W. M. BREWSTER, Editor and Proprietor.

Wednesday Morning November, 3 1858

The Circulation of the Huntingdon Journal is greater than the Globe and American combined.

CLUBBING WITH MAGAZINES.

The Huntingdon JOURNAL for one year, and either of the Magazines for the same period will be sent to the address of any subscriber to be paid in advance as follows: The Journal and Godey's Lady's Book, for one year, $3 50...

Our 8 by 10 neighbor has again opened the nasty sluices of his wrath upon us, and amused his 175 subscribers by predicting, for the twentieth time, the downfall of the Journal.

We are frequently in the receipt of anonymous communications, some of which we would gladly publish if accompanied by a responsible name.

The Daily Despatch is a very neat paper published daily, in Lancaster Pa. by E. S. Speaker, W. H. H. Cox, & J. M. Gainter, at three dollars a year in advance.

The Cincinnati Times says, 'the prevailing epidemic now raging in this city is the thirst for strong drink.'

Important from Oregon.—Battle with the Indians.—The Legislature.—Political.

The overland mail brings accounts of a battle at Four Lakes, Oregon, on the 1st of September, between three hundred troops under Col. Wright, and five hundred Indians, in which the Indians were completely routed, with the loss of seventeen killed and many wounded.

Foreign Intelligence.

The steamship Persia arrived at New York, yesterday, bringing news from Europe as late as the 16th. France had accepted the mediation of a friendly power in her dispute with Portugal.

The free importation of breadstuffs into Portugal is to be permitted. At Tetuan, Morocco, the Spanish and French vice consuls had been assassinated, and energetic measures were to be taken to enforce satisfaction.

Reception of Gen. Paez at the White House.

Speeches of Gen. Paez and the President.—A Highly Gratifying interview.—Gen. Paez to return to Venezuela in a National Vessel.—Washington, Oct. 29.

General Paez said he came to bid farewell to this nation, through its president. He considered the United States his second home, and expressed the hope that the sympathies bestowed upon him in his exile, would be extended to Venezuela.

The President, in reply, said he was happy to see the man who won so great a name in the Colombian war of Independence, and who had made so many sacrifices for his country.

The interview, as Gen. Paez subsequently remarked, was of a highly gratifying character.

Starving a Snake out of a Stomach. A correspondent at Pentonville, Michigan, says the Sandusky Register, transmits to us a veritable snake story—one which appears on its face to be very extravagant, but which we believe to be true as the author is entirely reliable.

the effects of the spirits wore off. At times, when he partook of food offensive to the animal, it would become agitated and roll about with a motion which could be felt by placing the hand upon the stomach.

Having tried many physicians without being relieved, Beach was induced to apply to a German doctor, who recommended the process of starving the intruder out.

It was somewhat decomposed, and had evidently lost four or five inches of its tail. As to its original size our correspondent cannot determine. Its head measured crosswise just one inch and a quarter.

THE N. Y. TRAGEDY.

CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED.

THRILLING PARTICULARS.

(From the N. Y. Times of Oct. 29th.)

At a late hour on Tuesday night a more horrible tragedy was enacted in this city than we have ever before had occasion to record. Francis A. Gouldy, aged 19 years, attempted, at his father's house, No. 217 West Thirteenth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, to murder his father, mother, two brothers and two servant girls, and terminated the terrific scene by effectually blowing out his own brains.

Young Gouldy entered Showler's lager beer and oyster saloon, between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets, Eighth Avenue, about nine o'clock on Tuesday night. He was accompanied by a lad thirteen or fourteen years old.

THE 'GREAT REPUBLIC' MONTHLY. This is the title of a new Magazine published by the energetic firm of Oak-smith & Co., New York.

It would seem that he proceeded to his room in the rear of the house, on the third floor, and, in a cool and collected manner, changed his dress, removing his coat, vest and cravat, hanging his watch on a nail by the side of the mirror, taking off his boots, and even removing the sleeve-links of his shirt.

Mrs. Gouldy, who had just gone to bed heard the heavy fall, and was in the act of raising herself to listen, when the son entered her room exclaiming, 'Mother—oh, mother!' Instantly he seized her hand, and dealt her a severe blow upon the head with the hatchet, which deluged her face with blood.

hall bedroom where his two brothers, Nathaniel and Charles, aged 13 and 6 years were sleeping in the same bed. He struck at them both with the same weapon, cutting from the head of the eldest brother a piece of bone, two inches long and nearly an inch wide.

The assassin next proceeded to the hall of the third floor, where the two servant girls, who had heard the noise, had come from their room to listen. He immediately attacked them with a hatchet, dealing them frightful blows on the head.
