

THE TRADE-A PARLOR GAME.

One of the party must be selected to open the game, who does so by saying: "I have apprenticed my son to, (naming the trade, and the first thing he made (or used) was (mentioning the initial letters of the article.)"

Whoever discovers the article alluded to takes the next turn. We will suppose a number of persons are playing, and the agreed upon begins with: "I apprenticed my son to a cabinet maker and the very first thing he made was an 'A. C.'"

"Arm chair," exclaims a player, and this being correct, it becomes his turn, and he says: "I apprenticed my son to a dry good store, and the first thing he sold was a piece of P. M."

"Paper muslin." "No; try it again." "Was it printed." "No, you are not right yet."

"P. M. I can't think of anything else beginning with P. M." "Will you give it up?" "Yes is the general cry."

"It was a pink merino. Now it is my turn again, as you did not guess it. I apprenticed my son to a grocer, and the first thing he sold was B. of C."

"Box of Candles," some one says; who without delay continues: "I apprenticed my son to a hardware man and the first thing he sold was a B. S."

"Blower stand." "Well, I apprenticed my son to a confectioner; and the first thing he made was C. C."

"Coconut nut cakes." "No; guess again." "It must be cream candy, then." "Yes that is right."

"I apprenticed my daughter to a dress-maker, and the first thing she made was a B. S. B."

"Black silk basque," says another, and so the game goes on, the questions and answers passing rapidly from one to another. It affords a variety, sometimes, to give out the initial letters of any articles that are in the room where the parties are playing.—Peterson's Magazine.

A SINGULAR WILL.

Judge Morris has shown us, says the New Haven Journal, the following copy of a will recorded on the New Haven probate records:

"In the name of God, sole Governor of all worlds, Jesus Christ, the Holy Ghost, the twelve apostles, James, Peter, Paul, John, Andrew, Philip, Thomas, James, Judas, Simon, and Matthias, Amen. I, David Ogden, of New Haven, in the State of Connecticut, being in uncommon good health and spirits, and in my right mind and wits, do, in the following manner make this my last will and testament,—

Imprimis, My body, this mass composed of flesh, blood, arteries, bones, cartilages, fibres, and God wot not all besides, I commit, when dressed in my best suit of black clothes, to its deep, dark, silent grave,— 'tis a dismal house I am to dwell in, yea, a mournful one; therefore, the dress for mourning is the most proper one for me. Thus let this body be dressed for its coffin which I pray to be made of sound mahogany wood, and not ornamented with brass nails and tin plates, telling my name age or death—my head will tell these things to the inquisitive in the grave.

"When this mass of corruption is thus equipped, let it be borne on the shoulders of four sturdy youths to its long home, the narrow grave whom I would, should be rewarded for their trouble with a decent pair of gloves each. By the way should David Edwards, the Sunday next after my exit, conceive either my death or my life to merit a sermon, a short sermon prayer, or a few hymns to be sent up to the throne of all pitying and merciful God, pray thee let it be done; and for his trouble and good services in the solemn business, give him my best wishes for his welfare, accompanied with a compliment of $3.4 New York currency. Item—My soul, God grant, if I have any or ever had it may wing its flight to heaven, be placed conspicuously among the stars, fly on the wings of the wind, feed the beasts of the field, the birds of the air, the insects of the earth, or the fishes of the aquatic deep waters, upon the whole I give my soul to God. Item—It is my will and pleasure that a monument worth $10, be erected in the burying ground in New Haven, to my memory, the motto and epitaph for which I leave wholly to the discretion of my worthy friend and brother, Pierpont Edwards; Esq." Then follow the bequest, &c.

"It may seem strange, but it is a fact that men generally are much more afraid of women than women are of men; and fearing to break the ice is a fruitful cause of old bachelorism.

LAND FOR SALE. The subscriber offers for sale a small farm in Henderson township, half a mile north east of the borough of Huntingdon, adjoining lands of John Simpson, Colestock, and others, containing about ninety acres, and all well cleared and under a good state of cultivation. The balance is well timbered. There are on this property three never-failing springs of good water. The buildings consist of a two-story frame house and kitchen, and a log stable—a fine young apple orchard of grafted fruit.— Terms made known by applying to the subscriber. SAMUEL FRIEDLY. June 23, '58, 4m.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR, COMPLETELY PRESERVED TO THE GREATEST AGE.

And who that is gray would not have it restored to former color? or bald, but would have it a growth restored, or troubled with dandruff and itching but would have it removed, or troubled with scurf, scald head, or other eruptions, but would be cured, or with sick headache (neuralgia) but would be cured. It will remove all pimples from the face and skin. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will do all this, see circular and the following.

ANN ARBOR, November 5, 1856. PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir, I have heard much said of the wonderful effects of your Hair Restorative, but having been so often cheated by quackery and nostrums, hair dyes, &c., I was disposed to place your Restorative in the same category with the thousand and one loudly trumpeted quack remedies, until I met you in reference county some months since, when you gave me such assurance as induced the trial of your Restorative in my family—first by my good wife, whose hair had become very thin and entirely white, and before exhausting one of your large bottles, her hair was restored nearly to its original beautiful brown color, and had thickened and become beautiful and glossy upon, and entirely over the head; she continues to use it, not only because of its beneficial effects upon the hair, but because of its healthful influence upon the head and mind. Others of my family and friends are using your Restorative, with the happiest effects; therefore, my skepticism and doubts in reference to its character are entirely removed, and I call it do most cordially and confidentially recommend its use by all who would have their hair restored from white or gray (by reason of sickness or age), to original color and beauty, and by all young persons who would have their hair beautiful.

Very truly and gratefully yours, SOLOMON MANN.

FRIEND WOOD: It was a long time after I saw you at Blenheim, before I got the bottle of your Restorative for which you gave me an order upon your agent in Detroit, and when I got it we concluded to try it on Mrs. Mann's hair, as the surest test of its power. It has done all that you assured me it would do, and I can say of my family and friends, having witnessed its effects, are now using and recommending its use to others as entitled to the highest consideration you claim for it.

Again, very respectfully and truly yours, SOLOMON MANN.

CARLEIGH, Ill. June 28, 1852. I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effects. My hair was becoming, as I thought, prematurely gray, but by the use of his Restorative it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

HUNTINGDON WARM SPRINGS. The Warm Springs at the base of Warrior's Ridge, in the north of Huntingdon, overlooking Standing Stone Creek, and surrounded by romantic hills and woodlands, have been leased by the former proprietor of the Leaman House. The extensive Hotel buildings, both new and old, erected at great expense by General A. P. Wilson, have been completely renovated and have been beautifully laid out and adorned.— The Hotel parlors and chambers airy and comfortably furnished; and the prospect, from the verandahs for beauty, cannot be excelled.

For a full description of these Springs, and how they have been celebrated for their medicinal qualities, and the great nature of the waters in rheumatic and chronic affections, the temperature of the water being 64 degrees, renders the bathing delightful and invigorating. In the surrounding woods and mountains, game abounds, and the finest fish are caught in Stone Creek. Persons in pursuit of health or pleasure, will find this a most delightful and healthful retreat, and its nearness to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the cheapness of the rates charged guests, give it a decided advantage over any other watering place in the State.

The Proprietor has had years of experience in the business of bathing, and his treatment will be so made to make guests comfortable.
