GREAT LITERARY ENTERPRIZE. PROSPECTUS OF TWO NEW VOLUMES OF WALDIE'S LIBRARY FOR 1835.

THE "SELECT CIRCULATING LIBRARY" has been formed in the first place, amongst the established periodical publications of the country, having obtained a credit and circulation unprecedented, when the price is considered; this credit, by allowing greater freedom to our efforts, is calculated to render them of more extensive and more effectual. The objects that Waldie's Library had in view, was the dissemination of good new books every where, at the cheapest possible rates, and experience has proved that the subscribers will pay for one HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIX DOLLARS worth of books at the London prices.

New and enlarged type. Volume 5 to be commenced early in January 1835, will be printed with new and enlarged type, rendering the work free from any objection that may have been made by persons of weak eyes. The Journal of Belles Lettres, printed on the cover, will be continued without any charge. It contains every week an abstract of the contents of the best books as they come from the press; literary intelligence from all parts of the world, and a register of the new publications of England and America, being the best and most valuable sources of information, and by the perusal of which a person, however remote from the marts of books, may keep pace with the times.

As it is usual to wish in behalf of a son that he may prove a better man than his father, so we, without thinking of our own interests, feel that it is our duty to receive with such distinguished favor, hope and trust that our future may surpass them; for experience ought always to produce improvement, more especially when it is attended with the number of difficulties we had to encounter in the past.

The objects that the "Library" had in view, were fully detailed in the prospectus; the following extracts from that introductory paper, will prove the spirit of that liberality in our conduct, which was our aim, and also that we have had no occasion to deviate from the original plan.

In preparing to publish a periodical, entirely new in its character, it will be expected that the publisher should describe his plan, and the objects he hopes to accomplish.

There is growing up in the U. States a numerous population, who, in their tastes, reflect on our former books & literary information emanate, feel themselves at a great loss for that mental food which education has fitted them to enjoy. Books are cheap in our principal cities, but in the interior they are scarce, and as soon as published, nor without considerable expense. To supply this desideratum is the design of the present undertaking, the chief object of which is to place in the hands of every individual, a volume of books, at a price not exceeding 13 cents, after it is published, at a little more expense than newspaper postage; or in other words, before a book could be bound in Philadelphia, our subscribers in the most distant States may be perusing it in their parlors.

One of the advantages of the "Select Circulating Library" such as we propose, is its only necessary to compare it with some other publications. Take the "Waverley novels" for example; the "Chronicles of the Canongate" occupies 10 volumes, which are sold at $1.25 to $1.50. The whole would be readily contained in five numbers of this periodical, at an expense of fifty cents, postage included! So that more than three times the quantity of literary matter can be supplied for the same price, by the course we propose, than by the circulation. But we consider transmission by mail, and the early receipt of a new book, as a most distinguishing feature of the publication. Distant subscribers will be placed on a footing with those nearer at hand, and will not be obliged to wait for their books, which is the case with the "Fifty Volumes of the common London novel size for Five Dollars!"

Arrangements have been made to receive from London an early copy of the "Illustrated Monthly Magazine" in that part of talent, or in Glasgow, together with the periodical literature of Great Britain. From the former we shall select the "Novels, Memoirs, Tales, Travels, Sketches, Biography, &c." and publish them with as much rapidity and accuracy as an extensive printing office will admit. From the latter, such literary intelligence will regularly be called as will prove interesting and entertaining to the lover of knowledge, and science, and literature, and novelty. Good standard novels, and other works, now out of print, may also occasionally be reproduced in our columns. The publisher confidently assures the heads of families, that they need have no dread of introducing the "Select Circulating Library" into their domestic duties, to literary tastes and habits adds a due sense of the responsibility he assumes in catering for an extended and moral community, and of the consequences that attend the dissemination of noxious or wholesome mental aliment. His situation and engagements afford him peculiar advantages and facilities for the selection of books, and conveniences which such a publication presents to people of literary pursuits wherever located; but more particularly to those who reside in remote situations--they are so obvious that the first glance is sufficient to their contents may be seen.

TERMS--The "Select Circulating Library" is published weekly on a double medium sheet of fine paper of sixteen pages with three columns on each, and mailed with great care so as to carry with perfect safety to the most distant office. Each volume is accompanied with a Title-page and Index.

The price is Five Dollars for 52 numbers of 16 pages each--a price at which it cannot be afforded unless extensively patronized. Payment at all times in advance. Agents who procure five subscribers, shall have a receipt in full by remitting the publisher $20, and a proportionate compensation for a larger number. This arrangement is made to increase the circulation, to an extent which will make it an object to pay agents liberally. Clubs of five individuals may thus procure the work for $4, by uniting in their remittances. Subscribers living in distant parts may pay the subscriptions to them; those otherwise situated may remit the amount to the subscriber at his expense, if payment is made in money at par in Philadelphia. Our arrangements are all made for the fulfilment of our part of the contract.

Subscribers' names should be immediately forwarded, in order that the publisher may know how many to print of the forthcoming volumes.

ADAM WALDIE, No. 200 Chestnut St. basement story of Mrs. Seward's Philadelphia House, Philadelphia, December 16, 1834.

