be a direct insult to the feelings and good sense of the members of that Convention, to presume that they did not vote understandingly.

Five delegates, who were instructed to vote for my nomination in the Convention, were induced to sign the pretended instructions as published in the "Cambrian" and Blair County Whig," through false, statements and gross misrepresentations. While I write, Lhave before me indubitable proof of this fact, in the shape of the voluntary affidavits of two of these delegates, and the written certificates of the other three to the same effect. These affidavits and certificates you will please publish in connection with this communication. They are inseparable: the one cannot be published without the others are also.

In addition to these, I have the assurance of Mr. Fritz, a delegate from Carroll, that he never signed said "Paper of Instructions," and that he never authorized his names to be attached thereto, So, you will preceive, I stand now with the Convention, on at least as good-footing as I did at the time of its adjournment. But, I shall not now express my opinion upon the despicable chicanery which certain designing individuals have brought to bear against my momination. On the contrary, I shall leave it to the candid and impartial public to judge of the propriety or impropriety of resorting to means, such as here referred to; and whether, or not, the object is to place me in a fidse position towards the Whigs of Cambria, Blair and Huntingdon counties.

I have said that I conferces from this county in a position which would compel them to place the names of Messre. King and White before the Senatorial Convention and with the meaning of the delegates whose names are attached to them. A vote of instructions cannot be rescinded by a Convention, after its authority to act has ceased. Besides, it would be investing three men with the power to central the expression of the delegates whose names are attached to them. Cicarfield toenship, Cambria County, August 4th, 1853.

This to certify that at the election for delegates, to the Whig County Coavention, held on Saturday July 9th, 1853, James Kaylor and myself-were, without opposition deeted delegates to attend the County Convention, in Ebensburg on 12th of said month—and that I did attend said convention—and that said Convention—did, regularly, proceed to ballot for State Senator—and on the first ballot Mr. E. Hutchinson, ir., received 18 votes, Mr. King 8 votes, and Mr. White 8. And that on a motion being made to make Mr. Hutchinson's nomination unanimous, all voted aye. Mr. White called'at my house and showed me a statement setting forth that Mr. King's, Mr. Hutchinson's and his own name should each be placed before the Senatorial Convention, a suuring me at the same time, that Messrs. King and Hutchinson had made a compromise to that effect—and also that Mr. Johnston and Mr. Litzinger, two of our conferces had agreed that this was the only way to unite the party,—showing me, too, the name of my colleague Jas. Kaylor, to the statement, I was not aware of any dissatisfaction existing in our party, but believing what Mr. White tod me I signed his paner. This statement he has since published in the "Cambrian." Finding that matters had been mirerpresented tome and knowing Mr. Hutchinson to be the choice of a large majority of the Whige of our county, I do therefore ask Mr. White to strike my name from said paper.

This is to certify, that I was duly elected a delegate to the Whig Convention, held at Ebensburg on the 12th day of July, last. That I attended said Convention, and went as the particular friend of E. Hutchinson, Esq., and after said Convention had been duly and regularly organized we proceeded to ballot for Senator; and on the first ballot, E. Hutchinson, jr. had a clear majority of all the votes in Convention, which was full and his conferces had some 24 votes, each, which was 1 est vote.

And further that Mr. Whits, who was a candidate for Senator, and a delegate by substitution, in said Convention, called on me about the 27th of July last, and said, that it was now understood, that he and Mr. King and Mr. Hutchinson were to go into conference on equal terms; and, upon his assurance that such was the case, and without consulting any of our Whig Friends, I signed a paper which has since been made public. I now find the matter was mis-stated to me, and that the tendency of said paper was to place Mr. Hutchinson on equal footing with Messers. White and King; and knowing that Mr. Hutchinson on equal footing with Messers. White and King; and knowing that Mr. Hutchinson on equal footing with Messers. White and King; and knowing that Mr. Hutchinson on equal footing with Messers. White and King; and knowing that Mr. Hutchinson on equal footing with Messers. White was the nadout-ed choice of the Whig party in this county, he having without effort, carried every Whig district in the county, except Connemaugh, which voted for Mr. King—I hereby wish my name to be stricken from said paper, as I shall at all times, stand up for the proceedings of our County Convention, and for Mr. Hutchinson as the chice of said Convention.

And, now I say, once for all, that I regret that any set of men, professing to be Whigs, should have so far decived me; and whose instrudent was some of the converse of the converse of the converse of the men of the converse of the men of the convert

I was a delegate to the Whig Convention which met at Ebensburg, July 12, 1853. Mr. Reynolds and I were elected as Hutchinson delegates, and on Friday the 29th day of July, Mr. Robert B. Gageby came to my house; but, not finding me in the house, came down to the meadow, and asked me to sign a paper, to he laid before the conferrees that are to meet at Hollidaysburg, to nominate a candidate for State Senator, I refused signing it. He told me the same thing about it he told Mr. Reynolds. He went to Mr. Reynolds after he had seen me

CHINESE LANGUAGE.— Who would have thought sixty years ago that the laws of one of the States of the Union would have to be published in English and Chinese, for general circulation? Yet so it is. The minth section of an act passed by the California Legislature, for the collection of foreign miner's tax, has to be printed in the Chinese language, for the information of more than 30,000 Chinese in the new State. Tong'k Achich, a Chinaman, certifies that the translation is "faithful and good."

