

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A German named Ben. Scheets, fell in a fit, on Wednesday last, near Smith street, injuring his face, slightly, but meeting with no other damage.

There will be preaching next Sabbath, morning and evening, in the Presbyterian church, and in the German Reformed and Methodist churches, in the evening.

The members of the Literary Society, of this borough, intend celebrating the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence by a supper, and the usual accompaniments.

We observe with some degree of satisfaction, the many improvements which are going on in our midst. New buildings, fences, and other signs of waking from old foginess, rule the day.

The glorious 4th of July draws near, and as yet we have heard of no preparation being made for its proper celebration. Let us wake up, friends, it will never do to leave the anniversary of our glorious Declaration pass by without a "good time."

PROFANE.—The wife of one of our most respected citizens, in the northern part of this county, last week presented her "worse half" a magnificent gift, (a kind of surprise party affair) in the shape of three bouncing "little responsibilities," and at the last accounts they were all alive and doing well.

The Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, will meet in this place next Tuesday, at which time the Rev. C. W. Zahnizer will be installed as pastor over the Presbyterian congregation of this borough, and several young gentlemen are expected to preach the gospel; and other business transacted.

As a coal train officers was passing over the Stonerstown Bridge, on Thursday last, the engine, by some means or other, got off the track, but was stopped before it took the fearful leap. The bridge is some seventy five or eighty feet high, and had the engine made the leap, it might have "broke things," to a greater or less degree.

Our townsmen, Messrs. Ball & Peigh, tal, are now manufacturing extensively, the celebrated "Emancipator Washing Machine," at their shop on Washington street, in the rear of the Court House. We had the pleasure of witnessing the operation of this machine, last week, and can fully endorse the name it has won with all who have tried it, as the most complete labor saving, clean washing affair, ever brought out. It should be in the possession of every family in the land. We beg our friends will call and examine the machine and give it a trial.

A CHAPTER OF FIGHTS.—Whether the war in Europe has wakened the belligerent spirit of our citizens, or whether it is caused by spirits acting upon spirits, in the shape of strychnine whisky, we are unable to say; for as yet, the "dog star rageth" not, and the whang doolie is silent on the hills. On Wednesday evening last, a brace of our "nice young men" got into a squabble at the post office, which resulted in sundry contusions, bruises, etc. We have not been informed of the origin of the affair, but would not be wrong, we suppose, in ascribing it to calico.

Another.—The notorious black cowdy and ruffian, Bill Cook, whose sole occupation appears to be fighting, and another colored "pussan" named Grayson, indulged in an amiable little "set-to," on Thursday, all an account of a spatule-acc. It would be a commendable act and a blessing to the community, should an accidental stroke from a brick, put give this bully Cook a ticket to the "other side of Jordan," as he is one of the most useless, lazy, vagabond niggers in existence.

Another.—Another fight occurred on Thursday night, between a keeper of a lager beer saloon, up town, and a gentleman of Teutonic extraction, about the purchase of some sort of a gaming table. Dutch blood rose high, but with the exception of a few blows, the affair was amicably adjusted, satisfactorily ended and scientifically forgotten in "der lager."

Another.—A couple of our "oldest inhabitants," initiating the members of the ring, on Friday evening last, on Allegheny street, near the Railroad Depot, engaged in a fistfight, and managed to give each other some pretty hard knocks, considering the feebleness of the combatants. We are informed that the cause of this affair, was of a trifling nature, and erudition was slightly mixed in it.

Another.—Two of our most respected citizens, got into an altercation, on Friday night, in playing a game of billiards, which, for a time threatened a bloody termination; but owing to the happy interference of friends, the ball players were separated, and the exchange of numerous epithets and one or two "busses," and breaking a pane or two of glass. The "bald hornet" was thought to have come off victorious, notwithstanding the bad state in which it has left his proboscis.

Another.—A couple of young gent's "out sparkling" one Friday last, on Millin street, aroused the virtuous indignation of the individual whose horse—or rather pavement—they honored with their august presence, who short ly made his appearance in the Georgia uniform much to the ladies' consternation and ladies' dismay. A few passes were made, and much talk thrown away, but when they came to close quarters, the young gent's thinking discretion the better part of valor, made a hasty and inglorious retreat.

Besides these fights, we have heard of one or two others, but not having the particulars, we refrain from making any special notice.

