

General News.

The "Shorter Chateaucism." The editors of the Journal insinuate that somebody has been robbing the mails; will they name the person?—Duck and Lewis, of the Globe.

Well, will this do: "Postmaster at Coffee Run: You will give Mr. — all printed matter lying at your office for the offices beyond it."

How can Protestant democrats support a paper like the Globe. Owned, controlled and guided by bitter-hearted Catholics. How can they? That is the question. It is not consistent.

What has become of the Phil. Bulletin, Saturday Mail, & Porter's Spirit? We can't do without them, gents, so please send them on.

The Wheat Crop.—We see by the record that Pennsylvania is our greatest wheat State, and estimated to raise this year 18,250,000 bushels; Ohio is next, raising 16,800,000; New York is next, raising 16,200,000; Illinois next, raising 14,600,000; Wisconsin, 14,000,000; and Virginia raises 12,500,000.

In 1861, the transit of Venus takes place. By the transit of Venus is meant what is generally understood by an eclipse. The planet Venus will pass directly between the earth and sun, during the day, and the darkness caused by it will make light necessary in the houses. The transit happens only once in a century.

The Albany Evening Journal shows, from the canvass in most of the counties in New York, that the Democrats and Fillmore men coalesced on Congress and Assembly in at least half the State. In many cases the union was complete, all found on the local candidates. But in about every instance, these coalitions were defeated.

Another of the Bets.—At Chicago a most singular bet was made upon the presidential election by a German, who bet his house, lot and wife and baby, that Fremont would be elected. After hearing the result, he took his goods, wife and child and made a tender of all in good faith. But his friend, having one wife and five children, refused to increase his stock in that way, and therefore declined to take the poor man's family and property, but gave him a piece of advice, took a drink of beer, and they parted good friends.

Communication. MESSRS. EDITORS.—I see by the late Locofoco papers that the ship "Disunion," (anti-slavery) has sailed for Kansas, with several important characters on board. I hope they may have a safe trip and finally accomplish their purpose. There is also another vessel of some import to sail shortly, which is the "Slaveocracy" and has been plying between Greycroft and Kansas for some time, under Capt. Frank Pierce, but was compelled lately to put in at Washington, in almost a sinking condition, after having lost many of her passengers and crew, on account of the severe gales which she encountered on the 4th of November, from the North, East and West. But the company with an enterprise worthy the cause, are refitting, remaining and applying steam to her, and are determined to have her ready for sea again by the 4th of March next, when she will leave for Pandemonium. The company have procured the services of the experienced James Buchanan as Commander, Bully Brooks first Lieut., Davy Atchison, second do, Uncle Butler, Grand Vizier, Judge Lecompte Chief Immolator, J. W. George Assistant, Cooks Douglas and Tombs, Steward, Forney, Sentinel, Bigler, Scullions, Pratt, Pearce, Clay and Chontz; who the Chaplain will be has not yet transpired, as there are a great number of applicants. I presume, however, some of the kers of your town will stand a good chance. The "Constitution and Union" will be safely packed down in the hold and well salted with niggers—the only salt as you know that will preserve them—so that there need be no fear of their spoiling.

All aboard the "Slaveocracy" will sail as per advertisement, viz: Cuba, Central America, Mexico, &c., and touching at each, will proceed with full speed to her destination. The officers and crew will consist entirely of dough-faces, fire-eaters, and niggers: "Small-fisted farmers, greasy mechanics and filthy operatives" discarded. There will also be a series of amusements given daily for the gratification of the passengers, such as, robbing, murdering, scalping and ravishing Free State men and women, &c., &c. All good Democrats will be expected to kill at least one Abolitionist to prove their fidelity to their party.

Judge Lecompte will also give an occasional exhibition of his Court, which is considered by good judges as one of the best barleques on a Court of Justice ever presented.

FACTS. Aughwick Mills, Dec. 18th, '56.

