The definite and indefinite appropriations for the current year will amount to $70,000.000. The sum will be swelled to seventy three millions of dollars by appropriations to be made next session, for omissions during the last. This amount exceeds, by 30,000.000, the total ex-penditures during the last facel year of Mr. Fillmore's term. It will entirely absorb the curromous revenee of the last year, which was admitted by both parties to have been an in-tolerable public burden. There have been one hundred and seventy new offices created, the aggregate salaries of which amount to $177,000 To these may be added an indefinite numbers.