GOSPIPING.—One of the meanest of mean things is the exceedingly bad practice of gossiping. For the benefit of any given to this vice, in our community, we give the following from a cotemporary. Keep your eyes on your neighbors. Take care of them. Don't let them stir without watching. They may possibly do something wrong if you do. To be sure you never knew them to do anything very bad, but it may be on your account they have not. Perhaps a fit had not been for your kind care, they might have disgraced themselves and families, a long time ago. Therefore don't relax any effort to keep them where they ought to be; never mind your own business, that will take care of itself. There is a man passing along—he is looking over the fence—he is suspicious of him, perhaps he contemplates stealing something; there's no knowing what queer fancies he may have got into his head. If you see any symptoms of any one passing out of the path of duty, tell every one else that you saw, and be particular to see a great man. It is a good way to circulate such things, and though it may not benefit yourself, or any one else in particular, it will be something important about some one else. Do keep something going silence is an awful thing though it is said there was silence in Heaven for the space of half an hour, don't let any such thing occur on earth; it would be too much like Heaven for the inhabitants of this mundane sphere. If, after all your watchful care, you can't see anything out of the way in any one, you may be sure it is not because they have not done anything bad; perhaps, in a good moment, you lost sight of them—they are no better than they are when they throw out hiss. You could not wonder if people should be that you who were after a while found out what they were after, and so then they may not carry their "sins" so high. Keep it going and some one will trace the hint and begin to help you after a while—then there will be music, and every thing will work to a charm.

COMPLIMENTARY, VERY.—The Shirelsgburg Herald's correspondent at this place, speaking of one of the public officers' compliments him as follows, in the last issue of that paper. "Frank is the same gentleman who petitioned our Leg islate last winter to extend the term of his office and increase his salary; and as an inducement thereto, he closed his petition in the following touching and pathetic language, to wit: "by so doing you will secure the services of an able and efficient officer."

The Carlisle Herald, speaking of the circus which is about visiting us, says, "It was the same old circus, that has been making its periodical visits for the last twenty years; the same stupid routine of ring performances, the same acrobatic feats; the same dull clown, dressed in the same motley, using the same stale jokes, and retaining all the vulgarity of the clown of former years, except the wit to make it palatable."

We hear the name of Mr. Wm. J. Geisinger highly spoken of in connection with the County Treasurership. Mr. G. is a gentleman well qualified to discharge the duties of that office, having had the advantage of a thorough business education, is honest, and if nominated would no doubt give satisfaction.

The Tyrone Star of a late date says that affidavits were taken in that place the other day, proving that a certain woman in Warriorsmark Valley had cut up and fried out the fat of an old sheep, which had died from disease, and mixed part of it with stuff which she sold as lard to one of the merchants and part of which she made candles of, and sold to another merchant. We forbear giving names at present, as it is most likely that her conduct will undergo a legal investigation. We may be allowed to state, however, that the husband of this same creature says she cooked for his dinner two or three chickens which had fallen into a water vessel at the barn, and lain there so long that the feathers dropped off when he lifted the fowls out with the dung-hook!

For the "Journal," Moral Miniatures—No. 21, PRAISE. "The love of praise, how'er conceal'd by art, Reigns more or less, and glows in every heart; The proud to gain it—tolls on tolls, endure; The modest shun it—but to make it sure."

Praise is the outward expression or acknowledgment of merit seen in others. But of all commendatory language, it is the most difficult properly to bestow, and therefore it is generally the most carelessly used of any phrases uttered by the human voice. Its effects are as various as the traits and dispositions of mankind. With some people it acts as an earnest incentive to industry and useful exertion, while to others it is but an encouragement to vanity and pride. What the pious call the testimony of the conscience should be the measure of our ambition here. Then—unheeding the volubility of the ignorant, who, without discretion, say whatever pretty things come uppermost in their minds—we should treasure up the few precious words of wisdom and advice that come from the lips of those who by experience can rightly guide their fellow-men. And even then, we must not depend alone for happiness upon this pleasant yet transient sign of approbation,—"True happiness (if understood) Consists alone in doing good."

It is but a short while, and at the best, an unworthy satisfaction to be admired by a gaping multitude of worldly-minded people, who, like the ephemera of a day, live but for the present hour. While it but makes the head giddy and distempers the imagination, the attestation of a reflective friend is worth acts of a heroic nature—it needs be—to gain. He that commends another, places just so much of his own reputation at stake, by consulting himself a judge and he that has nothing really laudable in his own character, has not that surety to give. Popularity as a motive for praise—though, alas! too much sought for by the heedless many—should never be thought of by those who wish that "Good name which is rather to be chosen than great riches." The favors of the world are often bestowed upon men ostensibly for merits they do not possess—and thus "Alas! the praise which to the ear, Ne'er was, or e'er can be sincere, And does but waste the mind On which it preys,—in vain Would they in whom the poison lurks A worrier state attain."

Seek not then the praise of men, but when voluntarily offered, profit by that which is from the wise, so that as a stimulant it may produce better deeds. Conscience assures thee of thy Heavenly Father's approbation, and that is thy truest guide. Bestow thy commendation upon others, discreetly, and take for good will the words of the ignorant, bestowing at the same time a reward for kindness. EDUCATOR.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856. PROF. WOODS.—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well stored with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation I can induce many to try it. Yours respectfully, D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine St.

GROVER & BAKER'S ANTI-PHLOGISTIC SALT; A Perfect substitute For the Lancel, Leeches and Blisters!!