DEATH OF AN OLD PENNSYLVANIA.—Jacob Haldeman, Esq., one of the oldest citizens of Harrisburg, died very suddenly on Tuesday evening last. He was reading a letter to his son, and seemed in good health, when his articulation ceased, his head fell forward, and before his son reached him he was dead. At the time of his death he was President of the Harrisburg Bank, and also of the Harrisburg Bridge Company. He was considered one of the wealthiest men in the State.

A few nights ago, a negro man at Manchester, Ohio, forced himself into the house of Mr. Morris, (who was absent) and perpetrated an outrage on his wife. The next morning an incensed crowd assembled, and subsequently seized the negro by force, after he had been committed to jail, took him out, and hung him upon a limb of a tree 25 feet high.

Some friend has written a letter from Charleston, S. C., to the editor of the New York Herald, informing him, that if, either he or the editor of the Tribune should appear in Washington this winter, they will be murdered.

The Railroad Collision at Alliance—Eight Lives Lost.

Pittsburg, Dec. 9. About half-past 7 o'clock last evening, the Cleveland and Pittsburg train ran through the Alliance, smashing two cars of the latter train. One of the cars was thrown into the rotunda of the station, and the other through the public room which constitutes part of Sowerbeck's hotel, in which several persons were sitting. The rotunda and sitting room were both torn down killing eight and wounding a number of persons.

Most of the killed and wounded were not on the cars, but were sitting in the public room when the accident occurred. The train which left Pittsburg at 5 p. m. yesterday, arrived at Alliance behind time. The passengers had just got through their supper, and the train had barely started and got across the track of the Junction when the Cleveland train came dashing along, and before headway could be stopped, the collision occurred.

Sowerbeck's rotunda, into which the car went, presents the appearance of a total wreck. It is said the engineer of the Cleveland and Pittsburg train has absconded.

SECOND DISPATCH. PITTSBURG, Dec. 9. The verdict of the Coroner's jury in the case of the terrible accident of last night, has not yet transpired. Several witnesses were examined, who testified that the Cleveland train ran into the train at a fearful rate of speed, at least 35 miles an hour. The conductor of the Fort Wayne train supposed he would be checked in time, according to the rules of the road, but the train seemed to increase its speed as it came forward, without sounding whistle or bell, and the collision occurred, causing a fearful wreck.

None of the passengers on the Fort Wayne train were killed and but three wounded. All the wounded are doing well. Mr. Brooks, of New Jersey, was to have been married to a lady in the neighborhood of Alliance, named Ware. The accident has caused great excitement. The engineer and fireman of the Cleveland train fled to the woods to escape the fury of the people.

Not All Rascals. The Richmond Enquirer, in an editorial commenting on an article in the Edinburgh Review upon political parties in the United States, takes occasion to express its own opinion upon several aspects of the question. It thus acknowledges an error into which it fell during the late canvass:

During the canvass we often spoke in very round terms of the universal moral and political, social and religious skepticism of the Black Republicans. We asserted the party to be a mere congeries of isms. We were sincere in our assertions. We are now undeceived. We respect Americans too much North and South to believe for a moment that a party so large as that which voted for Mr. Fremont is composed wholly, or indeed chiefly, of fanatics, infidels, or skeptics. We have to look out for other causes for this national movement. We find a clue to them in the article on which we are commenting. The North believes the South is arduous overbearing and aggressive. The North is mistaken, but sincere. The change of opinion, and policy about slavery, if more marked at the South, than elsewhere, has been universal, and it is to this change of public opinion through-out the country that we owe the new policy of our Government.

Slave Excitement in Tennessee. LOUISVILLE, Dec. 9. The Journal of to-day publishes letters from Franklin, Tennessee, stating that great excitement existed there in consequence of the discovery on the 1st inst. of a projected insurrection among the slaves. Twenty-four muskets belonging to the late Louisianian were in possession of a gang of negroes at Columbia, Tennessee.

