PEOPLE'S STATE TICKET.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: THOMAS E. COCHRAN, OF YORK COUNTY.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL: GEN. WILLIAM H. KEIM, OF BERKS COUNTY.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

A contemporary advertising the proposition made by a few reckless and unprincipled politicians of the... stripes, and papers of easy virtue of the Daily News class, to ignore the existence of the Republican party, and its principles, and organize a new party in this State, based upon "opposition" to the National Administration, says, in our own judgment no greater disaster could overtake the friends of Freedom in the State, and throughout the country, than the success of the schemes which have been laid to place the party in Pennsylvania in such a position.

We cannot conceive of an organization becoming permanent unless based upon the promulgation and advocacy of correct principles. It must be emboldened upon its banners the great fundamental truths of Liberty and Justice. Commercial revolutions may serve for a campaign, to arouse those who are its victims, to vote for the overthrow of the men who are the supposed cause of their sufferings, but the party which would base its vitality upon such a cause, would be of a day, and though it might find victory perching upon its banners for a single campaign, would be quite as likely in another battle to be utterly routed and demoralized. This is equally true of an organization which has no foundation except the shortcomings of a National Administration. Opposition to the acts or doctrines of another party will not answer to found a successful and permanent party upon, and those who propose such a thing are either willfully or foolishly blind.

The prospect of success in 1860 has infused activity into a set of men who are only looking for the enjoyment of patronage which that success would bring. These men are willing to sacrifice everything in the shape of principle for the purpose of securing the control of the General Government for a single Presidential term. They are endeavoring to shape the party should elect a President in 1860, what coalition would then exist among the different branches, and how long before it would tumble to pieces, leaving the Democratic party, covered as it is with delinquencies, to control the country. Is there nothing higher to be attained than success in 1860? and the mere defeat of the sham Democracy in the next Presidential contest? and the endeavor to prevent its continuance in power for another four years? These questions are worthy of serious consideration. We may be considered heterodox if we say we incline to an affirmative answer.

It has become a settled conviction that certain defeat awaits the nominee of the Charleston Convention. We wish we could sanguinely rest in such an opinion. But to us, the future of the Republican cause is somewhat overcast. We see the existence of too many discordant elements to feel certain of a harmonious opposition—and we see no way to quiet certain uneasy and designing men, except at the expense of those principles which alone give vitality to the Republican party, and which once ignored, bring not only defeat, but disgrace. In our opinion, we have already temporized too much—we have lost sight of principle for the sake of success—and the sooner we get back to the starting point, the better for the Republican party and for the country.

There are but two great parties in the country as there is but one living, real issue. One party is devoted to the propagation and strengthening of the institution of Slavery—the other asserts the superiority of Free White Labor. The Republican party meets the issue fairly and squarely for Northern Freemen—while the Democratic party is marshaled under the sable banner of Slavery. Now, why should Northern men hesitate to take sides with one or the other? There are certainly no other issues, which require the existence of a third party. The Republican party demands the protection of the ballot-box against improper influences, and the fostering and protection of the interests of Pennsylvania. Its platform is broad enough for every Pennsylvanian to stand upon. But there are men in the State who demand that the name shall be dropped, and its principles hid out of sight, before they can cooperate with its members. We have already yielded too much to this timidity and time-serving policy. We have acceded to the demands of those who wished to come gradually into the Republican organization, until we have retarded the progress of the cause for years.—We have listened to the specious plea that public sentiment was not sufficiently ripe for the unfurling of the Republican banner, until the golden opportunity has been lost for disseminating the principles of Freedom, and the work yet remains, in a measure to be done.

It is said that the Americans will cooperate with the Democrats in 1860 if Mr. Breckinridge is the Democratic candidate, because Mr. B. has the blood of the American Princess in his veins!

DOUGLAS REPUTATED.

The Washington Constitution, which is the official organ of the National Administration, has considered it necessary to contradict the rumour of reconciliation between Mr. Buchanan and Judge Douglas. A movement of the kind was doubtless in preparation, and thus "several feelers" were "put out," the object being to try the temper of the South. The result was decidedly adverse to Douglas, and hence the information on the part of the official.—The Charleston Mercury, which also may be regarded as a suborgan of the existing dynasty, and which exercises great influence among the Loco-foco politicians of the South says that "if Douglas is re-admitted in the Democratic party, and the territorial rights of the South be ignored, the Democratic party is forever gone." We may infer, therefore, that Judge Douglas is utterly repudiated by Mr. Buchanan and his confidential friends. They would rather sink without than succeed with him. The gulf between them has widened, deepened and become impassable. But what will be the position of Judge Douglas under these circumstances. Will he remain an independent Democratic party? Will he remain passive, as concerns the contest of 1860—or will he cooperate with the opposition? It is too soon to venture a reply to either of these questions.—The time will come, however, and before long.

