A Word to Honest Voters.

Can you vote for a man whose political actions have been marked by the lowest cunning and treachery, whose private character is sullied by crime, or to whom you cannot with feelings of security and perfect safety trust your affairs? Can you endorse the actions of a man who has deceived you, who has labored to sell you, and who is even now engaged in a scheme to plunder you? If you cannot, read the record of an honest man, and if it meets your ideas, vote for him. Our enemies may tell you that our candidate for Assembly—Levi Evans—is a wealthy aristocrat, but it is false. Mr. Evans has been brought up to hard labor; from heretofore, by a severely declining industry, perseverance and a life of sobriety, coupled with economy, he has amassed a considerable fortune, but he defies any man to point to a single instance in which he has obtained one dollar or one penny of his wealth by dishonesty or by fraud. He defies any man to point to a single instance in which he has stepped off the threshold of honor and honesty, for lucre. If he has wronged a man out of a farthing, why don't his enemies prove it? If he has broken any of the civil laws, why don't they point to it? If he has in any manner, shape or form defrauded his neighbor, done any act in his public or private life which was wrong, for the purpose of gain, he demands that it should be made public. But there is one, and from the manner in which it is announced, we would be led to suppose it to be a serious charge, which the political enemies of Mr. Evans bring against him. They charge him with being a member of the Methodist church! That he associates with members of that particular denomination. That he contributes towards the support of that religious sect. And last, that he is unworthy of public confidence from these causes. To all these charges, except the last, we plead guilty. We acknowledge, that, from his mother's knee Levi Evans has been taught to love and cherish old Wesley's faith. We acknowledge that he is a member of the Methodist church. We acknowledge that he contributes to the support of that church—as we have been informed by a minister of this church, that, from his own knowledge, Mr. Evans last year gave $150 towards its support, besides contributing largely to other religious denominations. But we do not believe him unworthy the support of good men on this account, and we can hardly believe that our good citizens will withhold their suffrages from him for this reason. The Methodist Church has taken a more decided stand against oppression and human bondage, than any other religious body in this land. Whilst others have in a measure "set their faces against this abomination of Israel," it has "cried aloud and spared not" "neither has it countenanced the oppressor." Jesuitism has no stronger foe than Methodism. In fact, on all the great questions which have given a progressive movement to Christianity, the Methodist church has been always sound. There is, therefore, no good nor valid reason for opposing any man on account of his Methodism. Let it be understood, then, that Levi Evans belongs to the Methodist Church, and, if there is a voter in Huntingdon County who, with the "Huntingdon American" and its wire-pullers, considers it a disqualification for office, he does not wish his support. He wishes to be perfectly square before the people, and will seek no man's vote through deception. Therefore let no man vote for him who upholds the Huntingdon American's doctrine.

The new subscribers to the Huntingdon Journal for the week ending Sept. 30th, 1857, are: James Simpson, George Collins, Alexander Whitney, George C. Ker, James Smith, Solomon Harnish, Jr., George Davis, Samuel Devin, Allen Drake, De Witt Hamer, Samuel Jacobs.

Look at This Picture.

It has been asserted by the enemies of Levi Evans, that he is only before the people to insure the defeat of Col. Wharton, and the success of Loocofoecism. Let us see how this will agree with the truth. First, then, to prove that Mr. Evans, has no desire to aid in the election of a Loocofoe, and that his only object is to maintain the honor of his party, let us make known the fact, that Mr. Evans has urged upon Col. Wharton that they both withdraw from the canvass, and that the Americans and Republicans of the County settle on a new man. If this was not honorable and fair on the part of Mr. Evans, (seeing that he will have two votes to Wharton's one) we do not know what honor and fairness means. But Col. Wharton refused this proposition, and with characteristic eloquence told Mr. Evans he "would be d—d if he did." Now who is to blame, or to whom must the charge of disorganization be laid, if not to Samuel Wharton? But again, Col. Wharton could not have possible been elected under the most favorable circumstances, even had there been no third candidate in the field. He is so utterly, and to use superlatives, so perfectly and completely obnoxious to the people of the county, that his defeat would have been as "sure as fate."