Both The Monongahela (Pa.) Republican says that there is yet living, near Cookstown, a slave of Gen. Washington s. He is 124 years of age, and oan walk six sailes in a day. He is so old that his fingers and toes are nearly white. He belonged to Washington when he owned what is now kinewm as Washington is Bottom, on which Pervopelis now stands. The estate of Col. Cook was and still its bound for his living. He is to be taken to the world's Fair, for exhibition, if arrangements can be made.

At a public meeting of the Whige of esolutions were offered and unanimously resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted;

Resolved, That the principles of the Whig party are well known to the world, that the prosperity and happiness of our country give the most cloquent expression to their efficacy and truth, and that, sithough they may for a while be overwhelmed by the strong current of fraud and deception practised by the Locofoco party, yet they will eventually rise into a proud and commanding position, and become the political "fact Book" of the statesmen of the United States.

Resolved, That the Whig party, though defeated, is not conquered, and that we will adopt as a party that noble motto which as mere we should all adopt—"solving is impossible to him that wills."

Resolved, That the corruption and mismanagement that are so rife in our State administration, loudly call upon all the lovers of the honor and prosperity of Pennsylvania, for reform, and will stimulate us with unting zeal for the election of a good Whig and an honest man to the Executive chair in 1824.

Besolved, That we have entire confidence in the candidates nominated by the Whig Convention at Lancaster, for the offices of Canal Commissioner, Surveyor General, and Aut for General, and with them for our "Standard Beavers" in the comming contest, we fear not trenchery or no foe.

Resolved, That we will give our cordial and hearty support to Col. A. K. McClure, the present able editor of the Repository and Whig, for the offices of Auditor General—that we call upon all the young preciate lim at home.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the uncorditional sale of the Public Works, believing that they are prostituted to the basest purposes, and their revenue squandered by our profigate officers. With a dobt of Forty-free Millions, which was incurred mainly for his construction of our public improvements, and with our resenue destroyed by official villaliny, we think that the time has come for the people to demand that they be sold without farther delay, in order that our crashing debt may be diminished.

The Yellow Fever in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—The yellow fever shown as high of an abatement in its ravages. On the contrary, it is increasing every hour.—Hundreds are leaving the city daily, while those who remain are panie-stricken, and powerless to afford rollef to the sufferers.

The official report of deaths during the week ending on Friday, the 5th inst., published in the Picayune, exhibits the frightful number of ten hundred and fifty, of which, eight hundred and seventy-nine were of yellow fever. This is an increase over the report of the previous and seventy-nine were of yellow fever in all two hundred and thirty-eight deaths, of which one hundred and ninety-four were of yellow fever.

The total number of deaths from yellow fever alone, for eight days ending yesterday, was one thousand and seventy-three.

The total number of deaths from yellow fever alone, for eight days ending yesterday, was one thousand and seventy-three.

The clash during the present week will, from appearances, much exceed one thousand from yellow fever alone.

The lighest number of deaths during the epidemic of 1947, was but eighty-seven, making the present number of deaths, an increase of three per cent.

The city wears a truly desolate appearance. The Yellow Fever in New Orleans,

The city wears a truly desolate appearance. Without a Shilling.—The Washington Evening Star relates the following incident 1:—"Not long since the President in an afternoon ride, with his estimable lady and a femals friend, was brought up by the gate on the Columbia turapike, on the opposite side of the Petomac. His conchman searched his peckets in vain for the requisite shilling. The President searched his. But alas not a solitary shilling was there among them! The toll-gatherer, who is at times annoyed by the pranks of 'fast' folks passing his gate on their way to the trotting course without 'holding up' to pay toll, began to think of closing the bar upon the carriage, when the driver informed him that the gentleman inside was the President of the United States, and the gentleman inside made it all right by promising to pay the shilling the next time he should venture to ride on the Virginia side."

POTATO ROT IN CONNECTICUT.—The Norfolk (Conn.) Courier says that a farmer of the neighboring town of Franklin had a four acro lot of silver lake potatoes, which, upon trial ten or twelve days ago, proved to be of fine size and excellent quality. He confidently calculated upon the crop bringing $400 in the market.
But going into the field a week after to dig some of these potatoes, he found that nearly every potato was already destroyed. He did not consider the field worth digging over.—
The protracted wet weather is supposed to be very injurious to this crop. very injurious to this crop.

The census takers were required to give an account of the churches, halls, chapels, etc., belonging to all denominations. From the report it appears that there are thirty-six thousand and eleven churches in the several States, and two hundred and ten in the District of Columbia and the Territories. The total value of church property in the United States is put down at $86,416,639, of which one half is owned in Now York, one-half is owned in New York, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania. There is one church for every five hundred and fifty-seven free inhabi-tants, or for every six hundred and forty-six of the entire population. The average num the church dred and eighty-four, and the average value, $2,400.

A LIKELY PROPHECY .-- A Whig cotemporary has revived the following, which first appear-ed some six months since in the Pittsburg

Journal:

"In the language, therefore, of a knowing locofoco member of the Legislature from old Berks, we believe "if we bass de bill for desalte of the bublic works, and de Maine Liquor law, de Democratic barty would go to de

PERMISSION TO WEAR BEARDS IN THE NAVY. TERMISSION TO WEAR DEADOR IS THE STREET OF THE POTTSMOUTH (Va.) Transcript states that Secretary Dabbin has granted permission to those connected with the Navy to wear their beards. Orders to that effect were received beards. Orders to that effect were received and promulgated among those at the Norfolk station on Tuesday. The beard may be worn at the pleasure of the individual, but must be kept short and neatly trimmed. Those who have beards will doubtless feel grateful to the Secretary for the permission thus granted.
