

A Flucky Sheriff.
On Friday last, Sheriff Hoffinger, of Chester County, proceeded to Baltimore with a requisition from Governor Bigler, for Solano, the prize fighter, who had previously been arrested in that city. They traveled on the cars and when they arrived at Havre De Grace, the prisoner asked to be unironed. The Sheriff complied with his request, as the cars were going at a very rapid rate. When about three miles from Havre De Grace, the "gentleman"—undoubtedly an accomplice—cut the bell rope that ran through the cars, stepped to the door and threw it open. Solano evidently knew this man and the movement, for he sprung to the door the instant it was opened. The Sheriff sprang after him, but a man sitting by the door had nearly closed it before he could reach it.

He, however, was on the platform in an instant, but only to see his prisoner spring from the cars, while they were running at the rate of from twenty-five to thirty miles an hour. He saw him strike the ground, and fall on his side like a ball. In an instant the Sheriff followed, striking upon his face, and cutting his lip. He arose and found that his upper lip was the only wound of consequence. His prisoner had gathered himself up and started for a run, evidently crippled by his fall. The Sheriff followed and gained on the culprit, calling upon him to surrender, who seeing he was about to be overtaken, turned and squared himself for a fight. The Sheriff drew his revolver and attempted to fire, but fortunately for the prisoner it missed. He was about to try another, when the pugilist surrendered and begged for quarter.

The Sheriff held the pistol to his breast and told him to hold out his hands for the irons, which he submissively did. After securing him, the Sheriff put his prisoner before him and started towards the city on foot. At the next station, the Sheriff was joined by a man of whom he had heard nothing, but who was informed of the circumstances, and was persuaded to run back, expecting to find the Sheriff and prisoner both dead, or badly injured. Instead of this, they were found on the rail, the victor marching his prisoner before him. They were taken on board and brought to West Chester.

CELEBRATED ARABIAN LINIMENT.
It is well known to possess the most wonderful healing, penetrating, and stimulating properties, and by its promptness in effecting cures, which previously had resisted all other medicines, administered by the most scientific physicians, has placed it far beyond any similar remedy ever introduced to the people of the United States. It stimulates the system, increases activity, and thus enables nature to throw off disease—it penetrates the bones, and is powerfully anodyne and thereby allays nervous irritation, producing a delightful pleasurable sensation throughout the system. Its remarkable anæsthetic properties, it purifies and neutralizes that poisonous, corrosive principle which renders old ulcers so difficult to heal; it is peculiarly adapted to their speedy cure. This Liniment from its penetrating and strengthening qualities has been found to be a specific for Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, Lameness, Stiff Joints, Sore Throat, Galls, Hardened Knots on the Neck, &c.