Now this is the sensible, reasonable view of the matter. Col. Wharton need not blame Mr. Evans, the Huntingdon Journal or "a few individuals in this here borough," for his defeat, but the votes of the masses. He must blame the honest tax-payers of the county, who cannot, and to their credit be it said, will not endorse a system of Corruption and Bribery, and whose rights cannot be bartered and sold as common merchandise. Mr. Evans is Col. Wharton's superior in every respect except in trickery. In point of intellect, Mr. Wharton is an infant. His public character (and God knows that's bad enough) is only surpassed by his private. Whilst on the other hand, Levi Evans, as a public officer or a private gentleman, challenges the world to point to a single instance in which he has went astray or done intentional wrong. How is it friends; which of these candidates deserve your suffrages? Can you have a doubt after a careful and candid consideration of their public and private characters?

Another "Clincher."

The enemies of Mr. Evans are trying hard to injure his prospects, by a species of unsubstantiated assertions, of a character calculated to make him unpopular with certain classes. It would be utterly impossible for us to keep up to them in attempting a refutation of all these slanders, as they follow up one lie so rapidly with another, that the attempt would be as foolish as useless. However, from time to time we shall give such clinchers to the boldest of these assertions, as will prove them as wicked and bad as their authors.

In the Huntingdon "American" of some two weeks ago, an article appeared, in which, after ridiculing the members of the Methodist church, and declaring in substance that a man is unworthy of public confidence, it was intimated that no honest member of the Methodist church will sanction the course of Evans, &c. This is intended for the members of that denomination here as elsewhere, who have declared their preference for Evans, as well as to cast an imputation against Mr. Evans' character as a Christian and a gentleman. This vile and malignant slander has, however, had the effect we presumed it would have, of arousing the indignation of those who know Evans, and who love the doctrines of the church he supports. We have received from Rev. J. F. PORTER, pastor of the church to which Mr. Evans belongs, the following certificate, which we think will be accepted in preference to the gratuitous slanders and falsehoods of such men as the editors of the Huntingdon "American," and their candidate Wharton. To this note we invite the candid consideration and careful attention of our friends:

HOPEWELL, SEPT. 25th, 1857. This is to certify that Levi Evans, Esq., is a member in good standing in "Coalmont Circuit." Also that he is a "Class Leader" and an efficient circuit steward in the Methodist Episcopal Church. J. F. PORTER, Preacher in Charge. There, slanders of Christian character, you must invent some other scheme to injure our candidate. Here we have the unsolicited, unqualified endorsement of his christian profession by his pastor. Is anything more required on this point? But perhaps the "American" may not accept this endorsement, coming as it does from a member of that persuasion it denounces?—How is it?

"Fire" and Fall Back.

The last Huntingdon American accuses us of having deserted Americanism, of being a "traitor to the United States," (including all that portion of territory between Canada and the Gulf of Mexico, &c.), "our creed," and the Lord only knows what else. Why do these immaculate editors say this? Is it true that we deserted or broke any of the obligations imposed upon us by a connexion with that order? No, we have not, and we defy them to prove it. We joined that order at special request, and lived up to all its requirements. When the oaths and obligations were abolished, we considered ourselves no longer bound to support, contrary to our inclinations, unprincipled men, and for that reason partly we opposed Mr. Wharton. Let us see whether these editors have lived entirely free from blame. We are willing to be qualified that they voted for Gratius Miller, the Loocofoe nominee for Sheriff, last fall; and if this was not a direct, open and flagrant breaking of obligations, then we don't know what it is. But they are raising this cry to direct attention from the questions we put to them two weeks ago. When they see proper to come and take up our wagger of $50 that we made them then, we may condescend to notice them individually again. Till then, fizzle and treeze, and lie and slander to your heart's content. The people won't believe anything you say, until you take up our offer of $50, that we can prove you base liars.

Can Mr. Evans be Elected?

This is a question which has been asked by our friends, and to which we answer, he can. The contest is now between Evans and Hontz, as is acknowledged by men of all parties. Mr. Wharton stands no chance whatever; he will not receive five hundred votes in the county. We do not say this without solid proof to back up the assertion. In some of the election districts, we have proof positive, that Col. Wharton will not receive a single solitary vote! In other districts, he will not receive a dozen votes and in this borough there will be a tremendous majority against him. His vote, therefore, we feel confident, cannot, under the most favorable circumstances, exceed five hundred, and may not, as is asserted by knowing ones, reach four hundred. This being the case, let us ask you friends is there not a strong probability, amounting almost to a positive assurance that Levi Evans will be our next Representative?