The Port Folio & Companion to the Library. A WALDIE publishes "The Port Folio & Companion to the Select Circulating Library" in the same form every two weeks, at half the price of the Library. It contains extracts from the best English periodicals and a vast amount of popular information on Literature, Science, History, &c. adapted to all classes; also Tales, Sketches, Biography, and the general contents of Clubs remitting $10, receive five copies, being the cheapest reprint ever attempted in any country. Individual subscriptions $3; to those who take the Library also, $2.50.

A REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM! BY THE USE OF DR. JEBB'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT. Copy of a Letter!

CHARLESTOWN, (Mass.) June 23, 1827. To the Proprietor of Dr. Jebb's Liniment. DEAR SIR--I deem it a duty I owe, to suffering humanity, to acquaint you, and through you the public, (should you think best) of the unexpected and surprising cure performed on myself by the use of the above most excellent Medicine. I have been for more than thirty years, and sometimes most severely, afflicted with the Rheumatism, have been frequently rendered perfectly helpless; and in consequence confined to my bed, when it has required two persons to move me, being in such extreme pain; I have several times been under the care of the most eminent physicians, but procured only temporary relief. I one day noticed the advertisement of Dr. Jebb's Liniment, with the testimonials accompanying it, and was induced to try a bottle, which I used without much sensible benefit. I concluded, however, to persevere, and bought another bottle, and was greatly relieved, and by the use of half the third bottle, was wholly cured, and have never since had a return of the pain, which I had not been free from a month at a time for thirty years; and it is now more than three years since I was cured. I would most earnestly advise every person suffering under this painful complaint, not to despair of a cure so long as they can obtain Dr. Jebb's Liniment. You are at liberty to make any use of this you may think advisable.

Most respectfully yours, CALEB SYMMES.

To the foregoing testimony, many other unquestionable proofs might be added, in favor of the superior Liniment of Dr. Jebb. Nothing but a fair trial, which the proprietor confidently solicits, can give an adequate idea of its unrivaled efficacy, in mitigating, and thoroughly mastering the excruciating disease, to which it has been successfully applied in a multitude of cases. The operation of the Liniment is often immediate; and it has frequently cured rheumatic affections of years standing, in four and twenty hours. It is also recommended with confidence, as one of the best applications known for stiffness of the joints, numbness, sprains, and chilblains.

Price 50 cents, with directions.

DYSPEPSIA, OR INDIGESTION. THIS prevalent disorder, as it exhibits itself in its customary symptoms, of want of appetite, distressing flatulencies, heart-burn, pain in the stomach, sick headache, nausea, vomiting and costiveness, is now found to yield to the tried efficacy of DR. RELF'S VEGETABLE SPECIFIC, AND ANTI-BILLIOUS PILLS.

These two preparations combined, constitute an efficacious remedy for the Dyspepsia, even after it has acquired the most obstinate character, and resisted every effort of professional skill. When both medicines are administered in connection according to plain and particular directions accompanying the Vegetable Specific, they thoroughly cleanse the alimentary canal of that viscid mucus which is the proximate cause of the disorder, and as a tonic and stimulant, they restore the healthy action and energy of the stomach, and strengthen the debilitated system. The proprietor can also confidently recommend the Vegetable Specific, as one of the best remedies known for the Sick Headache.

Price 50 cents each article, with directions.

BRITISH ANTISEPTIC DENTIFRICE. For cleansing, whitening, and preserving the Teeth and Gums.

THE BRITISH ANTISEPTIC DENTIFRICE, which the present proprietor wishes most particularly to recommend to the attention of the public, is perfectly exempt from all those acids which in general form the basis of tooth powders in common use, and which although they may whiten the teeth for a short time, must inevitably destroy the Enamel by their deleterious action on this beautiful covering of the teeth. The consequence is that the Enamel which is the shield provided by nature to protect the spongy and nervous internal structure, is rapidly corroded by these acid ingredients, become more discoloured than ever, and exposes the inner portion of the tooth to caries and a rapid and certain decay. By the use of the British Antiseptic Dentifrice, in the morning, as occasion may require, with a brush moderately hard, and cold water, the accumulation of Tartar will not only be prevented, but the teeth rendered beautifully and permanently white, and the gums restored to that freedom from soreness, that hardness and efflorescence which are the sure tests of their healthy state, and the best guarantee of that natural fragrance of the breath which can never be expected in connection with foul teeth, and scorbutic unhealthy gums.

Price 50 cents a box, with directions.

The above valuable Medicines are prepared from the original Recipe in MS. of the late Dr. W. T. COXWAY, by his immediate successor and the sole proprietor, T. KIDDER, and for sale at his Counting Room, No. 99, next door to J. Knudsen's Drug Store, corner of Court and Hanover Streets, near Concert Hall, Boston, and also by his special appointment, (together with all the valuable Medicines as prepared by the late Dr. Coxway,) by

SAMUEL H. BUEHLER, Druggist, Gettysburg, Pa.

Observe that none are genuine without the written signature of T. KIDDER, on the outside printed wrapper.