The Late Hard Freeze.

From our exchanges we glean the following items in regard to the late heavy frosts, or rather freeze. The fruit crops and garden vegetables, as well as the corn and potatoes, have suffered serious damage. In some localities the grain crops have suffered terribly while others have escaped with comparatively little injury.

We have conversed with gentlemen who assure us that their fruit trees still retain as much sound fruit as the branches will be able to bear, and that the injury to the grain is very slight. Others are now cutting their wheat to sow other grain, which they would not do unless satisfied that the wheat is utterly ruined.—Pittsburg Press.

The apples, at least such as were not sheltered by the leaves, are entirely destroyed, while peaches, pears, plums, cherries, &c., have all shared the same fate. The effect upon garden fruits and vegetables has been, if possible, still more disastrous. Worse than all this, we fear the wheat crop has been injured to an alarming extent.—Wash. (Pa.) Reporter.

The Columbus (O.) Journal of the 9th says: "We are informed by Gen. Bottles, of the State Board of Agriculture, that the severe frosts of Saturday night did not injure the wheat in the slightest. The corn was laid to the ground however, but this will be of little matter, as it was not jointed."

Almost all kinds of spring vegetation, are cut to the ground. Wheat, the corn, &c., have all been destroyed, or not, we have not yet learned; but fear that they have been badly injured.—Democrat, Crawford county, Pa.

The wheat and rye are much injured—and we hear that in some localities, entirely destroyed. The corn and potatoes are frozen even with the ground, but with favorable growing weather may recover.—Westmorland Republican.

Vegetation of all kinds has been blasted by the frost, and the late wheat has been thought to be slightly hurt.—Steuvenville Herald.

The wheat crop, as a general thing is not injured. In some townships heard from, some fields seem to be blasted, but not extensively.—Cleveland Leader.

The wheat, rye, tomatoes, beans, potatoes, fruits, &c., are, according to reports, destroyed or much injured.—Butler (Pa.) Herald.

There is but little doubt that considerable injury has been done to the fruit, as well as the wheat and rye crop.—Free Press, Kittanning, Pa.

The grain is undoubtedly much damaged—but the entire extent of the injury has not yet developed itself.—Beaver Argus.

The Gaiesburg (Ill.) Democrat says that there was a heavy frost in that vicinity on Friday night and it was feared that some of the corn had suffered.

Vines of all sorts are mostly destroyed, and corn cut to the ground.—Journal, Madison, Wis.

Potato vines were cut down to the ground. Corn was killed and much other damage done.—Chicago, (Ill.) Dem.

The wheat, as far as we have yet been informed, appears not materially injured.—Rep., Mt. Vernon, O.

DANVILLE, N. Y.—There was a heavy frost in this vicinity, on Saturday, killing all the garden vegetables, corn and potatoes. It is also feared that fruit of all kinds has been cut off.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

The Brunswick Telegraph gives in proof that a hen is immortal, that "her son never sets."

The Cecil Democrat says: The peach crop in the vicinity of Cecil bids fair to be the most extensive ever raised in that section. The trees, in some instances, are so full that, had there been no frost at all, they could not have sustained the weight of the fruit.

Rev. Mr. Wise, son of Gov. Wise, a young Episcopal clergyman of Richmond, Va., is said to preach without notes. He also discards the priestly habiliments, and appears in his ordinary dress, not even wearing a white cravat to distinguish him from laymen.

A piece of news given by the French journals as one of the highest importance is that negotiations are now going on between the Court of the Tuileries and the Holy See with a view to the canonization of Joan of Arc, who, it seems, has never yet been made a saint.

Any "respectable" man who wants to marry ten thousand dollars, with a wife in, has the opportunity offered him. We see it stated that "the chief of a band of gypsies encamped near Indianapolis, offers the hand of his daughter, with a dowry of $10,000, to any respectable man who will marry her." That "pal" will be in demand.