Wharton's chances are hopeless. He, as well as his friends who are urging him to withdraw from the canvass, know this, hence we were not astonished to note an article in the last Huntingdon Globe, the Loocofoe organ of this county, intended to pave the way for Col. Wharton's declination in favor of Dr. Hontz, the Loocofoe nominee. We warn our American Republican friends to be on their guard against this treacherous manoeuvre, that they be not "sold to the Egyptians." The language of the Globe cannot be misunderstood, and we quote it to place our friends on their guard.—This scheme, if carried into effect, as we have every reason to believe it may, will not be attempted until a few days previous to the election, to render all efforts to stop the proceedings hopeless.

But to the language in question. After a brief panegyric to Aiden W. Benedict, and S. S. Wharton, the Globe of last week paves the way for the withdrawal of Wharton, as follows: "Indeed, we should be glad to announce that the former [Mr. Benedict] would, at an early day, ADDRESS THE DEMOCRATIC and other citizens of the county in advocacy of Democratic principles, and the latter [Wharton] had declined in favor of Dr. Hontz, the regularly nominated Democratic candidate for the Legislature."

Here then we have the whole matter clearly unfolded. Col. Wharton, with his friend and Squire, Sancho Panza, seeing that his election is hopeless, will attempt to defeat Mr. Evans by carrying their forces over to Loocofoecism. Honest voters who do you say. Think you not that Evans' election is a probable event, to cause such manoeuvring, and wire-pulling and treacherous bargain and sale among his opponents. Believe us when we tell you that all things point to his triumphant election. All that is necessary to secure it is, that you, citizens of Huntingdon County, who are opposed to Bribery and Corruption, to Fraud and Trickery, to Bargain and Sale, should attend the Polls and vote for the man who opposes these evils.

Honest Democrat, we have a word for you. Can you, in the face of the above evidence doubt that Wharton and Hontz are a unit on the questions now at issue. It is a plain case. Daniel Hontz, you vote to release the Pennsylvania Railroad of the "three mill tonnage tax," you vote to squander an appropriation of three millions of dollars on the Sunbury & Erie Railroad, you vote for an increase of taxation, you endorse a system of political treachery and low cunning. And now, as honest men, will you, can you do it? The interests of your County demand your earnest attention to this matter. All we ask of you is to examine the platforms of the two candidates—Evans and Hontz—and vote for the man who pledges himself the strongest to uphold your interests. To the letter of Evans on another page, we direct your attention. Whilst he has nobly laid down his principles and marked out the course which he intends pursuing if elected, his opponent, Hontz, fearful of offending the individual to whom he owes his nomination, has not had the manliness to give his views; thus acknowledging the very charges we have and here make against him.—First, he is in favor of releasing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from the payment of the three mill tax; second, that he is in favor of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad Swindle; and third, as a natural consequence, he is in favor of increased taxation. Let all voters—American Republicans, and Democrats—who are opposed to these measures vote for the candidate who opposes them, and the result will be the triumphant election of Levi Evans, by a majority never surpassed in the county.

The Ticket for Freemen.

The ticket for freemen to support at the coming election is one which has never been excelled. A better one was never presented. DAVID WILMOT, the candidate for Governor, is and ever has been the poor man's friend. It is this sentiment of humanity and his determined purpose to carry out the principles of right, which has endeared him to the hearts of the people. Those who know David Wilmot personally, and who have watched his career from his youth, can give us no better evidence of their appreciation of his honesty of purpose and goodness of heart, than the sweeping majorities he has given him and the principles he has seen fit to advocate. The people should consult their interests and elect him, over Packer, a man who has been plundering the State ever since he has been able to handle a dollar. Give him your votes, freemen, if you want a good Governor, honest, just, and upright.

Our Apology.

We believe we owe an apology to the public for the failure on our part to lay before our readers the explanation of the case "Wharton vs. Gwin" &c., published in our last. The fact of the case is this—we had a full and concise explanation of the matter written out, and partly in type, when we reconsidered the matter, and at the request of a particular friend, concluded to drop it altogether. This we have done not for the sake of the Col. but to spare the feelings of his respectable relatives, who of course would feel for him.

