WILMOT IN HUNTINGDON
We have the pleasure of announcing to our readers that Judge Wilmot, the man who Mr. Packer refused to meet on the stump, will address the people of Huntingdon County, in the Borough of Huntingdon, on Friday Afternoon, September 4, 1857.

Come one and all, and let us have a gathering together of the masses, to hear this able and eloquent champion of the right.
Judge Wilmot will also speak in Hollidaysburg, in Altoona, on the afternoon of the same day.

LETTER FROM MR. EVANS.

We have the pleasure this week of laying before our readers a letter from our able candidate for the Legislature, in which he defines his position, clearly and ably. He asks the support of no man without first declaring his views and giving them to the public. Will the opposition candidates—Messrs Wharton and Houtz—be as candid, as honest? We expect, nay, we do have a right to demand their sentiments on these issues, as publicly expressed. There should be no finching, no backing out; we must have the issues in the present campaign clearly stated, and the positions of the candidates as clearly defined. Mr. Evans, it will be seen, does not brag or hide his true sentiments under any "pretext," nor does he fear to be thus sincere. If elected, he must be so with his future course of action clearly demonstrated. Read the letter:

To the FREE and INDEPENDENT VOTERS of HUNTINGDON COUNTY.

Fellow Citizens:

As my name stands before you as a candidate for Assembly—to which office I have no aspirations and present no claim on the country, for services rendered any political party, and inasmuch as questions of importance which will seriously affect the financial condition of this great Commonwealth, (the prosperity of which is of the greatest interest and should receive the candid consideration of every tax-payer of the State,) are presented to the people for their decision, it is expected that I should define my position and declare my sentiments in relation to these questions. The people of this Commonwealth are now called upon to express their preferences for or against the proposed appropriation of three millions of dollars of the proceeds of sale of the National line of public improvements, to the completion of the Seneca and Erie Railroad, and also on the repeal of the three mill tonnage tax, now imposed by the Commonwealth on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. On these questions, I am free to say, that in case of my election I will "first, last and all the time," use my best efforts to possess, oppose the appropriation of any part of the seven and one-half millions, to any purpose whatever, except to the liquidation of the onerous debt of our noble Commonwealth. I will oppose the repeal of the three mill tonnage tax, which, in my opinion, ought to continue as a source of revenue, to relieve the embarrassed condition of the treasury—which is felt by every tax-payer.

In taking this course, I am aware of the situation in which I am placed: that I incur the displeasure of the combined forces of the Pa. R. Co., that I have no money to spend in a campaign, no offices at my disposal, no money of corporations at my command, no hired press to sustain me, no shrewd political wire-workers to operate for my election; but I have to contend against all the political parties of the county, the combined forces of manhood, corporations, and all the collectors, book-keepers, weigh masters, with a host of other employees along the Canal and Railroad. Nor do I expect any man to vote for me, who desires an increase of our State Tax. My desire is to lighten the burden of the tax-payer, by appropriating all monies belonging to the State—after necessary expenses of government shall be met—to the liquidation of her indebtedness, so that we may yet see the day when our farms and workshops may be relieved from the heavy mortgage of FORTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, which now rests upon the property of every tax-payer of the State.

With proper and economical management, the State Treasurer will never again be under the necessity of resorting to a loan, to meet the interest on the debt of the Commonwealth.

But on the contrary, eight millions of the debt could be paid the first year, and two millions annually thereafter, which arrangement would in the course of twelve or fourteen years, entirely wipe out our debt.

Where is the farmer, or mechanic, or any tax-payer, who does not desire the payment of our State indebtedness, especially if it can be accomplished without any additional taxation? LEVI EVANS.

Coalport, August 27th, 1857.
This is the language of an honest and sincere man. Tax-payers, will you, should you, can you oppose a man who thus honestly and sincerely arrays himself for your benefit, against the powers of corporations and corrupt, designing parties and demagogues? The question is simply reduced to this—will you, overburdened, tax-devoured citizen of Huntingdon County, support a candidate who has your interests at heart, and who does not seek an election for the purpose of speculating (to use no harsher term) at your expense, or will you, by opposing him, consent to a system of plundering the honor and disgraced the name of our Commonwealth, consent to increased taxation and special favors to aristocrats, at the expense of your sweat and labor? It is a question for your decision. How will you answer? Were you sincere when you declared yourself opposed to the evil system which filled the pockets of bad men with your money? This is the test, how will you answer?