Mr. Enron.—It was my privilege and pleasure to be one of quite a number of guests who were feasted sumptuously on the night of the 17th inst., by Mr. Rankin, of McConnellstown. The supper was prepared under the direct superintendance of Mr. Rankin, who displayed a taste in the culinary way superior to anything that ever came under my observation. The table literally groaned under the gorgeous array of good things, which consisted of everything that tended to fascinate the epicure or l'œu en vient à la bouche, the grand principal feature, being turtle "dressed up" in the most delicate and palatable manner. The turtle was the culinary "all hands" came to the conclusion that this was the ne plus ultra of terrestrial suppers.

Our host and hostess—Long may they wave. W. J. G.

The wheat in Trough Creek valley has been considerably injured by the recent frosts. Some fields escaped without any injury whilst in others the crop is to a very great extent destroyed. The prospect for an abundant crop was previous to the frost, very good, and although much of the wheat has been smitten there is yet a promise of a pretty good yield.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated in Cassville by the citizens of that borough and vicinity. Among other attractive entertainments there will be a festival given by the Ladies. We wish them a large audience and abundant success.

A SMALL BOY DROWNED.—On Friday morning last, a little boy four years of age, son of Jam. Rager, of Lewisport, was drowned in the canal at that place. He had been playing on a flat and in stepping from it, the boat receded from the shore and was thrown into the water.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—This excellent work for the month of July, is now before us—"Grandmother's Darling," is a life-like steel engraving. This magazine is of immense utility to ladies.

INLAY & BECKNELL'S Bank Note Reporter has been received. This is one of the reliable Counterfeit Detectors. Published in Philadelphia, by Charles G. Inlay.

GODBY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The July number of this excellent work is, at this early date, our table. It is a work that no lady should be without. The fashion plates and reading matter are good.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.—The publishers of this widely circulated and popular illustrated weekly journal of mechanics and science announce that it will be enlarged on the first of July, and otherwise greatly improved, containing sixteen pages instead of eight, the present number of pages in the world; it is the only journal of its class that has ever succeeded in this country, and maintains a character for authority in all matters of mechanics, science and the arts, which is not excelled by any other journal published in this country or in Europe. Although the publishers will incur an increased expense of $8,000 a year by this enlargement, they have determined not to raise the price of subscription, relying upon the friends to indemnify them in this increased expenditure, by a corresponding increase of subscribers. Terms $2 a year, or 10 copies for $15. Specimen copies of the paper with a pamphlet of information to inventors, furnished gratis, by mail, on application to the publishers, Munn & Co., No. 37, Park Row, New York.

IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE.

TURIN, May 13.—A fresh victory has been gained by our troops. The King (of Sardinia) commanding the Fourth Division in person, and General Cialdini at the head of the Third Regiment of Zouaves, resisted the attack for a considerable time, and then, having successfully assumed the offensive, pursued the enemy, taking a thousand prisoners, and capturing eight guns, five of which were obtained by the Zouaves. Five hundred Austrians were drowned in a canal during the fight.

Another fight took place at Bionessa, in the province of Lomellina, in which the enemy were repulsed by the division under General Foray, of the 1st corps of the French army, after two hours conflict.

Last night a picket of the enemy endeavored to pass the Po at Cervesseria, but they were repulsed by the inhabitants of that vicinity. The Austrians have evacuated Vero, in the province of Bobbio.

TURIN, June 1st.—A second victorious conflict occurred at 5 o'clock last evening at Palestro, which was endeavored to re-enter but were repulsed by the division under a general Cialdini, composed of the Zouaves and Piedmontese cavalry. The King pressed forward where the fight was most furious, the Zouaves vainly trying to restrain him.

On Tuesday the Austrians attacked the Sardinians near Sesto Casabudo, and after two hours our troops pursued the enemy across the Ticino.

The details of the battle of Palestro say that the Austrians, who threatened the bridge of boats across the Sesia, over which King Cialdini was to effect a junction with the King, and twenty men killed, and two hundred of the Austrians killed including ten officers.

The accounts from Gen. Garibaldi state that a numerous Austrian corps having arrived before Varese, he ordered the National Guard not to resist, and fall back on Ingo Maggiore. An attack was attempted on our troops against Javeo on the lake, but without result.

The Sardinians are believed to have been terribly cut up at the various conflicts about Palestro, but the number of their loss is not mentioned in the despatches received. Napoleon subsequently visited the battle field, and congratulated the Sardinians. An Austrian General is reported among the killed.

