Republican State Convention.

The Republican State Convention, for the nomination of candidates for GOVERNOR and other STATE OFFICERS, will be held at HARRISBURG, on WEDNESDAY, the 25th of MARCH, 1857. Each District will elect Delegates in the usual manner, equal in number to its representation in the two Houses of the Legislature; and no person will be entitled, by substitution, to represent a district in which he does not reside.

CHARLES GIBBONS, Chairman of the State Executive Committee.

Senator Cameron.

In the U. S. Senate, on Friday last, two reports were made from the Judiciary Committee in reference to the contest of Mr. Cameron's seat. The majority report is, that the protest against Mr. Cameron's right to a seat in the Senate, does not implicate him in any of the alleged corruption; that there is no evidence of any undue influences, at all, and that the State law relative to the election was merely directory, and a failure to appoint tellers, did not vitiate the election. They therefore conclude that Mr. Cameron is entitled to his seat. The minority report represented the views of Mr. Pugh alone. He did not dispute any of the above stated conclusions of the committee, in reference to the facts of the case, but contended that the vague charge of corruption were specific enough to cause an investigation. A debate followed, in which Mr. Cameron participated. He scouted at the idea that his election had been effected by corrupt means, and said that twenty-five of the signers of the protest had called on him to say that the instrument was a mere humbug, which they had been obliged to sign against their inclinations. So Simon is Senator, and no mistake about it at all.

Judge of the Supreme Court.

By reference to the proceedings of the Republican County Convention, in another column, it will be seen that the name of J. G. Miles, Esq., of this borough, has been presented in connection with the Supreme Judgeship. We rejoice at and heartily endorse this choice of the intelligent Convention, and hope that the nominating Convention at Harrisburg will respond to the voice of Old Huntingdon.

As a jurist, Mr. Miles' abilities are too widely and favorably known, to need any mention from us; and a more upright and honest man does not breathe. With him on the Ticket, set Old Huntingdon down as good for 1000 majority.

The Republican County Convention.

We give a full report of the proceedings of this body in our local department. It will be observed that a resolution instructing the delegates to favor a union on a State Ticket with other elements opposed to the Locofoco party, on "honorable principles," passed unanimously. What was meant by this latter clause—"on honorable principles"—is easy to divine; viz: on principles which do not require a sacrifice of principle. This construction embraces the views of the Convention, and embodies our sentiments precisely. We desire a union on such grounds, and on no other. If this can be accomplished (and we believe it may with a spirit of concession on the part of ultra K. N.'s) we should, with a hearty good will, use our efforts for the success of a Union Ticket. But, if we are again to trust the fate of the battle with those who have more sympathy with our enemies than ourselves, we may again feel 'friendly fire in the rear.' Let 'side door interviews' be abolished, and those who are open to the barter and sale system, spurned from the councils at Harrisburg, and then, with a good cause, a clear field, and true leaders, we shall triumph.

Something ought to be done for President Pierce.

A correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer proposes that the State of Virginia raise, by individual subscription, a sum sufficient to purchase a southern home, and present it to President Pierce as a substantial approval—not in word, but in deed—of his administration of the government. To put the ball in motion, the correspondent promises to pay one hundred dollars as soon as the necessary amount is subscribed. This is all right. A similar provision was made for Benedict Arnold, by the British government, under substantially similar circumstances. It is a Christian duty of the South, to show that Mr. Pierce, "is not without honor save in his own country."

A Shriek from New Hampshire.

In the New Hampshire State election, the Republicans have swept the field triumphantly, electing their Governor, Congressmen, and a large majority in both branches of the Legislature. The House stands 180 Republicans to 47 Locos.

Decision of the Supreme Court.

