For Auditor the vote stood:

Packer and Poltroonery.

An army of soldiers with a poltroon for a commander who should issue a bulletin justifying his sneaking away from the enemy when challenged to fight, would be apt to bayonet him on the spot and elevate some one of requisite pluck in place of the lilly-delivered dandy.

But the democratic party of Pennsylvania is animated by no such spirit. Instead of turning indignantly upon the faint-hearted Packer and demanding to be led at once to the fray they turn tail with him and sink of content.

When Packer was nominated we heard a great deal from his trumpeters about his ability on the stump, his immense powers as an orator, and the certainty of his vanquishing the 'Black Republicans' by his single might.

After Wilmot was nominated, and it was given out that he would probably challenge Packer, the democratic press was mightily tickled at the preposterousness of the idea.

Wilmot challenge Packer! He would never think of such an act of assurance; as well put his head into the lion's mouth at once!

Presently it was reported that Wilmot had challenged him; but the locofoco leaders were incredulous and suffered themselves to deny it as a thing that could not be.

Then came the letter itself from Judge Wilmot, inviting his opponent to canvass the state with him; and although the poor leaders were astonished at such extraordinary temerity, they never doubted for a moment that Packer would accept the challenge and administer a fitting rebuke to one who dared thus confront the giant.

This was the state of affairs until Packer, the great orator and statesman, ignominiously fled aflight from Wilmot, and took refuge behind the State Committee.

The latter was thus compelled to stand up as a shield before him, and put forth a manifesto to the faithful explaining why the challenge was declined.

Alas for the expectant democracy! Instead of a fight, as anticipated, it was a light—a base desertion of the field to the enemy without striking a blow.

But they have got used to it very soon. Evidently they were not as keen for an encounter as they pretended, or they would not fall in so generally or so meekly in this glorious back down.

They have shouldered their arms promptly for the retreat and the party presses, which so lately were looking forward to the annihilation of Wilmot by Packer on the stump, are now convinced that stumping is all wrong, and that the true way to conquer an enemy is to run away from him.

Yet, after all, the poor creatures who are compelled thus to vindicate their weak-kneed candidate are to be pitied. Whatever they have to do, no matter how distasteful it may be, they do it, and change their tone and their tactics as submissively as if they were galley slaves; but it's plain that while they submit they do not like the jobs and jeers to which they are subjected, that they march down the hill with much less spirit than they marched up. But while we pity them, their mean spirited commander is worthy only of contempt.

Hereafter Packer and Poltroonery will be synonymous terms.

The Murr Candidate.

The correspondence between the Democratic nominee for Governor, and the Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, is obviously a manoeuvre on the part of Gen. Packer to present a plausible excuse for shrinking from a discussion which he dreads to enter upon.

The fair and fearless examination of the principles and policy of the two prominent parties the State, by their respective candidates is a movement calculated to give to the public mind a proper understanding of the questions upon which the people will be called to vote and to lead to a just discrimination between the merits of both platforms.

As it is doubtless for this very reason, that the Democratic nominee declines to meet his opponent in debate—he is fearful of the result, should intelligence and unbiased, honest conviction be allowed untrammelled exercise in considering the issues of the day.

He knows that a fair discussion of the subject of slavery—the great question of the contest—would remove thousands of our best informed citizens from his standard. The attempt to cast the responsibility upon the Democratic State Committee, has failed to deceive the people, who see through the whole intrigue, and justly condemn the effort to evade a candid and fair challenge by such unmanly means.

Meanwhile, the Republican candidate will go before the people, and explain fully the principles involved in the canvass—principles which his opponents dare not discuss with him.

"Ask My Committee."

In the old Ritzer and Markle times, the Locofoco made a vast deal of capital by charging that those gentlemen were in the hands of a 'Committee,' and could do nothing without consulting their body guard. The letter of Mr. Packer and Mr. Buckalew are a virtual acknowledgment that what they falsely charged upon the Whig candidate of those days, is true in their own case at present.

Gen. Packer, instead of accepting the challenge of his competitor, as any high-minded gentleman would have done, skulkingly exclaims, 'Ask my Committee!' And that Committee, knowing his calibre, place an emphatic veto upon the project of free discussion. Free discussion, indeed!—why the very principles of Locofocoism is to enslave the mind as well as the body. Their majorities are made up by people who will listen only to one side, who are held in allegiance by ignorance and prejudice. Their leaders dare not meet their opponents in a fair fight, but are compelled to skulk behind and beat about the bush. Well may the candidate of such a party when challenged by an opponent, show the 'white feather,' and meekly exclaim, 'ask my Committee.' It is his only alternative to avert disgrace in every encounter.—Reading Journal.

General News.

Female Murders in Pennsylvania.

Two men and women recently convicted in Pittsburg for the murder of the uncle and aunt of the latter—an aged brother and sister, who had accumulated some money. Although several women have been convicted of murder in this State, at different periods, only three of them were executed, and these in 'old times.' There is at this time a woman in the Wayne county jail convicted of the murder during Governor Porter's Administration, another in Huntingdon jail convicted during Governor Biglers's term, and we believe there are altogether six or eight sentenced to death in different jails.