In Prey ten or fifteen negroes had been killed by their owners. The Evansville Journal, of the 6th, learns that much excitement existed in the neighborhood of Dover, on the Cumberland river. Many of the ringleaders had been arrested, and seven hung. One white man, found disguised as a negro, had been sentenced to receive 900 lashes, and died before the penalty was fully inflicted.

The whites were arming and organizing for defence. The opinion prevailed that a general uprising would take place during the holidays. The escapes of slaves are unusually numerous.

The Negro Insurrection.—We were shown a letter yesterday from Lafayette, which states that six negroes were to be hung there on the 1st inst. The letter was written. The Nashville Gazette, of Wednesday has the following:

A gentleman just arrived from Gallatin informs us that four male negroes are to be hung at that place to-day, on account of their connection with slave revolt. A good many are in custody, there awaiting examination. It is to be hoped that no violence will be done to any unless their guilt is clearly proven.—Louisville Journal.

Negroes Arrested.—We learn that a plot formed among discontented negroes, for a movement against their masters, was discovered during the first of this week, in the vicinity of Williamsburg, Va. Five of the ringleaders have been arrested, and an end put to the attempt at revolt. A similar occurrence we hear took place in Montour county.—Richmond Dispatch Dec. 12.

The case of Dred Scott, now being argued before the Supreme Court at Washington, and referred to in our telegraphic dispatches this morning, involves the constitutionality of the Missouri Compromise, and the power of Congress to prohibit slavery in a Territory, in the following manner. Scott is the son of a slave woman belonging to an army officer, who moved with his family and his slave into the Territory where, by the Missouri Compromise, slavery was prohibited. There Scott was born, but was afterward carried back to Missouri, and is now held therein as a slave. He sues for his freedom, on the ground that he was born free, by virtue of the Missouri prohibition. The case has been before the Supreme Court a year or more, and was argued, but not decided, last winter.

ANOTHER REMOVED INSURRECTION.—The town of St. Romainville, La., was thrown into great excitement on the 18th ult., by the intelligence that a servile insurrection had been detected, the object of which was murder and rape. The day on which this nefarious project was to be put in execution was fixed for Christmas. The ringleaders, favorite family servants have been arrested.

President Pierce's Message is condemned by the New Orleans Delta, the most ultra of all the southern newspapers, as going unnecessarily and without occasion into an argument on the subject of Slavery. The Delta does not reason why the annual message of the President should be a mere labored argument, nor does any body else.

J. O. Harrison, of Kentucky, has been telegraphed an offer of appointment as Judge for Kansas territory, in place of Lecompte. There are some doubts of his acceptance. He is said to be a man of high tone. He was formerly a law partner of Mr. Breckenridge, and executor of Henry Clay.

Letter from a Free State Prisoner in Kansas.

(The writer of the following letter is well known in this city; it was written to a friend here, who placed it out under publication.)—Editors Cincinnati Gazette.

POLITICAL PRISONER LECOMPTON, K. T., November 13, 1856.

DEAR SIR:—Thinking a few lines from an old friend might possess some little interest to you, I write to let you know of my present situation. I am a prisoner, not in a jail, but in a cell, and my friends in Cincinnati since I left, and suppose you may have heard from me through them, during the summer. But my situation for the last few months may not have been well known, for I am now where I am forbidden to write, unless my letters pass through the inspection of my bitter enemies, who let me write in a cell, rather than suffer this indignity I prefer to remain silent, unless I can smuggle my letters through the guards. They fear that their deeds of iniquity will become known to the world—that our correspondence be of a treasonable character.

