

WM. BREWSTER, Editor.

JOHN BROWN vs GOV. WISE.

We clip the following from the State Journal:

The great "defender of the faith" in slavery, who, with the aid of the army of the United States, the State of Maryland, and the forces of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, has suppressed and completely extinguished an insurrection of twenty-two men within his dominions, has kindly advised the leader of this formidable host, who is his prisoner, to "prepare for death."

The advice is proper, since death is the doom of all, there are few whose lives permit the hope that with them preparation for death is the work of supererogation. So thought John Brown, and, in return for the Governor's admonition, he advised that his excellency should also prepare for death, as his tenure of life was quite as uncertain as his own, and his life affording evidence of great need for preparation. Did it occur to his excellency then that the poor, wounded, insane being before him designed any allusion to a murder enacted some few years ago, nearer to the city of Washington, than is Harper's Ferry, in which bloody transaction Henry A. Wise was a prominent actor? Did any vision of the slaughtered Johnathan Cilly rise up to his mind's eye, and, pointed to John Brown, say to his excellency, if he is a murderer, are not you also one?—if he is justly doomed to the gallows, are not you equally entitled to share his fate?

By those who remember the event, which has recently been imitated in California, in the murder of a United States Senator by a United States Judge, the feelings of Henry A. Wise, on receiving this admonition from the man whose life he required, will be regarded as any thing but enviable. Governor Wise would defend his participation in a murder, by asserting the supremacy of the "code of honor." John Brown might with more justice defend his acts, by pointing to the arms of the State of Virginia and its motto, Sic semper tyrannis, where the genius of liberty is represented as trampling under foot the oppressor who dared to withhold from man his inalienable right to liberty. It is not my intention to attempt a justification of the grossly culpable acts of John Brown and his associates, but to point to the fact, that the men who most glory over his defeat and thirst for his blood are in many particulars more guilty than he. They left no compensation for the loss of life in spreading slavery in Texas where by the action of Mexico it had been abolished.

They participated in or encouraged the robberies, murders, and oppression which border ruffians inflicted upon Kansas.

They it is who are ready to defend and protect from punishment the pirates who are engaged in the African slave trade.

They it is who, in their eagerness to secure aid and comfort to the defeated and prostrated party in the free States, are falsely charging the Republican party with the crimes committed by Brown and his associates, and hope to make capital therefrom for Democracy.

They it is who by the disregard for the principles of our Government, as expressed in its Constitution, to secure the blessings of liberty, have induced insurrection and bloodshed, by goading men into desperation by their continued efforts to make slavery the rule and liberty the exception among those whom they haughtily term the mud sills of our social system.

The men who murder Senators for asserting the dignity of free labor, and the right of every man to his own person and to the earnings of his own industry—the men who are ever ready to violate every form of law and justice in sustaining a wicked and disgraceful institution, dangerous to our peace as destructive to our national character, are busily engaged in concocting falsehoods and endeavoring to fasten the odium which they have so justly earned by their acts, upon the opponents of slavery, who have earnestly urging the necessity of controlling the infamous traffic in men, women and children, in order that the country might be spared from scenes such as Harper's Ferry. Oppression is variably beguiled rebellion, and the slaveholder, while ever he remains such, knows full well that retributive justice will sooner or later overtake him. Riveting the chain tighter will aggravate his fate.

John Brown is the father of twenty-two children—a force sufficient, itself, to take Virginia and frighten the slaveholder everywhere. We suppose some of these children were girls, but we don't think that would make any difference. Women would scare the Virginians—babes in arms would do it.

GREAT EXCITEMENT. Gerrit Smith and Brown. ARRIVAL OF COOK. Implication of Fred Douglas. BROWN DEFENDED BY A BOSTON LAWYER.

Brown Refuses to Make a Confession

ARREST OF CAPTAIN COOK.

The Syracuse Journal learns from a gentleman who has conversed with Gerrit Smith in regard to the trouble at Harper's Ferry, that he was in no way identified with or privy to Brown's scheme. His explanation of the matter is this:— Two years ago Mr. Smith, in order to help the Free State movement in Kansas, gave Brown a note of about $100, against a man there in Kansas. Brown could not collect the note; so he returned it to Mr. Smith, who agreed to give him at some future time, cash to the amount of the note. After that he lost sight of Brown until about the first of June last, when he received a letter requesting him to send a draft for a certain amount, $100 we think, payable to the order of another party.

Mr. Smith, in compliance with the request and his former promise, promptly forwarded the draft, supposing it was a bona fide firm to whom it was addressed. He probably believed also that the money was to be used, at least indirectly, in assisting fugitive slaves, as that was the last 'Kansas work' he knew about.

Mr. Smith says distinctly that he had no knowledge or at least suspicion that Brown was engaged in planning an insurrection. This agrees perfectly with Brown's statements, and he alone originated and carried on his scheme.

CHARLESTOWN, Va., Oct. 28.