If our recollection serves us right, it is about thirty years since a Governor of this State signed the death warrant of a woman, and there will probably never be another. About four years ago, we had occasion to examine the official papers of the State relating to this matter, and from them we gleaned the foregoing facts.—Lock Haven Democrat.

The Campaign Opened.

A large and very enthusiastic meeting of the friends of Wilmot was held in Bloomfield, the county seat of Perry, on the 3d of August. There were persons present from every election district in the county. W. W. Dickinson presided, assisted by no less than fifty vice-presidents. The meeting was addressed at length by the Hon. W. D. Kelley, of Philadelphia. The speech was lengthy and able, and was received with enthusiasm. After he closed, Mr. Baer, the Buckeye blacksmith, followed him. The meeting passed strong resolutions, endorsing the Harrisburg platform and nominations. Among the resolutions passed was the following, which we commend most earnestly to the attention of the Democratic press:

Resolved, That the refusal of the Democratic candidate for Governor, Wm. F. Packer, to accept the challenge of David Wilmot, to discuss before the people the questions involved in the present campaign, is the best evidence that their candidate is either ashamed of his principles, or is afraid to advocate and defend them, and for that cause the people are ashamed to vote for him, or to trust him with power.

Ohio Nominations.

At an American State Convention held at Dayton, Ohio, on the 5th, Col. P. Van Trump was nominated as a candidate for Governor; N. T. Ash, for Lieutenant Governor; Jonathan Harshman, for Treasurer; John R. Arthur, for member of the Board of Public Works; John Davenport, for Supreme Judge, and C. C. Allen for Secretary of State.

The Democratic State Convention met at Columbus on the 6th inst., and made the following nominations: Governor, H. B. Payne, Lieutenant Governor, W. H. Lytle, Supreme Judge, Whitman, Treasurer of State, Morris, Secretary of State, J. Reinhart, Board of Public Works, A. L. Backus.

Resolutions were adopted by the Convention endorsing the Dred Scott decision, approving of the administration of Mr. Buchanan, and the doctrine of popular sovereignty, as advanced by the Kansas Nebraska act, and favoring an Independent Treasurer for Ohio.

B. F. Sanford, who was recently nominated for Congress by a Republican Convention which was held at Newport, Ky., recently opened the campaign by a Republican speech at the county seat of Kinton county. The speech was listened to with great attention, and nothing occurred during the day that was unworthy of Kentuckians. During his speech Mr. Sanford said some very severe things of slavery, speaking of it as a great evil. The Republican party were not abolitionists, as his hearers had been informed; no more so, indeed, than were Jefferson and Clay. The repeal of the Missouri compromise he declared was the 'perfidy of plighted faith.' He was not in favor of immediate emancipation.

A man, who is an entire stranger to the neighborhood, was found hanging to the limb of a tree in East Goshen, on the road leading to the White Horse in Chester County, Pa. On Thursday evening he stowed at Rocky Hill, and endeavored the way to Philadelphia. He then started on his way, and when he came to the point where he was found, it appears that he mounted the fence, took out his pocket handkerchief, tied it about his neck and after trying it to the limb, he swung off. An inquest was held and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

The Congressional election in Nebraska territory has resulted in a poll of 1470 for Ferguson, Independent, Dem., 1209 for Thayer, Republican, 1114 for Chapman, the regular Democratic nominee, and 1091 for Banker. Chapman was the member in the last Congress. The aggregate vote, as above, is 4284, with one county to hear from.

Advices from Kansas state that Governor Walker had returned to Lawrence with the United States troops, the apprehensions of an attack on Fort Riley by the Cheyennes having proved groundless. The squatter municipal government of Lawrence met on the 27th and was engaged in perfecting ordinances.—The election returns from all parts of the territory indicate a large vote, and nearly unanimous for the Topeka Constitution.

A murderess named Charlotte Jones, is now in the prison at Pittsburg, awaiting public execution. A few days ago her sister expressed a wish that Charlotte would send her some money to buy a new dress, that she might go to see her hump.

Rankin, the prize fighter who fought with Brady, has left Buffalo for Albany. He has nearly recovered, and still insists that he can knock Brady 'out of his boots.' He purposes to fight for $5000 in October.

A Camp Meeting will be held on Friday the 4th of September, about two miles above Oriskania, on the Littleton road.

The Farm Journal has been merged into the American Agriculturist, and the two have become one. Subscribers to the former will be supplied with the latter for the full term of their subscription. The Agriculturist is one of the best magazines published in the country. Orange Judd, Publisher, No. 191 Water-st., New York. Price $1 per annum.

The Inventor for September has been received. It is an excellent No. and should be well patronized.

Godey's Lady's Book, and Graham's Magazine for the month of September, are on our table; they being rival periodicals, and both aiming at perfection we will leave our numerous readers to decide the contest.

Returns of the Texas election indicate that Rumsell, Democrat, has been chosen Governor over Houston, American, by 12,000 majority, and that no opposition candidates have been elected to the Legislature as far as heard from.