You have heard, no doubt, through the public prints, of the State of Missouri, and the party of the State men who were taken prisoners, while camped the night after battle, by a company of United States dragoons, under the command of Capt. Wood. I am one of the 101 prisoners then taken. Since our imprisonment, which has now been of two months' duration, we have suffered all our enemies could inflict upon us. Short of privations, without beds or blankets; many sick without care and attention necessary for their recovery, and all surrounded with the most abominable filth; added to all this, insults and contumely have been heaped upon us without stint. If we appeared near the windows of our prison after night, the guards would fire upon us, and we had guns and pistols cocked and pointed at us, and if we chanced to come too near our guards we would have a sudden reminder of the fact by a sharp prick of the bayonet. One of our number has been cruelly murdered by inhuman conduct while sick—poor William Bowles, of Missouri, a true lover of our cause, and who sadly mourns his fate.

Fifteen of our number were first tried and acquitted; nine were released, and six held over on other charges. Immediately on their acquittal, twenty more took their place in the Court-room, and last Saturday morning, a packed jury, mostly from Missouri, brought in a verdict of "guilty." Sentence, five years hard labor in the Penitentiary. The balance of the Hickory Point prisoners have succeeded in getting a change of venue, and to-morrow we go to Tennessee to be ready for trial next week, if our friends do not take the matter into their own hands and dispense with both judge and jury. Here in this prison, we have been common street talk that some of our number, at least, would be hung, no matter what the verdict of the jury might be.

The advent of Governor Geary into Kansas was a hard blow to the Free State party. From his first appearance among us he has ever been blowing hot and cold with the same breath. He has ever been speaking honeyed words to both Free State and Pro-Slavery men, but his whole power and all his acts have been brought to bear in crushing out the Free State party. At first we believed his protestations, but now he stands before us unmasked, a two faced politician; one that would sell his very soul for popularity, and we estimate his words at their true value. The Federal Government also, that should throw its strong arm of protection around each of its subjects, is bearing down with its whole power upon those who love Freedom better than Slavery. Though there is at present such a dark cloud lowering over the Free State party in Kansas, still to me that cloud has a golden fringe, a silver lining, that bids me not despair. I have no doubt, but that our happy day, for the now crushed and oppressed Free State party, is not far distant. We were told to-day by Col. Titus, the Governor's newly appointed aid, and who is also the aid and soul of the Rullian party, that they were getting ready the ball and chain, and the convicts striped garb, as rapidly as possible, for the convicts who had won their freedom, and were being hurried to the mines, these foul wrongs, being heaped upon men, simply for defending their lives, homes and families from the worse than savage invaders—for preferring Freedom to Slavery. Will our friends and brothers of the North stand coolly by with folded arms, and make no effort to stop this atrocious and unchristian policy, till I see it. I expect no mercy at the hands of our foes. They will go just as far as they dare to in our case. I may be one of their victims; but if I am, I still have faith that Freedom in Kansas will triumph. I have not done the first act since I came to Kansas in relation to the difficulties here that I am sorry for, or that would cost me a friend, or that would injure you or one of our two honest and brave friends, the administration of justice here. Chas. Hays, a pro-slavery man, was arrested for the cold-blooded murder of David Buffum, and for whose arrest the Governor had offered a reward of $500. He remained imprisoned for two night only, and was let out on straw bail. He is now at liberty. Sec. of State, Mr. Wilson, a Free State man of Prairie City, was arrested about four weeks ago, and brought here for confinement. For three weeks of that time the Grand Jury were in session, and finally adjourned without finding any bill against him. Last night one of his neighbors came to me and told me that he had been applied to the Judge for permission to attend and attend the funeral, offering any amount of bail that might be required. Judge Lecompte positively refused to admit him to bail. After a short delay, the prosecuting attorney came down, and on his own responsibility, let Mr. Wilson go, and his wife was carried by giving $1,000 for his bail. He is now at liberty at Peacemaker. His only crime is being a Free State man. One of our number, and also one of the first settlers in Lawrence, has been sick for three weeks past. A day or two since his family, consisting of a wife and four small children, came to see him. His wife has been allowed to visit him for some time, and is slowly wasting away with consumption, being no longer able to sit up. Just before she left her husband they wept in each others arms, and among the last words were, "We shall never meet on earth again." It was a sad sight. That wife and those children are dependent upon the daily labor of her husband, who is now at liberty, and they eat. He is now sick and in a jail, and is a little chance to do anything, and especially with my poor health. The Rullians only let me the shirt upon my back. Still remember me at that Throne of Grace we have so often approached together. If there are any items of interest in this letter worth publishing, let any editor in your city have them for the purpose of you please. I should be happy to hear from you. Direct to Leavenworth City.