An important prop for the doughfaces and slavery propagandists to hang upon to further their peculiar doctrines, is the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Dred Scott, whereby the Ordinance of 1820 excluding slavery from the North-west Territory is pronounced of no legal effect subsequent to the adoption of the Constitution, and that the Missouri Act of 1820 was unconstitutional. Though startling and astounding as this decision seems to be, it must not have been unexpected to those who have watched the drift of events in the past four years. It seems that the repeal of the Missouri Compromise and the subsequent outrages in Kansas were but preparatory measures to this grand decision. The highest tribunal in the land has now declared that Slavery can overspread all our mighty Territories—that Congress has no power to protect the virgin soil of our national domain from the curse of slavery. All acts of Congress prohibiting slavery in the Territories are unconstitutional. What a pity that Jefferson, Madison and Wirt had not the advantage of the profound wisdom of Chief Justice Taney and his Associates! For nearly two-thirds of a century the people of all sections of this country have been respecting an unconstitutional enactment, which has protected now mighty and prosperous States from domestic slavery. Well may the great States formed out of the North-west Territory exclaim 'We have been happy in our ignorance.' Political prejudice has undoubtedly biased the opinion of the Court. Hence this startling decree.

Judge McLean has delivered a dissenting opinion, taking broad ground in favor of the Constitutionality of the Missouri Compromise. Judge Curtis followed on the same side. This decision seems to render defunct Gen. Cass' pet—"Squatter Sovereignty." Where is General Davis, to define Squatter Sovereignty? The N. Y. Tribune, commenting upon this decision, says:

"This decision, we need hardly say, is entitled to just so much moral weight as would be the judgment of a majority of those congregated in any Washingtonian room. It is a definitum prescribed by the stump to the bench—the bow-knife sticking in the stump ready for instant use if needed. It is of a piece with the votes of Benton, Dix and Bagby for the annexation of Texas with the boundary of the Rio Grande. This judgment annihilates all Compromises and brings us face to face with the great issue in the right shape. Slavery implies slave laws—that is, laws sustaining and enforcing the claim of one man to own and sell another. In the absence of such laws, Slavery cannot exist; and a Republican ascendancy in the nation, insuring a Republican rule over the Territories, will prove a shield against the enactment of such laws. Under any other rule, all our Territories are henceforth Slave Territories, on the way to be ripened into Slave States.

Let not slavery exult over this as a second and separate triumph from the inauguration and inaugural of Buchanan. They are parts of one whole, and as such will be regarded and met in the spirit of Freedom.

Something Rotten in Denmark, or—Harrisburg.

On Wednesday last, Mr. M'Graw, (Locofoco) was re-elected State Treasurer. There were but two candidates in the field Mr. M'Graw and Jacob Dock, Esq., of Philadelphia. The Harrisburg Telegraph speaking of this matter, charges several of the members who profess opposition to Locofocoism, to have been concerned in M'Graw's election, and says that five American and Republican members were absent on the occasion of the vote, though they knew some time previous of the date of the election, and could have been present. It gives their names. Here they are: Killinger Sherman and Housekeeper, from Lancaster, Wright from Dauphin, and JOHN H. WINTRODE, of Huntingdon county!

The Telegraph remarks:

"M'Graw received 65 votes, but if those men who have heretofore acted with the party had been at their posts, Capt. Dock could and would have been elected. But as it was plainly seen that five men had betrayed the will of their constituents, those who would have otherwise voted for our candidate, were reluctantly compelled to vote for the present incumbent. How the members from Lancaster, Dauphin and Huntingdon counties, can excuse themselves remains to be seen. Housekeeper, Wright and Wintrode, were in town—the others made it convenient to be absent."

We ask from Mr. Wintrode an explanation.

The charge is a grave one, boldly made, and as members, and in behalf of his constituency, we demand his reasons for his conduct. We must have them, to place Old Huntingdon County, which has always stood fair and square on the record in its former position.

Dr. Kane's Funeral.

The funeral rites of Dr. Kane took place in Philadelphia, on Thursday last. Flags were everywhere hung at half mast or muffled with crape. Great multitudes of spectators assembled at Independence Hall and all along the route of the procession. The military were under command of Gen. Cadwalader. The comrades of the deceased in the Arctic expedition, attended the funeral in a body, as did all the public authorities, foreign consuls, the "Scott Legion," members of the Corn Exchange, &c. The military escort consisted of a squadron of cavalry, a battalion of artillery, and a regiment of infantry. A magnificent funeral car was used. It was got up for the occasion, from Independence Hall the procession moved to the Second Presbyterian Church in Seventh str' below Arch where the funeral services took place. The sermon was preached by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Shields.