TURIN, June 2.—The Austrians this morning advanced from Bobbio towards the French outposts, but retired after a short fight. This movement was made by the Austrians to conceal their retreat, as it was afterwards discovered that they had begun to evacuate Bobbio, carrying away about one thousand wounded men.

TURIN, June 3.—The Austrians have withdrawn to the eastern bank of the Po, abandoning Terre Berilla and the neighboring country. The French despatches confirm the Sardinian bulletins, and say the latter behaved most valiantly at Palestro. The Zouaves, although unsupported and in front of an Austrian battery of eight guns, crossed the canal, ascended the heights which were very steep and charged the Austrians with the bayonet. More than four hundred Austrians were thrown into the canal and six pieces of cannon taken.

The Emperor conferred the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor on Gen. Foray for his gallant conduct during this battle.

TURIN, June 3.—General Garibaldi has surprised and defeated the Austrians at Varese, and that town is again free of the enemy. General Nel entered NOVARA on the 1st, after a slight encounter with the Austrian outposts, who shortly fled. The Emperor arrived at Varese on the 3rd, and the Austrians of the them firing upon and destroying an Austrian barque.

The Valentine (an Austrian province in Lombardy) is in a state of insurrection. The Duke of Soudria has proclaimed for the King Victor Emmanuel, and the Duke of Parma has arrived at Switzerland.

The French engineers had arrived at Lutra, and were collecting vessels to cross Lake Maggiore with 500 men.

The French squadron in the Adriatic have captured 35 Austrian vessels, valued at four million francs.

LONDON, Saturday, June 4.—A special despatch to the Daily News, dated Turin, on Friday night, says that the Austrians were in full retreat, re-crossing the Ticino.

Garibaldi has gained a new victory, and the insurrection in Lombardy is spreading.

THE VERY LATEST NEWS.

A GREAT BATTLE.

25,000 Austrians Killed!

5,000 taken Prisoners.

FRENCH LOSS 12,000!

QUEBEC, June 19.—The steamer Anglo Saxon brings most important news from the seat of war. A great battle has been fought near Milan, in which the Austrians were defeated with the loss of twenty-five thousand killed and disabled. Two thousand Austrians were taken prisoners. The French loss is stated at twelve thousand (12,000). The Austrians have evacuated Milan.

NOVARA, June 4.—11 30 P. M.—A great victory has been won at the bridge of Magenta. Five thousand of the enemy have been taken. Fifteen thousand of the enemy are killed or wounded. The details will be despatched by telegraph.

The above was published in Paris on Sunday; the 5th, and on the evening of that day, the columns of the Hotel des Invalides announced the victory and the city was brilliantly illuminated. On the following day (Monday) the Monitor published the following despatches from the Emperor to the Empress:—"MAGENTA, June 4th.—Yesterday our army was under orders to march on Milan across the bridges thrown over the Ticino at Turbigo. The operation was most executed although the enemy, who had re-crossed the Ticino in great force, offered a most determined resistance. The roadway was narrow, and during two hours the Imperial Guard sustained, unsupported, the shock of the enemy.

"In the meantime Gen. McMahon made himself master of Magenta. After sanguinary conflicts we repulsed the enemy at every point, with a loss on our part of 2,000 men. The loss of the enemy is estimated at 15,000 killed and wounded, and 5,000 Austrian prisoners remaining in our hands."

"MAGENTA, June 5th.—Evening.—The Austrian prisoners number at least 7,000, and the Austrians placed hors de combat are 20,000. Three pieces of cannon and two flags were taken from the enemy."

"Today our army rests for the purpose of reorganizing itself. Our loss is about 3,000 killed and wounded, and one cannon taken by the enemy."

"HEADQUARTERS, Monday, 8 A. M.—Milan is invested. The Austrians have evacuated the town and eagle, leaving in their precipitation the cannon and treasure of their army behind them. We are encumbered with prisoners, and have taken 12,000 Austrian muskets,

THE CENTRAL BANK OF PENNSYLVANIA.—Speaking of this institution, which collapsed rather suddenly a few days ago, the Hollidaysburg Whig says: "Since our last publication the 'Central Bank' has resumed payment, not, however, on all of its issues, but one half. It is believed that the bank will recover from its sudden collapse to redeem its currency, and that it will be all right in a short time."