Yours, in undying love of Freedom, O. M. MARSH.

NEW CHURCH OF REV. DUDLEY A. TYNG.—A portion of his former congregation, and others, are about to erect a new church for the Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, and over $200,000 have already been subscribed. The committee who have the matter in charge are confident that the required amount will be realized. The new congregation hold regular services in a national Hall, Market street, which has heretofore been crowded to hear this able divine. This congregation is a portion of that lately under Mr. T. in the Church of the Epiphany, Chestnut and Seventeenth streets, from which he was dismissed in consequence of preaching a sermon on the extension of slavery.

A BLOODY AFFAIR. MOXMOETH, Illinois, Dec. 12. A bloody tragedy was performed at the "Baldwin House," in this village. It was a conveyance in Dr. Thayer's drug store when the terrible cry of murder was heard, and we all started out to discover the cause. We were soon directed by a throng of people to the above named hotel, distant only a few yards from the residence of a friend of mine. The victim of the most sanguinary slaying had been killed in his lot to witness. It is difficult to describe the horror which depicted the visage of that throng of spectators called there at moment's warning.

The circumstances are as follows:—Mr. Fleming, an elderly gentleman, and two sons about 25 to 28 years of age, had called upon Mr. Crozier at his room at the Baldwin House, armed with loaded pistols, to coerce the latter gentleman into a confession and retraction of a calumny about their daughter and sister, with which they charged Mr. C. Mr. C. after some pretty warm language had passed between the parties, agreed to and did sign a retraction in the presence of a friend of mine, the Messrs. Fleming had brought with them.

Immediately after delivering the paper into the possession of their friend, the Messrs. F., or one of the brothers, says to Mr. C. "I am now going to cock my pistol to his head, directed to the other to hold the picture of despatch. He is a young man, some 27 to 30 years old, and unmarried. He is said to have been engaged to the lady in question; who is at present out of the State. The other parties were respectable farmers, and two of them I understand, members of the church in good standing.

Both brothers received their death wounds in less than two seconds, and were both bloody corpses in three minutes after they were struck. The old man had gone out into the hall and looked the other way, and stood upon the outside with a pistol to keep out assistance. The affair has created an immense excitement here, I assure you. The young man Crozier is under arrest, having surrendered himself into custody, and is to undergo an examination to-morrow.

The sympathies of the people are mostly with Crozier. He looks the picture of despair. He is a young man, some 27 to 30 years old, and unmarried. He is said to have been engaged to the lady in question; who is at present out of the State. The other parties were respectable farmers, and two of them I understand, members of the church in good standing.

I must close, as I now have a chance to smuggle this out. Remember me kindly to my friends at old Christie. I often think of you, and am glad to hear from you, and that brighter inheritance above to that land to rest where I hope to meet you again. My heart has been very poor for the last two months. A large portion of the time I have been unable to sit up. If I should be so fortunate as to be cleared on my trial next week, I would know which way to fall thru. When I was driven from home by the Rullians, I lost my all, and now the cold winter is upon me, there is little chance to do anything, and especially with my poor health. The Rullians only let me the shirt upon my back. Still remember me at that Throne of Grace we have so often approached together. If there are any items of interest in this letter worth publishing, let any editor in your city have them for the purpose of you please. I should be happy to hear from you. Direct to Leavenworth City.

Yours, in undying love of Freedom, O. M. MARSH.