MORE PROOF!

READ! READ! READ!!! ASTOUNDING DEVELOPEMENTS!

The Huntingdon "American" of last week, dares us to show that corruption and fraud, characterized the Convention that nominated Wharton. They publish an affidavit made by one Ashael Corbin, charging Levi Evans with offering him $5 for voting for him. Now we have no desire to question this, but it does seem strange that this man Ashael, should, a week after the Convention had adjourned, declare to another delegate from this borough that he had never spoken to Evans, and that he received no money from him! But to put a quietus to these stories, read the following statement, which we have just received from THE PRESIDENT OF THE CONVENTION which nominated Wharton! If "Mr. Asha" or Col. Wharton deny it, we will elicit it with an affidavit. We have received similar documents from some of the delegates, but want of room compels us lay them over. The following, coming as it does from the President of the Convention which nominated Wharton, must have a great effect. Read the astounding developments:

SEPTEMBER 25th, 1857. On Tuesday, the 11th day of August last,—the day on which the Union County Convention assembled, over which body I was President, I was approached by a certain Ashael Corbin, a delegate to said Convention, who, after gratifying me with the intelligence that he was "devil Asha," proposed to cast his vote, together with others over whom he had control, for Levi Evans, provided I supported a Mr. White for Register and Recorder. I replied that I was expected of me by my constituents that I would support Mr. Glazier, and that I had not known that Mr. White was a candidate until then. To this, Corbin replied that he and his colleague with all their force were going for Evans, at any rate, and that we should do something for their man. He said further that he could wield a considerable influence in that body, as he had some twelve delegates to do his bidding. I had only moved a few feet when I was beset by one Col. S. S. Wharton, who, after telling me I was acting rather strangely, said he was the man that could poll a stronger vote than any other man in the county, by 800 votes; that he would receive 1000 Democratic votes. I replied that he was not the strong man, that he might know more of his chance than I did, but he had no strength in our part of the county, and asked him how he expected to get those 1000 Democratic votes. After enjoining me to strict secrecy, until the Convention should adjourn, he, Wharton said, it was understood between him and the Democrats that if HE was nominated, they would bring out a WEAK AND UNPOPULAR MAN, and the influential portion of that party would support him; that they would control the Convention which assembled next day, (the Loocofoe Convention) and amongst those who were his strong supporters in that party was a Mr. John Anderson, who he said, was a Democrat, and that the Convention would follow his lead. He said that Mr. Anderson wanted some Legislative business attended to, and that he (Wharton) had promised Mr. Anderson to do this business up to his mills. He said he alluded to the THREE MILL TAX particularly (that it should be removed from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and that he had pledged himself to Mr. Anderson, TO VOTE, if elected, IN FAVOR OF REMOVING THE TAX. He said further that if the Convention did not nominate him, he would be nominated next day, and he, understanding and having such arrangement, could judge better of his strength than I could; or any other man outside of the secret.

LEVI EVANS.

ERRORS OF JOURNAL: Dear Sirs:—In a piece in the last American with the above caption, the editors of that paper are trying to drag the Methodist Church into the political arena, and array the members of that church against Mr. Evans, who they say is a Methodist. Now there are Methodists in this place who have belonged to that Church for many years, who never heard that Mr. Evans was a Methodist, until they saw him paraded before the public as one, in the columns of the American. Is there any crime in being a Methodist? Must a man be denounced when he is brought out before the people for office because he is a Methodist? Since I read the article referred to in the American, I have made some inquiry about the matter and find that Mr. Evans is a Methodist—his father was a Methodist—his grand-father was a Methodist—his brother is a Methodist preacher. But what of that? Is that any reason why the Methodist Church should be appealed to against Mr. Evans? What do the editors of the American expect to make by proclaiming Mr. Evans as a Methodist, and then appeal to the Church of which he is a consistent member, to go against him? But listen to them: "The desperate creatures about this borough need not boast that Mr. Evans will get the vote of the Methodist Church and he need not make any such calculation." Here the "desperate creatures about this borough," and the "Methodist Church," are so connected, that one who did not know the contrary to be the case, might be led to believe that the membership of the Methodist Church was made up of the vilest persons that the community could produce, and that Mr. Evans and his brethren are a "set of political desperadoes, who have neither respect for churches or political parties, and whose foul mouths are no slander upon any good citizen where they are known." But listen again: "We unhesitatingly say that no honest member of the Methodist Church or any other Church will sanction the course of Mr. Evans, and go against Col. Wharton, because he is a Presbyterian." How is it members of the Methodist Church, or any other Church, have you been opposing Col. Wharton, "because he is a Presbyterian?" Here is a heavy charge. How is it Methodists? Speak. Is it true? You are first denounced as a set of political desperadoes and foul-mouthed slanderers, and then you are brought out in battle array against Col. Wharton, because he is a Presbyterian. What do you say? Is it true, or is it false? And besides this, you are charged with another heinous crime. "You profess so much love for Mr. Evans and the Methodist Church." Other denominations may profess to love their brethren and love their Church, but you must not dare to do so. It is horrible and proposterous for you. "Try some thing else." Go for Col. Wharton and become an "honest member of the Methodist and other churches."