What Next.
Now that the Know Nothing party is utterly annihilated in the south, the question is asked, what next? The respectable and conservative masses of the South, men who have a liking for such representatives as was Mr. Etheridge of Tennessee, who voted against the Nebraska inquiry and spoke at the last session of Congress against the reopening of the slave trade; men who have a liking for Mr. Crittenden, not simply because they agree with him politically for the moment but because they believe in his general fairness and manliness, will not and cannot go over to a party whose only argument is the revolver, who breathe forth threatening and slaughter upon their opponents, who advocate the reopening of the slave trade, the Buchanan doctrine as set forth in the Ostend Manifesto and the general principle that "They shall get who have the power.

And they shall keep who can."
These men are now eagerly asking, what next? and we trust that Missouri has answered the question. There lies the business to which Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia have soon to address themselves; that's the true issue! Demagogues may cry "Down! Down!" till they become hoarse as "ball singers"—there's no "Down" to it. It will rise like the ghost of Banquo to confront them at every turning and push them from their seats. Missouri has struck the key note in this grand new march of progress; has thrown to the dogs these dead or dying issues of "Union," "Disunion," "Secession," "Nullification." Let the Great State of Missouri! let her shake off the incubus that has pressed like a mountain of lead upon her and stifled her fresh young blood at its very fountains; let her seize the occasion which now offers, to aid and counsel Missouri in this grand enterprise of emancipation, and soon she will see this Moloch of Modern Democracy forsaking its bloody altars on her soil, and fair peace and smiling prosperity erecting their temples in the places of her desolation.

A VOICE FROM TOD.
A communication appeared in the "American" newspaper of this place, last week, purporting to have been written in Tod township, but which, we may be safe in surmising, originated in this borough, wherein many hard and unnecessarily harsh words are used against the manner in which our candidate for Assembly comes before the people, &c. We are sorry to see such schemes resorted to. The election of Mr. Evans, we hope, is a certain event, and we believe those who oppose him, are merely "kicking against the pricks." Here is a letter we have received from one of the most influential and honorable citizens of Tod township, whose name we are authorized to use if necessary. It will be seen that he asserts just the contrary of the "American's" correspondent, who, we hope for the sake of his honor, will come out over his own signature and deny the truth of the following communication, if he dares. Come now, Mr. Correspondent, do you not live in our borough, and are you not deeply interested in somebody's election? But read the following, which we hold to be the true state of feeling in Tod and indeed all the townships of the county:

For the Huntingdon Journal.
MESSRS EDITORS:
We noticed in the "American" of last week, an article purporting to have been written by some unknown writer, who signs himself "Tod," whose object appears to be to create the impression abroad that Mr. Evans is not the choice of the voters of this, his native Township, for the office of which he is a candidate. That his proceedings and those of the "Journal" are looked upon in this locality, as being frivolous, insignificant and amusing.

Now, Mr. Tod is either guilty of wilful preparation or is grossly ignorant of the sentiments of the majority of the voters in the township—Americans, Republicans and Democrats. In connection with our personal objections to Mr. Wharton, as a candidate, we look upon his nomination as being brought about through the influence of hired emissaries, of moneyed monopolies, and consequently do not feel ourselves politically bound, or obligated, to support him. We have seen the base acts, to which political aspirants have stooped, in order to secure themselves, the emoluments of office, and we think it high time, that such candidates be rejected by the honest voters of the community, and such men as Levi Evans—men of real worth, moral integrity and christian principle, should be placed in their stead, and should and will in this case, receive our suffrages.

Respectfully yours,
A CITIZEN.

Camp Meeting is still in full blast.

A WORD POLITICALLY.

Come, friends, let us reason together. You are honest voters, you desire the success of honest, correct principles, and the triumph of honorable men. How are these ends to be accomplished? Is the question which should engage your attention, and which we propose answering. But let us before coming to the subject, first review the political battle field and the leaders in the approaching struggle, and their chances of success.

First, then, we have one of the most important questions presented for your decision, in the present contest, that ever agitated the minds of a people. It is a question in which you, as a tax-payer, are deeply interested, and embraces in its limits a duty which you as a good and faithful citizen, should discharge intelligently and with fidelity. We allude to the proposed plundering of $3,000,000 from the Treasury of the Commonwealth, the removal of the tonnage tax, &c. These questions are momentous, and require and demand your earnest attention. If you support for office a candidate whose election will have a direct bearing on them, and who comes before you uncommitted, unpledged to oppose such odious propositions, or whose proclivities are favorable to them, and who owes his nomination to the very agents of the originators of them, we tell you, as honest men, you are consenting to be plundered; ay, aiding to increase the heavy load of taxation under which you already groan. As to the candidates, we have a word to add.

