Austria Raising a Great Army, Another Insurrection in Western

New York, March 28.—The Royal Mail Steamer Africa arrived at this port this morn-ing, after a passage of nearly seventeen days from Liverpool. Her advices are three days later than those brought by the Pacific. The War News,

The War News.

The news from the seat of war presents no remarkable features.

The report of the capture of Kalafat, which was trumped up by a portion of the press, is not sustained by these advices.

The rumor that new propositions for peace I had been made by the Emperor of Russia, is confirmed.

Hostilities between the Turks and Russians have been suspended throughout Asia.

Prince Paskiewitch has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Russian forces on the Danube.

Seyen Turkish steered.

mander-in-chief of the Russian forces on the Danube.

Seven Turkish steamers have gone to Egypt to fetch 10,000 troops for Albania.

The Greek insurrection has again broken out with much violence.

An insurrection has been discovered in Western Turkey, and a draft of a convention has been framed for securing the future position of Christians in that countrys.

There were but few Russian soldiers, at the last accounts, before Kalafat. They were marching towards Schayl.

The Turks had not gone beyond the fortifications of Kalafat.

marching towards Schayl.

The Turks had not gone beyond the fortifications of Kalafat.

The Turks have been beaten in several encounters with the Greek insurgents.

In France the preparations for war continue on the grandest scale.

Austria, too, is forming an immense army.

England has her fleets in readiness, and the people manifest the greatest eagerness to settle the question with the sword.

The first division, consisting of fourteen British ships, under Admiral Charles Napier, sailed from Portsmouth, on Friday, for the Baltic, It was reported that 3000 British troops would be sent to the Baltic, for land service. The 7th Regiment embarked at Liverpool, on Friday, for Turkey.

The Emperor of Russia, with his family, had left St. Petersburg for Warsaw, where the Czar hopes to exercise his influence more effectually against Prussia and Justria.

At the commencement of this week the Czar sent what purported to be proposals of peace, to Vienna; the reception of which at first gaverise to hopes of an accommodation. When, however, the proposals came to be examined, it was found that they contained all the, inadmissable demands of previous Russian projects.

names, and that it cannot, therefore, be entertained.

The messenger conveying the summons of France and England to the Czar requiring him to withdraw his troops from Turkey within a specified period, left Vienna on Tuesday. Neither the Austrian or Prussian Government has joined the Western Powers in this act. Austria is still exclusively intent on securing the tranquility of the Selaves on both sides of the Danube. This is the leading idea of an official document published in Vienna on Tuesday, in which the demands made by France and England on Russia are characterized as thoroughjust, and in accordance with the interests of Europe. It is then said that to the last, that is, until now, Austria has done its duty to Europe, and immediately following it is said, that now the sole duty of the Austrian Government is to maintain the interests of the monarchy.

Later from the Seat of War.

A despatch dated Vienna, March Sth, says.

Reports are current that the De-

A despatch dated Vienna, March 8th, says: Reports are current that the Russians are withdrawing from Kalafat. We learn from Vienna that an army will be formed in Meravia with the left wing at Trop-pau, and the right at Cracow, and a reserved of omitz.

The same despatch informs us that there are but a few thousand men before Kalafat, and that the Russians are marching towards the Schyl. The Turks have not gone beyond the fortifications at Kalafat,

The Archduke Albert will be commander inchief of the Austrian corps on the south-eastern frontier.

Austrian consular reports from Tabris, in the beginning of January make no mention either of the fall of Khiva, or of the alliance between Russia, Cabut, Khiva, and Bokhara. The latest letters from Constantinople state that the Ottoman government has at last given the necessary authority for the formation of foreign legons. At the present moment Gen. Wysocki is organizing a Polish legion at Constantinople of 2000 men.

stantinople of 2000 men.

The Greek Insurrection.

A telegraph despatch, dated Vienna, Tursday evening, says—"Despatches brought by the Turkish and English messengers, who arrived here to-day, from Constantinople, are said to contain the notification of an insurrection in Western Turkey, with the cause of the same, and the draught of a convention for securing the future position of the Christians in Turkey. The Oest Corresponders states that fortifications are to be formed at Gallipoli, under the superintendence of English engineers.

"The citadel of Arta has a garrison of 2000 Albanians, with provisions and ammunition in plenty. Strong reinforcements are arriving in epirus. 5000 men under Zimel Pacha will enter Albania. Seven steamers has gone to Egypt to fetch 10,000 trops for Albanian. An English steamer has gone to Prevesa, and a French one to Volo. A French and English schoners were in the Pirensu. The Wasp has followed the other two steamers from Corfu, and the frigate has gone to Prevesa.

For the Journal. Lines on the death of John Long.

He's gone! ah mournful is the thought, Life's vivid scenes are o'er; And soon—too soon his name's forgot, It echoes back no more.

He loved to chant the merry notes Of harmony and love; But now he sings in nobler strains With angel choirs above.

"Ah mother, why that mournful tear?
Weep not," he cried, "for me,
Let songs of joy your voice engage.

I would not linger here below, In Heaven are spirits fair; To that bright world o' bliss I go, Prepare to meet me ti.ere."

A change—a breach—how sad we feel, Our brightest hopes are wrecked; Will such a change our fates reveal? Oh! leave me to reflect.

In the "Sun Pain" for the last ten years, and could never get relief except by bleeding; but by the use of H. G. Farrett's Arabian Liniment, applied over the temples about three'or four times a day, it was entirely removed, and I have felt nothing of it since. I went into the stable one night, to apply it to a horse's sore leg, and being very lame he stumbled and fell against my legs, crushing and bruising them so badly that they turned black as my hat, rendering them powerless. I applied your Liniment, and was well enough in a few days to go about again as usual. I also crushed my finger in a shocking manner, by letting a back log fall upon ity your Liniment soon healed it up, though.

La Salle precinct, Peoria co., Ill., Feb, 6, '49.

[Esq. Barker, of New Cration, Ill., says:]
Mr. H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment has cured some bad cases here, which every other remedy had failed in; one was a white swelling and contracted cords in the leg of a boy twelve years old. The leg had withered away, and was so contracted that he had no nese of it.—
Three doctors had tried their skill upon it in vain, and he was first sinking to the grave, when the boy's father was induced to try H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment. Before the first bottle was used up he came to Mr. B.'s store, and the first words he said were, "Mr. Barker, I want all that Liniment you have in the store; the one bottle I got did my boy more good than all that I all ever been done hefore." That boy is now well and hearty, and has free use of his legs. It is good for sprains, bruises, cuts, burns and swellings.

Look out for Counterfeits!

The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W. B. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits, because his having the name of Farrell, many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

The genuine article is manufectured only by H. G. Farrell, sole inventor and proprietor, and wholosaled arruggist, No. 17 Main street, Peoria, Illinois, to whom all applications for Agencies must be addressed. Be sure you get it with the letters H. G. before Farrell's, thus—H, G. FARRELL'S—and his signature on the wrapper, all others are counterfeits.