JOHNSON'S MAP OF THE REPUBLICS OF NORTH AMERICA. PUBLISHED BY A. J. JOHNSON, N. Y.—This great work, just published, is in many respects superior to any work of the kind ever before issued. It embraces all North America south of the 50th degree of North Latitude, including the Canadas, United States, Mexico, Central America, West India Islands, and a part of South America. There are indeed other maps which include this same extent of territory, as Monk's Mitchell's New and Corrected, but none of these works can make any pretensions to merit equal to this of Johnson's. In the first place it is much larger than either of these, being 72 by 80 inches in size. This large scale has enabled the author to insert a vast amount of information of the highest importance which neither of the other works were able to contain. Hence the Counties of all the States and Territories are distinctly colored and named, the principal towns, the railroads, &c. We are particularly pleased with the amount of recent information it contains in the new Territories. We find, for example Arizona, and many new places which we have looked in vain on other maps to find.

It also contains a map of the World on Mercator's projection, on a much larger scale and more full, complete, and thoroughly finished than any other we have seen. On this also we find something new and recent, the discoveries of Dr. Kane in Polar Sea; even all the plus discovered and named by Dr. Ulup to within 9 degrees of the North Pole.

Of the whole work it is difficult to speak in terms of too high praise. It is a fine copperplate engraving and as a mere work of art, unsurpassed. It is illustrated with beautiful and costly Daguerreotype views of small cities of our Country and the splendid Capitol now erecting at Washington. For general reference, in the family, the office, the library, the school-room, it is a work which ought not to be dispensed with. Its price is remarkably moderate, and we heartily commend it to general patronage. The work is to be sold only by agents, and we are informed this state is to be immediately canvassed. Dr. C. Allen general Agent for the State may be addressed for agencies at Harrisburg. A. J. Moore of Conant has been appointed Agent for this County, and will commence canvassing immediately.—We have one of those maps in our possession and can recommend them as the best ever published.

As our citizens are now interested in Gas Matters, the following item from the New York Tribune on the use of Gas Meters, will probably not be uninteresting to them:

US. OF GAS METERS.—A suit for rent of Gas Meters, furnished by the Gas Company, was recently decided in New York City, against the company. The court held that as meters were for the use of measuring the quantity of gas consumed, they were for the benefit of the Gas Companies, like the weights and measures of merchants, or the meters of Water Companies. The seller and not the buyer are bound to furnish the means of ascertaining the quantity he delivers, and he is bound to verify the delivery of the quantity he charges for in his bill, before he can demand payment. The Judge said: 'I am entirely satisfied that the use of these scales and weights, or the milkman for his quart, or the meter, in each case the dealer has to adopt some means of ascertaining how much the customer has had.'

This cuts off a large revenue of the Gas Company in New York, and will affect Gas Companies everywhere, if it be sustained as law, it will undoubtedly be.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

There is very little demand for Flour to-day. Standard superfine, made from new wheat is nominally held at $7.25, and sound old stock, and late inspected Flour at $6.50, 6.75 per bushel, without sales to any extent. Corn Meal is wanted, but there is very little stock to operate on, and some has been picked up at $4 per barrel.

Wheat is scarce, prime lots are wanted, but are too damp and unseasonable. Rye is in less demand and brings 35c. Corn continues dull, and we are only advised of sales of 20,000 bush yellow meal at 80c. afloat. Oats meet with a moderate demand at 42c per bushel.

Wool's Hair Restorative.

This wonderful preparation is having an extensive sale in all parts of the Union. It is one of the few patent medicines which are now sold over the country, that are really what their inventors claim for them. Wherever it has had a fair trial, the result has been just as Wood predicts. It has never failed to turn the white hair back to the natural color, where the directions have been strictly followed, and in numerous cases it has restored the hair upon heads that had been bald for years. It is not pretended that it will make the hair grow in every case, but where it falls there is certainly no remedy. The restorative of the hair has been effected in so many instances where the case seemed utterly hopeless, that it is certainly worth while for all who have lost their hair to try the experiment of using a bottle or two of Wood's Restorative.—Mobile Workman.

The most skeptical people can be convinced by trial that all the family medicines are not humbug, and that among the thousand of bottles of life there are a few of great merit, and undoubted worth. Of these, Dr. Sanford's Restorative, or Liver Remedy, stands first and foremost among the remedies of the day that can be relied on as a medicine that is all it is recommended by its proprietors. It advertises itself on every trial, for there are none who use it but tell their friends to do so, and so it goes from mouth to mouth till all the people of the Union have learned the good of this truly medicinal medicine. It is recommended with testimonials to prove its virtue for the cure of liver complaints of every kind, from the worst Dyspepsia to a common headache, and is particularly adapted to Jaundice, Deranged Stomach, Bowel Complaints and diseases of children.

One or two doses are said to cure a cold with severely a fullness. It is a trial for the use of ladies, particularly those of sedentary habits. Some ladies of the highest standing in society have given their certificates of its efficacy, and we say to all who are ailing, try one bottle and you will never be without it.