Corruption in Congress.

The investigation into the alleged corruption in Congress has resulted in the resignation of three members. Messrs. Gilbert Edwards and Matteson, all of New York—who were adjudged by the committee of investigation to be implicated. The former was charged with having agreed to offer a resolution for the purchase of certain books, on consideration of receiving a portion of the profits, but the evidence brought to sustain the charge was very unsatisfactory—not sufficient, if offered in Court, to convict a loafer of petty larceny. The resolution was never offered, nor the money ever received; but the committee considered it sufficient to warrant a resolution for the expulsion of Mr. Gilbert, upon which he resigned his seat before a vote was taken.

Messrs. Edwards and Matteson were charged with attempting to bribe others—and expulsion was recommended in their cases, which they too, avoided by resigning their seats. Mr. Welsh, of Connecticut, was also implicated by the committee, but the House voted that the charge was not sustained.

These members were all elected three years ago, during the prevalence of an epidemic little favorable to the selection of the proper material to fill important public trusts. If corruption exists in Congress—and that it does so to a greater or less extent cannot be doubted—the people who select such material to represent them are most to blame. If a man is honest at home in his private dealings, he will be honest when in Congress or the Legislature;—but if he will take advantage in his own business transactions, or cheat his creditors by availing himself of any legal quibble to avoid an honest debt, such a man will surely be open to corrupt influences in public affairs.

"Coelum non animus mutant, &c."

Let the people be careful in the selection of their representatives, and but little will be heard of corruption in the halls of legislation. No man should be chosen to fill a high public trust whose character for integrity is not established. It should be said of American statesmen as it was in the days of Hampden and Sydney "On the firm basis of desert they rise, From long-tried worth and friendship's holy ties."

The Buchanan Cabinet Completed and Confirmed.

A despatch from Washington announces that the following nominations made by Mr. Buchanan, have been confirmed by the Senate. It will be seen that Judge Black of this State, has been appointed Attorney General. All its members have heretofore occupied responsible positions, either in National or State Councils.

Secretary of State—Lewis Cass, of Mich. Secretary of Treasury—Howell Cobb, of Ga. Secretary of War—John B. Floyd, of Va. Secretary of Navy—Isaac Toucey, of Conn. Secretary of Interior—J. Thompson, of Miss. Postmaster General—A. V. Brown, of Tenn. Attorney General—J. S. Black, of Penn.

Constable.

We are requested to announce the name of Samuel S. Smith, as an independent candidate for the office of Constable at the ensuing Borough Election. Huntingdon, March 11th, 1857.

M'KIM ARRESTED.

BLOOMSBURG, March 12th—3 o'clock, P. M.—McKim, the murderer, has been arrested near this place, at a lonely tavern on North Mountain—the spot being designated as Long Pond, Luzerne county. The arrest was effected by Mr. Aaron Wolf, assisted by A. B. Koons. McKim was taken unawares, and made no resistance. He was brought to Bloomsburg jail, and now lies in that place.

To remove any doubts that this is the murderer, I have ascertained that he has upon his person every mark, as described by the Philadelphia Evening Journal, to lead to identification. On the road to prison he confessed that his name was McKim, and that he had been the companion of Norcross.

The Republicans Triumphant in New Hampshire.

The returns from 200 towns in New Hampshire, give Hall, Republican candidate for Governor 33,789; Wells, Democrat, 29,400. The Council and Senate are all Republicans, and the House stands 180 Republicans to 47 Democrats. The members of Congress are all Republicans, as follows:—First District, James Pike; Second District, M. W. Tappen; Third District, Aaron H. Crazin.

The New Tariff.