Thus the editors of the American would dictate to the members of the Methodist and other churches. When have these gentlemen been clothed in sacerdotal robes, or crowned with bishops' mitres, that they should assume the authority to dictate to churches? As editors of a political party paper, they may control their party, if they can, but what right have they to "speak to the churches." The members of the Methodist church have intelligence enough to take care of themselves. If the editors of the American had not sense enough to perceive that the church is not accountable for that, the gentlemen have certainly placed themselves in the position of the person spoken of in the tenth chapter of John, and when they undertake to dictate again to churches it would be better for them to secure as well the proper qualifications as the authority for so doing. SCRUTATOR.

MESSRS. EDITORS: On Friday, the 18th inst, we had the pleasure of attending a grand Sunday-school celebration, near Marklesburg, a short account of which I purport giving you. The celebration was held in a beautiful grove on the farm of Mr. Henry Boyer, about a quarter of a mile from the village, and consisted of the pupils, teachers and others connected with the Salem, Marklesburg, Zion's Church, Coffee Run, and Branch Sabbath-schools. The scholars of all the schools formed in procession on the green surrounding the Methodist Church, and marched to the grove in beautiful order displaying several tastefully decorated banners, bearing appropriate mottoes. In the grove were erected a temporary stand and seats for the accommodation and benefit of a large number of spectators. The audience were then called to order by Mr. J. C. Hagey, who made an eloquent prayer, after which Mr. F. Lane, of Huntingdon, was introduced and delivered a very able address, mainly to the pupils. He was followed by our worthy friend, Gen. John Williamson, who was listened to with delighted attention by all. There was now displayed under the foliage of the giant oaks, a large table, amply provided with the good things of the season, of which, after the children had been supplied by their teachers, the whole company present were invited to partake. The company was again called to order about half-past one o'clock, when Rev. Mr. Fletcher was called on, and followed by Rev. Wm. Bechtel, both of whom delivered short but pleasing and appropriate addresses. Dr. Winthrope made the concluding remarks, and spoke on "The Sunday-schools," showing that religious truths if properly instilled into the minds of the young must ultimately produce to the recipients, a beneficial result. This concluded the programme for the day, and we now retraced our way homeward—yet the pleasing entertainment of the day will long be remembered by W. J. G.

GOV. WALKER'S PROCLAMATION.—The Missouri Democrat has seen this document, in reference to the October elections. It is not only lengthy but important. Walker takes exception to the opinion of Judge Cato and Attorney General Wier, that the payment of a territorial tax is a qualification for the right of suffrage, and unless the tax is paid, no person has a right to vote. He declares, however, that all can vote—the only qualification being "six months' residence in the territory."

THE ATTENTION OF OUR FRIENDS IS DIRECTED to the advertisement in another column of the Fall Arrival of goods at Fisher & McMurtrie's mammoth store. It will be only necessary for us to state that the supply is one of the heaviest and best ever brought to town, selected by Rash himself, who, as a polite and attentive storekeeper is S. P. and no mistake. If you want to see handsome goods just call around.

A PASTOR OWNED.—Kelly Lowe, pastor of the African church, Augusta, Ga., was originally a slave, but his people bought him, some years ago, and as Zion's Advocate says, "he is their servant peculiarly as well as spiritually." They allow him a salary of from $800 to $1000 per annum.

