

The Pacific Railroad.

We are credibly informed that Mr. Henry B. St. John, of this State, has become connected with Messrs. Walker, Chatfield & Ashmun's moonshine project for making money in Pacific Railroad stock.

The New York Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company exists in existence in great part by Mr. LEVY S. CHATFIELD, its President, who has its name illustrious.

Mr. Chatfield being a Jeffersonian democrat, was naturally led to adorn his charter with a democratic clause rendering all each of the stockholders personally liable for the debts of the company.

Mr. Chatfield is a man of great energy and ability, and it is not likely that the Company will ever owe any debts to any body, since heavy capitalists like Mr. R. J. Walker have come forward and subscribed ten millions apiece, whereby the Directors will have lots of cash at command and can fulfill John Randolph's motto of "I pay you first."

Another objectionable feature of this charter is, that like Aaron's rod, it swallows all others that may be granted by other States, and excludes Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and California from any share in the management of an enterprise which has so many millions of capital at its disposal.

The line of this splendid speculation is ingeniously devised. It begins at St. Louis, in order to secure the support of Western men, and head of Col. Benton; it runs down through Arkansas to Marshall, in Texas, and thence West to El Paso, and thence to the Pacific coast of the State of California.

The Shirleyburg Female Seminary. THE Trustees of said Seminary having fully tested the system of managing and carrying on an institution of the kind on the joint stock principle, and finding it to be inefficient and believing, moreover, that in the hands, and under the control of one individual, matters of this kind are managed with more facility, and to much greater advantage, do therefore offer at private sale the said Seminary, together with the appurtenances thereto belonging to be used for the sole purpose of carrying on a Seminary of learning for young ladies, and for no other purpose whatever.

The buildings are new and in good taste, and are situated on a beautiful and commanding eminence, affording an extensive view of the surrounding country.
