BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

Where may be obtained the most speedy remedy for SECRET DISEASES.—Gleets, Strictures, Seminal Weakness, Pain in the Loins, Affections of the Kidneys, and all those peculiar affections arising from a secret habit, particularly the youth of both sexes, who are afflicted with constitutional debility, rendering marriage impossible, and in the end destroys both Mind and Body. Young Men, especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, and are afflicted with a destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered lustrous senates with the thunders of eloquence, or taken to occupy the living lyres, may call with full confidence. Married Persons, or those contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, should immediately consult Dr. J., and be free of all disease.

Dr. Johnston.

office No. 7 South Frederick St., seven doors from Baltimore Street, east side up the steps. Be particular in obtaining the name and number, or you will mistake a habit frequently learned from a cure warranted, or no charge made, in from one to two days.

His very extensive practice is in the city of Baltimore, and he is the only proprietor of the Baltimore Dispensary, and he is the only proprietor of the Baltimore Dispensary, and he is the only proprietor of the Baltimore Dispensary.

Dr. Johnston, member of the Royal College of Surgeons.

London, graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospital of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known, many troubled with rigidity in the ears and head when aged, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and habitually, with frequent blushing attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A CERTAIN DISEASE.—It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this horrid disease, and to the ignominious and painful death, who by the use of this deadly poison, Mercury, ruin the Constitution, causing the most serious symptoms of that dreadful disease, to make their appearance, such as affections of the head, nose, throat, skin, &c., progressing with frightful rapidity till death puts a period to their dreadful suffering, by sending them to that Bourne without a traveler returns.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—Young men who have injured themselves by a certain practice indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature and indulging in a certain secret habit.

The Celebrated Prize Cure for Fever and Ague, by B. P. MASTIN.

This Remedy is purely vegetable, without any portion of opium, narcotics, or mineral ingredient whatever in its composition. The contents of a single Bottle is sufficient to cure the most obstinate case in a single day. It strengthens the stomach, invigorates the liver, and restores the system to its usual healthy state—in fact, it entirely prevents that languor and prostration of strength which always attends this disease, and is confidently recommended to all who have tried, in vain, other preparations.

Money making is the order of the day, and it is with this object that medicines are prepared for the cure of diseases which mankind are subject to. It is the same with the baker and butcher, the manufacturer, mechanic, &c., and it is with this view that the inventor has endeavored to think of a simple and safe remedy, and to prepare in convenient form, suitable remedies for the afflicted. An individual, under a distressing and torturing attack of Chills and Fever, is not in a right condition to study the nature of the disease, and it is more sensible and natural that he should look to others, than to depend upon his own prostrated energies for the antidote. For an appropriate and valuable remedy, therefore, it is fully to be expected, because it is another's interest to dispose of it. To the invalid the important consideration is simply this, "Will I be benefited by the purchase of the article offered?"

The invalid should inquire into the testimony presented to establish the merit of the testimony should be carefully investigated, and just so much credit given to it, and no more, than it deserves. If of a personal character, we should look to the respectability of the witnesses, and the opportunity which they had for a personal observation of the facts, and the probable impartiality, and consequent truthfulness, of their statements. Corroborating statements of a number of respectable witnesses to the truth of any fact, may amount to irrefragable evidence.

I am well satisfied that the Magnetic Lightning Rod, manufactured by Mr. Thomas Armitage, of Philadelphia, is the best that has ever been invented for the protection of buildings.

I have spent several years in the study of the laws of electricity and magnetism, and have no hesitation in saying that these Rods are constructed upon the only principle of safety. The electric fluid, instead of being attracted to the top of the rod, and it would be impossible, according to the laws of attraction and repulsion, for a building to be injured by a stroke of lightning when protected by one of these rods. I have been testing them for several years, and before the commencement of the manufacture of these rods I examined the principle on which they are constructed, and felt convinced that their adoption would be attended with complete success, in protecting buildings from lightning, and the extensive demand for these rods, and the extensive sale of them in this country, is ample commendation of their utility and superiority.

TRACY E. WALLER, M. D., Rising Star, Phila., &c., April 10, 1852.

The following extract from an editorial in the Germantown Telegraph, edited by Major FIKES—

"The bogus rod placed upon our dwelling when lightning struck, and another erected by Mr. Armitage, in the same building, and the attention of our farmers and readers generally. It is put up on true scientific principles, and is a rod that has been approved by the highest authority, and will bear the most thorough examination. Those who have tried the other rods, should be made no time in having a proper protection against lightning, substituted. The cost is a mere bagatelle when compared with the entire safety of our houses and barns against this destructive element. Mr. Armitage's rods are the only rods, as found in the columns of this paper; and we feel as though we were performing an imperious duty to the community, by thus inviting to it general attention."