Under the provisions of the act which had just passed, the following leading articles will be admitted as stated: All wool, costing 20 cents, or under, per pound at the place of exportation, will be admitted duty free; all other descriptions of wool will pay 24 per cent. Iron and sugar will pay 24 per cent. Dye-stuffs, generally will be admitted free. Wines and liquors will pay 30 per cent. Alkalies will pay 4 per cent. Cooled fabrics, generally will pay 24 per cent. Woolen blankets, generally will pay 24 per cent. Dyed, printed, stained, or bleached cotton fabrics will pay 24 per cent. Brown or unbleached cotton goods will pay 19 per cent. Linen fabrics, of all descriptions, will pay 15 per cent. Spices will be admitted free. There is besides, a long list of articles of less importance added to the free list, which have heretofore paid from 10 to 30 per cent.

Narrow Escape of the President Elect from Violent Death.

About the time Mr. Buchanan returned from his late visit to Washington, he had whispers of a singular and mysterious nature in regard to his illness and sudden return home. In prosecuting our inquiries we ascertained that Mr. Humes Porter, of this city, came home from Washington with Mr. Buchanan, also sick, and was obliged to take his bed, where he has been ever since.

At the same time we are satisfied of the truth of the statements which we give, below, and that the extraordinary efforts of Mr. Porter, as well as at Washington, to keep the matter hushed up, we yielded to the solicitations of friends, and withheld the facts in our possession. As they are now coming out through other channels, it is due to our readers to give them a history of this extraordinary case of a narrow escape from wholesale poisoning.

When Mr. Buchanan went to Washington he put up at the National House, where J. Glancy Jones, John L. Dawson, and others were stopping. It appears that this hotel has been terribly infested with rats of late, and that one of the boarders (as the story goes) conceived the idea that they ought to be disposed of effectually before the day of inauguration.

Accordingly, he procured extra large doses of arsenic which he disposed of in the most tempting manner about the house. The rats ate the poison. It is well known that when rats partake of arsenic they put directly for water. There is a large tank of water in the upper part of the hotel referred to, and into this the host of rats plunged, drank, burst and died. From this tank the house is supplied with water for drinking and cooking purposes.

Twenty or thirty of the guests were suddenly and some of them severely affected, from the use of water thus impregnated with the poison. Mr. Buchanan left suddenly for the island, where he derived no suffering severely from diarrhoea. He was, however, less affected than the others, and in a short time recovered sufficiently to receive visitors, but the fatigue incident to entertaining two or three hundred persons, made it absolutely necessary for him to husband his strength by refusing to see any but his most intimate friends—a rule which was rigidly observed up to the hour of his departure this morning.

Dr. Jones, of Berks, was more severely affected, and has been lying in a critical condition ever since, and a doubt about his recovery has left his appointment to a place in the Cabinet an open question up to the present time.

Among the others most severely affected, was Hon. John L. Dawson, and it was rumored this morning that he has since died. This report, however, needs confirmation.

Horrible Accident on the Toronto and Hamilton Railroad.

Sixty persons Repeatedly Killed.—Toronto, Thursday, March 12th. The train which left Toronto this afternoon, for Hamilton, ran off the track at the Des Jardines Canal above Hamilton, precipitating the engine, baggage car and two passenger cars into the water, and killing about sixty persons. Samuel Zimmerman was among the killed. Most of the bodies have not yet been recovered from the water. Later—Toronto, Thursday, March 12-10.35 P. M.—The cars went over the bridge near Hamilton. Locomotive and baggage cars passed over safe. Two rear cars, with 120 passengers, fell through. Between 60 and 80 passengers killed on the spot. Zimmerman, being on the bridge, was killed. Mr. Street of the Falls, the millionaire and his sister and mother-in-law, and Thomas C. Macklam, reported killed.

The passengers who escaped death are more or less mangled, some of them fatally. The passengers excited here about the accident, were adjourned to the next morning. They were mostly Canadians, as the train was local between Toronto and Hamilton; but still there were several Americans on board. The bridge is partly broken down, and the cars lie on top of each other, having fallen about forty feet. Doctors are leaving Toronto to attend to the wounded. Nothing has occurred in the shape of accident here that has created such profound grief and excitement.