When the undersigned, after a long series of laborious and costly experiments, became fully convinced in his conviction, that the Anti-phlogistic Salt which he now has the happiness to present to the American public, was a PERFECT SUBSTITUTE For Blood-letting, Leeches, and Blisters, his mind was so agitated that he could not sleep for many nights. The cause of his agitation was the striking fact, that the manner of its operation like that of the virus in vaccination, could not be satisfactorily explained upon any known principle. How, in what way, its effectually subdued Inflammatory Disease and no others, was at first wholly inexplicable—but, on further experiment, it was proved, that it equalled the fluids of the body, the extent of an equilibrium in its potency, like the vaccine matter, it requires merely to adhere to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to effect the entire decomposition and secure its full virtue. These quills in acute, and two in chronic diseases, every 24 hours, till the heat, pain and febrile action have subsided, and a perfect cure effected. When it takes the place of leeches, in Brain Fever, and leeches in local inflammations, as Brain Fever, Comp. Toothache, Pleurisy, &c., its mode of administration is two-fold. (See direction of dissolving, &c.)

The discoverer has withheld it from the public till now, by the desire of a judicious physician, a gentleman known and felt in the medical world—and who desired to submit it to the test of experiment. After witnessing under his own acute and chronic inflammatory diseases, in repeated and re-repeated trials, he equalled $25.00 to come in as a special and equal partner in the Recipe for its manufacture, but the proposal was rejected. The disease of the lancet and blisters, is demanded both by humanity by humanity and science. Is it not a mistake, to suppose that a little of boiling water (the inflamed blood) will cease to boil, by dipping out a part of it, or a cake of lead will cure the disease made good, by drawing a portion of it? Is it not a mistake, to suppose that blisters and rubefacients will remove inflammation, when they virtually superadd one inflammation to another? The late Dr. D. Waterhouse, of Harvard University, said "I am sick of leech and quackery." One of the most eminent physicians in New England acknowledged just before his death, that he had been doubting for many years, whether leeching and blisters did not aggravate rather than arrest disease. Some who stand high in the Old and New School, have quite recently espoused his views and now openly confess, they believe the lancet, setons leeches and blisters injure the system, and do not cure. They think there is a meaning to Deut. 12, 23—Gen. 9, 4—and Levit. 17, 14—that "THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE." It is not the excess of blood (there never is too much) that causes disease, but the want of a balance between the fluids and solids.

The special excellence of the Anti-phlogistic Salt, is that without the useless loss of blood and strength, it effectually subdues inflammatory diseases; (no other salt will do so) an equilibrium of all the fluids in the body and a consequent uninterrupted circulation. It exerts, like the vaccine matter, and extra-ordinary influence over the veins and arteries—resulting in a gradual decline of inflammation, and the entire pulse, which assumes its natural state as the heat, pain and fever disappear. Many medicines offered for sale, are backed by doubtful certificates, (their chief merit) and claim to cure the most dangerous of all maladies—a burlesque on common sense. As the discoverer of this Salt, solemnly protests against having it placed in the category of frauds and impostures, he has resolved that it shall go forth to the world, as the pure gold dollar, with no other passport than its true value. If the public find it genuine, they will receive it—If spurious, they will reject and condemn it. Instead of being a panacea for all ills, it has control over the most dangerous of all ailments—accomplishes his purpose, to subdue INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. It is asked, how does this—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids.

The following different forms which the unbalanced fluids assume, and many not here mentioned that have more or less heat, pain or fever (no others are so perfectly cured by the Anti-phlogistic Salt, as these) are distinguished by water. 1. Cases where the unbalanced fluids affect the HEAD AND THROAT—to wit, Brain Fever, Fits, Headache, Inflamed Eyes, Ears and Nose, Canker, Neuralgia, Exophthalmos, Catarrh, Gout, Rheumatism, &c. 2. Cases where the unbalanced fluids effect the CHEST AND ABDOMEN—to wit, Inflamed Lungs and Liver, Croup, Pleurisy, Congis, Dropsy, Asthma, Dropsy, Pleurisy, Gravel, Piles, Gonorrhoea, Venereal Disease, &c. 3. Cases where the unbalanced fluids effect the EXTREMITIES AND SKIN—to wit, Rheumatism, Gout, Scarcifus, Ulcers, Chilblains, Chilblains, Chilblains and Small Pox, Salt Rheum, with itching and other eruptions, &c. This Salt greatly alleviates the inflammatory pains peculiar to married ladies, (before and at the time of confinement) and many female complaints, and is very effectual in Fever, Ague, Wounds, Nerve and Spinal Affections, and any other forms of (mark this) inflammatory disease, attended with heat, pain or febrile symptoms.

Persons who have a tendency of blood to the head, heart, or lead inactive lives, or breath the impure air of manufactories and the poisonous fumes of metals and minerals, or live in unhealthy climates, are exposed to a particular vitiation of the fluids of the body, which done without interfering with the diet or business, once in three months, would invariably prevent. It is believed to afford protection from infectious disease, and therefore travellers, sailors, and soldiers should supply themselves with it. Please let your neighbors read this. J. D. STONEROCK, M.