Cook was brought here at one o'clock this morning. He says that if Brown had taken his advice in relation to mounting the men a force of a thousand strong could not have taken them. He says that Fred Douglas acted the coward, as he promised to be there in person. There is great rejoicing here at the arrest of Cook. Geo. A. Hoyt, Esq., of Boston, arrived here this morning, to act as counsel for Brown. He is quite a young man.

CHARLESTOWN, Oct. 26.

Brown has made no confession, but on the contrary says that he has full confidence in the goodness of God, and that he is confident that he will rescue him from the perils that surround him. He says that he has had rifles levelled at him, knives at his throat, and his life in as great a peril as it now is but that God has always been at his side. He knows that God is with him and he fears nothing.

CHAMBERSBURG, Oct. 26.

Capt. John E. Cook was arrested yesterday by Messrs Dan Logan and Claggett Fitzhugh, at Mont Alto, Franklin county, fourteen miles from this place. There is no doubt of this being the man. His printed commission, filled and signed by Gen. Brown, and marked "No. 4," was found on his person; also a memorandum, written on parchment, of the pistol presented to Washington by Lafayette, and bequeathed to Lewis W. Washington in 1854. The pistol, he says, is in a carpet bag, which he left on the mountains. He was fully armed and made a desperate resistance. He came out of the mountains into the settlements to obtain provisions. He was much fatigued and almost starved. He was brought to this place at eight o'clock last night. After an examination before Justice Roisher, and being fully identified by one of our citizens, who formerly knew him, he was committed to jail to await a requisition from Gov. Wise. He acknowledged having three others with him on the mountains. One of them was seen and conversed with. He had a blue blanket over his shoulders and carried a Sharpe's rifle and double barreled gun. He said it belonged to his partner who had gone for provisions. Parties will go in search of others to day.

Another Compliment to Senator BIGLER.

The official returns of the late election in this State put us in possession of an unexpected fact. In the legislative district where Senator Bigler resides, and where he has been laboring, during the whole campaign, for the success of the Democratic nominees, the opposition have elected one of their candidates. The following is the full vote of the district:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Votes. Includes Jefferson, Clarendon, McKean, Elk, and totals for Opposition and Democrats.

Gov's Maj. 69 Bent's Maj 173

It is worthy of remark that Mr. Boyer, the defeated Democratic candidate in this once strong Democratic district, is the special favorite of Senator Bigler, and he received his strongest support during the canvass. The people of this neighborhood have shown what they think of Mr. Bigler, by defeating his candidate for State Senator, and his favorite candidate for the House of Representatives.

See Hostetter's advertisement in another column.

Mr. Giddings and John Brown. I had a conversation to day with the Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, in the course of which, I alluded to his alleged implication in old Brown's scheme for liberating the slaves. He laughed at the charge. Treason sits lightly on his venerable shoulders! He says he never met old Brown, to his distinct recollection, excepting on one occasion only.

That was more than a year ago (if I rightly remember), and at a public lecture in Ashubala County, which old Brown, he said, delivered there. After the lecture, a contribution was taken up, and Mr. Giddings, publicly, gave the sum of three dollars. That was the first, last, and only money he ever contributed to the cause.

Homicide.

In Juniata county, Pa., on the 13th ult., Henry Zeiders, about 22 years of age, was shot with a rifle by Andrew Lambert, a man of the same place and about the same age, in a quarrel. Zeiders died on the 14th, from the effect of the wound.

The complaint was made before Col. Wm. Cox, a justice of the peace for Greenwood township against Lambert, by a brother of the deceased. Esquire Cox on an examination of the case, ordered Lambert to be committed to prison, and subsequently held him in $5,000 bail.

Brutal Murder.

A young man by the name of Reyburn was committed to the Prison of Chester County, on Thursday the 27th, charged with the murder of a young girl aged nine years.

The child was found in the Octoraro Creek, in West Nottingham township, with her head mashed and battered in the most horrible manner. The name of the young girl was Susan Emma Kimble, daughter of Larew Kimble, of Lower Oxford, Chester Co.

The supposition is that an attempt had been made to perpetrate a rape upon the body of the child.

Encouraging Insurrection.

The Administration papers are just now doing more than ten thousand Osawatomie Browns could do to excite an insurrection among the slaves at the South.—Only convince the slaves (as these papers seem determined to do) that all who profess R-publican principles are ready to aid in such insurrection, and ransoms at a hundred prices, may be speedily looked for.

Contestation.

Mr. Logan, the Republican candidate for Congress in Oregon, who was defeated by sixteen votes, has given Stout, who holds the certificates, notice of his intention to contest the right of the latter to his seat, and it is believed, by those who profess to be informed, that Logan can make a very good showing in favor of his right.

The Democracy

In Philadelphia are again fighting bitterly. The Pennsylvania denounces a long string of respectable Democrats in that city, who are charged with attempting to relieve the party from the incubus of Buchananism; and the Press comes to their rescue. The intention is plain to run every one out of the party who does not worship at the Buchanan shrine.