On the "Democratic" side, Dr. Houtz, of Alexandria, is the standard bearer.—He owes his nomination to the agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad and consequently, if elected, will be necessitated, no matter what he may now think, to support that corporations' "claims."

In relation to the second candidate, S. S. Wharton, we have something more to say. He is alleged to have been nominated by a Union Convention of the Republicans and Americans,—but we deny it.—It was not a Union Convention; its proceedings do not mark it as such. No resolutions were adopted, the State Ticket was not endorsed, indeed nothing was done of a "Union" nature. But this is not all: it was currently reported that money was freely used to bring about the result.

But, in view of all this, it may here be asked why we endorse a portion of the ticket. We are in favor of harmony, as our great motto fully expresses, and we want a great deal to keep up a harmonious spirit in our midst, but we will never submit to gross imposition, fraud and corruption. We and the honest voters of the county, might even have submitted to the entire nomination, ultra as they were, for the sake of harmony, had a shade of justice been shown. But we looked upon the nomination of Wharton, as not only injurious, as it manifested a spirit in conflict with harmony, but as an imposition, a fraud and the result of a low species of cunning trickery, which was too palpable to be denied or questioned. So was it viewed by honest voters in all portions of the county, and the result is they have determined to elect that honest, christian gentleman—Levi Evans. The nomination of Wharton was a dead weight to the energies of the party, and would have defeated the entire ticket had his name been placed before the public in connection with it. We do not say this from any ill feelings towards that gentleman; we cherish none. But we reiterate it again, that in view of the manner in which he procured his nomination, coupled with his well known unpopularity, certain, unavoidable defeat to the balance of the ticket, would have been the result of his continuance on that ticket.—We speak that we know, and can prove it to the satisfaction of the most ardent upholder and supporter he numbers in his ranks. By way of illustration, we assert that if Wharton and Houtz were the only candidates spoken of, both entertaining similar sentiments in relation to the great issues now before the people of the State, there would have been no alternative for dissatisfied Democrats but to have voted for Houtz, or remained at home. Col. Wharton, under the most favorable circumstances, could not possibly have received over one half of the Opposition vote, and thus, we should have forever disgraced our county by the election of a Locofoco.

The third candidate, who will be triumphantly elected if the people remain true to their interests, is Levi Evans. Mr. Evans speaks for himself in another column and speaks out nobly.

Here, fellow citizens, we have presented the issues, and the positions of the candidates on those issues. The decision is with you. How will that decision be given!—on the side of justice, and for the good of the Commonwealth and your own interests, or in favor of the revival of the system of plundering which has ever been carried on whilst the canal was owned by the State. You have but one course to pursue if you are in favor of doing right: VOTE FOR LEVI EVANS. Do this, and show to the "venerable pimps" who have so long made you the pack-horses to carry out their base designs, that the wrath of an insulted and outraged party and people when they rise in their strength against arbitrary dictation, trickery and fraud, cannot be easily appeased.

The Crushing Game.
One of the prominent opposers of Mr. Evans in this borough, has made his threats which he purposes carrying into execution immediately, if not sooner, that he will call a meeting of his friends in every township of the county, and withdraw the name of every subscriber to the Journal, for our "presumption" in daring to oppose trickery. In carrying out this plan, we would merely tell him that whilst we are perfectly satisfied that he should "pitch in" to his heart's content, we reserve the right which we shall most certainly exercise, of prosecuting immediately after the election, any and every individual who shall in any manner attempt to foolish a thing as that proposed—insure us in our business. Crush out the Journal! Poh! You might as well try to crush out Piney Ridge.

Since this "crushing out" business has been talked of we have had the pleasure of booking the following new subscribers:—
Isaac Keith, John A. Osborn,
Jonathan Evans, Maj. Samuel Evans,
Geo. Keith, J. M. Clark,
John McLain, Jr. Cook, Esq.,
John Hamilton, Dr. C. W. Moore,
M. Tate, John T. Heister,
Geo. Moffat, Gen. W. H. Koonz,
W. R. Wimer, Col. Clem Holliday,
Joseph Evans, James Rouse,
David Baird, Miles Lewis,
John Taylor, J. Meridith,
This business "wont pay," will it, think you, and show to the "venerable pimps" who have so long made you the pack-horses to carry out their base designs, that the wrath of an insulted and outraged party and people when they rise in their strength against arbitrary dictation, trickery and fraud, cannot be easily appeased.

Respectfully yours,
A CITIZEN.

DAVID WILMOT.