POTATOES.—The Halifax, N. S., Journal believes that the dreaded potato blight has not been nearly so prevalent this year as last, and states that, where it has been severe, its ravages have been compensated by unusually good grain crops.

THE STATE OF MAINE held an election for Governor last Monday, and the result as far as received, indicates a glorious American Republican triumph. Morrill's (Repub.) majority in 201 towns is 9,240. Last year the Republican majority in the same towns was 12,672. The difference is more than accounted for by the falling off of the vote.

THE LADY'S HOME magazine, for October, a most beautiful number by the way, has been received. It is a very interesting book, Published by T. S. Arthur & Co., at $2 per annum.

WE CRAVE the indulgence of our correspondents two weeks longer; then, we shall have ample room to spare, and shall be pleased to hear from them all, often.

THE TOTAL NUMBER of lives lost by the sinking of the steamer New Granada, a few days ago, is four hundred and thirteen.

OUR THANKS are due Fowlers & Wells for a copy of their Phenological Almanac. It is a useful little affair.

THE FREE STATE men in Kansas have held a large territorial convention at Grass-hopper Falls, and determined to vote at the October election. They nominated Marcus J. Parrot as delegate to Congress. Haller, who has been confined at Fort Leavenworth on a charge of having killed James M. Lyle, a Border Ruffian, at the Leavenworth municipal election, has escaped, in company with two soldiers set to guard him. Woods and Neigh-tors, the Leavenworth counterfeiters and murderers, are still safe in custody at Delaware. The St. Louis Republican says that the constitution convention, which is to meet on the second Monday of September, will not submit the constitution to a popular vote, but will send it to Congress without such endorsement.

"If you have wrongs, redress them through the peaceful instrumentality of the ballot-box, in the mode prescribed by the laws of your country." We clip the above from Gov. Walker's recent proclamation to the people of Lawrence. It reminds us of an illustration in one of Hood's works, representing a man sitting astride of a mule on the extreme rear portion, where the caudal appendage is attached, and asking a way worn foot passenger, "Why don't you get on behind?" After disfranchising the great majority of the people in Kansas, the sham Democracy now points them to "the peaceful instrumentality of the ballot-box to redress their wrongs."

VERMONT O. K.—The following are the returns of the Governor's election held in this glorious State a few days since. We hope to give a similar report next month of our own State election: Fletcher, Republican, 25,675; Keyes, Democrat, 12,014; Scattering, 220. Fletcher's majority, 13,441. In the Senate, the Republicans elected all their candidates, while in the House there were but 38 Opposition members against 180 Republicans.

THE PANIC in the money market in N. York and Philadelphia, is unprecedented. Failures among men of business occur every day. A number of Banks in New York and New Jersey have failed, and some in Pennsylvania have suspended. Among the latter are some which were considered the most substantial in the State. Stocks of all kinds have fallen 20, 30, and 50 per cent. Our friends should be very careful in receiving any kind of paper money.

THERE are plenty of young gentlemen as well as old ones, whose beards are turning gray, which gives the former a great deal of uneasiness, and exposes the oak of the latter. To avoid these little perplexities we advise our readers to use Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, which will, in the course of a few weeks, change the hair to its natural color. It does not dye the hair like most of the hair restoratives, but produces a gradual change of color from the roots of the hair to the final end and gives it a fine and glossy appearance. We have seen many persons who have used it successfully, and pronounced it the only remedy which has come up to their idea of a "cure for gray heads." We compared it with the most famous hair restoratives, and found it to be the most judicious and beautiful, it has made us at least ten years younger; in fact we are beginning to look quite young, and feel very much like getting a young wife. The change is miraculous, and it would be as difficult to find a gray hair now as it would be to find an idea in the head of the Duke of Buckingham. We know several old maids and some young widows, whose locks are just beginning to assume a silvery hue, and who have been talking seriously about resorting to this remedy, and we advise them not to delay any longer. It never fails.—St. Louis Herald.

FURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA.—For all diseases of the blood, nothing has yet been found to compare with it. It cleanses the system of all impurities, acts gently and efficiently on the liver and kidneys, strengthens the digestion, gives health, and restores the constitution weakened by disease or broken down by the excesses of youth, to its pristine vigor and strength. Every prudent person should use a few bottles, particularly during the spring and summer months.—Wilmington Sign.
