In the winter season, don't let your horse stand out a long time in the cold, without shelter or covering; for remember that the horse is an aboriginal native of a warm climate, and in many respects, his constitution is as tender as a man's.

President Buchanan's Cabinet
A Virginian print, the Fredericksburg
News speaking of the administration of Mr. Buchanan, says:

"His Cabinet seems to have been collected upon the same principle that a Yankee collects his dinner out of 'universal soup.' He puts in his wooden spoon and hauls up whatever he can take—a potato a piece of beef, an oyster, an old scraped bone—perhaps a piece of fish and may be alot of feathers, if the ecoking has not been sextualum artum. Some of it is good and saks no questions for conscience sake, If the hungry man spies some delicate morsel he is particularly fond of, such as the breast of a chicken, or a sweet-bread, his friend, like Sancho Penza's doctor, won't let him have these but forces him to eat the mixture of good and bad. While he, good facile man, gulps the mass down, unmindful of the future pains about the wiastband, which are sure to follow."

The Directory of the Clay Monument to Henry Clay. It will be erected in the cemetery near that place, over the statesmaa's body. The height of the column is to be one hundred and nineteen feet, and on the summit there will be placed a colossal statue. The material of the structure will be magnesia limestone, said to be as indestructible as Egyptian grante. The corner stone was laid on the 12th of Clay.

The horse charm; or the Great Secret for Taming Horses.

The horse-castor is a wart, or excrescence, which grows on every horse's fore legs and generally on the hind legs. It has a peculiar rank, musty smell, and easily pulled off. The ammoniacal effluvia of the horse seems peculiarly to concentrate in this part, and its very strong odor has a great attraction for all animals, especially canine, and the horse himself.

For the oil of cumin, the horse has an instructive passion—both are original natives of Arabia, and when the horse scents the odor, he is instinctively drawn toward it.