In David Wilmot we have a man that is known—a man whose record is known to the world's scrutiny. A man who is willing to tell all men upon what ground he stands, and to say to them, if you do not like my principles do not vote for me. This is the language he can use to the people of Pennsylvania, and this is the language he will use when the time comes, and proclaim those principles notwithstanding Gen. Packer has declined to meet him.

The foolish, ignorant cry of abolition, woolly head, free trade, nigger, &c. &c. can never stop the ears of the honest people of Pennsylvania. Words, empty, insulting words, cannot terrify, men blench not before cannons and swords—and the Locofocos, who think that Pennsylvania are cowards, will find out their mistake when it is too late.

Pennsylvanians look to something more than mere abusive words thrown forth from billingsgate mouths, when they are making up an opinion, or determining on giving a vote; especially when plain issue is between American Republicanism—when a choice is to be made between a Wilmot and a Packer.

No deception will succeed; and the cry of mad dog will not answer. The garbling of the truth will not divert men from what their minds, their hearts and consciences teach them is right, intrinsically and fundamentally; and from what every man who is a patriot and an American, knows to be a duty—and that is to vote for the most honest, intelligent and earnest American for our next Governor, and that man is David Wilmot.

The Pennsylvaniaian may endeavor to delude—to encompass improper ends—may, raise false issues. It may endeavor to seduce men into the belief that Packer is a Pennsylvanian at heart, but their candid refusal to appear before the people on propria persona, leaving to organs the task of defending him, and giving the Locofoco nominee as a man not to be touched by those who regard manliness and personal bravery as the essential characteristics of one who assumes to be a leader.

NOT VERY CONSISTENT.
A week or two ago, Judge Wilmot, the Republican candidate for Governor, invited Gen. Packer, the Democratic candidate for the same office, to join him in addressing the people of Pennsylvania on the questions at issue in the present canvass. The Democratic State Committee decided that the invitation should be declined, on the ground that this mode of discussing political questions before the people was unusual here and uncalled for; also, that the questions which would be considered had already been fully discussed at the late Presidential election. No one had a right to complain of this decision; but we confess we were a little surprised to find on Monday an article, in the Press, which had approved the committee's course, beginning as follows:

"General W. F. Packer, the Democratic candidate for Governor, will shortly address the people at various points. He will appear before them under the most auspicious circumstances. On every issue he will be impregnable."

This destroys all the force of the reasons of "the committee" for declining the challenge of Judge Wilmot. It seems that while Gen. Packer or the Committee is unwilling to meet all the people, side by side and face to face, with Wilmot, the General or the Committee has not the least scruple to meet that portion of the people which always harmonizes with them! Especially is this course of General Packer strange and inconsistent, when, as the Press says, "on every issue he will be impregnable." If so, why not meet and vanquish Judge Wilmot before the friends of both, embracing the whole people?

A Dutch Justice in our State, once rendered judgment in favor of the plaintiff after hearing the plaintiff's witnesses only. When the other side objected to this and demanded a hearing, he refused it on the ground that his mind was clearly made up; but if he heard the other side he might be confuted.

We refer to this matter merely for what we conceive to be its inconsistency. The time has arrived when men seeking high places, in which they exercise vast power for the good or evil of the community, should not only make known their views on the leading questions and measures of the day, but they should be able and willing to attest and defend them. It is not enough that they should show that their opinions are sound and wise.

SINGULAR BEE HIVE.—Were informed by our worthy friend John Anderson, farmer, of Pena township, that he accidentally discovered a very remarkable bee hive on his premises, and one which promises to be very valuable.—It appears that he had for some time noticed bees going in and out of the boxing of his house, and on Saturday last, on making an examination found it to be filled with honey.—He estimated it to contain over six hundred pounds.

We have received from H. Mannville, Clinton, Ohio, a neat little contrivance for detecting counterfeit coin. It is an ingenious and handy affair and should be in possession of every one.

JOHNSON'S MAP OF THE REPUBLICS OF NORTH AMERICA.

PUBLISHED BY A. J. JOHNSON, N. Y.—This great work, just published, is in many respects superior to any work of the kind ever before issued. It embraces all North America south of the 50th degree of North Latitude, including the Canadas, United States, Mexico, Central America, West India Islands and a part of South America.—There are indeed other maps which include this same extent of territory, as Monk's, Mitchell's New and Colton's, but none of these works can make any pretensions to merit equal to this of Johnson's. In the first place it is much larger than either of these, being 72 by 80 inches in size. This large scale has enabled the author to insert a vast amount of information of the highest importance which neither of the other works were able to contain. Hence the Counties of all the States and Territories are distinctly colored and named, the principal towns, the railroads, &c. &c. We are particularly pleased with the amount of recent information it contains in the new Territories. We find, for example Arizona, and many new places which we have looked in vain on other maps to find.

