The Mailer of Ministerial Crisis.

Lord Palmerston's Cabinet has already fallen to pieces, owing, as was given out, to the sassage of Mr. Roebuck's resolution of inquiry but many attribute it to private personal squabbles among the different members. Sir James Graham, First Lord of the Admirative the Ministerial Crisis was a steamship off the Skerries at 1 o'clock, P, M. on the 27th, supposed to be dead to compare the sassage of Mr. Roebuck's resolution of inquiry but many attribute it to private personal squabbles among the different members. Sir James Graham, First Lord of the Admirative Mr. Laddone, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Mr. Sidney Herbert, Home Secretary, all resigned their offices.

NEW HAMPSHIRE AMERICANIZED.

Pierce Repudiated at Home!--The "Allies" Overthrown!--Political Romanism Crushed out!--The Nebraska Conspirators Rebuked.

The New Hampshire election proves to have been a clean sweep for the American party.—Full returns from one hundred and eight nine towns show the following vote for Governor:—Metcalf, American, 29,795; Baker, Democrat, 23,700; Bull, Whigz, £82; Fowler, Free Soil, 1,013 The Democrats concede Metcalf's election by about three thousand majority. The opponents of the Administration have probably elected all their Congressmen—four of the five Councillors—ten of the twelve State Senators and as far as heard from two hundred and fifty three representatives. The Legislature will be largely American, giving that party the election of two United States Senators and as far as heard from two hundred and fifty three representatives. The Legislature will be largely American, giving that party the election of two United States Senator? This is one of the most brilliant and important triumphs "SaM" has yet achieved. He has carried the war into the midst of the enemy's camp, and whipped them on their own ground. This defect in New Hampshire will be the most mortifying to President Pience of any that has been visited upon his corrupt administration since his accession to the Presidency. In view of the humiliating result, the editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin may well ask, "why don't Pience resign?" In the whole history of this country, no President has ever been so universally despised, and so unanimously and emphatically condemned and repudiated by the people! State after State has recorded it werdict against him,—and now, even New Hampshire, his native State—heretofree from as her granite hills, and to be relied upon by the Democracy in every emergancy—condemns, and deserts him! And why? The same causes that led to a revolution in other States, contributed to Pience's defeat in New Hampshire, his native State here State has recorded its verdict against him,—and now, even New Hampshire, his native State—contributed to Pience's defeat in New Hampshire, his native State.

Mr. EDITOR:
Winter with its mows and storms, its pleasures and sorrows, has passed from us, and the merry jingling of the sleigh bells no longer greets the ear and gladdens the heart of the denizen of this great metropolis. The snow has gone through its usual course of existence, and now not a vestige of it is to be seen on Manhattan Isle. It came in our midst fresh, pure, and white bat it had been with us but a few short hours when its beauty had passed away, and in its place a dark fine sand was everywhere to be seen; then came rain, and soon cakes of ice covered the streets of Gotham. Finally, thick mud was all that was elfe of the fair white mantle that fell from the starry skies, and this has been carted away by industrious Hibernians to that place (wherever it may, where all corporation dirt goes. The ice, too, which has kept our Sound Steamers imprisoned for a week, and clogged up the wheels of our ferry boats all winter long, has vanished, and not a vestige remains to remind us of its beautiful but troublesome presence.

A NEW CATHOLIC CATHEBRAL.

vanished, aid not a vestige remains to remnia as of its beautiful but troublesome presence.

A NEW CATIOLIC CATHEBALI.

There is a rumor in circulation, that arrangements are being made to build, in this city, a grand Catholic Cathedral, which for size and magnificence is to surpass any now in the country, and in its construction te be somewhat similar to the one at Munich. Your readers will probably remember that Archbishop Hughes, some months ago, sailed for England, on his way to Rome, and it has now leaked out that part of his business was to see about the establishment of this Cathedral. It is said that if a sufficient sum cannot be immediately rai sed in this countay, the Pope is to lend a helping hand and anply the deficiency, so that the edifice may be commenced early next fall—His Holiness seems determined to take care of his flock in this rebellious city, in spite of the Know Nothings.

There has lately been a very interesting case on trial in the Superior Court of this city. Dr. Judson was formerly a missionary to Burmah, and married the lady who was for many years knawn as "Fanny Forrester." About four years ago he died, leaving seven children, four by two former wives, and three by this lady. Soon after his death she returned to this country with her children, but with no property to support them. Her friends procured the services of President Wayland, of Brown University, to write a life of the late Dr. Judson, which he did, and they gave the copyright to Mrs. Judson. Shortly after this book was published, a Mr. Pletcher announced that he also had a life af Pr. Judson preparing, smaller and cheaper than the first.

Mr. Norton, editor of Norton's Literary Gazette, inserted in his paper a short article censuring him for publishing this abridgement, as it would injure the sale of the other work and it would injure the sale of the other work and take so much bread out of the mouths of the widow and her children.

For this offence Mr. Fletcher sued Mr. Norton, but on trial of the case, failed to recover damages, the Jury thinking the article no libel and rendering a verdict for the defendant.—The trial was, however, a very interesting one and lasted over two days, during which time the Court-onn was filled to overflowing.

On Wednesday last all the Courts adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Hon. Justice Edwards, of the Supreme Court, who died on the Tuesday previous. Mr. Henry P. Edwards has been one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, who died on the Tuesday previous. Mr. Henry P. Edwards has been one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, who will not work in a study the superior whom the investigation was conducted, "elly vears. He was the youngest judge in point of yeas, but the oldest in commission.—His death is deeply felt; and as Hon. Justice Edwards, of the Augest has been released on habeas corpus. One of the charges against them was, that the would not work in their own co through various channels from this one opulent source of corruption. Then, too, the fact every where stands out that this is no job of mere party plunder. Everybody is in it. Upon Whigs, Democrats, Free Soilers, Old Fogies, Young America, the tempting mint-drops rain. It is money to the luxurious, porridge to the fasting, clothing to the naked, soup to the familishing.—Everybody's dish is right side up, and carried high in air, with outstretched hands, so that in the general shower of golden opportunities nothing may be lost.—N. The feeling in Russia.

The feeling in Russia.

An American cerrespondant of the Pough keepsie Journal writes from St. Petersburgh:

"As to soldiers, there are thousands upon thousands, by spring there will be one million five hundred thousand ready for service. The war as far as Russia is concerned, will never end until Russia succeeds. The people are evarm for the Emperor, and he will never give up. He has no trouble in procuring soldiers; indeed, he has to select from thousands that offer. More offer their servises than he at present needs, and he, en easily add another million, if necessary. The Church feels a deep interest in this war of religion. The feeling of religion is at the bottom of it. I am sure of these facts. All the gold from the interior, and every dollar owned by the people will be sacrificed ere they give up. Such is their enthusiasm. These, you may be sure, are facts."