Gen. Wool

Left post-haste for Harper's Ferry as soon as the news of the insurrection reached him. In the absence of Gen. Scott, the duties of Commander-in-Chief devolve upon him. It is not somewhat ludicrous to see a hurrying to and fro of high civil and military dignitaries to suppress a riot got up by seventeen white men and five negroes?

Bishop Ames,

of the Methodist Church, was lately robbed of $100, at Galena, Ill., by a rogue who got into the room where he slept.—The Bishop was in attendance at the Rock River Conference.

The Murder of the American Consul in Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 26.—The private letters received by the Picayune from Mexico, confirm the cold-blooded murder of Mr Chase, the American consul, by Gen. Marquez.

Congressional Election, Va.

PETERSBURG, VA., October 28. All parties concede the election of Roger L. Pryor in this Congressional district by from 1,000 to 1,500 majority. A great jubilation occurred here last night, and Mr Pryor addressed the crowd from the Merchant's Exchange.

Difficulties of Toronto Banks.

TORONTO, THURSDAY Oct. 27, 1859. The International Bank of Toronto suspended yesterday. The Colonial Bank, of a similar character, is undergoing a great run to-day, its doors being besieged by thousands of excited depositors.

Filibusters.

Walker filibusters, lately tried at New Orleans, have all been acquitted.

CLIPPINGS.

"The Slave Holder"

Is the title of a new paper just started at Cahaba, Alabama. The editor runs up the names of Robert Barnwell Rhett, of South Carolina, and C. C. Clay jr., of Alabama as its ticket for President and Vice President in 1860. He expects nothing good of the Charleston Convention, but declares it will either break up in a row, or the Southern delegates repudiate any nomination which is not of Southern men, and nominate a Southern ticket in another convention.

Political.

BALTIMORE, Thursday, Oct 27, '59. The American party held a large meeting in Monument square to night, at which there was great enthusiasm. Fireworks were let off, cannon fired, &c. Addresses were made by Henry Winter Davis, Messrs. Morrison, Harris, Judge Crane of Virginia, and others.

The Sham Democracy of Kansas have nominated Sam. Medary for Governor, with John P. Stough for Lieutenant and John A. Haldeman for Congress.—We call that good, 'Hal'deman was bitterly Pro-Slavery all through the dark days of Kansas, and Stough (we believe) much the same. Medary was exported thither by Buchanan. That ticket isn't hard to beat, except in counting.

Disturbance at Newport, Ky.—Republican Newspaper Office Molested—The Forms Destroyed

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29.—The office of the Newport (Ky) Free South Paper, of Republican proclivities, was mobbed last night, and the forms of type scattered in the street.

John Tyler, a fugitive slave who escaped from Campbell county, Va., in 1854, was arrested in Columbus yesterday, and after a hearing before Commissioner Newhall was remanded to the claimants. He was taken to Covington.

A Queer Cozn.

We understand that Dr. Key, of Warriors Mark, in company with a friend, whose name we have not ascertained, went out coon hunting one night last week. The dogs having treed some "varmint," the Doctor's companion concluded he would climb the tree after it. Taking his revolver with him, he was started by seeing two eye balls glaring through the darkness, when, taking deliberate aim, he fired and brought down a large wildcat, much to the astonishment of the Dr. and himself.

Went to Rest.

The New York Herald has sent the "National Democracy" to rest. From an article in a late number of that paper we quote the following:

"The Democratic party—the late all-powerful national Democracy—has, we apprehend, finished its career. The recent Northern elections, from Pennsylvania to Minnesota, all tell the same story of its demoralized and sinking condition. We presume that New York and New Jersey will sing the same music in November, and that thus the Opposition will be found in the substantial occupation of ever Northern State this side the Rocky Mountains. The old Whig party was first broken down in the South by its affiliations with the anti-slavery sentiment of the North; and the Democratic party has been prostrated in the North from its mischievous concession to its Southern pro-slavery leaders and managers."

Exports of Specie.

The exports of specie during the past week amount to $15,000.

MARRIED.

Broderick's Last Words.—In San Francisco huge posters have been put up all over the city containing the following as the dying words of Broderick: BRODERICK IS DEAD.

"They have killed me because I was opposed to the extension of Slavery and a corrupt Administration."

This is the testimony of a dying man, and would be received as unimpeachable evidence in a court of justice. It is sufficient to convict every one of the conspirators of willful murder of itself.

PROGRESS OF THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT"—Since the organization of the Democratic party, twelve pro-slavery Democratic members of the United States Senate have fallen in the "irrepressible conflict," their places being supplied by R-publicans. In 1856 the Republicans had only fifteen representative in the United States Senate, on the fourth of March, 1861, they will have twenty-seven, in the last Congress, the Democrats had one hundred and sixteen members; in the next they will have but eighty three, and perhaps not even as many as that. The pro-slavery Democrats are attempting to ridicule and ignore the "irrepressible conflict," while at the same time it is making terrible havoc among their own leaders, and scattering their party in the Free States like chaff before the wind.