It also contains a map of the World on Mercator's projection, on a much larger scale and more fully complete, and thoroughly finished than any other we have seen. On this also we find something new and recent, the discoveries of Dr. Kane in the Polar Sea; even all the places discovered and named by the Dr. up to within 9 degrees of the North Pole. Of the whole work it is difficult to speak in terms of too high praise. It is a fine copperplate engraving, and as a mere work of art is unsurpassed. It is illustrated with beautiful and truly Daguerrotypic views of several cities of our Country and the splendid Capital erected at Washington. For general reference, in the family, the office, the library, the school room, it is a work which ought not to be dispensed with. Its price is remarkably moderate, and we heartily commend it to the general patronage. The work is to be sold only by agents, and we are informed this State is to be immediately canvassed. Dr. C. A. Lax general Agent for the State may be addressed for agencies at Harrisburg.

J. A. Moore of Coalport has been appointed Agent for this County, and will commence canvassing immediately.—We have one of these maps in our possession and can recommend as the best ever published.

Advices from Kansas state that Governor Walker had returned to Lawrence with the United States troops, the apprehensions of large quantities of the very best Pennsylvania proved groundless. The quarterly municipal government of Lawrence met on the 27th, and was engaged in perfecting ordinances.—The election returns from all parts of the territory indicate a large vote, and nearly unanimous for the Topeka Constitution.

DESCRIBTION OF ASHLAND.—James B. Clay has given a splendid barbecue at Ashland in honor of his election to Congress, by the Democratic party. Several fat bullocks were served up on the occasion. He might have given variety to his bill of fare, by adding the old locofoco rooster, that crowed so lustily, over the defeat of his father in 1844.

APPOINTMENTS.—Governor Pollock, has appointed Darius Bullock, Esq., of Bradford County, President Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Wilmot.

Later news from Mexico says that President Comonfort was almost unanimously re-elected.

A meeting of the members of the Huntingdon County Bar, held at the office of Scott & Brown, on Monday, August 24th, was organized by appointing James Steel, Esq., President, and John Scott, Esq., Secretary.

The following preamble and resolution offered by Major T. P. Campbell and A. W. Benedict, Esq., were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, In the dispensation of Divine Providence, our late and venerable brother, WILLIAM OMBROSE, Esq., the oldest member of our Bar, has been removed from our midst, a decent professional custom, as well as our great personal respect for the deceased, requiring some expression from us upon this occasion.

Resolved, That we mingle our grief as a profession, with that of the profession at large, at the removal from our midst of one whose life was so useful, whose example so worthy of imitation, and whose loss will be so universally felt.

That to the bereaved family and the social circle, to those who have lost a husband, a father, and a friend who adorned all these relations, we tender our warmest sympathies.

That while we and they may weep, there is cause to rejoice that he died with an unclouded heart, a blessed benefactor.

That we attend his funeral in a body, and wear the usual badge of mourning thirty days.

That a copy of these proceedings be published and a copy furnished to the family of the deceased.

HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.

Maintains the secretions, especially those of the skin and kidneys, increases nutrition, and allays the irritability of the nervous and circulatory systems. Hence an admirable remedy for debility during or after a mercurial course, and for the multitudinous variety of symptoms which arise, when the health is broken down, as well by the disease as by its remedy. For Scrofula, it is the most certain means.—Enquirer.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

The only transaction reported for shipment is 200 barrels good extra at $7.75. Fresh ground superfine made from new Wheat is freely offered at $7.50 to $7.75, without finding buyers. Small sales for home consumption within the range of the same quotations for common and extra brands, and $8.00 to $8.25 for extra family and fancy lots. Rye Flour and Corn Meal continue scarce. We quote the former at $4.50, and the latter at $4.75 bbl. GRAIN.—Wheat continues to move forward freely, but the market is dull, and prices continue to favor buyers, sales of 1000 bush, fair and prime Southern red at $1.45 to $1.50 7/8 bu.; 1200 bushels choice Tennessee do, at $1.53; 500 bush good Delaware white at $1.55, and 200 bush, Kentucky do, at $1.69. Rye has advanced 10 cents, and new Pennsylvania brought $5.00. Corn is in steady demand, but there is not much offering—sales of 1100 bush, yellow in store, and $5.00 to $5.25. Oats are plenty and dull—holders ask 35c.
